MAYOR MANSFIELD REPLIES TO MUNICIPAL RESEARCH BUREAU—SAYS ALL REMEDIES PROPOSED BY THEM HAVE BEEN TRIED.

Upon February 27 the Mayor issued the following statement:

The Municipal Research Bureau forecasts a tax rate for 1935 of $42.60 and suggests four possible means of reducing that figure, namely, retrenchment, new sources of revenue, borrowing and revised salary schedule.

I am desirous of reducing the tax rate and agree with the Bureau that a $42.60 rate is unthinkable. Of the remedies extensive retrenchment has already been put into effect. The 1934 budget was cut extensively and every economy was exercised but the problem is so vast and the amount to be saved so great that economy no matter how drastic will never accomplish the result desired.

The Bureau suggests new sources of revenue. I agree with this and have already filed a bill for a sales tax to take the place of a rising tax on real estate. That sales tax bill ought to have the support of every person in Massachusetts in order to avoid a mounting real estate tax rate.

I agree with the Bureau in its remarks about borrowing. It is not the scientific way of reducing the tax rate and I shall not have recourse to it unless it becomes absolutely necessary. But I am proud of our borrowing record. Our last borrowing was at an interest rate of .64—an all-time low in the history of the City of Boston.

As to salary reductions every one knows that I tried to obtain legislative approval to continue in effect the pay cuts which had originally been granted to Mayor Curley in 1933. This request was denied with the result that $5,000,000 additional expenditures have been added to the budget for 1935. That alone will mean $3 on the tax rate. Our budget which will be higher than last year would be much less than 1934 if the pay cuts could have been continued. But I wish the public to know that every one of the remedies suggested by the Boston Municipal Research Bureau has been tried by me.

Upon February 27 the Mayor approved contracts with lowest bidders for furnishing fruits and vegetables to the various city departments during March. The approximate totals of awards will be as follows: G. Giovino & Co., $6,159.88; Harvard Fruit and Produce Company, $2,545.26; The Northern Fruit Company, $2,037.10; J. Jacobs & Co., $1,491.42; Economy Grocery Stores Corporation, $1,399.58—$13,633.24. The low bidder on items No. 35 and No. 54, covering white potatoes, and No. 42, covering yellow turnips, J. Jacobs & Co., failed to file a certified check with their proposal, so that their bid is irregular and cannot be accepted. Inasmuch, however, as Jacobs & Co.'s bid is $199.64 lower than that of the next higher bidder on these items, approval was given to award a contract covering white potatoes and yellow turnips to J. Jacobs & Co. without further advertising. This contract will amount to approximately $1,491.42. The Economy Grocery Stores Corporation is low bidder by a total of $97.84 on items No. 10 cabbage, No. 20 lemons, and No. 39 Hubbard or marrow squash, but, their bid was irregular because of their failure to enter figures in the proposal filed in the Supply Department. In view of the fact, however, that their bid is lower on the total amount for these four items by $97.84 than that of the next higher bidder the Economy Grocery Stores Corporation was awarded a contract amounting to approximately $1,399.58. Bids, opened February 21, were as follows:

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to B. F. Hanrahan for work to be done on No. 2 steam boiler at Power Plant, Deer Island, as follows: Build new carborundum brick arch; rebuild fire brick walls on boiler front; repair side walls.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 27, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On December 6, 1934, I transmitted to you copies of contracts between the city and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting and for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for street lighting in the city for a term of five years beginning January 1, 1935, for your approval and that of the City Council. I understand that the City Council has not yet set down a date for a hearing on said contracts.

In order that there may be no interruption in the service of lighting the city streets, I hereby respectfully request your authority to award the following contracts without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement:

1. Contract for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, for a term of one month from March 1, 1935, at the present rate of $8.42 per lamp per year for single burner, 60 candle-power lamp;

2. Contract for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for the City of Boston, excluding Hyde Park, to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, for a term of one month from March 1, 1935, at the present rate of $14.70 per lamp per year; with the provision in each of said contracts that, in the event that the five year contracts, above mentioned, are given the approval necessary to make them effective, the payments made under the one month contracts shall be credited as payments on the respective five-year contract.

Respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I have received a requisition, No. 293, dated January 31, 1935, from the Park Department, covering one Reo Royale, five-passenger, four-door sedan.

This car will cost $1,211 delivered f. o. b. Boston, less an allowance of $225 on a used Reo sedan to be turned in, making a net delivered price of $986.

Inasmuch as we are dealing direct with the manufacturer's representative selling Reo cars, namely, the Linscott Sales and Service Company of 870 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, there would be no advantage to the city in advertising for bids on this equipment.

I therefore respectfully request your permission to award this contract, amounting to $986, without advertising, to the Linscott Sales and Service Company of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, February 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I have received a requisition, No. 294, dated January 31, 1935, from the Park Department, covering one Oldsmobile, six-cylinder, four-door sedan.

This car will cost $962.50 delivered f. o. b. Boston, less an allowance of $180 on a used 1930 Hupmobile, five-passenger sedan to be turned in, making a net delivered price of $782.50.

Requisition No. 294 also covers one Oldsmobile, five-passenger, six-cylinder coupe.

This car will cost $895.50 delivered f. o. b. Boston, less an allowance of $130 on a used 1930 Hupmobile coupe to be turned in, making a net delivered price of $765.50.

Inasmuch as we are dealing direct with the manufacturer's representative selling Oldsmobile cars, namely, the Cadillac Automobile Company of 808 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, there would be no advantage to the city in advertising for bids on this equipment.

I therefore respectfully request your permission to award this contract, amounting to $1,548, without advertising, to the Cadillac Automobile Company of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, February 18, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with permission granted, by you, to permit the placing of contracts for equipment or material in excess of $1,000 for F. E. R. A. activities, I respectfully request that you approve an award, without advertising to F. C. Henderson Company of 18 Kingston street, of a contract covering the rental of 300 electric sewing machines for Sewing Project 2235-D1W-20P.

This contract will cover an expenditure of $600 per month. Bids were received as follows:

F. C. Henderson Company, $2 per month; Singer Sewing Machine Company, $4 per month; White Sewing Machine Company, no bid.

The Company recommended for this award is the low bidder.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, February 20, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising same, to the Pratt Paper Company, 136 Federal street, Boston, for furnishing to the Boston Public Library 10,000 sheets of L. L. Brown's Hydraloid Index Bristol, 22½ by 26½, No. 62, white, grain the long way, at a price of 57 cents per pound.

Bids were publicly advertised for a similar lot of this paper under date of November 6, 1934, and at that time the Chief of the Printing Department of the Boston Public Library strongly recommended that the award be made to the Pratt Paper Company, as from past experience he has found that this particular sheet is best suited for library use.

This purchase is to be paid for out of F. E. R. A. Budget H appropriation.

In view of the very definite recommendation from the Library Department I would respectfully request that permission be granted me to award this contract to the Pratt Paper Company, at the price indicated above.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Lumber, F. E. R. A., Requisition 4A,
Project No. 2235-B-20-249.

BOSTON, February 26, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with permission granted me to award contracts for material costing in excess of $1,000 for use on F. E. R. A. projects, without public advertising, I respectfully request your approval of an award to the Cronin Lumber Company, amounting to approximately $1,250, covering miscellaneous lumber for the Election Department.

Five bids were received, all alike. A drawing was held in my office at 2.15

p. m. on Monday, February 25, 1935, at which representatives of the bidders were present, and the Cronin Lumber Company drew the award.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR MANSFIELD WARNS OF VIGOROUS OPPOSITION ON HIS PART AND THAT OF CITY TO LICENSES FOR DOG RACING IN BOSTON.

The Mayor, on February 26, instructed Corporation Counsel Foley to warn holders of licenses for dog racing that any attempt to build such tracks in Boston would be vigorously opposed and that the provisions of sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws would be invoked to prevent the installation of such tracks.

These sections are as follows:

SECTION 33.—No land within a town shall be laid out or used as a race ground or trotting park without the previous consent of and location by the Mayor and aldermen or selectmen, who may regulate and alter the terms and conditions under which the same shall be laid out, used or continued in use and may discontinue the same when in their judgment the public good so requires; and no land shall be used for any of the purposes declared unlawful in section thirty-one (for gambling purposes).

SECTION 34.—Every race ground or trotting park established, laid out, used or continued in use contrary to this chapter is declared a common nuisance and may be abated as such; and all persons owning, keeping, using or permitting to be used such race ground or trotting park, or aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

In all fairness the holders of such licenses ought to be warned before they spend substantial sums of money in erecting tracks of the existence of this law and the intention of the Mayor to resort to this and every other legitimate means to prevent the establishment of such tracks in Boston.

CLAIMS ALLOWED.

The Mayor, upon recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following claims:

Harry Jessup, Room 530 Federal Building, in the sum of $10, as return of money which he found at Washington and Milk streets on December 22, 1933, and turned over to Police Division 2, and which is still unclaimed.

United States Motor Vehicle Service, by John A. McMahon, superintendent, 176 Ipswich street, Boston, in the sum of $45.60, as refund on 38 books of unused ferry tickets.

Edward Long, 73 Sheridan street, Woburn, in the sum of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by tripping over water drain pipe protruding above sidewalk in front of 103 Staniford street, October 16, 1933.

Gertrude Winslow, 46 Ashland street, Medford, in the sum of $50, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk in front of 564 Washington street, Boston, August 21, 1934.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your Honorable Body, I hereby appoint Martin J. Feeney of 45 Westland avenue, Boston, to be a constable in the Boston Fire Department, vice Martin F. Cavanagh, deceased, without power to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

ASSESSMENTS ON PARKING SPACES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 18, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith the report of the Board of Assessors supplying information requested in the order adopted by your Honorable Body on January 7, 1935, with reference to the assessed valuation and certain other data about land areas for which the Street Laying-Out Department of the city has granted parking space licenses; together with a letter from the Board of Assessors dated February 14, 1935, which is self-explanatory.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Assessing Department, February 14, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—There is appended hereto a report by the Board of Assessors, in accordance with request of the City Council in order dated January 7, 1935, with reference to assessed valuation and tax payment records for 1934, 1933 and 1932 upon areas of land for which the City of Boston Street Laying-Out Department has granted parking space licenses.

In connection with this report, it is the opinion of the Board of Assessors that information of the kind requested in the order of the City Council can be more easily obtained in future if, prior to the granting of a parking space license, the applicant were required to obtain from the assessors' records the name of the assessed owner, the actual area or lot assessed by the assessors, and the assessed location corresponding thereto.

The reason for the suggestion is that the parking space areas as noted in the City Council order do not, in a large number of instances, agree with the areas as assessed by the Assessing Department. In some cases the area has been granted for parking space purposes whereas, as a matter of fact, the assessors' books show independent lots to the number of two or greater with independent areas.

Moreover, the Assessing Department cannot be certain that the assessed areas, in some instances, correspond exactly with the area for which parking space license has been granted.

Respectfully,
BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
T. W. MURPHY, Secretary.

Referred to Special Committee on Licenses and Permits.

COUNTY DEPARTMENTAL PRINTING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 14, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of your order of January 21, 1935, requesting me to instruct the county officials to have their departmental printing done at the City Printing Plant.

I am inclosing herewith a copy of a circular letter which I have sent to all county officials requesting them to have their printing done at the City Printing Plant.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 1, 1935.
To All County Officials.

I have received from the City Council the following order adopted by this body at its meeting on the 21st ultimo.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct all county officials to have their departmental printing done at the City Printing Plant, in view of the fact that expenses of the county are borne by the city.

While there may be some question as to my power "to instruct" county officials as provided in the aforesaid order, I believe no one can question my right to request county officials to use to the fullest possible degree the facilities of the Printing Department of the city. This Plant is modern, efficient, and capable of handling practically any type of printing work. It furnishes employment to 122 employees who, because of the fact that their compensation is paid by the city treasury, are members of the same official family as county employees.

The prices charged by the Plant for its work will compare, I believe, favorably with those charged by private firms, and I am informed that in a number of types of work prices quoted by the Printing Plant have proved to be lower than the estimates by outside printers. Where this is true there is admittedly no justification of county officials to refuse to use the facilities of the Plant.

I earnestly request, therefore, that every item of printing work required by county departments which can be furnished by the City Printing Plant be ordered through that department.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE CAR SERVICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of January 21, 1935, concerning an investigation of the street car service on Huntington avenue.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

February 12, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary to the Mayor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your communication of January 31 about Huntington avenue service, I have had special figures taken which indicate that we are providing ample capacity but we have had serious difficulty in the regularity of service, especially during the last ten days. I believe at the present time, as shown by the figures I have had taken, that there is a return to more normal conditions and we are making new time-tables, in the light of these facts, which we feel will still further improve the conditions.

There are three lines operating on the avenue and they suffered during the snow conditions tremendously.

I assure you we will have the matter carefully followed.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.

REPORT ON PURCHASE OF SNOW REMOVAL EQUIPMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
The Finance Commission,
February 18, 1935.

To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission desires to submit the following comments on the order now before your Honorable Body to authorize a bond issue of $800,000 for the purchase of snow removal equipment.

It appears that the recommendation of this order by the Mayor was the result of a conference of city officials held after it had been found again by actual experience that the city forces were not capably organized or sufficiently equipped to obtain quick clearance of the city streets after a substantial fall of snow. The city had found this to be true many times previously when visited by similar storms.

The commission shares the opinion with Mayor Mansfield and certain members of the City Council, who have expressed opinion in the matter, that the immediate need is of both organization and equipment. The commission notes, however, that the first and only step taken is to provide equipment.

There is no doubt in the minds of those experienced in such matters that the present equipment and methods of using it are totally insufficient. There is, however, doubt in the minds of the members of the Finance Commission as to whether the purchase of equipment is the first action to take.

The commission does not agree with the suggestion offered in the City Council that because the winter is half over, the city administration should conclude that the task of organizing and equipping is a task for the future with next winter first in mind. It may well happen, judging by the records of other winters, that the city may be visited again this winter with a heavy fall of snow. If such a fall comes it will not suffice to tell the merchants and their employees who are vitally affected, and the people as a whole, that the city is intending to be equipped next winter to take care of such a situation.

It appears to be the consensus of opinion of persons experienced in this work that some new equipment should be purchased immediately, but that going along a little in advance of such purchasing should be the perfecting of an organization to handle the work and the adoption of more reliable methods of carrying it out than have yet been used by the city.

Abundant evidence is at hand that method is of prime importance and that the old methods are not suitable. Dividing the city into a lot of districts and giving out contracts to remove the snow in them to contractors who have neither substantial financial resources, ample equipment, nor sufficient experience, has too often left the city entirely at the mercy of the elements.

The recent storm was a valuable illustration. The fall of snow came principally in the early part of the evening. It was practically over at midnight. Yet the city contractors did not appear to carry out their contracts until after daylight next day. By that time the fall, and the drifting of it, untouched by ploughs or shovellers, caused autos to become stalled in such locations as to make easy removal or ploughing a difficult job that required several days of work. Contracts let in the manner of this year's contracts (which manner has been the vogue since the days of the horse-drawn vehicles) will always produce the same results. The close competition and the resulting thin possibility of profit makes it impossible for many of these contractors to become equipped or organized. The laborers they can hire for the prices they can pay are not the kind that can or will work except under the most favorable conditions. Yet, to obtain the results that the public wants and expects, most of the work must be done under the most unfavorable conditions—when the storm is raging, the fall is heaviest, and the mercury in the thermometers is lowest. This happens at night as often as in daytime.

To keep crossings open at some important intersections downtown, city men often have done a day's work on the snow before the contractor's laborers appear, and if it were not for the prompt appearance of city men and the hard work performed by them while this last storm was raging, downtown conditions would have been much worse than was actually experienced.

It is practically impossible to figure out with any degree of accuracy what a storm like the last one cost the taxpayers. Certain large numbers of city employees, regularly paid, left their ordinary duties and worked at removal. The city paid out large sums to contractors under regular contracts. The city hired extra laborers; and then there were the E. R. A. workers in large numbers and public welfare recipients. One statement given out officially was that the cost was $1,000,000. It may well have been much more. When it is considered that this same situation might develop again one or more times before this winter is over, and that it occurs one or more times in almost every winter, it is readily seen that it is of the utmost importance that the city should, without further delay, get organized, equipped, and adopt the best method possible for such emergencies. It is an emergency not less in importance than any other that the city ever faces, and the city knows that this emergency is annually recurrent. Fire, death and pestilence frequently are an aftermath of a storm, and business suffers losses that are never made up.

The Finance Commission believes, therefore, without further delay there should be organized a board of experts in this line of work, such experts as might be obtained from the large transportation companies that meet similar problems, to be added to experienced city officials to whom all the emergency powers vested in the Mayor and his departments should be delegated when a storm appears; that this board should be directed to work out first of all a method of removing the snow and keeping the streets open; and that it should arrange for a force of men and equipment that can be called out on short notice much like a fire department to a fire when the emergency arises.

The Finance Commission does not desire to suggest any particular plan of organization of the city forces because it believes a board of experts should be given a free hand to act on their own experiences.

Action on the order before the Council for the purchase of equipment is therefore only a part of the job that the city must do to safeguard the people against the inconveniences or possible disasters that might result from heavy snow storms. The commission believes that ultimately more money than this Council order provides will be necessary. It feels certain that the purchase of trucks to replace the old equipment now in service is important. The city is now spending so much money to keep these old trucks in repair, in some cases as high as $1,900 per year per truck, that it is poor economy to keep them. It feels certain that the large heavy ploughs contemplated for purchase should be purchased as soon as possible, and that tractors and snow loaders are necessary, but the commission believes that the decision as to the ultimate total need should be passed upon by a board of survey as above suggested and that an effort be made to obtain such opinion before final approval is given to the order now before the Council.

The commission realizes that the present administration has been following long-established customs in snow removal, but it believes the traditions and precedents of the days of horse-drawn vehicles should be abandoned and a method in keeping with the times should replace them.

MONTHLY REPORTS OF FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of publish-there has been no well thought-out plan for the needs of the city and asks for the appointment of an expert commission made up of such experts as might be obtained from the large transportation companies that meet similar problems, trucking concerns—for instance, trucking concerns, those connected with the Boston Elevated Railroad and others—who deal with snow removal in this city. So far as I can ascertain there has been no well thought-out plan as to just what the city requires, and if we should pass this order today it would be next spring before we had much of this equipment. I cannot see what is going to be gained, much as I would like to vote for such an order, by rushing the order through at the present time. Councilor Wilson last summer asked that a survey be made and that something be done about the snow removal problem. Nothing was done. The last time that the emergency cry was raised was in 1926, and I believe that a large percentage of the money spent at that time on snow removal equipment was more or less wasted. I think if at the present time we vote to spend $800,000 as the result of emergency, we will be acting in a little bit of a hurry. The Finance Commission's report, which I have read over quite carefully, calls for the appointment of a committee of experts to approve of this expenditure.

President FITZGERALD—The necessary information is in front of you, on page 46 of the City Council Minutes.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am discussing the report of the Finance Commission dated February 18, 1935, and I will ask the clerk if he will be kind enough to hand me that report.

President FITZGERALD—You will find the information about snow removal equipment on page 46 of City Council Minutes of February 4.

Coun. NORTON—What is there, Mr. President, that has anything specific to do with any statement I have made from the floor?

President FITZGERALD—You will find reference there as to how the equipment will be handled and under what supervision.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, you will see by reference to the report we have received today from the Finance Commission that what you are there referring to, on February 4, in so far as the plan suggested is concerned, is no different from the plan that has been in vogue in this city since the days of horse-drawn vehicles. It says here in the report we have received from the Finance Commission today:

"It appears to be the consensus of opinion of persons experienced in this work that some new equipment should be purchased immediately, but that going along a little in advance of such purchasing should be the perfecting of an organization to handle the work and the adoption of more liable methods of carrying it out than have yet been used by the city. Abundant evidence is at hand that method is of prime importance and that the old methods are not suitable. Dividing the city into a lot of districts and giving out contracts to remove the snow in them to contractors who have neither substantial financial resources, ample equipment nor sufficient experience, has too often left the city entirely at the mercy of the elements."

You have referred to this report of the Commissioner of Public Works under date of February 4, 1935. I respectfully submit that there is nothing suggested in this report different from the schedule that was worked out for the removal of snow in this city ten years ago. In this report of the Finance Commission that we have received today, however, I find this language:

"The Finance Commission believes, therefore, without further delay there should be organized a board of experts in this line of work, such experts as might be obtained from the large transportation companies that meet similar problems, to be added to experienced city officials to whom all the emergency powers vested in the Mayor and his departments should be delegated when a storm appears; that this board should be directed to work out, first of all, a method of removing the snow and keeping the streets open; and that it should arrange for a force of men and equipment that can be called out on short notice much like a fire department to a fire when the emergency arises."

I respectfully submit, Mr. President, that this suggestion of the Finance Commission is in line with my suggestion of two weeks ago that an expert committee be appointed representing the various snow removal interests in Boston, such as the Boston Elevated road, to work together with the city in the matter of the snow removal problem. This is not a problem that is unique to Boston. The state department removes snow from over 1,200 miles of road in Massachusetts. Every city, particularly every northern city, has the snow removal problem. That is true of such cities as Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo. The snow removal cost in those cities and in Philadelphia, last year, was much less per inch than in the City of Boston, and many of the cities of much larger area, and subject to the same snow conditions that we have, pay less, comparatively, for this work. I am of the opinion that this program which has been presented by the Mayor is not well thought out, that the evidence he has given to the Council is fragmentary at best; that nothing is to be gained by running into an expenditure of $800,000 at this time; that probably the emergency has passed for this year. If we should appropriate this $800,000 under this order the Mayor could go into the open market and spend that money without competitive bidding, if he saw fit; and even if the order were passed today, we would not have the snow removal machinery here until spring.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, in order to enlighten the learned councilor from the Hyde Park district, let me say that it was not the intention of the committee to have any action taken upon the matter today. I was going to ask the President to refer the order to its proper committee, the Committee on Finance.

Coun. NORTON—Well, Mr. President, even under the procedure that the councilor from Charlestown (Coun. Green) has suggested, I had a right to talk upon the order as I have at the present time. To shorten up proceedings, I am going to move to refer the order back to the Finance Committee.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, even at the risk of boring some members of the Council, I would like to refer to a few figures, which I will do as rapidly as possible. I, the same probably as other members of the Council, frequently read editorials, which are sometimes devoted to matters coming before the Council and to the position taken by members of this body. I have in mind especially at the moment an editorial that appeared on February 13 in the Boston Traveler, which I suppose should be somewhat discounted because of the idea the paper may have had that there was a possible chance of motor vehicle advertising. I wish, however, to place that editorial on the records of the Council, and for the benefit of the few who may not have read it I will read it at this time:

"CITY COUNCIL ICE-LOCKED."

"The City Council again has postponed action on Mayor Mansfield's request for authority to buy snow-fighting equipment for the city."

"The Council would like to know what it is all about."

"Here is what it is all about, gentlemen. The year is divided into seasons based upon climatic changes. In temperate zones the seasons are four in number, of which one is winter, which begins with the solstice, on December 21."

"With winter come an aggregation of minute spicules, frequently crystalline in form, which, answering the inexorable law of gravity, fall to earth. This we call snow."

"An unestimated number of tons of this substance falls annually and unless it is shoveled or plowed away, it creates traffic complications which bring illness, death, injury and great financial loss."

"The Mayor of this city seeks to spend $800,000 for snow fighting equipment. You gentlemen evidently are afraid somebody is going to get some graft out of the process. We doubt it."

"One bad snow storm causes a financial loss to persons and business far exceeding the $800,000 which the city should spend if it considers itself a city. Boston is notoriously behind its smaller neighbors in snow removal equipment and work."

"Would you have the Mayor sweep back the sea with a broom?"

"Get busy, gentlemen, or you may have plenty for which to answer. We are not threatening you. We consider threats cheap. We are telling you."

So, having in mind that editorial, which, of course, went into thousands of homes in Boston, and having in mind what the writer says in that editorial, there are a few things that I wish he would tell us. I wish he would tell us how far behind its smaller neighbors is the City of Boston in snow removal equipment. In detail, what is our present equipment? How much over the $460,000 expended in 1926 for snow removal equipment should the city now spend? How many million dollars worth of snow removal equipment will clear over 650 miles of streets unless the city forces start action promptly, and unless there is definite organization? How long will $800,000 worth of snow removal equipment last unless properly garaged and unless operated by competent employees? In the matter of a substantial expenditure, which should have been planned after last year's storm and which at this time now inevitably can only concern next winter, should the City Council, without fair inquiry or any real study speed the passage of a loan order for the purchase of twice as much equipment as the city ever owned? Should the City Council venture to question the comparative merits of snow removal wholly on contract and the expense of removal partly by city forces and equipment, bearing in mind that even after the purchase of $800,000 of snow removal equipment, all downtown Boston and part of the work in the suburbs will still be done by contractors, and properly considering the further expense of proper garaging repairs and replacements? Should the City Council bother to consider the fact that estimates as to the probable cost of snow removal equipment have varied over $75,000 within a four-day period? I am going to ask to have included in the records a summary of answers to the questions asked of them by the ten department foremen of the ten yards, which I have compiled.

Coun. Wilson here submitted the following:

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. KERRIGAN, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of February, 1935.

Report accepted; said order passed.

WARD 16 BRANCH LIBRARY.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to present a P. W. A. project for the erection of a branch library, to be located at the corner of Adams street and Victory road, Ward 16.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CATCH-BASINS, CLARK PLACE.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install catch-basins in Clark place, Ward 19, to take care of water as a result of the thaw and which at present remains on the surface and becomes stagnant.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING CENTRE STREET.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of lighting facilities along the business section of Centre street, West Roxbury, for the purpose of installing a "White Way" system, and that an estimate of the cost of same be furnished the City Council at the earliest possible date.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BENCHES AT DORCHESTER PARK.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make provision, if possible, for the construction of wooden benches adjacent to the baseball field at Dorchester Park, either with the E. R. A. funds or as part of the Park Department budget.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELEVATED SERVICE FOR BOSTON SANATORIUM.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide more adequate and frequent service for patients and visitors at the Boston Sanatorium on River street, Mattapan.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AMENDMENT OF RULE 33.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That Rule 33 of the Rules of the City Council for 1934-35 be amended by adding the words "or accompanied by a member of the council," so that Rule 33, as amended, shall read:

Rule 33. No person except members and officers of the city council and regularly assigned city hall reporters shall be admitted at any time to the west anteroom, that locker room, or the president's room, except when invited on official business, or accompanied by a member of the council.

And further moved that the police officer assigned to the fourth floor shall enforce said rule.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, for purposes of the record I would state that this is a matter that was brought up in Executive Committee and in a conference of the Committee on Rules with the President, and following the assignment of an additional police officer to the fourth floor of the Hall. This is in the interest of the members of the Council and of the general public, so that members may be found in Room 49 and our rooms may be used for the purpose for which they are intended. This is the result of action in the Executive Committee, and I will ask that it receive the unanimous vote of the Council and that we all cooperate in keeping the rule, so that no embarrassment may be caused to the officer who, under the terms of the order, is requested to enforce the rules.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPERATION OF CITY TRUCKS AND SNOW REMOVAL EQUIPMENT.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to issue a regulation that any and all city trucks and/or snow removal equipment be operated only by competent chauffeurs, eligible with civil service rating as chauffeur.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the reason for that order is the response made by the foremen of the ten city paving yards in answer to the question whether or not during the past year the city trucks in various yards have been operated by competent chauffeurs from the Civil Service. I know that it surprised me and that it will surprise members of the Council to find that out of our ten paving yards three of the men in charge testified that city trucks during the past year or so have been operated by Public Welfare men without chauffeurs' licenses.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PARKING OF CARS AFTER STORMS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That, in cases of snowstorm emergency and as an appropriate aid to prompt snow removal work, the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for such emergency regulations as will promptly forbid all parking of motor vehicles on any city street unless and until such public way has been plowed or otherwise properly opened for traffic.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that order also is inspired by the answers made by the ten paving yard foremen. Three of the ten men failed to mention anything about inadequate equipment, but five of the ten included among the chief difficulties they had in the recent snowstorm the stalling and parking of vehicles on the streets, which they stated held up snow removal work. It is for that reason that I ask the passage of this order. I understand that it is also the case in yesterday's storm that no difficulty was experienced with snow removal work except for this reason, the parking and stalling of vehicles on the street.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REOPENING OF POLICE STATIONS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Police Commissioner of Boston to open up no more additional police stations until first a thorough study of the need for the same has been made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Health Commissioner relative to the establishing of a liberal time-off policy with pay to those employees of the Health Department whose duty takes them in contact with communicable diseases and who catch the said disease.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO FORMER CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of giving preference in re-employment to former city employees who were let go during the first part of his administration.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PRINTING IN COUNTY DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Committee on Printing call a meeting of the committee, through its chairman, for the purpose of interrogating those county officials who in the past have been letting their printing out to favored contractors, and also request the presence before the committee of the Budget Commissioner and that the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations be invited to appear before the Printing Committee.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I would ask for the significance of that last order.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I have a certain county official in mind whom I would like to bring before the Committee on Printing. I have seldom known that committee to function since I have been a member of this Honorable Body, but I would now like a meeting and would like to have that official in the Suffolk County Courthouse come before the committee and let us know why the printing for his department is given out to a favored contractor instead of being done by the Printing Plant of the City of Boston. That high county official acts as though he were monarch of all he surveys and sits in his chair up there defying this Honorable Body and the Mayor, and continues to give his printing business to that favored contractor. I will give the name of the contractor when we have a meeting of the committee. But I do want to have that official come before our committee. I hope I have answered the councilor's question.

Coun. AGNEW—Yes.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, might I say that two years ago we took that county printing item out of the budget, and if everybody had been on their toes it would not have got back into the budget. Now, let us take it out of the budget this year and watch the Budget Commissioner to see that they don't put it back again.

Coun. GREEN—I think, Councilor Murray, you will find in my order that I have asked the committee to notify the county officials, the Budget Commissioner and the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. That is included in my order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. TOBIN, at 6 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 25, 1935, at 2 p. m.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

MAYOR MANSFIELD PAYS TRIBUTE TO HEROES OF BOSTON MASSACRE — BROADCASTS ADDRESS ON MEMORABLE EVENT FROM CITY HALL STATION OF WNAC, ON MARCH 5, AS PART OF CITY'S CEREMONIES IN WHICH HONOR WAS PAID TO THOSE WHO FELL ON STATE STREET IN INCIDENT WHICH WAS SAID TO HAVE BEGUN WAR OF REVOLUTION — JOINS WITH CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND STATE IN REMINDING ALL OF HERITAGE OF COURAGE THE LIVES OF THOSE WHO DIED HAVE HANDED ON TO POSTERITY.

The following is the address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield over Station WNAC, on March 5, in commemoration of the Boston Massacre:

Good Afternoon, Radio Friends.

Today we cast eyes back over the pages of history to March 5, 1770, and pay deep and sincere reverence to the men who figured most largely in that event which John Adams epitomized, when he wrote: "On that night the foundation of American Independence was laid."

That was the night of the Boston Massacre, when Crispus Attucks, Samuel Gray, Patrick Carr, James Caldwell and Samuel Maverick all became heroes and martyrs to the cause of American freedom.

By many persons, historians and others, this event has been deemed the principal cause of the American Revolution. Others deny this and claim that the feeling which prompted it, in the course of the following three years, had nearly died out and that other causes had come to supplant it.

Daniel Webster, speaking of the event, claimed that "From that moment we may date the severance of the British Empire." At any rate, it is agreed, my friends, that the battle of King Street on March 5, 1770, tested to the utmost the fidelity of the leaders and the people to the great cause of liberty.

Tribute to Martyrs.

We look back from today to the sacrifice made by these martyrs to liberty as the manifestations of the greatest patriotism; patriotism such as that of which Josiah Quincy, Jr., wrote, when he penned the words: "A crown of joy and immortality shall be his reward. The history of his life his children shall venerate. The virtues of their sires shall excite their admiration."

These heroes of the Boston Massacre have well won their crowns of joy and their immortality, and today we recall history and venerate their lives and deeds. Those were stirring, yes, thrilling, times.

England, by her Stamp Act, had stirred the feelings of the Colonists to such an extent that even the repeal of this legislation had not served to abate the zeal with which the cause of freedom and liberty had been espoused. When new forms of oppression were substituted it was not in the nature of the people who had enjoyed and understood freedom of thought and expression to be cowed or frightened by these newer warnings of tyranny and power.

History tells us that that little band of martyrs whose memory we venerate today was led by an intrepid mulatto, Crispus Attucks. History also says he was killed when he stood leaning with his breast on a stout cordwood stick. Samuel Gray, one of the rope makers, was shot as he stood with his hands in his bosom; Patrick Carr was mortally wounded as he was crossing the street, and Samuel Maverick, a boy of seventeen years, likewise was shot while crossing the street.

Let us picture the scene of that memorable evening. The whole town was in confusion. Frothingham, in his life of Doctor, later General, Warren, appears to have given us the clearest panorama of the scenes, having gotten his facts from the statements of the Doctor himself. The statement says:

"There was a layer of ice on the ground. There had been a fall of snow during the day and also there was a young moon in the evening. At an early hour, 'writes the chronicler,' as though something uncommon was expected, parties of boys, apprentices and soldiers strolled through the streets and neither side was sparing in insults. Ten or twelve soldiers went from the main guard in King Street, across to Murray's barracks. Another party left the barracks armed with clubs and cutlasses, intent upon a stroll."

A crowd gathered near Brattle Street Church. Abuse hurled back and forth precipitated a clash. The fire bell in the Old Brick Meeting House was rung. There followed a mutual assault, snowballs and ice being largely used. With the ringing of the fire bell, many citizens rushed from their homes into the streets. Here and there small groups were being harangued by indignant persons who had witnessed an attack upon a barber's apprentice a few minutes before the ringing of the bell. The soldier charged with this offense was disclosed and the crowd surrounded him. This man called for aid.

NO RACE TRACKS FOR DOGS OR HORSES MAY BE BUILT IN BOSTON WITHOUT CONSENT OF MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL—LICENSE TO BUILD MUST BE OBTAINED FROM BUILDING COMMISSIONER, AND PARK COMMISSIONER ALSO MAY BE CALLED ON FOR RULING, ACCORDING TO OPINION OF CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY E. FOLEY OF LAW DEPARTMENT—OPINION HAD BEEN SOUGHT BY MAYOR MANSFIELD IN INTEREST OF CITIZENS WHO WERE PRO-TESTING LOCATIONS.

The following is a copy of letter addressed to Mayor Mansfield from Corporation Counsel Foley:

CITY OF BOSTON, LAW DEPARTMENT, March 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—You have asked my opinion as to whether, if a license to conduct a racing meeting at a track to be located in Boston is issued pursuant to the provisions of chapter 128A of the General Laws as inserted by the provisions of section 3 of chapter 374 of the Act of 1934, the consent of the Mayor and City Council must be obtained to the location and the laying out of the race ground before the same may be located and laid out.

Section 2 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"Any person desiring to hold or conduct a horse or dog racing meeting within the commonwealth shall make an application to the state racing commission, hereinafter called the commission, for a license so to do. Such application shall state

(1) The name of the applicant.

(2) The post office address of the applicant, and if a corporation, the name of the state under the laws of which it is incorporated, the location of its principal place of business and the names and addresses of its directors and stockholders.

(3) The location of the race track where it is proposed to hold or conduct such meeting.

(4) The days on which it is intended to hold or conduct such meeting, which days shall be successive week days Saturday and Monday being considered successive week days.

(5) The hours of each day between which it is intended to hold or conduct racing at such meeting, which hours shall be not before twelve o'clock noon nor later than seven o'clock post meridian for horse racing, and not before seven o'clock post meridian nor later than twelve o'clock midnight for dog racing.

(6) Answers to such other questions as the commission may prescribe, and

(7) That the applicant will comply, in case such license be issued, with all applicable laws and with all applicable rules and regulations prescribed by the commission."

Section 3 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"If any application for a license, filed as provided by section two, shall be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the commission may issue a license to the applicant to conduct a racing meeting, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, at the race track specified in such application.

Such license shall state:

(1) The name of the person to whom the same is issued,

(2) The location of the race track where the racing meeting thereby authorized is to be held,

(3) The days on which such meeting may be held or conducted,

(4) The hours of each day between which racing may take place at such meeting, and

(5) That the required license fee has been received by the commission."

Section 14 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"Licenses shall not be granted under this chapter for the holding or conducting of any horse racing meeting or any dog racing meeting within any county unless a majority of the registered voters of such county voting on the questions of granting such licenses when said questions were last submitted to them, as hereinafter provided, have voted in the affirmative."

Sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws (Ter. Ed.) provide as follows:

"No land within a town shall be laid out or used as a race ground or trotting park without the previous consent of and location by the Mayor and aldermen or selectmen, who may regulate and alter the terms and conditions under which the same shall be laid out, used or continued in use and may discontinue the same when in their judgment the public good so requires; and no land shall be used for any of the purposes declared unlawful in section thirty-one.

"Every race ground or trotting park established, laid out, used or continued in use contrary to this chapter is declared a common nuisance and may be abated as such; and all persons owning, keeping, using or permitting to be used such race ground or trotting park, or aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both."

If the provisions of said section 33 apply to the laying out and location of land, as a race ground, where a racing meeting licensed under the provisions of chapter 128A is licensed to be held, then the consent of the Mayor and City Council to such laying out and location in Boston must be obtained, notwithstanding the issuance of the license.

Chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 does not specifically repeal sections 33 or 34 of chapter 271, nor are its provisions inconsistent with the requirement that the consent aforesaid of the Mayor and City Council be obtained.

There is authority for the proposition that where there is a comprehensive statute which purports to cover an entire field and declares a legislative policy touching a subject, the enactment of such statute, seemingly designed to embrace completely a branch of administrative law, impliedly repeals the statutes theretofore governing the subject. (See Commissioner of Banks v. Highland Trust Co., 283 Mass. 71, 2 (1933).) Based upon such authority it may be argued with some force that the subject of control over racing meetings and over the location of racing grounds is governed by chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 and that sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws are impliedly repealed at least as far as they might otherwise apply to racing meetings licensed under said chapter 374.

It should be noted, however, that chapter 374 does not authorize racing meetings. It legalizes certain betting and wagering and forbids racing meetings, where any form of betting or wagering on the speed or ability of horses or dogs is permitted, without a license granted as therein provided. Furthermore, the application required by section 2 to be filed must state "That the applicant will comply, in case such license be issued, with all applicable laws," thus indicating, at least, that not all laws relating to such meetings are superseded.

It should also be noted the Supreme Judicial Court has more than once ruled that "A statute is not to be deemed to supersede a prior statute in whole or in part in the absence of express words or clear implication." (See Inspector of Buildings v. General Outdoor, Etc., Co., 264 Mass. 85, 9 (1928), and cases cited.)

In view of the foregoing, it is my opinion that, while the matter is not entirely free from doubt, the subject of control of racing meetings is not wholly governed by chapter 128A of the General Laws, as inserted by said chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934, and that the consent of the Mayor and City Council of Boston to the laying out of land as a race ground and to the location of said race ground must be obtained, even by one licensed under chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 to hold racing meetings, before such race ground may be laid out or located in Boston.

You have also asked my opinion as to whether the Building Commissioner of the City of Boston may refuse a permit for the construction of structures forming part of a race ground before such consent is given.

Since the laying out and location of a race track without such consent constitutes, in my opinion, a common nuisance (section 34 of chapter 271), it is my opinion that a permit may properly be refused before such consent is obtained (see section 1 of chapter 270 of the Acts of 1907, as amended).

I wish to call to your attention the provisions of section 25 of chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 to the effect that

"No building or structure shall hereafter be erected or altered within a distance of one hundred feet from park or parkway in the city of Boston, without permission in writing having first been obtained from the park commissioners of the city of Boston."

It is my opinion that one licensed to conduct a racing meeting under chapter 128A of the General Laws as amended may not erect a structure therefor within a distance of 100 feet from any park or parkway in the City of Boston without having first obtained written permission from the Park Commissioners.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

Soldiers were rushed from the barracks at his call. "There was aggravation on both sides," says General Knox, "but nothing as yet to justify the use of arms." Suddenly, with or without orders, there was a discharge of musketry and the first blood of the Revolution was spilled. The first to die was Crispus Attucks.

Since the days of the Stamp Act mobs the effort of the popular leaders of the cause of the Colonists had been to preserve the peace. These leaders now rushed forth to stem the rising tide of indignation. Now, however, had come what the patriots had predicted and striven to avert. An indignant populace stood face to face with an exasperated soldiery.

Of the scene General Warren says: "The horrors of that dreadful night are but too deeply impressed upon our hearts. Language is too feeble to pain the emotions of our souls when our streets are stained with the blood of our brethren, when our ears are wounded by the groans of the dying and our eyes are tormented by the mangled bodies of the dead. Our hearts beat, to arms! We snatched our weapons, almost resolved by one decisive stroke, to avenge the death of our slaughtered brethren and to secure from future danger all that we hold dear."

It is to me, ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience, significant that the blood of a common citizenry mingled upon that momentous occasion. It is also significant that the first whose blood was shed was that of Crispus Attucks, a negro. As with Attucks on that memorable night, so it has been in every crisis with which our country has been faced. The blood of all citizens, of every national tinge, has been mingled freely, willingly and nobly as well as gloriously that America and her institutions might survive and might not perish.

Of Crispus Attucks history has given us but a meager account. Of the others whose blood was mingled with his upon that occasion, an occasion which some have ranked in importance with the Battle of Bunker Hill or the Battle of Lexington, or the surrender of Burgoyne or of Cornwallis, less has been handed down to us.

The first we know of Attucks was when he ran away from his master in Framingham at the age of twenty-seven years.

For twenty years after leaving Framingham Attucks wandered where he would. A lover of the sea, a man of huge proportions and great strength he found ready occupation on ships until chance brought him to Boston to share in the events of March 5, 1770. Crispus Attucks was now forty-seven years of age. He was in Boston, having come from New Providence in order to ship for some port on the coast of North Carolina.

Dying in Boston, for the cause of the Colonies, and for that liberty which has been handed down to us, and which we treasure as the greatest gift of our ancestors, it is fitting that Boston pause in the midst of her labors and do honor to the memory of Crispus Attucks and his fellow heroes. It is fitting that the names of all be spoken in the same breath because, as they died, so have their bodies been interred in the Old Granary Burying Ground,—in a single grave; also to their honor and glory has been erected on Boston Common a shaft of marble, placed there by a grateful, and a loving, and a reverent citizenship.

Boston loves to do honor to her revered and heroic dead. Boston does honor to these that she may always renew her courage to face the battles of life that present themselves; that she may always cherish the principles and the traditions which are her greatest heritage, the foundations upon which our entire country has been built and made to grow.

That Boston may hold ever dear the memory of these martyrs she has erected a monument to their memory. When this shaft was placed, another great patriot, John Boyle O'Reilly, in whose breast the zeal and fire for freedom ever burned, as a tribute to them penned these lines:

Where shall we seek for hero, and where shall we find a story?
Our laurels are wreathed for conquest, our songs for completed glory;
But we honor a shrine unfinished, a column uncapped with pride.
If we sing the deed that was sown like seed when Crispus Attucks died.

Shall we take for a sign this Negro slave, with unfamiliar name,
With his poor companions, nameless too, till their lives leaped forth in flame?
Yes, surely, the verdict is not for us to render or deny;
We can only interpret the symbol; God chose these men to die.
As teachers, perhaps, that humble lives may chief reward be made
That from the lowly ones and rejected stones the temple's base is laid!

Oh, blood of a people! Changeless tide, through century creed and race!
Still one, as the salt sea is one, though tempered by sun and place;
The same in the ocean currents and the same in the sheltered seas;
Forever the fountain of common hopes and kindly sympathies.

Indian and Negro, Saxon and Celt, Teuton and Latin and Gaul,
Mere surface shadows and sunshine, while the sounding unifies all!
One love, one hope, one duty theirs! No matter the time or ken,
There never was separate heart beat in all the races of men.

MAYOR MANSFIELD HEADS COMMITTEE FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES TO PRESENT RESOLUTIONS TO GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE ASKING FAVORABLE ACTION ON PROPOSALS FOR TAX RELIEF FOR REAL ESTATE OWNERS—RECOMMENDS RETAIL SALES TAX AND INCREASE IN PRESENT INCOME TAX RATES FOR PERIOD OF YEARS—TO ASK GOVERNOR CURLEY TO READ RESOLUTIONS IN SPECIAL MESSAGE ON TUESDAY.

At a meeting of the Massachusetts League of Municipalities held Wednesday, March 6, 1935, at the Parker House, the following resolutions were duly adopted:

Whereas, The tax rates on real estate in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth have increased to such an alarming extent that no further increases can safely be made; nor in many cities and towns can taxes be collected at the present rates; and

Whereas, Existing tax rates discourage new business enterprises in the Commonwealth and are an important factor in driving business to other states and are thus a serious obstacle to business recovery and a menace to the employment of thousands of workers; and

Whereas, Such tax rates discourage home ownership and are an important contributing factor to the loss of homes by home owners unable to meet such tax charges as well as other charges thereon; and

Whereas, These high rates are mainly the product of increased welfare costs, decreased revenues from sources other than real estate taxation, and decreased valuations; and

Whereas, Their continuation means widespread municipal bankruptcy; be it

Resolved, That a committee wait upon his Excellency James M. Curley, Governor of the Commonwealth, to urge upon him the necessity of recommending to the Legislature the enactment of legislation which will relieve the existing intolerable burden on the real estate owner and that the said committee specifically recommend to the Governor that legislation be requested by special message:

1. Imposing a 2 per cent tax upon retail sales of tangible personal property, to be operative for a period of five years, the proceeds to be distributed to cities and towns of the Commonwealth in the proportion in which the State tax is assessed.

2. A 50 per cent increase in the present income tax, operative for a period of two years, the proceeds to be distributed as above set forth with reference to the proceeds of a sales tax.

3. That the Commonwealth make a grant to the cities and towns in 1935 of a sum equal to two-thirds of the increase in their welfare expenditures in the year 1934 over the year 1928.

4. That the borrowing capacity of the cities and towns be increased one half of 1 per cent to enable borrowings to meet welfare and soldiers' relief expenditures and tax reductions.

The committee to wait upon the Governor is: Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston, Chairman; Mayor John C. Mahoney of Worcester, Mayor Henry Martens of Springfield, Mayor George J. Bates of Salem.

Mayor Mansfield will try to arrange to see the Governor to present these resolutions to be read as a special message on Tuesday next.

Permission has been given to place the name of Joseph V. Fallon on the County of Suffolk pay roll at $300 a year. Under the new disbursement system Fallon is in charge of the audit and examination of discount bills—bills on which the city is offered a cash discount for prompt payment. Since under the new system the number of discount bills have materially increased, and also because the income represented by the taking of the discounts is being credited to general revenue, rather than as formerly to departmental appropriations, Fallon's position represents a very responsible and important assignment. Speaking conservatively, the work which he is doing will increase the general revenue of the city during the current year by $40,000. At the present time Fallon is paid on the regular city pay roll of this department at the rate of $1,500 a year.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

MAYOR MANSFIELD EXPRESSES CITY'S GRIEF OVER DEATH OF JUSTICE OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Upon learning of the death of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Mayor Mansfield issued the following statement:

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes' reputation as a great liberal began in Boston when he was Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court and even before that time. He differed from the majority of his colleagues here in the case of Vegehlahn vs. Guntner, which involved a strike in a furniture factory on North street. The majority of the Court held in that case that picketing was unlawful but the dissenting opinion by Chief Justice Field, concurred in by Judge Holmes, took the broader view that picketing in a lawful cause and without violence was not unlawful. The latter view has come to be the view adopted by the weight of authority throughout the country and in other states has been made the law by statute.

He sympathized with the wage earner and was on friendly terms with many of the early Boston labor leaders with whom he occasionally discussed labor problems. He carried his independent and sympathetic viewpoint to Washington, where his many years of service tended, if anything, to make him even more liberal and tolerant. He was a great judge of the old school. He was one of the stalwarts. His loss will be keenly felt and his place difficult to fill.

POST HYDRANTS FOR LOWRY HYDRANTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 25, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of February 4, 1935, concerning the substitution of post hydrants for all Lowry hydrants now located in manholes, and to relocate same on sidewalks, at the curb.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
February 21, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of February 11, with attached City Council order dated February 4, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to substitute post hydrants for all Lowry hydrants now located in manholes in the various streets of the city and to relocate same on sidewalks, at the curb, for the purpose of making same easily accessible to the Fire Department in the event of fire."

and to state that it has been the policy of the Public Works Department, Water Division, to systematically replace year by year a certain number of the existing Lowry hydrants connected to the Boston water system with post hydrants. During the past twenty years approximately 100 Lowry hydrants per year have been replaced with post hydrants or to be exact, from 1916 to the present time, 2,382 Lowry hydrants have been replaced with post hydrants. During the years 1932, 1933 and 1934, 210 Lowry hydrants were abandoned and their places taken with post hydrants.

A tabulated form is submitted showing the number of Lowry hydrants now located in the water system in the various districts throughout the city, which makes a total of 970 Lowry hydrants out of a total of 11,679 hydrants of all styles available for fire purposes. It will be noticed from the tables that the city proper, which includes that section of the city lying between Massachusetts avenue and the waterfront, contains 441 Lowry hydrants, approximately one half the total number in service, and I would call attention to the fact that of these 441, approximately 250 are located in the high value area of the city which is now covered by the High Pressure Fire Service hydrants. These high pressure fire hydrants replace about 250 Lowry hydrants, but owing to the expense of removing the hydrants, and the possibility of these Lowrys being of some value to the Fire Department, to Street Cleaning Service and to other city departments for the use of wetting down ruins after a fire, the filling of sprinkler carts and the wetting down of the streets, it has been deemed advisable to leave them attached to the water mains, and if it were considered that these 250 hydrants were eliminated, it would bring the total number of Lowry hydrants down to approximately 750. About one half of these hydrants could not be replaced under any circumstances due to the fact they are located in narrow streets or alleys without sidewalks or edgestones, or are located on the end of dead-end pipelines where they are available for the blowing off of accumulated rust and dirt on the ends of the pipelines, which would leave only about 300 possible Lowrys that could be removed and replaced with post hydrants.

It is the purpose of the Water Division to continue replacing existing Lowry hydrants with post hydrants during the coming year, and in all probability within the next two or three years all the Lowrys that it will be possible to remove will have been replaced with post hydrants.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

My dear Mr. Gilmore,—In reply to your inquiry of February 20, 1935, relative to the proposed opening of a commissary station at the Thomas Street School, between Franklin and Bunker Hill streets, Ward 2, in Charlestown.

At the request of the School Committee, Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. Leonard, Police Commissioner, an advisory committee was organized to study the proposed project. The committee has since that time held several meetings and has been studying the matter. The committee has not yet reached a decision, but it is expected that it will be able to report to the School Committee and the Police Commissioner within a short time.

This department is unable to give any information as to "the cost of putting the building into condition, the necessity or advisability for the station." Any costs involved would have to be met by the F. E. R. A. authorities as School Committee money may not be expended for the purpose. The Superintendent feels that this is understood.

Very truly yours,
ELLEN M. CRONIN, Secretary.

WAGES PAID BY SNOW CONTRACTORS.

The following was received:

National Recovery Administration,
Room 1200, 80 Federal Street, Boston,
February 23, 1935.

Mr. Wilfred J. Doyle,
City Clerk.

Dear Mr. Doyle.—In compliance with the order of the City Council as submitted by you and received in this office February 7, I beg to report as follows:

Exhibit 1, copy of the vote of the City Council.
Exhibit 2, list of the regular contractors and extra contractors employed in the removal of snow and ice, 1935.

Exhibit 3, copy of the letter sent to all contractors who were engaged in the removal of snow for the City of Boston.

As requested in our letter of February 7 (Exhibit 3), every contractor filed with this office a sworn statement as to the amount of wages paid by him to employees engaged in the removal of snow. In every case the contractors have stated that they paid fifty cents (50c.) per hour or better to their employees while engaged in the removal of snow. A total list of 3,778 names was received from the various contractors.

Many of the firms stated that they did not have the names and addresses of all the workers but they did submit such names and addresses as they had on their pay roll books; others stated that they hired most of their men on the job, giving the workers identification tags or numbers and in other cases different colored tickets for different days' work, and these men were paid daily.

It was unfortunate that our office received this complaint after the snow shovellers had been laid off and it was impossible to interview the men while on the job.

Exhibit 4, copy of letter sent to 277 employees whose addresses were forwarded by the contractors.

Exhibit 5, copy of telegram sent to employees on account of the necessity for speed.

As a result of these letters and telegrams to workers, we have in our files 123 affidavits in which the men have, almost without exception, stated that they were paid 50 cents or better hourly while engaged in the removal of snow.

Exhibit 6, newspaper advertisement for the attention of snow shovellers.

Having in mind the possibility that some individuals might have felt that the names submitted were personally selected by contractors, it was deemed advisable to place an advertisement in the newspapers (paid for by this office) in an endeavor to secure any information that might have been withheld by any contractor. This advertisement was placed in the Boston Globe and the Boston Post, Tuesday morning issue of February 19.

Findings: Referring to the wording of the order as passed by the City Council (marked Exhibit 1), which order asked me to—"look into the matter of wages paid men by snow removal contractors in Boston, with a view to ascertaining as to whether or not there is a violation of any of the N. R. A. codes"—

I am stating positively that after a thorough investigation by our office that the evidence shows conclusively that there has been no violation of the N. R. A. codes, either the Code of Fair Competition for the Construction Industry, or Supplementary Code of Fair Competition for the General Contractors' Industry.

Very truly yours,

JOHN J. McDONOUGH,
State N. R. A. Compliance Officer.

PURCHASE AT TENEAN BEACH SECTION.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, of Boston be allowed to purchase at the present assessed value the real estate described in that part of Dorchester, Tenean Beach section, which lies between the Old Colony Boulevard, Freeport and Tenean streets on the west and the Neponset river on the east, in that part of Dorchester called Dorchester. Said property comprises some 900,000 square feet of upland, marsh and flats, and is owned by Edward and George P. Hamlin. To be further developed for the beach and park systems in the City of Boston, as it is now being used by the public for recreation purposes.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

ANNUITY TO BERTHA J. DALEY.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation for the payment of an annuity to Bertha J. Daley on account of the death of her husband, Thomas F. A. Daley, late a member of the Police Department, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

LAND FOR DOG RACE TRACKS.

Coun. KERRIGAN and Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Whereas, Section 33 of chapter 271 of the General Laws provides that "No land within a town shall be laid out or used as a race ground or trotting park without the previous consent of and location by the mayor and aldermen or selectmen, who may regulate and alter the terms and conditions under which the same shall be laid out, used or continued in use and may discontinue the same when in their judgment the public good so requires."

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be authorized and instructed to apply for an injunction or to take such other legal steps as may be necessary to prevent the proposed use of land in South Boston for a dog race track, so called.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, speaking on that order, once again it is a pleasant thing to see that members of the City Council of Boston have been wide awake to affairs and to what is going on within our city. The councilors from South Boston are to be congratulated upon unearthing an old statute which still remains on our books, where those that are in greater power did not have the insight to find it. Both Councilors Kerrigan and Donovan, doing conscientious work in behalf of their district, South Boston, have again come to the defense of not only the people of South Boston but the people of Boston, in refusing or wishing the refusal of a permit for the granting of dog racing in their district. I am sure that if the other councilors of this body were met with the same proposition, no doubt they also would have come to the front in behalf of their district. It is gratifying to me as a member of this body, and it must be gratifying to the other councilors, to let the public of Boston know that we have members of the Boston City Council who are wide awake and alert to their duty to their district, and to the people who have sent them here to represent them. I, personally, want to congratulate both Councilors Kerrigan and Donovan upon their splendid work in this matter.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to have that sent to the Executive Committee and referred to the Corporation Counsel.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I do not think I would like to have it referred to the Executive Committee. I think it should go through as presented.

The motion to refer to Executive Committee was lost.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

QUARTERS FOR E. R. A. ACTIVITIES.

President FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to procure, at once, some other quarters for the E. R. A. activities now occupying the property at 76 Joy street formerly used as a station house for Police Division 3.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PURCHASE OF SUPPLIES.

President FITZGERALD offered the following:
An Ordinance Concerning the Purchase of Supplies.

Be it ordained by the City Council as follows:

Section 1. That the superintendent of supplies give preference in the purchase of supplies and materials, all other considerations being equal, in favor, first, of supplies and materials manufactured and sold within the city of Boston, second, of supplies and materials manufactured and sold within the Commonwealth, and third, supplies and materials manufactured and sold elsewhere within the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

NEW COURTHOUSE.

President FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment of Senate Bill 45, providing for the erection of a new courthouse in Boston, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I want to state that I am glad to see that order introduced by the Chair, bearing in mind the past history of efforts made through three administrations to substitute for the unsightly and antique courthouse in Pemberton square a modern building which will be a credit to the community. We remember that back, I believe, in 1928 and 1929, a special committee of the Council held hearings and it was the unanimous opinion of every holder of county office in Suffolk County, including the clerks of all the courts, the Registrar of Deeds, the Registrar of Probate, and the other officers in Pemberton square, back there seven or eight years ago, that this antiquated building should be torn down and a proper new courthouse erected. It seems to me that in these days when, with or without wisdom, perhaps, we are endeavoring to recover from the depression through the medium of great public works, it would be a far greater help to the people of Suffolk County, if men are to be put to work on public projects are to be undertaken, to erect a building of that nature, rather than perhaps getting into such things as the proposed rejuvenation of South Boston through the building of apartment houses in competition with home owners who have trouble enough renting the homes they already own. So it seems to me, especially at this time, that a public project of this nature would be far preferable, and one that should receive the support not only of the Council, but of the Mayor of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. TOBIN—Mr. President, I would like to have that matter referred to the Legislative Committee. I move a reconsideration of its passage.

The motion to reconsider prevailed.

Coun. WILSON—I move that the matter, now having been reconsidered, be sent to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONTRACT WITH MARINUCCI BROTHERS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Commissioner of Public Works to abrogate immediately the contract with Marinucci Brothers for the collection of ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district on account of unsatisfactory service, and to arrange for this work to be performed by city employees under the Public Works Department.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, just a word on that order. On account of receiving so many complaints recently, I have been forced to take these steps to call upon the Mayor to abrogate the contract for the collection of garbage and ashes in the Dorchester district. Now that the Finance Commission has started an investigation of the other contracts, I suggest that the Mayor recommend to the Mayor that the Dorchester district be turned over to the Public Works Department in the future.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASE IN FURNEN.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Council of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to order passed by the City Council, that the City of Boston, in which he was engaged in the collection of garbage and ashes by the company, be turned over to the Public Works Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROLLS.

On motion of Coun. AGNEW, the Council voted 4-2-1 that the City of Boston be requested to order passed by the City Council, that the City of Boston, in which he was engaged in the collection of garbage and ashes by the company, be turned over to the Public Works Department.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

2. Report on order (referred today) favoring Senate Bill 45 for erection of new courthouse in Boston—recommending reference to Committee on Legislative Matters.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, Councilor Tobin himself, in Executive Committee, raised the point that perhaps the Council might well read the act in question, even bearing in mind the fact that presumably before committee action of any kind in the Legislature, there should be some action by the Council.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLE.

President FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor, February 18, 1935, of Martin J. Feeney, to be a Constable, without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Selvitella and Agnew.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, it would appear from reading this that we are going to find room for somebody else in the city's employ, and I wonder if the Committee on Constables, or anybody else, knows whether or not that is a fact. Has the Chair any information about it?

President FITZGERALD—I have not any information.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Is the Chair able to inform the Council as to the part of the universe in which this man lives?

President FITZGERALD—The man who had filled this position, I understand in the Fire Department, died. The address is 45 Westland avenue.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I do not happen to know about the appointment, but the gentleman appointed I know quite well, and I have no doubt that his personal qualifications fit him for the position. I was just informed by the chairman of the Constables Committee that this was coming up for confirmation, and, while I have voted against all these constables, I understand that this position has existed regularly in the Fire Department for some time, and that it is a necessary replacement, as he simply replaces some one who has died.

President FITZGERALD—It is a necessary replacement.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Selvitella and Agnew. Whole number of ballots, 14; yeas 14, and the appointment was confirmed.

OPPOSITION TO HOUSE BILL 3.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council, through its Legislative Committee, record opposition to House Bill 3, now pending in the Massachusetts Legislature, which bill would amend the existing act, permitting the Department of Public Utilities to issue temporary jitney licenses for a period not exceeding sixty days in cases of unusual or unforeseen transportation needs or to avoid interruption of existing transportation facilities,—by also authorizing the Department of Public Utilities, without reference to local city governments, to issue temporary licenses not exceeding one hundred twenty days for trial routes.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that bill, which singularly enough was introduced very early to avoid the rush, being House Bill 3 of the current year, is obviously an entering wedge by the Boston Elevated Railway Company to carry out a threat made some years ago that eventually all the designations of jitney routes in the City of Boston would be taken from the locally elected governing body and left with the Department of Public Utilities. And this particular amendment is slipped in as part of an act which allows the Public Utilities Department to permit jitney bus lines where there is an interruption of service, or where there is some unusual transportation need, for sixty days. An effort has been made to slip in this additional proviso, that the Department of Public Utilities, independently of the City Council of Boston, or any other city, can put these trial jitney routes in operation for a period of some three months. It seems to me that the time to spike such an entering wedge, preventing the locally elected governing body from having the last word as to where these jitney bus lines shall be operated, for instance on residential streets, is at the outset.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF KEEPERS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to at once petition the Massachusetts Legislature for suitable legislation to forbid the use of keepers in all civil cases in which the plaintiff does not claim debt or damages in excess of seventy-five dollars.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I introduced that order at this time counting on published excerpts of statements made from the Corporation Counsel, also having in mind that we will shortly receive the annual list of constables, which I trust will not slide by again this year as easily—for political purposes—as it did a year ago. I for one serve notice that, so far as I am concerned, I shall hope for a substantial decrease in the number of constables in the City of Boston. Years ago we had the loan shark situation here in Boston, where a man who borrowed $100 or $200 found at the end of a year or two that he was paying interest to the extent of three or four times the original amount of the loan. And now that the loan shark has been hurried out the front door, we have got this other scavenger slipping in the back door. He takes a claim for $15 or perhaps $25, and simply defies the Small Claims Act which, it was contemplated by the Legislature, would handle such claims and because he is allowed actual cash costs, puts a keeper in a poor man's place at an expense perhaps of $10 a day, on this small claim, and before he gets through, in two or three days, has run up a bill of $20 or $30 or more. He then gets a promise from the man to pay perhaps a dollar a week, and if he does not pay it promptly in the course of several weeks he goes through the same process again running up these large charges against the poor fellow, with the result that the original bill is like postage stamp money compared with the cost that is incurred against the sufferer. The thing has reached such a stage in the City of Boston, Mr. President, that I am informed by credible authorities that if the Mayor and the City Council do not take steps to stop it, the judges of the Municipal Court, with the aid of the Legislature, will do it for us. It seems to me the time has come when, not only for the protection of the small man, but for proper recognition of the procedure under the Small Claims Act, it should be stopped. I am not speaking at all against the 100 per cent square constables in the City of Boston, but only against the chaps who indulge in this sort of practice. In the interest of the people of this city the constable list should be purged, and the real intent of the small loans act should be carried out. Under the provisions of that act, when resort is made to the small claims court for claims, say, not in excess of $50, there are none of the old costs. A man simply goes into the clerk's office, does not even need an attorney, and there is no running up of any such expenses. Certainly, the poor fellow who is made to suffer today through the acts of these constables and who is put to an expense of $20, $30 or more, for putting in keepers, deserves some protection at our hands. If we do not purge this constable situation in Boston, giving this small loans act an opportunity to work as was intended, others will act and we will have nothing to say about constables in a short time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-REGISTRATION OF WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the director of Public Welfare, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council when the re-registration of public welfare recipients will be completed, and the method employed in said re-registration.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, on April 16, 1934, I introduced an order which was passed by the Council asking the Director of Public Welfare to call upon all recipients of welfare aid to re-register. No report has been received by the City Council from that day until today. Under date of February 18 I reintroduced that same order and I notice in the minutes returned today that the reply from the Welfare Director is:

"In reply I beg to say that the re-registration of all recipients of public welfare is being taken in the various district offices of the city with the exception of Dorchester and the North and West Ends, where no district offices have yet been set up."

Ten months after the introduction of this original order we are given his reply. It is obvious that there must be something wrong in the administration of the Welfare Department when it will take over ten months for the re-registration of those now receiving aid. This has been a most important and vital question in the City of Boston relative to our welfare situation, and the expenditures incurred by the City of Boston in this line. It seems to me that if it takes ten months or longer on a matter that could easily be cleaned up in a week, the system in the Welfare Department should be changed to a considerable degree. It is obvious why this order is introduced. The City of Boston is spending $12,000,000 for welfare, with the Lord knows how many not entitled to relief getting it, whereas in many instances we have people who should be getting relief and aid from that department who have to overcome great obstacles before they are even recognized; and so I have introduced this order. If action had been taken at the proper time, I maintain that the Welfare rolls would have been purged of a large number of recipients. Under date of January first of this year, according to the report of the Welfare Department, there were more welfare recipients than there were a year ago. A proper investigation of the recipients of welfare should be an easy undertaking and, as I say, it could be cleaned up in a week. Why is it that the head of a department of the City of Boston, especially of an important department such as the Welfare Department, with the money that they are expending, should take over ten months to make the report requested to the City Council? I call upon the Director of Public Welfare at this time to inform the City Council when this work will be completed. We certainly should not have to wait a couple of years before we get a report on it. If it is not important, very well, reject the order; but I think that it is important to the City Council, and to all the people of Boston, to know whether recipients of public welfare are worthy of the aid they are receiving, or whether they are not; and I think that the Director of Public Welfare should act immediately on this order, and see that the work is done.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I do not like to interject any remarks on this particular subject except to say that it is rather disillusioning to learn at this time that the requested re-registration of welfare cases, that was asked for as long a time back as a year ago next April, has not yet been completed, because I remember the hearings held by the Special Committee on Public Welfare, at which time the new Director assured us—and Mr. McMurry, for whom I have the highest regard, assured us—that they agreed with the committee that one of the first steps that should be taken for the purging of the Welfare rolls and elimination of the crooked cases, and the protection of the honest cases, was this re-registration; and I remember also clearly that when the Council Committee on Appropriations, a year ago, had Mr. McMurry and clerks of the Welfare Department here in connection with the passing of their annual budget, Mr. McMurry was asked that specific question, as to the progress that was being made on Councilor Agnew's order of April, 1934, on re-registration, and I also remember—because I thought it was very well expressed by Mr. McMurry—how he pointed out that any re-registration, to be effective, should be done with some degree of suddenness; that it was the plan of his particular department, under the new régime, to see to it, perhaps, that all the investigators in the City of Boston might be thrown into the Hyde Park section for a period of two or three days, re-checking that section, and then have the whole power of the Welfare Department thrown into another section. Mr. McMurry pointed out to the members of the Council at that time that the idea was to make a quick and thorough re-registration in a short time, so that a man, for example, in one ward, not living with his family, could appear as moving later, if the re-registration was postponed in Hyde Park, for example, being given a chance to go to another section of the city without detection. So I say again, it is certainly disillusioning, as Councilor Agnew has ably said, to feel that on this item of public welfare which last year amounted to $7.50 per thousand dollars out of our tax rate, the department should be so slow in action, when we were assured, as I say, both in connection with our action on the budget and before the Committee on Public Welfare, that the matter was already being attended to.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President if you have a moment to listen to a voice from the distant past, I used to be an authority at one time on welfare and spent a good deal of time investigating the Welfare Department, always to be told that I was baiting the poor of the city. But one time, after about three months of investigation, the Board of Public Welfare unanimously—might I again emphasize the word "unanimously"—voted that a suggestion that I presented to them was by far the most logical suggestion that they had had, and that it would be put into effect at once. And it amounts to just this, sir, the "present address" of the welfare recipients. In order that they would not be confused, we went to some trouble to make out a questionnaire on which we did not even put the words "present address" because they might be confused, but we put the two words, "address today." And every time, say once in a month, the recipients walked up to any window on the theory that all welfare was given on the basis of habitation, and that no welfare recipient ever got money unless he had been duly visited in his place of habitation. It was felt that habitation was more important than the name itself, because it is so easy to collect under one name in East Boston and under another name in South Boston and under still another name in Dorchester, if residence is secondary. So we brought out this suggestion, that once again I say was unanimously voted by the Welfare Board, and put into operation at once. They say, "Some men cannot write." Well, they know where they live. On the top of the card it would say, "City—ward—precinct—"

I wonder how much bother it would be for a man, citizen or alien, to walk downstairs and say, "What precinct is that in?" and place the responsibility on the recipient to put down that he lived in Ward 13, Precinct 16, No. 107 Savin Hill avenue, today. If he comes back a month later and says he has moved out into another ward and he then puts down "200 Dorchester avenue" today, that can be checked. They emphasized when they discontinued that, that these men were birds of flight and that it would entail a good deal of work, but on the very basis that they were birds of flight we should know, at least once a month, what their present address is. The Welfare Department now is giving out more money under a reform administration than it has ever given out in any period in the history of the city and, my friends, they are not recipients of welfare. Mr. President and members of the Council, they are city employees and they are going to stay on that roll year in and year out. Good times will mean nothing. The Federal Government establishes a new project and it says, "We will give first consideration to those who are on public welfare," and to the little man in Dorchester who owns a home and maintains it, they say, "We will penalize him for his fragility." We will say to him, "In good days you laid aside a dollar and until you have sold your life insurance and sold your home and gone out on the street and pauperized yourself, and until you have gone down and put yourself on the welfare, we will not even recognize you as a recipient for an honest day's work on a Federal or a State or a City project. You will have to go on welfare, and if you want any consideration at all, you will have to stay on welfare." They have made it an incentive to go on welfare, and I defy the Welfare Board once again, to have one honest check-up and have the recipients of public welfare sign that statement which says, "Address today."

What is the result of that, sir? 500 or 5,000 of these recipients, with the responsibility of the "Address today," placed directly where it should be, on the shoulders of the recipients, are then available to the alert Finance Commission across the street, or to the investigators in the Corporation Counsel's office. They walk down and at random, sir, they pick out twenty-five names, and on a pinch it is as good as picking out 2,500 names, and they walk out to those addresses that are not twenty-four hours old, and they say, "They do not live here," and "They have not lived here for a great many years," as in the case in Dorchester which I put in the record, of a little lady who owned a house for fourteen years and lived in it, and yet had never heard of any such person as one of our welfare recipients. They can be checked up. There is no place in Boston today, sir, even including Beacon Hill, or the place where the former Lieutenant-Governor or the present Governor lives, around Jamaica Plain, that does not have some welfare recipients in places. But, oh, how I would love to see it go much farther, so as to get at those recipients, for instance, who claim Jamaicaaway or Beacon Hill, we will say, as their residence. You will see twenty-nine names assigned to a street inhabited by men who perhaps own their homes outright, or who have good positions; but somewhere in that place, never defined by residence, are twenty-nine recipients of the public welfare. Now, it all gets down not to what I say but to what that board unanimously voted to do and did at once, and was so agitated at the result that they did not even want the records to become part of the minutes of the City Council. If we are sincere with ourselves and if they are sincere with the citizens of Boston, let them stick by their own unanimous vote, and next month or perhaps two months from now, every single recipient that goes out and every single recipient that appears at a window, signs "Address today." Then let these investigators up in the office of the Corporation Counsel or the men across the street go in and take out twenty-five names and run them down; and you will not then have such a situation as in the police investigation, where they could not find people because they had not lived there within the memory of this person who lived there three years, or this person who owned a house and lived there for two years, and where the address, the Welfare Department said, was wrong. "Where did you get the address?" "At the Welfare Department. Where else can you get it?" "Nowhere else, but the Welfare Department." "But that address was the wrong address." "Was it the address received at the Welfare Department?" "Yes." "Where can we get the right address?" "At the Welfare Department." "But the address they gave was wrong." And so it goes on and on and on and on, and we keep losing time. And you and I both know that they are never going to give you an honest report from welfare. Ten years ago, when there was less than $2,000,000 being spent on welfare, and most everybody was in the heyday and thought they would never see bad times again, nobody worried much. Everybody's business was nobody's business; but today, sir, when people come to your home who have owned a little home for twenty or twenty-five years, who have struggled hard to lay aside a little bit for that proverbial rainy day, but as a result of a torrential flood over which they had no control their roof tree was swept away,—have they not the right to come down to the men they elect and say: "There should be somebody in Boston with intestinal fortitude enough to stand up and say to every recipient on the Welfare roll, 'We are first going to protect the honest, deserving man or woman on there whose allotment has been cut and whose food has been taken off the table from the little ones because of the gangster reaching in and stealing some of the money that should go to honest welfare recipients, stealing it from children who have no public defender.'" And, sir, it will go on and on, and a year from today we will be standing on this floor, if the good Lord lets us live and the voters in their wisdom return us here, and saying, "Let us have an investigation of the Welfare Department"; and somebody will say, "Well under the law the whole graduating class of Simmons College, in their study of criminology and in that particular study of anthropology; can go down and have the books thrown open to them. And the students in Harvard College can go down at any time and see the most intimate secrets. But there is one group who never can go down and see one single record of that department because those records are sacred and that group is the Boston City Council. They are simply elected. What is it of their business?" The only group in the City of Boston that cannot know what is going on is the group most intimate with the citizens of every ward in the city, and the ones that are held the most responsible for what goes on here. And I say to you, sir, let us hurl the challenge once again. Let us give them the most simplified method of having an accurate report that they themselves agreed to when they voted unanimously to put it into effect; let us have within a month or perhaps two months, a complete check-up of the "Address today," as given to us by every recipient of public welfare in the City of Boston today. And, Mr. President, the manner in which they fight against that method of checking up the recipients is proof enough to me that that is the real answer to their entire problem.

The order was referred to the Special Committee on Welfare.

Later in the session Coun. AGNEW moved reconsideration of reference to the Committee on Public Welfare; carried.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRICE OF MILK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following: Whereas, The State Milk Control Board established by chapter 376 of the Acts of 1934 has issued an order dated February 21, 1935, and effective February 24, 1935, purporting to establish the minimum prices for milk at 13 cents per quart for delivered milk and 12 cents per quart for milk sold over the counter, which represents an increase of 1 cent per quart in each instance; and

Whereas, There appears to be no authority in law giving to the Milk Control Board the power to establish minimum retail prices for milk, except that set forth in section 15C of said chapter 376 which provides that "if twenty-five per cent of the Massachusetts producers, by petition in writing, request the Board to establish minimum resale prices for milk, the Board may, after a public hearing, fix by official order minimum wholesale and retail prices for milk"; and

Whereas, There has been no compliance with the provisions of said section 15C in that there has not been a petition in writing by 25 per cent of Massachusetts producers, and there has not been a public hearing; and

Whereas, The aforesaid order appears to be in violation of other provisions of the General Laws; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council, recognizing the vital necessity of milk in the preservation of life and health in the City of Boston, and being cognizant of the extreme suffering and distress among the citizens, deprecates the unnecessary, unwarranted and illegal increase in the price of milk; therefore be it

Ordered, That a committee of the Council, consisting of five members to be appointed by the President thereof, investigate the retail selling price and methods of distribution of milk in the City of Boston, and the effect of such prices and methods of distribution on the health and welfare of the citizens of said city. The committee shall investigate the circumstances surrounding the order of the State Milk Control Act by which the price of milk is increased to consumers 1 cent per quart, and shall report to the Council the results of its inquiry and its recommendations as to what action the Council shall take in the premises; and be it further

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate to his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth the protest of the City of Boston at the illegal action of the State Milk Control Board; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to forthwith file in the Legislature a resolve requesting an investigation of the State Milk Control Board and the circumstances surrounding the illegal action of the said Board in fixing retail prices for milk in violation of law.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Later in the session President FITZGERALD appointed Coun. Norton, McGrath, Wilson, Kerrigan and Doherty as said committee.

REDUCTION FOR SNOW EQUIPMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following: Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability, if he submits another order to the Council for the purchase of snow-removal equipment, of ascertaining whether or not there is a 20 per cent or other percentage reduction off the regular list price where equipment is bought in large quantities by the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, on February 16, 1935, page 178 of the Boston City Record is a detailed list of the snow-fighting equipment that the City of Boston intended to purchase, the kind and number of the trucks and the price of each. This is an official part of the City Record. I respectfully submit, Mr. President, along with that City Record, along with the designation of the various trucks, the kind of trucks and the price of each unit, for the City Record, the official organ of the American Automobile Association which takes in every truck organization in America which under the code of the United States government, carries in this official magazine known as "The Commercial Car Journal" starting at page 51, the list price of each truck made in America, no matter what kind of truck it is, or no matter what tonnage it happens to be. This official journal of the American Automobile Association is the only document listing the prices. Now I would like to have the prices on the trucks which the Mayor of Boston was to order together with his prices included with the price that particular truck that is in this particular "Commercial Car Journal" for that particular date. Now, Mr. President, I was one of those who insisted that if the Mayor of Boston was going to spend a tremendous amount of money for trucks, he insist that the so-called purchase reduction price for an order of this kind and size be written off at once, before the order came to this Council. I could not prove that when you buy a dozen trucks the price would be any different than the list price, but I respectfully submit for the City Record this statement from the largest manufacturer of trucks in America, the General Motors Corporation, and such a statement can be obtained from any truck manufacturer in America, to the effect that when buying a quantity such as the City of Boston here is buying, there is a reduction of 20 per cent in the purchase price. And I desire to read into the City Record this statement from the manager of the Boston Zone for the General Motors Truck Company:

"At your request we are pleased to inform you that we will allow the City of Boston a discount of 20 per cent from the chassis list prices published in the January issue of 'The Commercial Car Journal' on the units recommended by our engineers as suitable to fill the City of Boston's requirements in their contemplated truck purchases."

All the talk, Mr. President, that I had in reference to the so-called cut, I continue to repeat here, that the price as submitted by the Mayor of Boston did not include that reduction of 20 per cent.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, might I ask the councilor, does that price include all the accessories and attachments and everything that the City of Boston trucks now use?

Coun. NORTON—A very good question. That is the very first question I asked of the experts who examined the price lists for me. These prices here include the chassis, the truck itself. The price here, as we understand them, include the body and the shoveling materials, or whatever is necessary. Yes, Mr. Councilor, that has been gone into and I produce here evidence to show that the 20 per cent reduction I spoke of there has not been included in this list price.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FEDERAL PERCENTAGE OF WELFARE EXPENDITURES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following: Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Federal Government to take over a larger percentage of our Welfare expenditures.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, our tax rate this year is going way beyond this present New York tax rate, according to the figures. The Federal Government, in twenty-four of the largest cities of America outside of Boston, carries two-thirds or more of the welfare cost. I was rather astonished to find out that Philadelphia spends $2,500,000 in a month on welfare, has not spent one cent from its city treasury since 1931. I was rather astonished to find out that the City of New York for the year 1935, out of its city tax levy, has appropriated but $13,748,000. I was rather astonished to find out that Detroit, out of its city funds for the year 1934, has not appropriated $163,000 for welfare. In New York, one-half of the relief cost comes from the Federal Government, and Mr. President, on this matter I am asking the Mayor of Boston to request the Federal Government to take over a larger percentage of Boston's welfare tax load, covering the city finances are bound to be in a pretty bad way, very short time. We ended up the year with a $1,000,000 deficit, and we have for $2,000,000 of unpaid taxes, and we are in the present year. I am asking the Mayor of Boston to afford this terrible and what a great way should Boston be the only city in America paying the full cost of its welfare. I am asking the Mayor of Boston to request the Federal Government to take over a larger percentage of Boston's welfare expenditures.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT METHODS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following: Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability, if he submits another order to the Council for the purchase of snow-removal equipment, of ascertaining whether or not there is a 20 per cent or other percentage reduction off the regular list price where equipment is bought in large quantities by the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, that order has to do with the discharge of those employees of the city for twenty or thirty years who were let go a year ago, but we are eventually going to get those men back. It takes a long time, but we will get them back. I think the Mayor of Boston will do it some time. There is Balfie in the employ of the city for thirty years and John Sullivan an employee for twenty years, and Fred Bogan employed since 1920. The Mayor will do the same as he has with the building inspectors that he let go a year ago; he will put them back on the rolls.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AMOUNTS PAID CONTRACTORS.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor furnish the City Council with the following information:

(a) How much money, if any, has been paid to contractors for removal of snow in 1935?

(b) If money has been paid to contractors for removal of snow, what percentage of the aggregate amount has been paid?

(c) How much money is due contractors for removal of snow in 1935?

(d) What is the total cost of snow removal for the period January 1, 1935, to February 25, 1935?

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, several days ago a constituent of mine asked me how much money it was going to cost the City of Boston for the removal of snow up to the present time. That is during the period that we have just passed through. I confess that I was not able to answer the question intelligently except to guess that it would cost in the vicinity of at least $1,000,000. Last year the City of Boston paid over $550,000 for the removal of snow and at that time a protest was heard on the Council floor against this amount of money being expended for that purpose. And as a result the Mayor of Boston ordered and put into operation machines that would give an accurate account and a check-up on any possibility of individuals checking in more loads than were actually dumped. I have learned that 85 per cent of the money due to contractors for the removal of snow has been paid. It is my understanding that, under the law, one third of the money due may be paid by the department heads in anticipation of the budget, but in this case 85 per cent—if it is true—has already been paid to these contractors for the removal of the snow, divesting from this Council the right that it has to inquire into the correctness of the bills submitted by these contractors. Are we going to stand by and permit the department heads of the City of Boston to spend this huge sum of money without giving us an opportunity to check up on these contractors, and to ascertain whether or not the alleged rumors that have been circulating throughout the city, that the machines that were installed went out of order conveniently so that there can be no check-up as to the number of cubic yards of snow that were received and dumped? This inquiry is to ascertain, Mr. President, whether or not we are going to permit the expenditure of this amount of money without submitting to the Council in the first instance the total cost of the snow removal that the taxpayers of Boston will have to bear. If 85 per cent has been paid already, then the doors of the city treasury are open to the raiders and there is nothing else for us here to do but pack up and go home, and I think that it is a very serious matter, that anyone ought to spend money without first submitting to this body an estimate of the cost, and the manner in which that money has been procured to pay these contractors.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I am astounded at what the gentleman from Ward 1 has just said, and I feel certain that he has his facts well in hand. I move you, sir, that we send for the City Auditor at this moment to find out how much truth there is to charges of this character.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I think that this body, after the statement of the councilor from East Boston, ought to request the Chair to appoint a committee of five members and have an investigation of our own on the alleged remarks of the councilor from East Boston, if they are true. He made it on the floor of the Council.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, my understanding of the law is that a department may spend a third of what their previous year's budget called for, and if my memory serves me correctly, the budget of the Public Works Department was somewhere in the vicinity of $6,000,000 last year. That gives the department the power to spend $2,000,000; and my understanding on the matter is that the emergency or the cost of the removal of the snow comes within that $2,000,000, and that the department is perfectly within its right in so spending. Up to the present time there have been $87,000 spent for the removal of snow. However, I am in favor of Councilor McGrath's motion that the auditor be sent for and enlighten the Council further.

President FITZGERALD—Does Councilor McGrath accept Mr. Murray's motion with reference to a special committee?

Coun. McGRATH—I have no objection to a special committee but I do think because of the astounding statements made by Councilor Selvittella that we should send for the auditor at this moment, to find out about this expenditure. It does seem to me that, if they have gone forward, they must certainly have done it with some reason for doing it, and I would like to know about it.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, may I amend Councilor McGrath's motion thereby including the Commissioner of Public Works?

President FITZGERALD—Well, let us see. I understand you are in favor of accepting Councilor Murray's order then?

Coun. SELVITELLA—For the committee, Mr. President? Well, if the commissioner will appear there, I will.

Coun. McGRATH—That is all right by me if the committee is appointed.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, when is this committee going to be appointed, and when is it going to function?

President FITZGERALD—First, for the Milk Committee I appoint Councilors Norton, McGrath, Wilson, Kerrigan and Doherty.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, if there is no objection, may I urge that I have seconded Councilor McGrath's motion, and that we at least ascertain the expenditure of the money referred to by the councilor from Ward 1 at this time.

President FITZGERALD—On that order it would be quite difficult, because under the law they are allowed to spend one third of their previous year's budget. If they had $3,000,000 last year they could spend one third of that.

Coun. WILSON—I appreciate all that, Mr. President, and it may be they have been technically all right in spending the money. However, it would be a most unusual situation, especially in view of the requested investigation on snow removal if the Public Works Department had gone roughly ahead and spent any such amount of its 1935 budget, and there would appear to be no objection, unless Councilor McGrath withdraws his motion, to ascertaining this, and it would take just a few minutes to find out the amount that has been spent on snow removal to the present time. We have been subjected to quite a little comment from the Mayor's office on other matters than snow-removal matters, and so, perhaps, we can seek the information and get it.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I move that that order be referred to executive session.

The motion was carried.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

At this point Coun. SELVITELLA moved that the body go into executive session; carried at 4.05 p. m. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 5.52 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred today) requesting Mayor to furnish information in re amount of money paid contractors and cost of snow removal—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

DEPARTMENT HEADS ON DUTY.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct all department heads to remain on duty until adjournment of the City Council on regular or special meetings of the Council.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, just a word regarding that order. Today we found out, much to our surprise, that one department head was missing when called upon by the President of this Council. Now we meet once a week and it would seem that these men ought to hold themselves in readiness so that in case of an important question that might occur in the Council Chamber, or if an inquiry is asked of a department head, these men might be on the job in order to render whatever assistance they may be able to.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION ASKED OF FINANCE COMMISSION.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate and report to the City Council the following information relative to snow removal in 1935:

1. Names of contractors.
2. Amount paid to each contractor.
3. Number of days worked.
4. Number of employees.
5. Specific area covered by each contractor.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION IN RE EDWARD J. McHUGH COMPANY.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, forward the following information to the City Council:

1. How many trucks do the Edward J. McHugh Company operate in connection with their contract for removal of garbage and ashes in East Boston?

2. How many trucks do the Edward J. McHugh Company own and operate?

3. How many trucks did they use for snow removal, dates when used and amount paid for snow removal?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION IN RE MARANUCCI BROTHERS.

Coun. McGRATH and Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, forward the following information to the City Council:

1. How many trucks do the Maranucci Brothers operate in connection with their Dorchester garbage and ash contract?

2. How many trucks do the Maranucci Brothers own and operate?

3. How many trucks did they use for snow removal?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NUMBER OF MEN IN SNOW REMOVAL.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, furnish the Council with the following information by days:

1. How many men were employed by the city for the removal of snow on each of the following ten days from January 23 to February 1, inclusive?

2. How were they divided as to number?

(a) E. R. A. men.

(b) Regular city employees.

(c) Contractors' men.

(d) Extra men employed by the city.

(e) What is the total amount paid, or to be paid, by the city for the removal of snow from the snowfall of January 23.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, just a brief word on that last order. I should certainly have asked that question of the Public Works Commissioner if we had been given the opportunity, as we had been given it in other years, of passing on this snow-removal appropriation. I was astounded, for instance, to find that Dorchester with its five great wards was treated differently by this administration than the other residential sections of the city, in that no contractor was assigned to the great Dorchester area although there are centers like Upham's Corner and Fields Corner and Codman square that compare with many of the downtown sections, when we figure it from the standpoint of daily business done there. The condition out there was horrible. Today I gave to the Public Works Commissioner's representative who came to the Executive Committee hearing, the name of one prominent Dorchester street that today is impassable. An automobile cannot go through it today; and he has agreed to have men there tomorrow morning to clean it out, something that should have been done in that great section of the city, as it was done in the other sections of the city. But remember this, Mr. President, that for twelve hours after that storm there was not a shovel put on Tremont street; and remember, sir, that a committee of five members of this Council, the second day after the storm, when the Public Works Commissioner said that there were 2,500 men employed, found but fifty men in that section of the City of Boston. Remember this, sir, that these bills were rushed through under a very suspicious, engineered plan by some one responsible in this city. On the day this Council was meeting, and a week after the councilor from Ward 21 had asked for the names of the contractors, we find thousands of dollars of city money quietly paid out to men whom we were not permitted an opportunity to question here. This is the most suspicious thing that I have seen in connection with the present administration. Every newspaper in Boston, every business man in Boston, criticized the failure to remove the snow. And here we find a half a million dollars paid out here, without the Council even knowing it, and unless that alert councilor from East Boston, on the job as he always is, had gone down and asked the question, the Council would have been successfully kept in the dark, because they feared the result of the exposure here. No more crooked scheme was ever allowed under a so-called "Gang" administration than we witnessed here today under a reform administration, and Mayor Mansfield, did you know that this has gone on? Public Works Commissioner Carven, why did you run out of the Hall today? Why was it that you left no one there to answer questions? If it was not for the auditor coming here and giving us the information we would have gone home to our wards tonight, pledged to protect the city's finances, and giving an honest report to those that called, that not a single dollar had been paid to these men who handled this storm; only to find that we were wrong because all these men in the dead of the night as long ago as February 14 received huge complete amounts? Why all this secrecy, Mr. Mayor? Why all this secrecy, Mr. Carven? What is there about this appropriation that you do not want to bring into the light of day of the City Council? And I say to you, I have asked these questions as an elected official of the City of Boston, elected to uphold the city and protect its finances, and I am as much a part of the administration as the Mayor himself, and yet I am forced to come in here and ask these questions after the door of the stable has been opened, and the horse has been allowed to slip out of the barn. Mayor Mansfield, what is there about this appropriation that you did not want all these councilors here to know about? Why was it that even when huge amounts were paid this very day the men who approved these payments were not in this Hall to be questioned about them? Why do you not come in, Mayor Mansfield, and answer, yourself, what the meaning is of all this secrecy; why bills were being rushed through downstairs, on the very day that the members of this Council were going to ask an honest question of so-called honest department heads, that required only a frank and honest answer? As an elected official of the City of Boston I now say, through you, Mr. President, to the Mayor of Boston, that he, either purposely or unwittingly, refused to bring to me and to the other members of this Council, this vital information. Yes, he went even further. He did not allow those who had the information to come here, sir; and I do not know how much longer you are going to tolerate it, Mr. Mayor, or how much longer the other members of the Council are going to tolerate it; but I serve notice on him today that unless he places before this Council comprising the twenty-two elected members of this Council, information that every $1,000 clerk in the City Hall has, of expenditures of money that every one knows about other than the members of this Council, that every Monday I will stand on the floor of this Council in defense of those thousands of small home owners who cannot pay their taxes, and who are losing their homes daily because of expenditures of this very character, that will not even stand the light of day. Mayor Mansfield, I call on you now to place in the hands of every City Councilor at its next meeting, all of the detailed information that my people ask of me, and that I cannot secure from your duly appointed heads of departments because they will not even come into the Council room to answer an honest question, and because they are absent from the City Hall when we call upon them. And I say to you, sir, that this burden is directly on your shoulders and it will be until the time comes that you have these men who are subject to discharge by you if they will not answer, come in here and make an honest statement as to just what is going on in City Hall. And I say to you, sir, that this is the most unfair thing that I have ever seen when, one month after the storm is over, on the very day that we expected the appropriation to come in here and to be able to ask questions about it before the payment was made, that very day the contractors were crowding in downstairs collecting their money; and when we, as elected officials, ask an honest question about a storm that was so poorly handled that it caused comments from every newspaper and from every business man in the city, we are told, "You are just too late. An hour ago everybody received their money without a question." And if that is a reform administration, sir, then you can answer for it.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I should think that, in fairness to the engineer who came over here and gave us all the information that was in his power, the Council should give him a vote of thanks, and put it in the record. Mr. Morrissey came over here and tried to tell us everything he could in the way of information.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, before we start to pass out any bouquets, we merely received what we asked for, and what we were entitled to get. I think it would be very embarrassing if we should give a vote of thanks to the engineer who gave the Council the information. I think at the present time we are concerned more with what the previous speaker, or with what Councilor McGrath has said. Let us forget the bouquets, or these votes of thanks and of confidence that we so easily pass out. We have here proof, the definite proof. We have here convincing proof, and, incidentally, we were only receiving the information that we were entitled to. They come here in the dark of the night and perform, and yet we are going to give out bouquets. I, for one, will not support any such vote of confidence or of thanks.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, might I say that when the councilor from Dorchester spoke it was somewhat misleading, and, incidentally, he said that we could not get anybody to give us the information. That was why I spoke. This man was on the job and came down here and gave us the information we wanted. He was here after five o'clock with the Council.

President FITZGERALD—The Council appreciates the service rendered, which has been referred to, but I will have to inform the councilor that it would be out of order to pass that motion. It is in the records that we were furnished that information.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENTS TO SNOW AND GARBAGE REMOVAL CONTRACTORS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate the payments made to contractors engaged in snow-removal work who are also being paid by the city for ash and garbage removal, in order that the city will not be obliged to pay the same contractor twice.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, this is similar to the order of the councilor from East Boston to have the Finance Commission investigate one contractor whom he named. It is reluctantly that I have put in that order asking for an investigation by the Finance Commission. It must be apparent to every member of the Council, from the position taken by the division engineer in charge of the Sanitary Division that there is absolutely no cooperation between the divisions in the same department. In other words, a question was asked by the Executive Committee of this Council of the particular division engineer referred to having information that one of his own contractors who was being paid by the city for ash and garbage removal was doing snow-removal work and not ash and garbage removal, and he said that he would not even step next door to a different division of the very same department and ascertain that information. Can you imagine such a situation here in the City of Boston, where one division of the same department shows absolutely no cooperation with another division of that department? So therefore, Mr. President, we have nothing else to do but have the Finance Commission investigate this situation where the division engineers in charge will have to give the information desired. I would also recall that the same gentleman who answered in that way is in charge of snow removal in certain sections of the city and, on his own admissions, he knows nothing whatever about snow removal. We have had some agitation recently concerning the possible passage of an $800,000 item for the purchase of machinery, and I would remind the President and others of the Council that the division engineer in charge of the Sanitary Division is one of the men who would supervise the use of the $800,000 worth of machinery it is proposed to purchase, a man who admittedly knows nothing about it, and will not even cooperate with his own department head.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACT OF 1856 RE DOG AND HORSE RACING LICENSES.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Council members be supplied with copies of the Legislative Acts of the year 1856 relative to the licensing of all dog and horse racing spaces.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ASHES REMOVAL, WEST ROXBURY AND JAMAICA PLAIN DISTRICT.

Coun. FINLEY and Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to give the following information:

1. How many trucks are owned by the contractor who has the ashes and garbage contract for the Roslindale and West Roxbury district, Jamaica Plain?

2. How many of those trucks were used in snow removal during the recent snowstorm?

3. Was this contractor paid for snow removal in addition to the amount he received for the collection of ashes and garbage in the West Roxbury and Jamaica Plain district?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPINION OF CORPORATION COUNSEL IN RE SNOW-REMOVAL PAYMENT.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, advise the Council whether the payment made to snow-removal contractors without first submitting it to the City Council was a legal act.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF FORMER EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor at Boston be requested to give preference in employment to all city employees who were let go during the first few months of his administration.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MEDICAL EXAMINER, SOUTHERN DIVISION.

BOSTON, November 30, 1934.

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Medical Examiner, Southern Division:

From the appropriation for Group C, $2.69; Group D, $5.81; Superior Civil Court, General Expenses, Group B, $159.09, to the appropriation for Group B, $372.59; A-1, Permanent Employees, $95.

Since the repeal of prohibition there has been a marked increase in deaths from alcoholism, particularly among unemployed men living in lodging houses in the South End. It has been necessary to give harborage to the bodies of these dying in lodging houses until friends or relatives could be found and notified. Largely on this account there has been a marked increase in the cost of funeral and bodies to the mortuary. The estimated amount required for 1934, $800, has been already over expended in the payment of the draft due October 1. During the remaining three months of the fiscal year it will probably be necessary to expend $350 more than the budget allowance. The budget for this department is so closely figured that no funds for this purpose are available within the department. I am therefore requesting that the sum of $350 be appropriated for the purpose of meeting this deficit in department requirements.

Respectfully,

TIMOTHY LEARY,
Medical Examiner.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor March 5, 1935.

MAYOR MANSFIELD PROPOSES HUMANITARIAN PLAN TO PROTECT CREDITOR AND POOR DEBTOR — PROPOSES TO APPOINT COMMITTEE TO ACT AS BUFFER BETWEEN CREDITORS, EMPLOYERS AND THOSE WHO SHALL BE RESTORED TO EARNING POWER TO PREVENT ATTACHMENTS AND ANNOYANCE TO THOSE JUST BEGINNING TO ACQUIRE STEADY INCOME FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT AND MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING — SEES COUNTRY RETURNING TO PROSPERITY, HE SAYS, IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, Tuesday, March 12, over Station WNAC, upon the topic "A Humanitarian Plan to Protect the Creditor and the Poor Debtor."

The object of the plan which I am presenting this afternoon is to seek a solution for consumer credit problems, arising from the depression; to formulate a plan which will be carried out by a committee to—

1. Prevent creditors attaching pay of men who have secured jobs due to the revival of industry.
2. Relieve the employer from the annoyance of having his employees' wages attached by creditors.
3. Secure equitable adjustment whereby the creditor shall be paid in installments by means of a pro rata arrangement.

4. Concentrate all these processes under the direction of an Employee Relationship Committee, appointed by the Mayor to create mutual understanding and secure mutual benefits to those involved, namely, the creditor, the employee and the employer.

The crucial financial situation from which the country is emerging developed new factors in the consumer credit system. It made it difficult, and often impossible, for the debtor to meet obligations assumed when he was "on easy street," or at least before he realized he was in for a long, hard, grilling period of unemployment.

The extension of easy credit by personal credit firms further tempted the sorely pressed unemployed family to assume new debts. Many have sought loans on whatever possessions they retained—homes, automobiles, household goods, personal effects—with the results inevitable under the circumstances—inability to meet these obligations. Public welfare and private relief organizations are now hearing the stories of those who have just secured work, and who are being hard pressed to meet either or both classes of obligations, and to make installment payments on goods purchased through extended credit, or payments due on chattel mortgages. The resulting complications are often disastrous to the credit house, and are a source of distress and constant worry to the debtor. And at the present time they begin to involve not only the man who has secured a job but the man who employs him.

Problem Natural Growth.

The problem is the natural sequence of the phenomenal growth of the consumer credit system which occurred during the period between the close of the World War and the beginning of the depression.

During this time broad credit-granting schemes prevailed in many branches of business which hitherto had not departed from the cash, or the monthly settlement, basis. High wages, easy money, business competition, excessive production—all helped to create a situation which made consumer credit a vital and essential part of the commercial life of the country.

Out of the entire situation has grown a demand for, and impartial survey of, all the facts, and the establishment of a plan to meet and deal with them, with the least possible friction to all concerned.

The plan suggested for the City of Boston, based on one adopted in the city of Springfield and in successful operation there, takes into consideration the rehabilitation trend and the back-to-work drive in which Government and Industry are cooperating to lift the country from a relief or work-relief program to one of actual work for appropriate pay.

Experience proves that the man who is trying to readjust himself to work and rehabilitate his family is put at a great disadvantage in the early period of his employment if he is followed to his place of business by creditors, collectors or lawyers acting for his creditors. He runs the danger of losing his job if the employer becomes annoyed, as is often the case when a collector calls or attachment proceedings are instituted.

The plan to forestall this calls for the appointment of a Mayor's Employee Relationship Committee, or a Committee on Credit Adjustment. This should be made up of a group consisting of recognized leaders in financial affairs, a representative of the leading business men's and merchants' associations, a representative of the Credit Bureau, members of the legal profession, and representatives of public and private welfare agencies, to act for the debtor.

CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY E. FOLEY DENIES LAW DEPARTMENT LACKS DILIGENCE IN HANDLING OF TORT CASES — REFUTES NEWSPAPER CHARGES OF DELAY — MEN ASSIGNED TO UPPER AND LOWER COURT CASES DOING WORK WELL AND MEET PRESENT NEEDS — DISPOSING OF MORE CASES NOW THAN IN OTHER YEARS — PLANS PERFECTED TO SPEED UP WORK EVEN MORE.

The following is copy of letter from Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley to Mayor Mansfield:

BOSTON, March 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—According to a recent newspaper account, it has recently been publicly stated that this office has only one man assigned to lower tort cases, that there has been a policy in this office of not settling tort cases and that as a result of these two conditions the trial of city tort cases in the lower courts is unduly delayed. The newspaper accounts indicate that they wish to know whether this office is undermanned.

It is not the fact that only one man is assigned to lower court tort cases. There are two men assigned to this work and three men to Superior Court tort trials. In the last few weeks, however, there has been some delay in lower court trials due to the absence from this office, because of illness, of certain trial lawyers. The work has now been so arranged that the delays can, in my opinion, be obviated even though one trial man is still ill.

Three men assigned to tort trials in the Superior Court and two in the lower court are, in my opinion, adequate to meet present needs. With such assignments we disposed of 684 tort cases in 1934. Only 426 such cases were disposed of in 1933. In this connection I wish to call to your attention that the aggregate amount paid to claimants in the disposition of said 684 cases was $126,706.93, or an average of $185.25 a case; whereas, in 1933, $144,993.43 was paid to claimants in the disposition of 426 cases, or an average of $340.36 a case.

Nor has there been, since I have been in office, a policy against settlement of tort cases. Where the city's interests justify settlements, settlements are made and the expense of litigation avoided. Thus in 1934, of the 684 cases disposed of, 352 were disposed of by settlement.

There is no doubt in my mind that with the added burdens imposed on this office as a result of Public Works matters, welfare prosecutions, representation by this office of the Police Commissioner, investigation of utility rates, studies of departmental reorganization, tax collections and foreclosures and Port litigation, that at least two additional lawyers could be justifiably employed in this department. I have not recommended these additions because the lawyers now employed have been willing to bear the added and heavy load and in view of the undesirability of increasing the city's forces. If the load becomes too great, however, I shall advise you.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

CREDIT CLEARING HOUSE.

The committee will be called upon to act as a clearing house for credit problems involving the employee, the creditor, and the employer; and it will take the following steps:

1. Notify employers of the formation and object of the Mayor's Committee, which will relieve them of annoyance and protect their employees while seeing that justice is done to creditors. It shall explain that trouble will be averted in places of employment if the employer refers all such cases to the Mayor's Committee at once.

2. Notify the legal profession and call its attention to difficulties that process of attachment creates for those striving to get on their feet again. It will co-operate with the Credit Bureau and call on all credit firms and agencies for cooperation.

3. Acquaint the public with the Mayor's interest in this matter and the formation of his committee, by means of newspaper releases, radio and public addresses.

The committee pledges itself to make a detailed study of the requirements of every case, securing the services of trained investigators delegated by either public or private welfare agencies. These investigators shall secure all information on file in the Credit Bureau relating to the debtor's history, character, outstanding indebtedness, and past performances in meeting his obligations, and make a complete report to the Mayor's Committee. These investigators will also be expected to

1. List obligations of employee.
2. Verify accounts past due.
3. Determine the present income of debtor.

4. Outline a budgeting plan for the employee, whereby an allowance necessary for living, plus a modest sum over and above, is allowed out of the weekly wage—a stated amount in excess of this to be set aside for debts.

5. See that employee begins to meet his obligations by paying a weekly or monthly sum either through the Credit Bureau or to the largest individual creditor, who agrees to distribute it according to a pro rata arrangement, according to the size of accounts.

6. If employee is unable to make any payment, arrange for deferral until his condition improves.

The creditor group will agree to abide by the rules of the committee, which shall be briefly as follows:

1. Restrict additional credit to an individual whose arrears are in process of adjustment.

2. Refrain from attaching the pay of employees.

3. Refer controversies to the personnel manager of the firm who will act through the committee—or else deal directly with the committee.

The debtor agrees to abide by the plan, and meet his obligations as indicated. He is given, by the committee, a personal letter to the Credit Bureau or the individual creditor who assumes the rôle of disbursing.

Broadly speaking, the results of the successful operation of this plan will be

1. To give security to the employee.
2. To prevent labor turn-over.
3. To secure the payment of debts.

OPERATION IN SPRINGFIELD.

The Judicial Council of Massachusetts has had this matter under consideration for some time and has recommended the adoption of the bill which would protect the wage earner and exempt from attachment a sum larger than that which may now be attached by law.

As stated above the plan has worked well in Springfield. On August 24, 1933, the then Mayor of Springfield, Dwight R. Winter, appointed an Employee Relationship Committee to act publicly as a medium for adjusting differences of debts between creditors and debtors which involve the employer in so far as attachment of wages is concerned.

Since August, 1933, a total of 110 appeals for assistance were received by the Mayor's Committee on Employee Relationship of Springfield. In about 75 per cent of these cases it was found that after budgeting the individual family's income and expenses that there was no money with which to make payment on debts incurred during the past. About 25 per cent are receiving an income sufficiently in excess of their budgeted expenses to permit their paying something to creditors on a pro rata basis. It is regrettable that it is necessary to state that in Springfield there are probably less than a dozen business concerns and attorneys who have continued to show any reluctance about cooperating and avoiding the use of trustee process where the employer was willing to exert his influence to get the employee to make arrangements to pay, or where the service of a trustee writ would work a severe hardship on the debtor and his family.

There is no desire to pry into the private affairs of the individual debtor but merely to become acquainted with them sufficiently to protect the debtor himself. This depression will not last forever.

Eventually we will emerge from it entirely as we are emerging now gradually. When that happy time comes, when persons now on E. R. A. work or Public Welfare Lists are restored to private employment they will need some such plan as this to prevent oppression, and the creditor will need it in order to get a fair share of the money that is owing to him.

AIRPORTS AND LANDING FIELDS IN THE UNITED STATES.

The latest report of the Aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce, dated January 1, 1934, states that there were 2,188 airports and landing fields in the United States on that date, an increase of 71 since January 1, 1933. These figures do not include new airports which are being established in the various states by the State Civil Works Administration Committees.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Upon March 8 the Mayor approved a contract with William N. McKenna Company for furnishing and installing hot water storage tank in basement of Laundry Building. South Department, Boston City Hospital. Bids, opened at the hospital on Thursday, February 14, were as follows:

P. W. Donoghue Company, $1,291; Joseph P. O'Hearn, $1,145; William N. McKenna Company, $1,112; John J. Vogel, $1,096; W. W. Crocker Company, $949, rescinding the vote of February 15, 1935, awarding the contract to W. W. Crocker Company, the lowest bidder, at $949. This change was made necessary because of the fact that the Crocker Company did not comply with the code requirements.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon March 13 the Mayor approved contracts with bidders, as indicated, for crushed stone for the various city departments for the year 1935. In the East Boston and Charlestown districts, where awards are recommended for other than the low bidder (an out-of-town concern), the total increased cost of accepting the second-low bid for both these districts would be only $30 total, based on the estimated tonnage required at three cents per ton over the low bid. In view of this slight difference, award was made to the Boston concern. Awards were as follows:

William J. Barry, West Roxbury (South Boston, Dorchester and Ashmont), approximate total, $16,462; Rowe Contracting Company, Jamaica Plain (East Boston, Charlestown), approximate total, $1,790; West Roxbury Trap Rock, West Roxbury (West Roxbury, Brighton and Roxbury), approximate total, $13,162; Metropolitan Crushed Stone Company, Hyde Park (Districts No. 8 and No. 10, city proper, Hyde Park), approximate total, $4,050. WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with various concerns for supplies and service. Communications from the heads of the departments concerned were as follows:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 28, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with William A. Dinsmore and B. A. Aubrey, as Institutional Service Company, without advertising, for the preparation of the Motor Excise Tax List, for the year 1935.

The existing law necessitates the making of two typewritten copies (Tax List and Collector's List) containing ward, unit number, name, address, amount of excise tax, year, make of car, name of manufacturer, model, type and assessors' valuation of same; on duplicate item accounts, the plate registration number, with total box, and renewal of plates to be noted in Remarks column.

For the year 1935 a complete change is being made in the "form" of bill. They are to be typed, with three carbon copies. Two copies, the Demand and Coupon, are for the use of the City Collector, in lieu of the form of Demand now in use. This new form will make a saving of time use in folding 100,000 bills; writing and folding approximately 50,000 Demands, and provides for said Demand to be mailed thirty days after notice of tax, which should hasten the payment, it being an instantaneous follow-up. The bill will be typed with three carbon copies from the Tax List, to contain: Ward number, unit number, page, line, amount of tax, name, type and year of manufacture, and on duplicate item accounts the plate registration number.

In preparation of the above typewritten list the auto registration cards are to be sorted into alphabetical order by wards.

Delivery of units will commence upon the signing of the contract, and will be remitted monthly until completed about January 15, 1936.

The total number of registrations are estimated at 95,500; total amount of payment under this contract not to exceed the sum of $4,100.

Payments to be made upon an item basis, as follows:

Sorting alphabetically... $\frac{1}{2}$ cent per item.
Typing..... $2\frac{1}{4}$ cents per item.
Bills..... $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents per item.

The Institutional Service Company is prepared to undertake this character of work and is equipped with the necessary machinery and organization to complete the work at the times designated by the Board of Assessors; and upon investigation has been found to contain the necessary equipment for fire protection of the records, and will furnish a bond for the care of the records, as well as the completion of the work.

The Assessing Department is not organized with personnel to undertake this work, and it is the opinion of the Board that the best interests of the city can be served by awarding the contract as herein indicated.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
by TIMOTHY W. MURPHY,
Secretary.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 12, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The entire herd of cattle belonging to this department was found to be tubercular on November 17, 1934. With your permission and the approval of the City Council, the herd was sold according to the statutes so we could receive reimbursement from the State.

The sum of eleven hundred and eight dollars and sixty-eight cents ($1,108.68) was received from sale of cattle and compensation from the State was in the amount of fifteen hundred and fifty dollars and sixteen cents ($1,550.16), making a total of twenty-six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and eighty-four cents ($2,658.84).

Upon advice of City Auditor Charles J. Fox this amount was deposited with the City Collector. Mr. Fox has assured me that he would agree to allow an additional appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) in the budget of this department to buy a partial herd of cows for replacement purposes. It is my opinion that it would be much more economical and provide needful work for inmates, if we had our own herd of cows.

In consideration of the rapidly increasing price of milk and the corresponding increase in the price of cattle, it seems advisable that definite steps be taken now to procure that number of cattle which may be purchased with the funds available. The restrictions of purchase of supplies over one thousand dollars ($1,000) would considerably handicap a careful and cautious selection, which, in any event, is difficult under the most satisfactory conditions.

I have received reliable information that it is neither practicable nor feasible to purchase cows by public advertising.

Deputy Master Andrew H. McCarthy at the House of Correction is qualified by experience and training to make the final decision on the selection and purchase of cattle, with my approval, also the approval of the Master of the House of Correction.

May I respectfully request your permission to purchase, without public advertising, a partial herd of cattle for replacement purposes, purchase price not to exceed the sum of thirty-two hundred dollars ($3,200).

Yours respectfully,

JOHN J. DOUGLASS,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 1, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of June 22, 1934, the City of Boston entered into contract with H. H. Fletcher & Co. for furnishing granite edgestone to the Public Works Department, to be used for street construction, under P. W. A. Project No. 4205, for the season of 1934.

The Commissioner of Public Works has requested this department to extend this contract into 1935 for the reason that the projects that this edgestone was to be used on were not completed in 1934 and as the money is still available and the contractor has already cut the edgestone applying on this project, I would respectfully request that permission be granted me to extend this contract until December 31, 1935, in order that the Commissioner of Public Works may complete the laying of edgestone applying on this project.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, March 7, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with authority given me to award, without advertising, contracts in excess of $1,000 covering equipment and material for use in connection with E. R. A. activities, I respectfully request that you approve an award to Fellowcrafters, Incorporated, 18 Beacon street, Boston, for the following:

Materials and equipment for E. R. A. Arts and Crafts Project No. X2235-E4-U-93, as covered by the following requisitions, all dated February 13, 1935, and approved by William P. Long, chairman of the Boston Park Department:

Requisition No. 234, tools and supplies, $430; Requisition No. 235, leather tool equipment and supplies, $546.50; Requisition No. 237, tools and permanent equipment, $726; approximate total, $1,702.50.

I believe that there would be no advantage to the City of Boston in advertising for bids on this material and equipment as the Fellowcrafters, Incorporated, is the sole supplier of these items in Boston and any other dealers would purchase from them.

In view of this fact and the fact that prices quoted have been checked by Mr. Ellard, the project head, and have been stated by him to be as reasonable as can be obtained on these items, I respectfully request that you approve an award, without advertising, of this contract, amounting to approximately $1,702.50, to the Fellowcrafters, Incorporated.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 6.

A trial board consisting of Captains McGrath, Gleavy and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint made by Edward W. Fallon, captain, Division 6, against James Griffin, patrolman, Division 6, for alleged violation of Rules 38, 40 and 41 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglect of duty.

Specification 1: In that on the 28th day of January, 1935, the said Patrolman James Griffin did absent himself from the 5.45 o'clock p. m. roll call without permission from the Police Commissioner, superintendent or his commanding officer.

Specification 2: In that on the 28th day of January, 1935, the said Patrolman James Griffin did, without just cause, fail to appear in the South Boston Court to prosecute four defendants who had been arrested for drunkenness, and as a result of the failure of the said Patrolman James Griffin to appear in said court the case against one of said persons arrested for drunkenness was dismissed for lack of prosecution.

Charge 2: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the 29th day of January, 1935, the said Patrolman James Griffin, when ordered by his commanding officer to report for duty at the 5.45 o'clock p. m. roll call did fail to do so, and thereby disobeyed the orders of his commanding officer,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses, finds the said Patrolman James Griffin guilty of Charge 1 and Specification 2 thereunder, and not guilty of Specification 1; and not guilty of Charge 2 and specification thereunder. Because of the failure of Patrolman Griffin to attend court on January 28 when he had four prisoners before the court, his excuse being that he overslept; and because he neglected to telephone to his commanding officer to notify him of that fact, the Board believes that the officer might well deserve the extreme penalty of dismissal. In this case, however, there was certain testimony given as to his physical condition, for which the Board is inclined to give him some consideration, and, therefore, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman James Griffin be suspended from duty for a period of forty days from January 30, 1935, with loss of pay during the period of suspension."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman James Griffin be suspended from duty for a period of forty days, effective as of January 30, 1935, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

General Order No. 7.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to advise the department of the following communication that I have received from the White House, Washington, D. C., by direction of the President:

THE WHITE HOUSE,
WASHINGTON, March 4, 1935.

MY DEAR MR. COMMISSIONER: The President asks me to express his thanks to you, Superintendent Martin King and the men detailed from the Boston Police Force for their efficient and loyal service during the recent visit to Cambridge, particularly under the trying weather conditions prevailing at that time. He enjoyed the visit tremendously, a fact made possible in good part by your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

M. H. MCINTYRE,
Assistant Secretary to the President.
Eugene McSweeney, Esq.,
Police Commissioner,
Boston, Mass.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 8.

The commissioner is pleased to publish the following letter for the information of the department:

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD,
SOUTH STATION, BOSTON, MASS.
J. L. TRUDEN,
General Superintendent.

February 27, 1935.

MR. EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

MY DEAR MR. COMMISSIONER:—May we not say to you and, through you, to Superintendent of Police M. H. King and his men, something in connection with the policing arrangements obtaining at Allston (Beacon Park Yards) in regard to the handling of President Roosevelt's special and his party on Saturday, February 23.

You will appreciate the fact that not until 12 o'clock noon of February 21 did we have definite confirmation from the President's representative, who had previously covered the situation on the ground as to the use of Beacon Park for entraining and detraining and the specific arrival and departure time. This was immediately passed on to Superintendent King, who, on the same afternoon, completed his assignment for the policing of the President and his party while in the City of Boston.

The Police Department of the City of Boston are to be commended for the efficient as well as courteous policing of the President, his party and the presidential train under the most discouraging weather conditions. This protection carried with it great responsibility and that this was fully appreciated is perhaps best expressed by the fact that those in charge, including the superintendent, did not leave the premises at Beacon Park until the presidential train had actually departed at 12.48 a. m., Sunday February 24.

In conclusion, may we not say the Management appreciates the cooperation it had from the Police Department of the City of Boston.

Very truly yours,

J. L. TRUDEN.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 9.

A trial board, consisting of Captains McGrath, Gleavy and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint made by Mathew Killen, captain, Division 15, against John H. Mesias, patrolman, Division 15, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the 20th day of February, 1935, the said Patrolman John H. Mesias, while on uniform and on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to perform police duty if called upon so to do.

has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having carefully considered all the evidence presented, accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman John H. Masters. This officer having appeared before a trial board on a previous occasion, the offence with which he is charged might well warrant the extreme penalty of dismissal. The Trial Board feels, however, that in view of the fact the officer has two small children, he should be given another opportunity, but if he is complained of again he should be dismissed from the Police Department.

"Therefore, the Trial Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman John H. Masters be suspended from duty for a period of thirty days beginning February 21, 1935, and that at the expiration of said period of suspension he be ordered to perform three hundred fifteen hours' punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John H. Masters be suspended from duty for a period of thirty days, beginning February 21, 1935, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension he shall perform three hundred and fifteen hours' punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

"Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

NEW LOW BID FOR BONDS OFFERED BY CITY OF BOSTON.

John H. Dorsey, City Treasurer of Boston, opened bids for $2,000,000 temporary loan at 12 noon on March 13.

The award was made to the lowest bidder, composed of the following group of investment houses, whose bid was .53 per cent plus a premium of $19: Halsey, Stuart & Co., Hemphill, Noyes & Co., G. M.-P. Murphy & Co., Darby & Co., Burr & Co., Incorporated, and the R. F. Griggs Company.

There were four bids in all; twenty-two investment houses participated. The bidding was very close.

This is another "all-time-low" bid for Boston. The previous low bid was on February 26, 1935, at .64 per cent. On February 8, 1935, a bid at .85 per cent was received. A loan awarded a year ago was at the rate of 1.95 per cent.

The other bidders were:

Second, The First Boston Corporation, Kidder Peabody & Co., Brown Harriman & Co., Incorporated, F. S. Moseley & Co., .61 per cent plus $12.

Third, Edward B. Smith & Co., Lazard Freres & Co., Goldman Sachs & Co., W. O. Gay & Co., Washburn Frost & Co., .61 per cent plus $14.75.

Fourth, Chase National Bank, R. W. Presswick & Co., Blyth & Co., Paine Webber & Co., Whiting Weeks and Knowles, Newton Abbe & Co., Lee Higginson Corporation, .70 per cent plus $32.

SOOT AND COAL DUST IN SOUTH BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 27, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Health Commissioner, relative to your order of February 11, 1935, concerning a proposed investigation of the unhealthful conditions caused by soot and coal dust from property of public utilities corporations in the City Point section of South Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, February 25, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your communication of February 14, 1935, transmitting order of City Council, February 11, 1935, for investigation of alleged unhealthful conditions caused by soot and coal dust from properties of public utility corporations in the City Point section, I submit the following:

The pollution of South Boston atmosphere has for many years been the subject of intermittent complaints, not only to the Boston Health Department, but as well to the State Department of Public Health and of Public Utilities, and to the special State Smoke Abatement Commissions, or Bureaus, under the latter department.

Smoke and atmospheric pollution from other causes in South Boston, as well as in other parts of the city, have been made the subject of investigations by various agencies, including the United States Public Health Service. Conditions found in South Boston and in other parts of Boston and in adjoining territory have been referred to in committee hearings at the State House. The testimony thus produced led to the creation of a State Smoke Commission in 1928. It was abolished in 1930 in the supposed interest of state economy, and recreated by the Legislature in 1934.

From time to time persons or corporations have been summoned into court as being responsible for alleged smoke or dust nuisances in South Boston and elsewhere and the unsatisfactory results are a matter of record.

Specific complaints to the Boston Health Department regarding atmospheric conditions in South Boston have arisen from two entirely distinct causes, to wit, (1) dust from various sources, and (2) smoke or cinders or other products of incomplete combustion discharged from chimneys.

Dust Nuisances.

Dust complaints have been due to the following:

(a) The storage and handling of coal in the proximity of and for the use of public utility power stations in South Boston and also for local industrial plants.

(b) The storage and handling of piles of cinders, earth or sand by contractors for use in construction work in South Boston and elsewhere.

Dust has been set off from piles of all these materials both by the action of the wind and also in the process of handling.

The dust nuisances of South Boston have no practical importance except to the immediate neighborhood.

Usually the Boston Health Department has found little difficulty in abating such dust nuisances in South Boston except the dust nuisances arising from the handling of the coal for the use of the public utility corporations. These problems have been somewhat more troublesome both because of the large amount of coal being handled and inability to secure effective cooperation from coal companies involved or from the official representatives of the corporations concerned.

It is possible to prevent these dust nuisances, but the cost brings up for consideration the practicability of the remedy. Further opinion of the Boston Health Department with respect to this matter and its remedy will be submitted if desired.

Smoke and Other Products of Incomplete Combustion.

Smoke is incompletely oxidized or, in other words, unburned organic or carbonaceous matter made visible by the particles of unconsumed carbon, or "soot," which may be seen in the air or after it has fallen on the snow or on other light-colored material. Other more potentially harmful substances than carbon (soot) are given off from burning organic matter. They may be gaseous or solid substances. They may or may not be given off in connection with smoke or soot. They may be, of themselves, invisible or practically so. Coal contains more or less sulphur and the sulphurous gases given off by burning coal are particularly irritating and destructive. The more recent forms of fuel have introduced presumptive dangers to health not associated with older forms of fuel. Such presumptive danger to health arises from some of the kinds of heavy fuel oils.

Powdered coal when burned in efficient furnaces leaves practically no ashes. The ashes, the incombustible material which constitutes a considerable proportion of the weight and bulk of coal, is blown out through the chimney into the air and eventually falls to the ground. It has been found falling on the decks of ships sixty miles at sea. It consists largely of minute particles of silica, the same substance which causes "silicosis" in stonecutters, but it is claimed that the sharper form of the silica particles thrown off by cutting granite, for example, makes them more dangerous than the silica particles thrown out by chimneys where powdered coal is being burned.

Independent observations at various points by different engineers practically agree that products of incomplete combustion fall from the atmosphere in South Boston annually in an amount equal to 6,000 tons per square mile. This compares with about 14,000 tons in Weymouth, 2,000 tons in a mile area of which the City Hall is the center, and 5,500 tons for the square mile of which the Massachusetts General Hospital is the center. In this matter Boston does not compare unfavorably with other American cities at present. It would seem to be well established that atmospheric pollution from any of the causes above mentioned is harmful to public health as well as being a nuisance, and an indirect cause of respiratory troubles, of human suffering and of economic loss. It would seem that pure soot (carbon) which attracts attention because it makes the discharge from chimneys visible is the least harmful of the substances thrown off by chimneys today.

Soot alone is never given off from chimneys and the density of smoke is not an index to the amount of the accompanying and more harmful gases or solids.

As matters stand, however, the amount of soot being given off by a chimney constitutes the standard by which the existence of a violation of law is determined.

The statutory law applicable to the discharge of smoke into the atmosphere is to be found in chapter 651 of the Acts of 1910; chapter 10 of the Acts of 1911; chapter 50 of the Acts of 1915; chapter 301 of the Acts of 1928; chapter 380 of the Acts of 1930; chapter 76 of the Acts of 1933; chapter 352 of the Acts of 1934.

By reference to these statutes it will be seen that the measure of soot is the density of the smoke as determined by a device known as a "Ringelmann's Chart."

The length of time which visible smoke may be discharged from a chimney in a single hour depends on the density of the smoke and the diameter of the chimney or stack. It may involve no violation of law to discharge black smoke from a certain chimney for a few minutes every hour of the day.

More liberal provisions are made for locomotives and roundhouses, amounting practically to permission to discharge soot continuously in any amount.

Records of smoke observations in South Boston which have been taken for several years by the Boston Health Department seldom show violations of the law above quoted and the Health Department therefore has usually to fall back on its general authority to "abate a nuisance" when objectionable conditions are believed to exist. In attempting to do so, however, the Boston Health Department finds its position weakened by the fact that the state has virtually assumed jurisdiction in the matter.

With respect to local South Boston atmospheric conditions it may be positively stated that unsatisfactory atmospheric conditions in South Boston are not attributable entirely to local chimneys. Especially when a northwest wind prevails the chimneys of private houses, apartment buildings, hotels, industrial establishments, etc., in Boston proper, in Brookline and beyond, all contribute to the smoky appearance of the atmosphere over South Boston and to the soot and other material which falls on the clothes on local clothes lines and on the snow or, unnoticed, on the ground. Moreover some peculiar atmospheric condition over South Boston acts to arrest and cool the higher air currents from the west and cause them to precipitate their solid material there.

The largest consumer of fuel in South Boston is the Boston Elevated Power Plant. It burns pulverized soft coal, but has a few soft coal furnaces. It has been estimated that it blows about sixty tons of ashes out of the chimney in a day, representing about 6 per cent of the weight of the powdered coal put into the furnaces. The discharge of the ashes from the chimney is seldom accompanied by any violation of law with respect to visible smoke.

The Power Station of the Edison Company is at present being used only as an auxiliary plant to supplement in times of need power purchased from the New England Power Company. The Edison station is equipped with automatic stokers to burn soft coal. Our inspectors report that this plant is occasionally responsible for smoke nuisances. It is not, however, as being operated at present, an important factor in creating unsatisfactory atmospheric conditions in South Boston.

Of the many industrial establishments in South Boston which contribute, together with private houses, to make atmospheric conditions what they are, the Gillette Razor Factory and the American Sugar Refinery may be mentioned.

The former burns heavy oil and gives out objectionable amounts of soot occasionally. The latter also burns oil but appears to be able to secure efficient combustion.

An outstanding contributor to South Boston smoke, when the wind is westerly, is the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The smoke comes from locomotives on the tracks in Boston as well as from the roundhouse.

The Remedies for Atmospheric Pollution.

The only remedy for a soot nuisance is the more efficient combustion of fuel. This is a matter of the proper construction of furnaces and chimneys for the kind of fuel being used, and suitable methods of stoking and of boiler operation.

Soot from a chimney means a waste of combustible material and a waste of money. It is reported that the American Sugar Refinery has saved $125,000 a year by the installation of more efficient devices to assure combustion of its fuel. A western railroad reports that by putting the smoke from locomotives in one roundhouse through a water curtain device and collecting the wet soot it derives a net profit of $65 a day from the sale of the soot thus collected.

Profit cannot be claimed for the preventions of the discharge from chimneys of sulphurous and other gases harmful to health and destructive to metal and to stone work, nor is there any apparent profit in saving the siliceous ashes blown out of the chimneys of powdered coal-burning furnaces. Apprehension of danger to the public health from breathing particles of silica has, however, led to the invention of devices for arresting the discharge of siliceous ash from chimneys. Most of, if not all, these devices depend on the principle of electrifying the interior of the chimney and making the silica stick to the sides of the chimney. The Boston Elevated has installed such a device, a "Cottrell Precipitator," in its North End power plant.

Summary.

The foregoing is submitted in order to make understandable a direct answer to the order of the Boston City Council of February 11, 1935, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the unhealthful conditions caused by soot and coal dust from property of public utilities corporations in the City Point section of South Boston."

My answer is as follows. There is no tangible evidence, statistical or otherwise, that any especially unhealthful condition exists in the "City Point section of South Boston," whether due to soot, coal dust or to anything else in the local atmosphere.

There is air pollution from the incomplete combustion of fuel and from the incombustible constituents of fuel at City Point and the whole area of South Boston, as well as in other parts of Boston and its vicinity, but such atmospheric pollution is only slightly greater in South Boston than in the West End, and not half as great as in some districts in the vicinity of Boston where the discharges from chimneys have been measured.

There is cumulative circumstantial evidence which amounts to proof that the unburned or incombustible substances discharged from chimneys are harmful to health anywhere and whether accompanied by the discharge of unconsumed carbon (soot) or not, but there is no reason to believe that people at City Point are subjected to any greater hazards than those living in other parts of Boston and its vicinity.

The atmospheric pollution of South Boston is not attributable entirely to local chimneys.

The substances in the air over South Boston which gives it its smoky appearance, especially on a westerly wind, comes from the chimneys of industrial plants and of dwelling houses, apartments, hotels, etc., in Boston, Brookline and beyond, as well as from South Boston industries.

There is a peculiar atmospheric condition over South Boston during a strong westerly wind which checks westerly currents laden with soot and dust and causes the precipitation of the material there.

The local public utility plants which are concerned in the pollution of South Boston are those of the Boston Edison Company and the Boston Elevated. Observations have been made on the chimneys of these plants by the B. H. D. Health Department for several years. Ordinarily their chimneys pour out soot by soot to the extent to constitute a violation of the Statutory Law which is applicable. There are many other chimneys contributing to the visible smoke over South Boston that no appreciable difference would probably be observed if the two above-mentioned plants were permanently closed. A much more important contribution to South Boston atmospheric smoke on a westerly wind comes from the locomotives on the tracks and in the round-house of the New Haven Railroad.

The Council's order couples "soot" with "coal dust" as the cause of alleged unhealthful conditions at City Point. These two substances, "soot" and "coal dust," call for an entirely different consideration. The presence of soot in the air means a possibly harmful effect on health not so much from the soot itself as from the gaseous products and other substances which are always given off with soot from chimneys and are also given off when no soot can be seen. Coal dust from a soft coal pile is a nuisance, but its danger to health is practically negligible. "Clean" siliceous dust from a sand pile is much more to be feared. Soft coal miners, in contrast to hard coal miners, are remarkably free from diseases of the respiratory tract.

Furthermore, dust from a coal pile is a limited neighborhood nuisance while soot, gases and fine ashes from hot chimneys are carried for miles.

The Boston Health Department has been and is being called on to deal with nuisances in South Boston arising from piles of cinders, sand, earth and other materials used by contractors and from the coal piles of individuals, industrial plants, and of the Boston Edison and the Boston Elevated. A practical remedy for such conditions is often difficult, especially at plants like the Boston Elevated, which are large consumers of coal.

The present conditions at high coal piles in South Boston, as elsewhere, is not satisfactory from the point of view of potential neighborhood nuisances, but it is inconceivable that the storage and handling of soft coal for public utility corporation plants in South Boston constitute a direct danger to the health of the people in the City Point section.

Respectfully,
F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. MURRAY, for the Special Committee on Jitney Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company (referred January 21) for license to operate from East Boston to Chelsea line—recommending that a license be granted.

Referred, on motion of Coun. WILSON, to the Executive Committee.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. KERRIGAN, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their wives in the City of Boston for the month of March, 1935.

Report accepted; said order passed under suspension of the rule.

ARRIVAL OF "ROMA."

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby welcomes with pride and satisfaction the arrival of the Italian liner "Roma," which makes its initial visit to Boston on Sunday, March 10, 1935, and wishes to extend to the commander of the steamship "Roma," and through him to the Italian Government and the officials of the Italian Steamship Lines, the hearty greetings of the citizens of Boston and the sincere hope that the friendly and cordial relations between the Italian and American governments may be increased by the regular visitations of the "Roma" and the other great liners of the Italian Steamship Lines.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EAST BOSTON RACE TRACK.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Whereas, There is now pending before the Racing Commission of Massachusetts the only application from Suffolk County to construct and conduct a track for horse racing at what is called Suffolk Downs in East Boston; and

Whereas, The construction of a horse racing track in East Boston would involve an expenditure of over $2,000,000 as well as employment of nearly 1,000 men for a period of at least four months; and

Whereas, The construction of a horse racing track in East Boston would create new assessable property for the City of Boston of nearly $1,000,000; and

Whereas, The construction of a horse racing track would increase tremendously the revenue of the Sumner Tunnel and particularly such use of the Sumner Tunnel would occur during that part of the day when the tunnel is not so frequently used; and

Whereas, The Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company, which are now operating at a deficit and a burden to the taxpayers, would benefit from the construction of a horse racing track in East Boston; be it

Resolved, That it is the sense and opinion of the Boston City Council that the Racing Commission of Massachusetts approve the application for a horse race track at Suffolk Downs in East Boston.

Coun. SELVITELLA moved a suspension of the rule for the passage of the order.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I move that the order be sent to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. Chairman, it is imperative that some action be taken on this application this week, as I understand that Wednesday is the time when these applications are to be considered. This is the only application from Suffolk County, and it is an opportunity for Boston to receive some new revenue. I believe the purpose of the entire resolution will be defeated unless we take some definite action this afternoon. It is my understanding that under chapter 271, sections 33 and 34, of the General Laws the petition, in any event, would ultimately be referred to the Council. Therefore, it is imperative that we act upon the matter if Suffolk County is not to lose an opportunity of getting one race track in this state.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I don't know why the Council should rush into a matter of this kind, placing themselves on record one way or the other, till they know something of what it is about. Therefore, I move reference to the Committee on Rules.

The preambles and resolution were referred to the Executive Committee.

ENFORCEMENT OF ELECTION RULES.

Coun. GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to enforce the rule forbidding minors in voting places, especially the use of minors as checkers, at all elections and primaries held in the City of Boston.

Coun. GLEASON—Mr. President, I desire to have this order enforced by the police of the City of Boston. I was never arrested in my life until I went into politics and there is a menace in the sort of thing that I have referred to in this order. We have young people taken out of asylums and orphan's homes and put to work at the polls on election day, in the interest of some politician in Boston, and when a man is arrested because he is advocating home rule for the police of Boston, it is about time that the representatives of the City of Boston, in their City Council, should show whether they have any guts or not, in the matter of enforcing proper rules at the polls. In the last election an eleven-year old girl working at the polls demanded my arrest, simply because I was advocating home rule for the police of this city. Mr. President, I never was arrested until I went into politics at the age of twenty-seven. I certainly hope that this order will be enforced. I was arrested last year because I demanded home rule for the police of Boston, that the Mayor of Boston appoint the Police Commissioner, and I now demand that no children be allowed in those voting places on election day. It is not right. They do not understand the game as we do and they should not be allowed there. I want this order passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, WARD 10.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of the erection of a Municipal Building under the P. W. A. in Ward 10.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. GOLDMAN, the Council voted at 2.26 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Coun. GALLAGHER, acting as temporary President, at 3 p. m.

JURORS.

Jurors were drawn under the law, Coun. ROBERTS presiding at the box in the absence of the Mayor, as follows:

Eighteen traverse jurors, Superior Criminal Court, Second Session, to appear April 8, 1935:

Thomas Melisi, Ward 1; Walter B. O'Brien, Ward 3; Elliott, Henderson, Ward 5; William T. Donovan, Ward 6; Herbert J. Clark, Ward 7; Harry B. Curtis, Ward 8; Arthur S. Bornstein, Ward 12; Julius Levy, Ward 12; Edward T. Bailey, Ward 13; Arthur F. Hall, Ward 16; August John-

JURY LIST FOR 1935.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of making it possible for men now employed and whose names are included in the present proposed jury list for 1935 to report for examination after business hours.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, I do not offer that order in criticism of Chairman Shaw necessarily, because I believe he is making a real effort to prepare a list of competent jurors. On the other hand, the earlier custom always was that the men were called in to sign questionnaires and were allowed to come in at any business hours. I understand that the prospective jurors are being summoned in at the rate perhaps of 500 to 1,000 a day and that they are being brought in during working hours; that the Board, contrary to the previous custom, does not split into four parts in order to save time and to minimize the work, but the full board—probably quite properly—are sitting on the examination of each prospective juror, the total number being, I believe, in excess of 5,000. While, perhaps, many who are unemployed might well come in during the daytime hours, it does seem to me that it will jeopardize the preparation of a real jury list if men lucky enough to hold jobs at the present time are brought in at the rate of 500 to 1,000 a day and required to wait around, losing a day's pay, and not getting a very good idea of what they have to go through, and at what expense, in serving on the jury list. So, without criticism of Mr. Shaw, I do urge the handling of the jury list in some other way, so that those who are holding jobs may come in at a time that does not interfere with their work, and be examined in connection with getting on to the list. Personally, I know I would not care to stand around there without even a chance to sit down, waiting in the corridors of the Election Department for my name to be reached.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ATTORNEYS IN LAW DEPARTMENT

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.: R. H. White Company, R. H. White Hall, March 2; R. H. White Company, R. H. White Hall, March 9,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company (referred today) to operate motor vehicles in East Boston to Chelsea line—recommending that permit be granted.

The question came on the acceptance of the report.

Coun. SELVITELLA.—Mr. President, I move to amend that by adding the words "such license to expire at the end of six months from the date of approval by the Mayor." I move that amendment, in order that we may find out whether the expressions of the Eastern Massachusetts are sincere. We can form an opinion in regard to that if we have the permit granted for a period of six months rather than indefinitely.

The amendment was adopted, and the order as amended was passed, under suspension of the rule.

LOCATIONS FOR RACE TRACKS

Coun. KERRIGAN and DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Building Commissioner to refuse to issue any permit for buildings or structures in South Boston to be used for a race track, or in connection therewith, and that the Building Commissioner be directed to refer all applicants for any such permits to the provisions of sections 23 and 24, of chapter 271 of the General Laws, which provide that locations for such tracks must first be approved by the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL, WARD 7.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an automatic traffic signal in Andrew square, Ward 7.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to advise the City Council promptly:

(a) The names of the various attorneys now attached to the Law Department of the City of Boston, with the salary of each.

(b) Whether the office of the Corporation Counsel is at present too short-handed to promptly dispose of city cases in the Boston Municipal Court.

[illegible]

REASONS FOR REVOCATION OF LIQUOR LICENSES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to at once draft in behalf of the Legislative Committee of the City Council a bill to be introduced in the Massachusetts Legislature, requiring the Licensing Board to specify reasons in all cases where liquor licenses are refused or revoked.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I urge the adoption of that order, which I think is a fair one, requesting that such a bill be drafted. I personally believe the appointment of the members of the Licensing Board should, of course, be in the hands of the Mayor. In theory, the Board stands as the people's protection against the granting of licenses to undesirable persons or against the encroachment of bar rooms in residential communities. The last places in Boston to be now granted liquor licenses under the law, one supposed, would be the night clubs and "blind tigers" that did a flourishing business in violation of the law during prohibition. Practically every one of the old night clubs, as every member of this Council knows, was able in some strange way to obtain an easy, clean bill of health. Yet the law apparently permits the refusal of licenses to apparently reputable places in localities where veritable dives are in operation, and no reason or explanation can be obtained unless an appeal is taken to the Alcoholic Beverages Commission and then, for the first time, without an opportunity to prepare to refute the alleged complaints, the applicant learns of opposition from strange and diverse sources that he never knew existed. In fairness, he should be told the story at the outset, if there is any story to tell.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION ON UNCOLLECTED TAXES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor advise the City Council promptly:

1. What is the amount at the present time of 1932 taxes uncollected?
2. What is the present amount of 1933 taxes not collected?
3. What is the present amount of 1934 taxes not collected?
4. In the aggregate
 - (a) What is the total assessed value of properties already sold for non-payment of 1932 taxes?
 - (b) Of that amount, what is the total bought in by the city?
5. In the aggregate
 - (a) What is the total assessed value of properties already sold for non-payment of 1933 taxes?
 - (b) Of that amount, what is the total bought in by the city?

6. Exactly what efforts have been made in behalf of the City of Boston to obtain for Boston, during 1935, any government grants for welfare expenditures anywhere nearly comparable to the amounts allowed every other great American city during the years 1933 and 1934?

7. What definite assurances of Federal assistance, if any, have been received?

8. Exactly what do you, as Mayor, now propose to do about it?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council promptly, the 1935 truck registration numbers of the motor vehicles in each case used by the following contractors during January, 1935, for the removal of ashes and garbage:

1. East Boston District, Edward McHugh.
2. Brighton District, Anthony Ryan.
3. West Roxbury District, Alvin Pieczkowski.
4. Dorchester District, Marinucci Brothers.
5. Hyde Park District, James P. Duggan.

Further ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council promptly:

(a) The name of each contractor, together with the 1935 truck registration number of all trucks used by each contractor during all, or any part of January and February, 1935, incident to snow removal or plowing work.

(b) The 1935 truck registration numbers of any and all trucks, not included in the above list, used with day labor forces, incident to snow removal or plowing work, during January and February, 1935.

Further ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, advise the City Council, what, if any, investigation has been made, and by what person or persons, to determine how many, if any, trucks otherwise used in the removal of ashes or garbage were diverted to snow removal or plowing work, following January 23, 1935, and if any such trucks were so used whether payments have been made or are to be made in full and without deductions for the months of January and February to contractors holding contracts for removal of ashes and garbage in any of the five districts irrespective of irregular collections or diverting of trucks to snow work. Passed under suspension of the rule.

GENERAL MOTORS SNOW-REMOVAL EQUIPMENT.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of granting the contract for the purchase of snow-removal equipment to the General Motors Corporation, who have agreed to grant the city a 20 per cent or other percentage reduction off the regular list price, where equipment is bought in large quantities by the City of Boston.

Coun. DOHERTY—Mr. President, my purpose in introducing this order at this time is, first, that I would call the attention of the Council to page 89, of the minutes of February 25 in which Councilor Norton of Ward 18 introduced an order for the reduction of snow-removal equipment, and would suggest that the members read that order and the speech of Councilor Norton, who I feel should be commended for his efforts in bringing to the attention of the city government and the Mayor, an opportunity to save the taxpayers this large amount of money in the purchase of snow equipment. I believe this would save the city 20 per cent, should they desire to purchase any equipment.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I think that order should lie on the table. I think that a number of others would offer the same amount of discount if they were allowed to bid.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES' BACK PAY.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council the cause for delay of the payment of the one week's salary deducted from certain City Hospital employees last year.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, WARD 13.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Savin Hill avenue and Grampian way, from railroad bridge to railroad bridge, Ward 13, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 14 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. McGRATH, for Coun. Goldman, offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor recommend to the trustees of the Boston Public Library the creation of adequate lavatory facilities at the Hazleton Street Branch Library, in Ward 14.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor recommend to the trustees of the Boston Public Library the establishment of a branch library for the area adjacent to Blue Hill avenue, between Grove Hall and Morton street, in Ward 14.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON SINKING FUNDS PURCHASES.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council whether it proposes to correct the errors and omissions in its report on the purchases of bonds by former City Treasurer Dolan for the Sinking Funds and other trust funds; and whether it proposes to complete its investigation by further examination of witnesses and of books and records, and of the circumstances of the destruction of books and records if they have been destroyed.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, the purpose of this order is to ask whether the Finance Commission intends to review the report which it has made on these bond purchase transactions and correct the errors and omissions in the report, and to go farther with the examination of witnesses who were not examined and further inquire into the books and records that are not material and, if they have been destroyed, the circumstances of their destruction. I have in my hand a copy of the report of the Finance Commission. The second paragraph of the report, which is practically the beginning of their statement, refers to an investigation or inquiry made by Mr. Willard, formerly deputy treasurer of the Commonwealth. They close that paragraph with a reference to the Willard report, by saying:

"This report and its findings are important because made at the time when many transactions now reviewed had taken place, and prices and conditions were better understood than is now possible to appreciate them."

In the first place, that report was made as of December 31, 1930, and therefore covered only one year of the transactions in question. In the second place, Mr. Willard does not say anything about the prices that were paid or from whom the purchases were made. He does not say in his report that he did make any such inquiry, but merely says that he looked over the list of investments as of December 31, 1930. So that Willard report throws very little light on the subject matter of the inquiry requested of the Finance Commission. And next, the Finance Commission refers to an inquiry made by the City Council in 1933. That inquiry was for a list of Sinking Funds purchases only for the year 1933. It simply covers the year 1932. That was after most of the transactions which are subject to serious criticism had already taken place. Most of them took place in the year 1930 and in the year 1931. In the year 1930, for instance, all the purchases for Sinking Funds of the City of Boston were made from just two brokerage concerns, the Legal Securities Corporation and John F. Dever. In 1930 nobody except those two sold anything to the Sinking Funds. This City Council list covered only 1932. The Finance Commission remarked that only three transactions, purchases, in that year were made through the Legal Securities Corporation, but they failed to point out that those three were large transactions in the amount of bonds, over one half of the transactions with brokerage or banking houses. There was no investigation by the City Council based on that list. As to prices paid, Councilor Norton says that he did consult some person whom he describes as an expert, whose name he does not mention, who said that most of the purchases of that year, 1932, which I say was not the most important year, were "within the range of market quotations or estimates."

That is a pretty weak statement in regard to the bonds purchased; there are no figures given, and we don't know who the expert was. The councilor then went on to say that his investigation indicated that there was no favoritism. I wonder what favoritism is when in that particular year that was not as serious a year as 1930 or 1931, over half of all the purchases made from banking and brokerage houses were made from that one corporation, the Legal Securities Corporation? So really, these matters notwithstanding the impression the Finance Commission seeks to give, were not investigated at all. Then, on the third page the Finance Commission reports that "all the bonds purchased were within the legally approved list," eligible for savings banks, "and that approximately two thirds of the securities accumulated for the several funds were City of Boston bonds." And then they say, "As a result of the improvement in the bond market, these bonds have been greatly enhanced in value since their purchase," giving the impression that there had been considerable book profit to the city since these purchases were made. That is true on some of the purchases, because since that time all or most bonds have gone up. The general level of bonds has gone up. But while they were mentioning enhancement in value, why did they not mention decreases in value? For example, there were $500,000 of State of Arkansas bonds bought for the Sinking Funds and $500,000 more for the pension fund, $1,000,000 of State of Arkansas bonds, bought on a 4.30 per cent interest basis, and now selling on about a 6.20 basis. They were bought at a high premium above par and cost the city $540,929.05. They are now selling at about 82 per cent of par, which for $500,000 would be $410,000. Take also the case of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, $225,000 of the bonds of which were bought above par, the city having paid $243,501.90 for them, and they are now selling at about 56 cents on the dollar, which would be about $126,000. Those two purchases alone, not counting the $500,000 of Arkansas bonds for the pension fund, show a shrinkage of $253,430. When the Finance Commission was mentioning appreciation, why did it not also mention these shrinkages? And why did the Finance Commission fail to mention the purchases for the pension fund, as I say, in which $500,000 more Arkansas bonds were placed? Later in the report the Finance Commission takes up certain specific transactions in which they show, in so far as their investigation went, the profits on those transactions, and they leave open the question whether $30,000 was too much or not. But they do not enter into the question of whether it was necessary to pay profits at all to brokers or middlemen, because neither of these brokers, the Legal Securities Corporation or John F. Dever owned any of these bonds that they sold to the city. They took them off the counters of some accounting house or brokerage house that did own them, and passed them over at an enhanced price. Why should not the city have gone directly to the ones who owned the bonds and bought them at a lower price? It is also a curious fact, which the Finance Commission might have found out, if it had taken the trouble to investigate, that in several instances a banking house would go to the treasurer's office and offer a certain amount of bonds and the offer would not be accepted, but later the banker would get a telephone call from the Legal Securities Corporation asking to buy those bonds, and then still later they would appear in the City of Boston Sinking Funds. In other words, why should they go through this fence to get the bonds? Why not go directly to those who owned them and get a lower price? That was not entered into by the Finance Commission in this report. Most of the rest of the report deals with the self-serving testimony of Mr. Dolan himself, upon which there was apparently little cross-examination or comment, and they wind up with the statement that "the testimony of J. Walter Quinn, the president of Legal Securities Corporation, was not obtained," and "other witnesses who might have been called to testify" were not called. Why were they not called? They made no investigation of the circumstances connected with the alleged destruction of Mr. Dolan's books. They made no effort apparently to get the testimony of J. Walter Quinn, to find out where the records or books of the Legal Securities Corporation were, and then they wind up by saying, that their final conclusion is based merely "on information obtainable today," that information, on their own admission, being insufficient to give a complete picture of what went on and what the real truth back of this whole thing was. Therefore, sir, I have filed this order asking the commission whether they intend to correct the errors I have referred to, whether they intend to call these other witnesses, whether they intend to inquire into the circumstances of destruction of books or whether or not they have been destroyed; in other words, whether they intend to do a real job on the investigation.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I do not like to take issue with the councilor from the Back Bay or with any other member of the Council, but I do feel that too many orders are being passed here for investigation and otherwise under suspension of the rule without any consideration being given to them by members of the body. Therefore, I make the motion at this time that that order be referred to the proper committee, the Committee on Rules.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that before I came into the Council Councilor Shattuck mentioned that I had not designated the particular expert to whom I referred, or words to that effect. Assuming that such a statement was made, let me say that I have no reluctance whatever in naming the person who advised me in this matter. It was an official connected with the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, and I will be glad to take Mr. Shattuck and introduce him to that person. I am sure that nobody can accuse me of not criticizing freely the present Governor when he was Mayor of Boston. In 1933 I was anxious to find out about the Sinking Funds, to know what, if anything, was wrong, and I introduced an order, almost exactly the same order that Coun. Shattuck recently introduced, and the main purpose was the same. In May, 1933, before the then Mayor Curley went out of office, I had an examination made of some of Mr. Dolan's activities, and while Mr. Dolan was in office. At that time I found nothing tangible that could be criticized. Now, Mr. President, there may be something wrong with this Sinking Funds business.

There may be something wrong with this Sinking Funds business. We are all liable to make mistakes. But to the best of my ability, and of those who looked into it at that particular time nothing wrong with the prices paid could be found. The first question was, Did the city pay more than it should have paid for these bonds? Second, What, if any, unethical business did Mr. Dolan at that time engage in? We hear these reports, but it is at times hard to prove the reports you hear. For years I made a lot of statements about Curley and Dolan, and discussed them both freely. But when I think Curley and Dolan are right I am going to stand up here and say so. Now, the Boston Finance Commission in their report of February 20, I notice, quote me as saying that "most of the purchase prices were clearly within the range of market quotations or estimates." And I am reported as saying that that was the opinion of the expert who looked into the matter of the purchases. As I have already said to the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck), I shall be glad to take him by the hand and introduce him to the gentleman who gave me that information and to state who assisted in the investigation. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, during the last five years we have been going through a storm in the Stock Market that has ruined a great many concerns and families in this country. We have seen such a world-famous firm as Lee Higginson obliged to liquidate. Everybody has suffered, all the investment houses and investors have had to take it, and I would like to average up other portfolios during that time with the Sinking Funds portfolio and to compare the losses. My friend John T. Flynn, perhaps possessing one of the shrewdest financial minds of any man in this country, and a chief advisor in some of the Federal investigations, said to me, "Norton, there was no head or tail to any of this stuff." The gentleman from Ward 5 is connected with perhaps the most heavily endowed institution in the year, endowed to the extent of over $110,000,000. When you consider that that institution, conservative as it is, made the mistake of buying over $500,000 of Kreuger bonds—as was done by practically every great investment fund—and that it invested heavily of bonds of the United States of Mexico you can see that even conservative minds in the last four or five years have gone wild. I think it only fair to state, in these days of emergency, that we must view these things in the light of facts as they have existed during this tumultuous period. Over a year ago when Curley was Mayor of Boston, I had a partial investigation made. I hoped at that time that we could show something definite, but I had to stand on the floor of the Council and state that, according to those who had looked over the records, "Most of the purchase prices were clearly within the range of market quotation or estimate." Unfortunately, this outcry came during the gubernatorial campaign. I wish they had brought the matter up years ago, before the pressure of politics came into it. I notice that the Finance Commission, in closing their report, say:

"From any information obtainable today, it is not possible for the commission to say definitely whether the profit to the brokers in the seven transactions commented on by the commission's expert should have been $59,000 or $30,000. The profit was approximately 2 per cent of the purchases involved."

It seems to me that that rather sums up this story, unless there is other information that the councilor from Ward 5 can present, and if he can show me where Mr. Dolan was wrong, where we can pin something tangible on him I will go to the District Attorney. If he is not wrong, I don't know what all this talk is about.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I wish to offer the following amendment—That the Finance Commission forward to the City Council at its next meeting complete copy of the findings of George R. Farnum, investigator, in connection with the land-takings for the Prado on Hanover street, in connection with the work of the George R. White Fund.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The Chair will have to rule the amendment out of order, it not being connected with the subject.

Coun. McGRATH—Then, Mr. President, I will introduce it later as an order.

Coun. MURRAY—I would like to ask the councilor from Hyde Park, who is the treasurer of Harvard University?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I don't think that enters into this discussion. We are attempting to discuss this matter from an impartial objective standpoint, and it is an important matter.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, the gentleman from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) has referred to the inquiry made by the City Council in 1933. I repeat that that inquiry covered only one of the four years of the last administration. I repeat that during the two prior years which were not covered by the City Council of 1933 there was the most marked reason for criticism, because in the first of those years—namely, 1930—there was not a single purchase by the City of Boston for the Sinking Funds except from these two organizations that have been referred to. I repeat that the councilor did not say that even in 1932 all the transactions were within the market quotations. He said that most of them were. I repeat that where in 1932 over half the bonds were purchased through one concern, the Legal Securities Corporation, it might well be considered as showing favoritism to that concern. That was the situation in 1932. I repeat that when the Finance Commission give us the impression that there has been a general enhancement of the value of these bonds bought in that period, without saying that there has been a very sharp falling off of others, and particularly certain others bought through the Legal Securities Corporation, they have made a one-sided and misleading statement.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

FINDINGS OF GEORGE R. FARNUM.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following: Ordered, That the Finance Commission forward to the City Council at its next meeting complete copy of the findings of George R. Farnum, investigator, in connection with the land-takings for the Prado on Hanover street in connection with the work of the George R. White Fund.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I have no objection to having this order which follows the other, also sent to the Committee on Rules, but I would like to say just a word. I have read in the newspapers a good many times that when Mr. Farnum was engaged by the Finance Commission he not only investigated the bond situation but the land-takings on Hanover street in connection with the Prado. That was a George R. White Fund enterprise and I heard many times and read many times in the newspapers that some day and in some place Mr. Farnum would get an opportunity to make public the astounding things he had found out in connection with profits made by speculators in that matter. Now, Mr. President, I was a member of that George Robert White committee that gave the City of Boston the Prado. For some reason I must have been slighted. In all this criticism that was going on my name did not appear in the papers, and, in order that I may be put in as a party to that, I make this statement now. Also, there was another party, the present Governor of the Commonwealth, then Mayor of Boston, and, if both I have mentioned are to be considered politically-minded, there were three other men whom nobody can accuse of being political-minded and in whose behalf I stand here today to enter a protest against bringing them into anything that even savors of political graft, sir. One was the former auditor of this city, Mr. Rupert Carven, of whom I said then and repeat now that when under this administration he walked out the front door of this building no longer connected with the city, the brains of the City of Boston walked out and never, to my mind, are they going to replace them. There was as fine a gentleman, as honorable and capable a man, as there is in America, in the line of auditor. Then there was the President of the Boston Bar Association and the President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, three votes out of five, passing that appropriation. And I need hardly speak in high terms of Mr. Shureliff, a highly reputable man, sir, who has been employed for many years by the state and by the city in laying out our Park System. He presented the proposition, and immediately we gathered together the owners. Up came Doctor Murphy, the priest of St. Stephen's Church, whose church owned one of the pieces of property, and together with him came practically every owner of a piece of property there; after which our committee came out and unanimously served notice on the committee of over twenty home owners that we were about to take that property. Strange as it may seem, sir, we did not have the power to take by right of eminent domain, as city departments would have. There was one piece of property which changed hands and the man who had owned it was a man who for years had run a so-called "flop house" in that community, at great profit to himself. Some one took from this citizen that property that had paid for itself over and over again, and that was the property that sold at 10 per cent over the assessed valuation. There was one piece of property that was taken at 164 per cent over the assessed valuation. It was as nice a little home as I ever stepped into, assessed for less than $2,000, but they had installed electricity and a bath room, and the little mother in that house had as clean a house as I have ever seen in any section of the city. It was a little Italian family. In taking that little property we were taking over an attractive home, sir, and it was figured on the basis of replacement, so that we paid the enormous sum of something like $3,500! So that is the piece of property they talk about, where Mr. Farnum says that 164 per cent more than the assessed value was paid! Now, sir, there was never a taking in the history of the City of Boston that was more according to Hoyle, and I challenge Mr. George R. Farnum or anybody else to question in that matter the wisdom of the head of the Bar Association, of the City Auditor, the Mayor of Boston and myself or the other gentleman I have referred to. So there are some of the harrowing details, and if there is to be an investigation of that matter, I, for one, welcome the investigation and a report, sir.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

BUS SERVICE ON WASHINGTON STREET.

Coun. GREEN, for Coun. Fitzgerald, offered the following:

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO FATHER OF JOSEPH TAYLOR.

Coun. GREEN, for Coun. Fitzgerald, offered the following:

1. Report on petition of James H. McDonald (referred February 11) to be reimbursed for execution against him on account of acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to City of Boston, Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, January 18, 1933, recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of three hundred and two dollars and seventy cents be allowed and paid to James H. McDonald in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the City of Boston, Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Report accepted; order passed.

STOP STREETS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make all streets entering Washington street, from Forest Hills to Poplar street, stop streets.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along La Grange street, from Washington street to Newton line, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFERS TO HOSPITAL KITCHEN BUILDING.

Chairman GALLAGHER called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

3. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for New Administration Building, Furnishing and Equipping, $4,927.68; Pathological Building, $10,013.50; Surgical Building, Furnishing and Equipping, $2,110.58, to the appropriation for Kitchen Building, etc., $17,051.76.

On February 18, 1935, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0.

WARD 15 STREETS.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make all public streets in Ward 15 safe for vehicular traffic by promptly making permanent repairs wherever necessary.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OVERCROWDING OF CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to confer with the trustees of the Boston City Hospital relative to the overcrowding that is now taking place in that institution handling over 1,370 ward patients daily.

Coun. NORTON—There is, Mr. President, of course, a limit, 1,370, to the ward cases that our City Hospital can handle. But there is plenty of available space in other fine hospitals in this city. I understand that the cost of patients in the City Hospital averages about $4 a day. It seems to me it may be possible to make arrangements with some of our splendid hospitals in this city to take care of some of our sick until the City Hospital has been expanded to a place where it can do so. I think unquestionably other hospitals in the city would agree to take care of our surplus 1,000 patients or whatever the number may be.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TIME OFF FOR HOSPITAL NURSES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to confer with the trustees of the Boston City Hospital relative to working out a schedule whereby nurses could obtain a day off a week without additional expense to the city instead of the present schedule of one day off in two weeks.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that in the past there was a schedule under which nurses were allowed one day off a week, but that at the present time the allowance is not so liberal. It seems unfortunate that nurses should be picked on. Nobody works harder, it seems to me, than those women, and it does seem that the custom which I understand was in vogue for years in the hospital, of allowing them one day off a week with pay, should be continued. At first blush, without being familiar with intricacies that may enter into the problem, it does seem that these women who work a great many hours more than eight a day, should be allowed to take more than one day off in thirteen, fourteen or fifteen. I feel that they should get a more liberal allowance.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM MASSACHUSETTS MILK CONTROL BOARD.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Massachusetts Milk Control Board be requested to furnish the Council with the names and addresses of the members of the Milk Industry Price Committee who recommended to the Board an increase in the price of milk. Also, what milk companies, if any, the members of this Board represent and also, if there were any representatives of the consumers serving on this Board that made the above recommendation.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT NURSES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of allowing a liberal allowance of time off with pay to employees such as nurses of the Health Department injured in line of duty.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO FORMER EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of giving former city employees preference in work.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1218.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby opposes the enactment of House Bill No. 1218, entitled "An Act Regulating the Employment of Assistant Matrons, Janitresses, Women Cleaners and Scrub Women in the Service of the City of Boston."

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, a delegation of the scrubwomen in the hall have asked me to interest myself in this bill, which they consider would be antagonistic to their welfare. It would, in effect, take those scrubwomen off Civil Service. I don't know why, when it comes to cutting down employees, they invariably cut down the scrubwomen. Why, in the name of God, pick on those poor women? I know when I was in a position some time ago where something was put through that would have injuriously affected the scrubwomen in this respect, I saw that their interests were protected, even if it was in violation of law. I went just as far as I could in the matter. And so when I found awhile ago something was being put through that would have seriously affected the scrubwomen, I went over and saw Major Hall and asked him why, of all people in the world, they were picking on the scrubwomen. I know that the Major reconsidered the matter that would have affected the scrubwomen at that time. Now, here is a bill that proposes to take the scrubwomen off Civil Service. I think we should give those unfortunates every possible consideration.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, HYDE PARK AVENUE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Hyde Park avenue, upper Walk Hill street to Metropolitan avenue, Wards 18 and 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

The rule was suspended, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, this is in Ward 19, a part of my ward, and was taken care of by me before the gentleman came into the Council.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The gentleman may proceed, if there is no objection.

Coun. MURRAY—I object, Mr. President.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

ATTEMPTED CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT

Chairman GALLAGHER called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor, February 25, 1935, of Timothy F. Leary, 618 Harvard street, to be a constable authorized to serve civil process upon filing bond.

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor, February 25, 1935, of Bentley Warren, Jr., to be a constable connected with the Animal Rescue League, without authority to serve civil process.

The question came on confirmation.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I desire some information on No. 2. I would like the address of Bentley Warren, Jr.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The Mayor's appointment does not give the address.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Then, Mr. President, I ask that action on No. 2 be deferred for one week.

Chairman GALLAGHER—If there is no objection, action will be deferred until the next meeting. The question now comes on confirmation of No. 1.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I ask that action be deferred on that.

Chairman GALLAGHER—Action, then, will also be deferred on No. 1.

Adjourned, at 5.05 p. m., on motion of Coun. WILSON, to meet on Monday, March 11, 1935, at 2 p. m.

CITY PURCHASING UNDER THE CODES.

Caught between two fires, American cities are feeling the influence of the National Industrial Recovery Act codes in their purchasing in a way they had not foreseen. On one side taxpayers ask for economy in budget-making. On the other, application of codes, which has resulted in collective price-fixing, has increased prices of supplies for city use to an almost prohibitive point.

NAMING OF JOYCE KILMER SCHOOL

Dr. Lyons, for the Committee on Naming of School Buildings, offered the following:

ORDERED, That the thirteen-room elementary school building on Baker Street, West Roxbury, in the Beethoven District, is hereby named the Joyce Kilmer School, in memory of Alfred Joyce Kilmer (1886-1918).

Joyce Kilmer was born at New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 6, 1886, and received his degree from Columbia University in 1908. He became interested in journalism and rose rapidly in his profession, serving on the staff of the New York Times and the Literary Digest.

He was essentially a lover of humanity—the simple things of life and humble people won his admiration and affection, and his abundant spiritual energy overflowed in the poetry which gave him a high standing in the world of American writers.

His great love for human beings, his far-reaching sympathy and his nobility of soul led him to enlist in the World War, where he found the opportunity for sublime service. This he gave, even to the end, for he was killed in action near the village of Seringes, France, on July 30, 1918.

It is eminently fitting that the name of a man who loved his fellowmen with an unbounded generosity, should be placed on a school building. It is right that the life of this poet and lover of children should inspire the pupils who fill these classrooms. It is most appropriate that they should learn in the words of Joyce Kilmer himself:

"We keep the echoes of his golden tongue,
We keep the vision of his chivalry."

Mr. Hurley: Before action is taken on this order I would like to point out that although Joyce Kilmer had no Boston connections, it so happens that he is buried in France very close to Lieutenant Oliver Ames of this city for whom a Post of the American Legion is named, and for whom a square is named, and very close to the grave of Lieutenant Edwin A. Daly, Boston College, Class of 1916, who was lieutenant in the same outfit—another proper reason for naming a school in memory of Joyce Kilmer.

The rules were suspended and the order passed by unanimous vote.

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF DR. EDWARD A. TRACY

Dr. Lyons: I wish to read into the records at this time the accompanying article on the passing of Dr. Edward A. Tracy, a physician in our Department of School Hygiene. Dr. Tracy's death will be felt very keenly in the community which he served for so many years, and also by the pupils and teachers in the schools to which he was assigned.

Dr. Tracy died at his residence, 50 Hancock Street, Dorchester, after an illness of six months. Having been graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1891, Dr. Tracy began work in South Boston as a general practitioner. He lived in South Boston until fifteen years ago when he moved to Dorchester.

In 1914 he went to Vienna to study neurology under Dr. Baranay and Dr. Wagner, but his studies were interrupted by the outbreak of the World War.

Dr. Tracy served for many years as a school physician, and under the late Dr. William H. Devine was made director of the school clinic for nervous and epileptic children. This clinic was established in 1918 by Dr. Devine at the Forsyth Dental Infirmary, Boston.

In 1924, Dr. Tracy took advantage of an eight weeks' trip to observe the special treatment of epileptic children in London, Vienna, Frankfurt and Paris. At the time of his death he was completing a survey of epileptic children in the Boston public schools.

Dr. Tracy wrote two books "The White Spots of Epilepsy" and "The Basis of Epilepsy," the latter containing a complete account of his original findings. He also contributed a number of papers to various medical periodicals.

He was a member of the American Medical Association, Massachusetts Medical Society, and the Harvard Alumni Association. He is survived by a son, Joseph V. Tracy, a brother, Rev. Joseph V. Tracy, D. D., and a sister, Mary R. Tracy.

The statement was ordered spread upon the records and a copy sent to the family.

PROPOSED PROGRAM OF SAFETY EDUCATION

Mr. Sullivan made the following statement:

I wish to submit, through the Superintendent, to the Board of Superintendents, some suggestions regarding a program of safety education which, I believe, is sorely needed in our school system. At the present time, some of the features incorporated in this program are being covered by various school departments; many have not yet been touched. Our work along these lines has never been thoroughly coordinated so that the child entering our schools has placed before him at all times a complete picture of the "do's and the don'ts" necessary for his own protection and for the protection of his associates.

I realize the difficulty of adding to our teaching program and feel that the help of the Board of Superintendents is required to fit such work in with our other teaching. Its importance cannot be questioned. The number of child accidents shows the need; the cost would be but slight; the advantages of a soundly developed program do not need enumeration. How could we estimate the value of one life saved, or the prevention of but one accident which would have left a crippled or maimed child in its wake?

To summarize: I should like to see safety education given a definite place in our course of study, under one department which would be responsible for its proper functioning throughout the system. A manual or bulletin describing the methods of teaching procedure should be prepared by a committee of teachers under the direction of the Board of Superintendents and distributed as a guide throughout the service. Our work should cover, in the elementary schools, emphasis on dangers at street crossings, methods and places of playing, and activities on public highways. The teaching staff could instruct on the safest routes of travel to and from school.

In the intermediate schools we need instruction both as pedestrians and as potential auto drivers, instruction in the principles of first aid, artificial resuscitation and life saving. In the high schools we should place greater emphasis on motor problems by the organization of clubs, preparation of safety bulletins and by talks by prominent people in the field of safety. Throughout the year attention should be paid, at the proper time, to seasonal activities, vacation hazards, swimming, skating and the like.

Our industrial schools should be inspected to make certain that no shop safeguards have been omitted and that each teacher has a knowledge of standard first aid practices.

I realize that an enumeration of such activities makes this suggested program seem lengthy but in practice it need not be so; a few minutes a day spent in previously prepared and definite instruction should suffice. Clubs, safety councils, first aid instruction, etc., could be fitted in if necessary as voluntary, after the regular school activities. I believe that if properly conducted, such activities would be well attended.

Side-by-side with our teaching in school, I should like to have a study, under E. R. A. engineers, whereby the available information on our safety hazards in the vicinity of the school buildings would be gathered together and special work would be done to study other hazards not now covered by existing agencies.

To carry out a comprehensive program we shall need the cooperation of other state, city and school bodies—such as parent-teacher organizations, safety councils, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Police Department and Traffic Commission. I feel sure that such cooperation will be available when we can present a definite program as all these groups have in their work shown a deep appreciation of the dangers which beset school children. Our own safety organization would serve as a channel through which they could provide their valuable services to a large group in the community.

I trust that the Superintendent will be able to report back at an early date that this work is well under way.

Referred to the Superintendent.

The Committee adjourned.

E. R. A. TO SHARE IN BOSTON COMMON TERCENTENARY.

Into another new field goes the E. R. A. Announcement is made that a project has been sanctioned and is now actively under way for the observance of the Boston Common Tercentenary. Preliminaries have been in progress since December and now public headquarters are being made ready and a free exhibition will be set up this month in the famous Ticknor Building at No. 9 Park street, at the Common and on the land that was originally a part of that area. Temporary offices are there now.

The three hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Common so far as the E. R. A. is concerned will comprise educational, recreational and civic features calculated to be of both immediate and permanent value to the community besides giving employment to a number of men and women especially qualified for this particular work. The service will be operated in close cooperation with such other E. R. A. projects as the musical and dramatic groups.

Frequent public meetings and talks will be scheduled in connection with the exhibition hall, to describe the displays and to convey information relating to the glories of Boston Common of 300 years.

Commemorative tablets of temporary character are being prepared, to be placed on the Common to indicate sites and events of significance, worthy of permanent memorials of artistic character.

Construction is in progress of material to be utilized later for outdoor features.

The Boston Common Tercentenary was brought into existence through the suggestion of a citizens' committee and under the sponsorship of Mayor Mansfield in connection with the municipal public celebration system, and the project is sponsored by the Emergency Relief Administration of Massachusetts. The director is E. B. Mero, whose experience of twenty years in civic affairs, including public celebrations and recreation service, and as one of the planners and executives of the Massachusetts and Boston Tercentenary of 1930, qualify him for this interesting undertaking. He has the support of a citizens' committee of public spirited men and women, and this committee may also carry on certain features apart from such as come within the scope of the E. R. A. service.

No. 12

MAYOR MANSFIELD SEEKS MEANS TO NOT ONLY PREVENT INCREASE IN TAX RATE BUT ALSO TO EFFECT A SUBSTANTIAL DECREASE, HE TELLS RADIO AUDIENCE IN WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION—DISCUSSES "BOSTON'S TAX PROBLEM" IN RELATION TO RELIEF OF BURDEN NOW BORNE BY REAL ESTATE—HAS FOUR SUGGESTIONS WHICH PROMISE NEEDED RELIEF AND MAKES APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE FOR MEASURES THAT WILL BRING ABOUT WHAT HE SEEKS TO ACCOMPLISH.

In his radio address on Tuesday, March 19, over Station WNAC, at 4 o'clock p. m., Mayor Mansfield spoke as follows on the subject "Boston's Tax Problem":

The problem of raising enough money to carry on the city's business is not easy of solution. Although in theory of law all property is supposed to be taxed equally, as a practical matter it is almost impossible to collect taxes on personal property. About 97.3 per cent of all taxes received by the city come from real estate. This real estate tax has been constantly mounting until in 1932 it had reached $35.50—the highest in the history of the city. In 1933 the rate was reduced to $32.80 but that was accomplished by the pay cuts and by borrowing money. In 1934 the rate rose to $37.10, partly because some of the money borrowed had to be repaid, with its proportionate interest, and partly because of the advanced cost of materials and supplies.

We have been unable to collect the 1934 taxes because the rate has been too high and all we have received to date is about 73 per cent of the total levied. The real estate owner cannot afford to pay higher taxes. Yet we face a rate of about $43 in 1935 unless something is done to prevent it. If the real estate owner cannot pay $37 he cannot pay $43. We must find means not only to prevent an increase in the tax rate but to effect a substantial decrease. Yet the city must have the money which will be represented by a $43 rate on real estate.

It follows, then, if we need the money that a $43 rate would bring in, and the real estate owner cannot pay that rate, that new sources of revenue must be found. The Boston Real Estate Exchange and other similar associations are urging a bill to limit the tax that can be levied on real estate to 75 per cent of the average rate for the last five years. This would mean roughly about $25 per thousand for Boston. But if we are to get only $25 per thousand and we need $43, where is the other $18 to come from?

Research Bureau's Plans.

The Municipal Research Bureau suggests four sources: (1) retrenchment, (2) borrowing money, (3) revision of salaries and (4) new sources of revenue. We have tried all but number four. Those we have tried have not worked.

1. All possible means of retrenchment were tried by the city in 1934 but the amount necessary to be saved is so large as compared to the small yield obtained by retrenchment that it has proved conclusively that mere economy will not supply enough money.

2. Borrowing has been tried, but it is not a scientific way of meeting the question, because what is borrowed must be paid back and one of the causes of the high tax rate in 1934 was that part of the money borrowed in 1933 had to be paid back. And yet borrowing may have to be resorted to in 1935 to keep down a mounting tax rate.

3. Reducing salaries of public employees has been tried. It produced about $3,500,000 in 1933 and $5,000,000 in 1934. Each million dollars represents 60 cents on the tax bill, so that $5,000,000 which the Legislature restored this year represents $3 added to the tax bill. But we need far more than $3 per thousand and I am satisfied that it is not fair to place such a large part of the burden of effecting economies upon the shoulders of the public employees. Restoration of the step-rates was only just, but it has caused a further expenditure.

4. The only untried method suggested by the Boston Municipal Research Bureau is that of new sources of revenue.

Mayor's Remedies.

I suggest as a new source of revenue a 2 per cent tax upon retail sales exempting food, certain drugs and medicines, water, newspapers and low-priced periodicals, and liquor and gasoline, which are already taxed.

But a tax with those exemptions would not yield enough money and to supply the deficiency I suggest for a two-year period an increase in the income tax, a grant by the Commonwealth of two-thirds of the increase in the amount of money spent for welfare purposes for the last five years—and, finally, in order to keep the real estate tax down, the privilege, if it is absolutely necessary, to borrow a larger amount than we are permitted to do now by law.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

Some such remedies as these are absolutely necessary and if they are not provided by the Legislature the picture presented is very gloomy. I concede that the real estate tax ought to be limited. Indeed, I even go so far as to say it ought to be limited by constitutional amendment, so that it cannot be altered from year to year as it could if it were merely in the form of a statute. But if such a drastic step as that is taken and no other sources of revenue supplied to take the place of that which would be lost by the reduction in the real estate tax, then there would be only one thing for the City of Boston to do. It would have to reduce its expenses in order to come within the amount which the law would allow it to spend and which would be raised by the real estate tax. And in order to keep within that limit it would be necessary to reduce all city expenses by about 40 per cent—the difference between a fixed limit of $25, say, and $43 per thousand, which we need to raise this year.

If it comes to that point and we have to reduce the city expenses by 40 per cent the result is obvious. It means wholesale discharges of public employees, closing of schools, fire houses, police stations; the elimination of health protection, garbage collection, all repairs to streets and public buildings, and, in short, a measure of economy to which the people of Boston would never submit. We demand and ought to have proper health, fire and police protection, a liberal system of education and all the other things which modern civilization has conferred upon the people.

The problem reduces itself to this: We must have more money. The real estate owner can't pay it. We must get it from other sources, such as those enumerated above.

At a meeting of the Massachusetts League of Municipalities held Wednesday, March 6, 1935, at the Parker House, the following resolutions were duly adopted:

Whereas, The tax rates on real estate in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth have increased to such an alarming extent that no further increases can safely be made; nor in many cities and towns can taxes be collected at the present rates; and

Whereas, Existing tax rates discourage new business enterprises in the Commonwealth and are an important factor in driving business to other states and are thus a serious obstacle to business recovery and a menace to the employment of thousands of workers; and

Whereas, Such tax rates discourage home ownership and are an important contributing factor to the loss of homes by home owners unable to meet such tax charges as well as other charges thereon; and

Whereas, These high rates are mainly the product of increased welfare costs, decreased revenues from sources other than real estate taxation, and decreased valuations; and

Whereas, Their continuation means widespread municipal bankruptcy; be it Resolved, That a committee wait upon his Excellency James M. Curley, Governor of the Commonwealth, to urge upon him the necessity of recommending to the Legislature the enactment of legislation which will relieve the existing intolerable burden on the real estate owner and that the said committee specifically recommend to the Governor that legislation be requested by special message:

1. Imposing a 2 per cent tax upon retail sales of tangible personal property, to be operative for a period of five years, the proceeds to be distributed to cities and towns of the Commonwealth in the proportion in which the State tax is assessed, with exemptions I have mentioned.

2. A 50 per cent increase in the present income tax, operative for a period of two years, the proceeds to be distributed as above set forth with reference to the proceeds of a sales tax.

3. That the Commonwealth make a grant to the cities and towns in 1935 of a sum equal to two-thirds of the increase in their welfare expenditures in the year 1934 over the year 1928.

4. That the borrowing capacity of the cities and towns be increased half of 1 per cent to enable borrowings to meet welfare and soldiers' relief expenditures and tax reductions.

The committee to wait upon the Governor was as follows:

Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston, Chairman; Mayor John C. Mahoney of Worcester, Mayor Henry Martens of Springfield, Mayor George J. Bates of Salem.

MAYOR MANSFIELD NAMES HIS EMPLOYEE RELATIONSHIP COMMITTEE.

DOUBLE TAXATION NOT THE WHOLE TAX CONFLICT.

Double taxation, which to most people means two taxes on the same thing from different sources,—Federal and State or two states,—is only a part of the problem of conflicting taxation, says James W. Martin, Research Director of the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation. The commission, set up by the Interstate Assembly representing the various states, which was called together by the American Legislators' Association in 1933, will report results of its subsequent study of conflicting taxation early in 1935.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon March 20 the Mayor approved a contract with A. R. Doyle, Incorporated, for laying sheet asphalt pavement in La Grange street, Ward 20 (Section C), from Vermont street to the Newton line, P. W. A. Docket No. 4205-J. The following bids were received March 11:

Sheet Asphalt.—A. R. Doyle, Incorporated, $56,788; Charles Struzziery, $57,867.50; Martino DeMatteo, $58,182; Charles Capone, $58,214.50; Baker, Matz & Co., $61,914.50; Samuel J. Tomasello Corporation, $63,880.50.

Bitulithic.—Warren Brothers Roads Company, $60,213.50.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon March 19 the Mayor approved a contract with the Roxbury Concrete Construction Company for laying and relaying water pipes in La Grange street, between Vermont street and the Newton line, West Roxbury.

Previous to the construction of an asphalt pavement in La Grange street, between Vermont street and the Newton line, said project coming under the P. W. A. grant, it will be necessary to lay approximately 2,400 lineal feet of 12-inch water pipe. At the present time there is no water pipe in this section and it is practically certain that, on the development of this street, building construction will start. It will be most inadvisable to construct the street and then proceed at a later date to destroy the permanent pavement to install water pipes. The cost of this contract will come out of water revenue and will not reflect on the city tax rate.

The following bids were received March 14:

Roxbury Concrete Construction Company, $2,505.25; M. DeSisto Company, $2,595; Joseph Capone, $2,681; The Prompt Contractors, Incorporated, $2,759.25; Sulmona Construction Company, $2,765.75; Charles Struzziery, $2,786.50; John Williams, $3,175; Richmond Construction Company, $3,318.75; Tufo & Yebba, Incorporated, $3,370; Eugene Ricciardelli, $3,457.25; Roslindale Contracting Company, Incorporated, $3,722.50; A. R. Doyle, Incorporated, $4,167.50; Appel & O'Toole Company, $4,377.50.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon March 18 the Mayor approved a contract with the Howell Lumber Company for No. 1 common fir lumber for the Public Works Department (Sewer Division). The lowest bid, based on delivery from Boston stock (which is necessary because deliveries are required in small quantities), is that of $1,896.24, total, filed by the Howell Lumber Company of Charlestown. The bid of the Howell Lumber Company, together with other bids, was protested as being in violation of the code for nonpayment of code assessments. On March 13, 1935, however, notice was received from the N. R. A. compliance officer at Boston that the low bidder had made payment of all code assessments, and the protest was, therefore, removed. This contract amounted to approximately $1,896.24. Bids, opened March 5, were as follows:

COMMISSION ON MARKING HISTORICAL SITES.

180 COURT HOUSE,
BOSTON, March 13, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MAYOR,—I inclose herewith copies of contracts made by the Historical Sites Commission with Mr. Paramino, sculptor, for the production of a bronze tablet for the Boston Latin School, to be erected on April 23 on the occasion of the observance of the tercentenary of that institution; also three smaller tablets to be erected on the several sites formerly occupied by the school. Altogether the contracts amount to $1,100.

In view of the very brief time in which the sculptor has to perform his work before the observance takes place, to wit, April 23, and also because in our dealings with Mr. Paramino we have found his work highly artistic and meritorious, the commission requests that you may waive the provision of the city ordinance as regards this contract, with reference to publication and open bidding on the same.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS H. DOWD,
Chairman.

ROOM 178, COURT HOUSE,
BOSTON, MASS.

March 1, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Commission for Marking Historical Sites in the City of Boston has awarded a contract for the marking and erecting of four bronze tablets to mark the various locations of the Boston Latin School, in connection with the celebration of its 300th anniversary. As this is perhaps the first contract to come to you from the Historical Sites Commission during your administration, I beg to advise you that the Historical Sites Commission was created by your predecessor, Mayor Curley, during his second administration, in 1923 or 1924. The City Council records will disclose the date. On March 18, 1924, the City Council voted $15,000 for this work. The intention of the then Mayor in creating this commission was to mark the places of historical interest in the life of Boston during Colonial times, so that visitors to Boston during the Tercentenary celebration might be apprised of their location, and with the further purpose in view that most of our older cities, notably Philadelphia, had suitably marked these sites of historical interest within their borders. Accordingly the commission was appointed, and was comprised of eminent citizens of Boston, including Mr. Bolton, then librarian of the Boston Athenæum, Mr. Tuttle, librarian of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Mr. Watkins, secretary of the American Genealogical Society, Mr. McGlenen, then Register of Births, Deaths and Marriages of the City of Boston, Mr. Reed of the Bostonian Society, and the chairman, Mr. Walter Gilman Page, formerly chairman of the State Art Commission; Mr. Charles A. Coolidge, of the firm of Coolidge, Randolph & Ripley, noted architects, Mr. Coolidge at that time or later being president of the Harvard General Alumni, and who was the architect of the South Station and many of the new Harvard buildings, and perhaps the leading architect in New England, and one of the greatest in the country. Mr. Reed resigned from the commission, and I took his place.

During Mayor Curley's second administration the commission erected some twenty-five or thirty bronze memorials, of a suitable and artistic type, all approved by the Boston Art Commission. When Mayor Curley was succeeded by Mayor Nichols the work ceased, as Mr. Nichols was not cooperative. When Mayor Curley succeeded Mayor Nichols for his third term he again revived the commission and a further appropriation of $20,000 was made on January 21, 1930, to continue the work. During the Tercentenary year the commission erected many tablets, and has altogether erected some fifty tablets. During the depression the commission has been very sparing about erecting tablets.

It was brought to the attention of the commission by many interested in Boston Latin School that it would be a suitable time to mark the present Latin School and its various locations, in view of the history of the school and of the coming anniversary. The celebration of this anniversary has already attracted national attention, and there is, I believe, a committee acting under your instructions for the proper observance of the anniversary. The contract herewith submitted is made in quadruplicate, as has been the custom of the commission since its inception, one copy to go to the sculptor and the other three to the various departments interested. Early in the proceedings of the commission, after approval of a contract by the commission, the chairman, by vote, was empowered to sign the contract in behalf of the commission. This contract in bulk represents $1,100, but it really is four contracts combined in one. The main tablet on the Boston Latin School is to cost $800 and will contain a bas-relief of the original building in which the school was held; also a relief of the seal of the school, to wit, the wolf with the suckling babes,—Romulus and Remus, I believe; and three bronze tablets, each costing $100, marking the three earlier sites of the school, the present location of the Parker House, the present location of one of the buildings of Jordan Marsh Company, on Bedford street, and the location on Warren avenue, where the school was just previous to its present location.

I trust this information will elucidate the contract and furnish you with some information concerning the commission and its doings. The commission, I believe, has now a balance of $4,000 of the original fund, which statement I received from the City Auditor. As these funds have been allocated for this work, they can be used for no other city purpose, and are not an additional drain upon the city revenue as such. If you desire any further information concerning the commission and its work, I should be pleased to forward it to you, or call by appointment to explain to you the workings of the commission.

With assurances of high regard, I am,

Very truly yours,

THOMAS H. DOWD,
Chairman.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Healy's Office Service have been allowed to make an addition to the poll contract, under date of February 14, for the following reason: It was found that the cost of printing the new fan-fold poll tax bill could be reduced $514 by eliminating the printing of the ward number. As the ward number must be recorded on the poll tax bill, the Healy's Office Service submitted a price of $300 for typing this number on 240,000 bills, at a rate of $1.25 per thousand. This arrangement will result in a saving of $214 to the City of Boston.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 14.

Patrolman Samuel A. Dunlap of Division 1 is commended in General Orders for effective police duty performed on February 23, 1935, in connection with the capture of two dangerous characters who had broken and entered a clothing store and carried away $2,100 worth of suits and overcoats. Patrolman Dunlap intercepted these criminals as they were in the act of driving away from the store, with the stolen goods piled in the rear of a rented automobile.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and good judgment shown by Patrolman Dunlap in forcing these thugs, at gunpoint, to drive to the station, at the same time preventing a substantial loss to the clothing merchant by recovering the property which had been removed from his store.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

CITY'S FAMOUS GRIZZLY BEAR DEAD AT FRANKLIN PARK.

The grizzly bear, Prince, one of the oldest animals in the Franklin Park Zoo, died on March 10, due to heart disease brought on by the animal's age. When he was received in the summer of 1912, he was approximately twenty-seven years of age, or, in other words, a young bear, being a gift from the United States Government from Yellowstone Park. He was one of the best attractions in our Zoo and was known to thousands of people. We still have two other grizzly bears of approximately the same age.

The animals have wintered very well, the Park Department not listing any BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

The building at 6 and 8 Charles street, Ward 2.

The building at 10 Thacher court, Ward 3.

The building at 2 Concord avenue, Ward 2.

The building at 12 Thacher court, Ward 3.

The building at 164 Border street, rear, Ward 1.

The building at 62 Sawyer street, Ward 9.

The building at 1 Concord avenue, Ward 2.

The building at 3 Concord avenue, Ward 2.

The building at 171 Bowdoin street, Ward 15, is in a dilapidated condition, foundation badly fractured, windows and doors broken; a fire menace. The owner, Bertha F. Fitzgerald of 11 Bullard street, Dorchester, has been notified of the unsafe condition of the building, but nothing has been done to remove the cause of complaint.

The building at 961-967 Bennington street, Ward 1, the windows devoid of frames and glass, three doors broken and not securely fastened, had one fire in this building in September, building open to wind and weather, a foot of water in cellar. The conditions of this building are a bad menace and dangerous to children. The owner, Frances Whall of 85 Spencer street, Dorchester, has been notified of the unsafe condition of the building, but nothing has been done to remove the cause of complaint.

The building at 202 Silver street, Ward 6, is in an unsafe and dangerous condition, dilapidated and a fire hazard. The owner Bernard Skinner, administrator and heir of Francis Skinner, of 86 Gold street, South Boston, has been notified of the unsafe condition of the building, but nothing has been done to remove the cause of complaint.

The building at 125 Linden Park street, Ward 9, is unsafe and dangerous, sills rotted, gutters off both sides, windows broken, front piazza decayed, general condition very poor. The owner, Thomas A. McKenna of 16 Garden street, West Roxbury, has been notified of the unsafe condition of the building, but nothing has been done to remove the cause of complaint.

MAYOR MANSFIELD CORRECTS FALSE PRESS STATEMENTS AS TO HIS STAND ON TAX RATE.

The following statement was issued from the Mayor's office on March 19:

My attention has just been called to a press notice alleging that the Mayor "had backed down in his original request that he be allowed to set a tax rate of $42.60 for the City of Boston this year." I never at any time made a request to be allowed to set a tax rate of $42.60. Those figures were supplied by the Municipal Research Bureau.

As to the further statement that Corporation Counsel Foley suggested legislation which would call for a tax rate for Boston of $38.60 compared with last year's rate of $37.10, the Mayor said that he hoped to keep it even below last year's rate of $37.10 and that he did not ask or suggest that it be fixed at $38.60.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President FITZGERALD in the chair. Absent, Coun. Dowd and Fish.

VETO OF ORDERS IN RE DOG TRACKS.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 4 in which the Mayor is ordered to instruct the Building Commissioner to refuse to issue a permit for race tracks constructed in South Boston and to refer applicants for such permits to General Laws, chapter 271, sections 33 and 34. Aside from the fact that the City Council, under the charter, has no power to submit orders to heads of departments, I beg to inform your Honorable Body that the Building Commissioner had already been instructed to refuse to issue such permits and to refer applicants to the statutes above cited before your order reached me.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the order adopted by your Honorable Body on February 25 wherein the Corporation Counsel is instructed to apply for an injunction, or to take such legal steps as may be necessary, to prevent the use of land in South Boston for a dog race track. Aside from the fact that the City Council, under the charter, has no power to submit orders to heads of departments, I beg to inform your Honorable Body that the Corporation Counsel had already been instructed to take every legal means to prevent the use of land in any part of Boston as a dog race track before your order was received.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, I read that veto message, with the several other similar products of the mind of the Mayor, who appears to have acquired a more exaggerated ego since he was elected Mayor of the city and has attended a few banquets than he seemed to be possessed of before he was elected. In connection with that veto message of the Mayor I am submitting to be printed in the minutes a copy of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel printed in the City Record of March 9, 1935, as to the powers of the Mayor and City Council over the location of race tracks under sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws. These two sections, which were originally enacted in 1856, were slumbering peacefully in innocuous desuetude, overlooked by all the battery of legal lights concerned in the adoption of the Racing Law of 1934, and undiscovered and unknown to the citizens and law officers of Boston, Cambridge, Methuen, West Springfield and other municipalities, who in the four weeks preceding February 25 have been protesting against the locating of dog racing tracks in their districts entirely on the ground that they were entitled to a public hearing before the Racing Commission. But on February 19, 1935, a bomb was exploded which seriously interfered with the plans of the dog race promoters. Councilors Donovan and Kerrigan of South Boston announced to the newspapermen at City Hall that in the course of their investigation they had discovered that sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws, which had been in effect for nearly eighty years, prohibited the locating of race tracks in a city or town without the approval of the mayor and aldermen or selectmen. Their disclosure was treated lightly at first, but in a few days its importance began to be appreciated and it has been amusing to see eminent counsel, mayors, city solicitors using for their own glory the discovery of our two fellow members. No one has as yet dared to openly claim that they either knew of or discovered these sections before Councilors Kerrigan and Donovan, because the newspaper record makes it futile, but so far as possible every attempt has been made to minimize the councilors' part in it. Even the Corporation Counsel's opinion reads:

"March 4, 1935.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have asked my opinion as to whether if a license to conduct a racing meeting at a track to be located in Boston is issued the consent of the Mayor and City Council must be obtained to the location and laying out of the race ground."

What he does not say is that the request of the Mayor for an opinion was caused by an order offered by Councilors Donovan and Kerrigan on February 25, 1935, calling attention to sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws. It may be true, as stated in the veto message, that the Mayor had instructed the Corporation Counsel to take every legal means to oppose the dog track before the Council order was received but what he does not state in the message is that neither he nor his Corporation Counsel had any knowledge of the most important legal point, namely, the two sections in question, until the South Boston councilmen pointed them out. However, the veto of the order on an unimportant technicality certainly does the Mayor no credit and in no way detracts from the value of the service rendered the people by Councilors Kerrigan and Donovan of South Boston.

The opinion of the Corporation Counsel is as follows:

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 4, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have asked my opinion as to whether, if a license to conduct a racing meeting at a track to be located in Boston is issued pursuant to the provisions of chapter 128A of the General Laws as inserted by the provisions of section 3 of chapter 374 of the Act of 1934, the consent of the Mayor and City Council must be obtained to the location and the laying out of the race ground before the same may be located and laid out.

Section 2 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"Any person desiring to hold or conduct a horse or dog racing meeting within the commonwealth shall make an application to the state racing commission, hereinafter called the commission, for a license so to do. Such application shall state

(1) The name of the applicant.
(2) The post office address of the applicant, and if a corporation, the name of the state under the laws of which it is incorporated, the location of its principal place of business and the names and addresses of its directors and stockholders.

(3) The location of the race track where it is proposed to hold or conduct such meeting.

(4) The days on which it is intended to hold or conduct such meeting, which, days shall be successive week days Saturday and Monday being considered successive week days.

(5) The hours of each day between which it is intended to hold or conduct racing at such meeting, which hours shall be not before twelve o'clock noon nor later than seven o'clock post meridian for horse racing, and not before seven o'clock post meridian nor later than twelve o'clock midnight for dog racing.

(6) Answers to such other questions as the commission may prescribe, and

(7) That the applicant will comply, in case such license be issued, with all applicable laws and with all applicable rules and regulations prescribed by the commission."

Section 3 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"If any application for a license, filed as provided by section two, shall be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the commission may issue a license to the applicant to conduct a racing meeting in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, at the race track specified in such application.

Such license shall state:

(1) The name of the person to whom the same is issued.

(2) The location of the race track where the racing meeting thereby authorized is to be held,

(3) The days on which such meeting may be held or conducted,

(4) The hours of each day between which racing may take place at such meeting, and

(5) That the required license fee has been received by the commission."

Section 14 of said chapter 128A provides in part as follows:

"Licenses shall not be granted under this chapter for the holding or conducting of any horse racing meeting or any dog racing meeting within any county unless a majority of the registered voters of such county voting on the questions of granting such licenses when said questions were last submitted to them, as hereinafter provided, have voted in the affirmative."

Sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws (Ter. Ed.) provide as follows:

"No land within a town shall be laid out or used as a race ground or trotting park without the previous consent of and location by the Mayor and aldermen or selectmen, who may regulate and alter the terms and conditions under which the same shall be laid out, used or continued in use and may discontinue the same when in their judgment the public good so requires; and no land shall be used for any of the purposes declared unlawful in section thirty-one.

"Every race ground or trotting park established, laid out, used or continued in use contrary to this chapter is declared a common nuisance and may be abated as such; and all persons owning, keeping, using or permitting to be used such race ground or trotting park, or aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both."

If the provisions of said section 33 apply to the laying out and location of land, as a race ground, where a racing meeting licensed under the provisions of chapter 128A is licensed to be held, then the consent of the Mayor and City Council to such laying out and location in Boston must be obtained, notwithstanding the issuance of the license.

Chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 does not specifically repeal sections 33 or 34 of chapter 271, nor are its provisions inconsistent with the requirement that the consent aforesaid of the Mayor and City Council be obtained.

There is authority for the proposition that where there is a comprehensive statute which purports to cover an entire field and declares a legislative policy touching a subject, the enactment of such statute, seemingly designed to embrace completely a branch of administrative laws, implicitly repeals the statutes theretofore governing the subject. (See Commissioner of Banks v. Highland Trust Co., 283 Mass. 71, 2 (1933).) Based upon such authority it may be argued with some force that the subject of control over racing meetings and over the location of racing grounds is governed by chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 and that sections 33 and 34 of chapter 271 of the General Laws are implicitly repealed at least as far as they might otherwise apply to racing meetings licensed under said chapter 374.

It should be noted, however, that chapter 374 does not authorize racing meetings. It legalizes certain betting and wagering and forbids racing meetings, where any form of betting or wagering on the speed or ability of horses or dogs is permitted, without a license granted as therein provided. Furthermore, the application required by section 2 to be filed must state "That the applicant will comply, in case such license be issued, with all applicable laws," thus indicating, at least, that not all laws relating to such meetings are superseded.

It should also be noted the Supreme Judicial Court has more than once ruled that "A statute is not to be deemed to supersede a prior statute in whole or in part in the absence of express words or clear implication." (See Inspector of Buildings v. General Outdoor, Etc., Co., 264 Mass. 85, 9 (1928), and cases cited.)

In view of the foregoing, it is my opinion that while the matter is not entirely free from doubt, the subject of control of racing meetings is not wholly governed by chapter 128A of the General Laws, as inserted by said chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934, and that the consent of the Mayor and City Council of Boston to the laying out of land as a race ground and to the location of said race ground must be obtained, even by one licensed under chapter 374 of the Acts of 1934 to hold racing meetings, before such race ground may be laid out or located in Boston.

You have also asked my opinion as to whether the Building Commissioner of the City of Boston may refuse a permit for the construction of structures forming part of a race ground before such consent is given.

Since the laying out and location of a race track without such consent constitutes, in my opinion, a common nuisance (section 34 of chapter 271), it is my opinion that a permit may properly be refused such consent is obtained (see section 1 of chapter 550 of the Acts of 1907, as amended).

I wish in addition to call to your attention the provisions of section 21 of chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 to the effect that

"No building or structure shall hereafter be erected or altered within a distance of one hundred feet from park or parkway in the city of Boston, without permission in writing having first been obtained from the park commissioners of the city of Boston."

It is my opinion that one licensed to conduct a racing meeting under chapter 128A of the General Laws as amended may not erect a structure therefor within a distance of 100 feet from any park or parkway in the City of Boston without having first obtained written permission from the Park Commissioners.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

MESSAGE CONCERNING LICENSING BOARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith disapproved and without my signature order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 4, 1935, in which it is ordered that the Corporation Counsel be requested, through the Mayor, to draft a resolution requiring the Licensing Board of the City of Boston to specify the reasons for its proposed licensing licenses.

I can find no authority in the City Charter under which the City Council may request the Corporation Counsel to draft a resolution which requires the Mayor to take any action in the Corporation Council.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

MESSAGE CONCERNING REINSTATEMENT OF LICENSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith disapproved and without my signature the order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 4, 1935, in which the Public Works Commissioner is ordered to inform the City Council as to the registration numbers of certain motor trucks used by contractors in the removal of ashes and garbage, in snow removal or snow plowing work; and whether or not an investigation has been made relative to the diversion of trucks from work of removing ashes to snow removal.

I am advised by the Corporation Counsel that the City Council, under the charter, may request specific information from the Mayor only on municipal matters within the jurisdiction of the City Council. As it does not appear that the information requested relates to any municipal matter within the jurisdiction of your Honorable Body, I am constrained to veto the order.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

MESSAGE CONCERNING WARD 14 BRANCH LIBRARY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 4 that the Mayor recommend to the trustees of the Boston Public Library the establishment of a branch between Grove Hall and Morton street, in Ward 14. The trustees of the Boston Public Library at the present moment, at my most earnest solicitation, are striving to reduce their yearly budget, which cannot be done if more branch libraries are to be established. I regret that the financial condition of the city is such that the expansion recommended in this order must be deferred until some future time.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

CONTRACT WITH MARINUCCI BROTHERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 4, 1935.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of February 25, 1935, concerning the contract with Marinucci Brothers for the collection of ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, March 4, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of February 28, with attached City Council order dated February 25, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Commissioner of Public Works to abrogate immediately the contract with Marinucci Brothers for the collection of ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district on account of unsatisfactory service, and to arrange for this work to be performed by city employees under the Public Works Department."

and I beg leave to submit the following statement. The records show that no collections were made on the four working days, January 24, 25, 26 and 28, due to the fact that the material was inaccessible on account of the snowstorm on January 23 and it took some time to get the streets plowed out.

Marinucci Brothers during the month of January used an average of 55 men and 11½ trucks per day on ashes and 25 men and 5 trucks per day average on garbage. On resuming work on January 29, the contractor used an average of 6 trucks and 30 men on garbage and 61 men and 13 trucks on ashes as an average over the 19 days following with a maximum of 17 trucks and 78 men on ashes. To compensate for the non-collection in the January storm, the contractor worked Sunday February 3 and Sunday, February 10.

Complaints did not begin to increase until January 29 or about three days after the storm, and continued above normal until February 12, since which date normal conditions have obtained. Foreman Kelly reports that the contractor has carried out his obligations in a satisfactory manner, and that he used as many men and trucks as he was able to coordinate.

Any consideration to perform the collection of ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district by city employees is inadvisable and the cost would practically be 50 per cent over the present price now paid to contractors. This district of the Sanitary Division is under the supervision of one foreman and ten inspectors. The population of this district is 192,000 persons. To organize a city collection it would call for the services of 120 employees at a daily expense of $615. This force will not work on Saturday afternoons, or holidays, making a total of 39 working days of non-collections by city forces. A fleet of trucks numbering 25 would have to be purchased. A fair cost per day of operation of this fleet, including depreciation, etc., would be $18 per truck, or a daily cost of $450, making a total expenditure of $1,000 per week day or $313,000 per annum. This, in addition to the inspecting force now in the district. The price paid under this year's contract is $179,940. There also will arise a question of dumps and to what expense the city will be put for the use of private dumps.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

VETO OF ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF THOMAS F. A. DALEY.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith without my signature and disapproved, the resolution adopted by your Honorable Body on February 25, 1935, purporting to approve the enactment of legislation for the payment of an annuity to the widow of Thomas F. A. Daley, late member of the Boston Police Department. A perusal of the record of this case shows too plainly for dispute that this police officer did not meet his death while in the performance of his duty. Under these circumstances I am constrained to veto this resolve.

SELECTION OF JURORS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 5, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Board of Election Commissioners relative to your order of January 7, 1935, with reference to the selection of jurors in the City of Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Election Department, March 4, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In re order of City Council, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to the selection of jurors in the City of Boston, and the basis, if any, for the recent Bar Association criticism of the present method of choice of prospective jurors for service in the Suffolk Superior Court."

It is my desire at this time to submit the ensuing report on the procedure followed by this commission in the selection of prospective jurors.

Each year, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 234 of the General Laws (Tercentenary Edition), we prepare a list of the inhabitants of the City of Boston qualified to serve as jurors. The members of this Board make an impartial selection from all parts of the city of men of various occupations, between the ages of twenty-five and seventy, excluding those exempted by law (selecting not less than one juror for every hundred inhabitants, nor more than one for every sixty). Each ward of the city is represented on the Jury List in proportion to its number of registered voters. We are of the opinion that the persons finally selected represent an excellent cross-section of our citizenry.

The system adopted by the Board, and in vogue for many years passed, in my opinion, is not excelled in any part of the country. It was my good fortune to be a member of the Board of Election Commissioners when this system of examination was originally instituted. Many additional improvements have been made since that time (to wit: the establishment of the State Probation Commission and its clearing house division). This led to the creation of an investigating division in this department, in charge of tried and faithful employees, who by years of faithful service have become known to the courts of the county, and whose integrity has never been questioned.

The intense effort put into this work of examination can hardly, in our opinion, be excelled, and, of course, is not excelled anywhere in this country. This system of check and countercheck by the Police Department, the check and countercheck by the Jury Division of this department, under the supervision of an assistant of many years' experience in this particular field, obtained by close examination of court records in the several Probation Divisions of Superior, District and Municipal Courts, gives us a first-hand knowledge of the records of those whose names may have been selected in the initial stage by the commissioners preparing the list.

A further investigation of every person drawn for active jury duty, on each venire of Jurors drawn by the City Council, is conducted by this office, at the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the Police Department and at the State Probation Office, to determine if he has violated the law in any way. Any record that may be found relating to any juror is forwarded to the Chief Justice of the Superior Court before such person appears at the Court House for jury duty.

In the year 1934, 7,932 men were provisionally selected for jury service. A card for each provisional juror was sent to the police, who conducted a personal investigation as to the man's moral character and fitness to serve on the jury. As a result of this police investigation in 1934, 1,976 men were rejected, leaving 5,956 persons on the provisional list, who were summoned to appear before this Board for a personal examination, at which time they were required to fill out, under oath, a jury questionnaire as prepared by this Board. We are inclosing a copy of this questionnaire.

After the examination by questionnaire of the 5,956 men in 1934, 1,594 were rejected by the commissioners, leaving 4,362 names to be placed on the Jury List. These names were added to names on the Jury List of the previous year that were eligible to be carried on for another year, not having as yet been on the Jury List for three years. The Jury List was then made up, sent to the City Council, and printed as a public document, as provided by law.

Names of eligible jurors are then placed individually in a jury box and are drawn by lot, as they are needed, by a member of the City Council. The power of selecting jurors and placing their names on the Jury List is vested in the Board of Election Commissioners; the drawing of jurors vested in the City Council.

In the year 1934, 2,753 jurors were drawn for service; and fifty-three of these jurors were stricken from the Jury List by court order, upon information and facts presented by this Board, after examination of venires at the Central Probation Office and the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the Police Department.

The Board is confident that they are doing everything in their power to secure for the Superior Court and the citizens of our city a fine Jury List as can be obtained; and in the preparation of this list there is no room for criticism by the Bar Association or the methods used in securing a cross-section of the citizenry for jury duty.

Respectfully yours,
BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
DAVID B. SHAW, Chairman.

USE OF MINORS AS CHECKERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Board of Election Commissioners, relative to your order of March 4, 1935, concerning the presence of minors in voting places, especially the use of minors as checkers.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Election Department, March 11, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In re order of City Council passed March 4, 1935.

"Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to enforce the rule forbidding minors in voting places, especially the use of minors as checkers, at all elections and primaries held in the City of Boston."

I have no knowledge of any law or rule forbidding the use of minors as "checkers," outside the guard rail, at primaries or elections held in the City of Boston.

There has been a custom in vogue for many years, among candidates for public office, to use or employ "checkers" (outside the guard rail), for the sole purpose of checking voters on their way to the polls.

The Board has not taken any action in matters of this kind because we feel they come strictly in the purview of the police officer's duty in policing the polls, whose duty it is to see that the entrance and exit of voters is not hampered by campaign workers or loiterers.

I desire to emphasize the fact that all election officers, appointed by this Board, are registered voters in the City of Boston in the year of their appointment.

Respectfully yours,
BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
DAVID B. SHAW, Chairman.

AERIAL HIGHWAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Corporation Counsel and inclosed communication from the City Planning Board relative to your order of January 21, 1935, concerning proposed aerial highway from Sullivan square, Charlestown, to Castle street, South End, via Atlantic avenue, and the abolition of the grade crossings at Sullivan square and Warren avenue, Charlestown.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 8, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have asked me to consider, and report to you with reference to, the following order passed by the City Council at a meeting held on January 21, 1935:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the Public Works Administration in Washington the matter of carrying out the proposed plans for an aerial highway from Sullivan square, Charlestown, to Castle street, South End, via Atlantic avenue, and the abolition of the grade crossings at Sullivan square and Warren avenue, Charlestown."

I have taken the liberty of referring the matter to the City Planning Board for their views. Inclosed you will find a report in addition to this matter signed by Frederic H. Fay, chairman.

In view of the disadvantages of an aerial highway in Charlestown and that the Board's report it would seem wiser to have the aerial highway should be constructed with Federal Funds.

The widening of Northford Avenue has been the need for such a highway but as it would involve land takings and the expense would be considerable, I do not believe that the project should be undertaken. It is the opinion of the Federal commissioners and also the Board of Construction of a very substantial amount of money. If the Federal Government will contribute such a project, it is a very good thing. This project must have a great deal of money passes at Sullivan square and Warren avenue, Charlestown, it is a very good thing.

Very respectfully yours,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Mr. Hon. F. W. Mansfield,
Department of Public Works,
Dear Sir:—

Planning Board submits herewith report on the following order passed by the City Council at its meeting January 21, 1935:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the Public Works Administration in Washington the matter of carrying out the proposed plans for an aerial highway from Sullivan square, Charlestown, to Castle street, South End, via Atlantic avenue, and the abolition of the grade crossings at Sullivan square and Warren avenue, Charlestown."

The wording of the above order gives the impression that plans have been proposed for using the existing elevated structure in the Charlestown district as an upper level roadway for automobile traffic in the event of the substitution of a subway for the elevated, but the City Planning Board has no knowledge of either this proposal or of a viaduct independent of the railway structure.

So far as the City Planning Board itself is concerned, they have no "proposed plans" for an aerial highway from Sullivan square, Charlestown, to Castle street, South End, via Atlantic avenue. The same is true of the Division of Metropolitan Planning, which reports that it has no information on the subject outside of the utilization of the Atlantic avenue section of the elevated structure for traffic purposes.

In its report on a Thoroughfare Plan for the City of Boston, published by the City Planning Board in 1930, the question of converting the existing elevated railway on Atlantic avenue into an elevated roadway was discussed and the conclusion reached that the disadvantages of the present elevated structure are such that it would be better and cheaper to scrap it and build a new viaduct specially designed for traffic use.

The possible construction of a subway in Charlestown is justified mainly because of the disadvantages of the present elevated structure. Therefore, any plan for maintaining the present structure for highway purposes, or the erection of another viaduct, would in all probability meet with serious opposition. The widening of Rutherford avenue, which has been advocated by the City Planning Board on several occasions, will eliminate any need of an elevated highway through the Charlestown district.

So far as the elimination of grade crossings at Sullivan square and Warren avenue are concerned, overpasses at these points are not possible while the elevated structure exists, and so far as is

A. 1. Payment to Boston Elevated Railway Company for removal of elevated structure from southerly end of Washington Street Tunnel to Forest Hills Station.....	$11,225,810 28
2. Payment to Boston Elevated Railway Company for removal of elevated structures from Atlantic avenue, Beach street and Harrison avenue in Boston and from Causeway street, the Charlestown Bridge and Main street in Charlestown.....	10,228,117 85
B. 1. Cost of new subway to replace elevated structure referred to in A1 above and of removal of said structure.....	$23,000,000 00
2. Cost of new subway from northerly end of Washington Street Tunnel under the North Station and the Charles river to Sullivan square and of removal of structures referred to in A2 above....	10,000,000 00
	33,000,000 00
	$54,500,000 00

While these estimates include the cost of removing the elevated structures from Atlantic avenue, Beach street and Harrison avenue and are not contemplated by the order of the City Council, the difference in total cost resulting from the inclusion of these items is not relatively great and, as stated in the joint report, if the other elevated structures are removed "there would be an equal demand and obligation to remove" these.

While the policy which the Federal Public Works Administration will pursue, if further substantial sums are appropriated for it to expend, is not clear at this time, there would seem to be little likelihood of its granting to the city such money as would be needed to pay the Boston Elevated Railway Company for the structures above referred to (A 1 and 2). Without Federal aid the city would be obligated to expend for this purpose approximately $21,500,000 if all elevated structures are to be removed or approximately $16,500,000 if the structures referred to in the City Council's order are removed. This would necessitate large borrowing by the city.

As the new subway would be an income-producing project it is very doubtful that a Federal grant of more than 30 per cent of the cost (or more probably 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials) could be obtained. A further debt of at least $22,000,000 (and probably substantially more) would, therefore, have to be incurred by the city to remove the elevated structures and construct a new subway.

While there are many advantages which might be gained by the removal of the elevated structures, it would seem very doubtful that they should now be removed and a new subway constructed, even as a Public Works project, with the Elevated deficit so large and the city suffering from such heavy taxes.

At my request this order has been considered by the City Planning Board, and under date of February 21, 1935, Frederic H. Fay, chairman, has written me that:

"There have been numerous other studies in the past looking toward the removal of the ele-known to this Board there have been no officially proposed plans for underpasses at these locations.

FREDERICK H. FAY, Chairman.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Corporation Counsel, relative to your order of January 21, 1935, concerning proposed petition for a Federal grant of twenty-five million dollars for a P. W. A. project to be used for the erection of a new subway from Forest Hills to Charlestown and the demolition of the present structure.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Law Department, March 9, 1935.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have asked me to consider, and report to you with reference to, the following order passed by the City Council at a meeting held on January 21, 1935:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor petition the proper authorities at Washington for the sum of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) for a P. W. A. project to be used for the erection of a new subway from Forest Hills to Charlestown and the demolition of the present structure."

By virtue of chapter 46 of the Resolves of 1933 the Metropolitan Planning Division of the Metropolitan District Commission and the Transit Department of the City of Boston, acting jointly, were directed to investigate as to the desirability, feasibility and probable cost of the removal of the existing elevated railway structure between the southerly entrance of the Washington Street Tunnel and Forest Hills Station and of the construction of a tunnel, subway or other means of rapid transit which would be an adequate substitute therefor.

Under date of December 15, 1934, these bodies filed their joint report, a copy of which is submitted herewith.

In this report the following cost estimates were made:

vated structure and there appears to be general agreement that it would be a highly desirable thing to do if financial conditions warranted. The City Council order recommends that $25,000,000 be requested for the work as a P. W. A. project. From the above figures it would appear that the cost would be more than double this amount. It would not appear to be the part of wisdom for the city to assume any material portion of this cost at the present time, and it is also extremely doubtful if the Federal Government would take over the entire burden. There is no question but what the substitution of a subway for the elevated structure would be desirable from the point of view of real estate, comfort, and to a certain extent, convenience; there is grave doubt as to how far the city would be justified in going at this time in assuming any material portion of such an expensive development.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,

Corporation Counsel.

INTEREST ON UNPAID TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Corporation Counsel, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning proposed legislation reducing the present rate of interest on taxes remaining unpaid.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1935.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have requested me to consider the following order of the City Council passed at a meeting held on January 14, 1935:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Legislative Agent for the City of Boston to draft a bill for presentation to the Legislature reducing the present rate of interest on taxes remaining unpaid from six and eight per cent to four and five per cent."

Section 57 of chapter 59 of the General Laws (Ter. Ed.) as most recently amended by section 42 of chapter 254 of the Acts of 1933 provides that:

"Taxes shall be payable in every city, town and district in which the same are assessed, in two equal instalments, on July first and on October first of each year, and bills for the same shall be sent out not later than June fourteenth of each year. On all taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, interest shall be paid at the following rates, computed from October first of such year: at the rate of six per cent per annum on all taxes, and, by way of penalty, at the additional rate of two per cent per annum on the amount of all taxes in excess of three hundred dollars assessed to any taxpayer, in any one city or town, if such taxes remain unpaid after December thirty-first of the year in which they are payable. Bills for taxes assessed under section seventy-five shall be sent out not later than December twenty-sixth, and such taxes shall be payable not later than December thirty-first. If they remain unpaid after that date, interest shall be paid at the rates above specified, computed from December thirty-first until the day of payment, but if, in any case, the tax bill is sent out later than December twenty-sixth, said taxes shall be payable not later than ten days from the day upon which said bill is sent out, and interest shall be computed from the fifteenth day following the date when the tax becomes due. In all cases where interest is payable it shall be added to and become a part of the tax."

A number of petitions have been presented to the Legislature this year requesting enactment of legislation affecting reduction in interest rates on unpaid taxes. After a hearing on various petitions before the Committee on Taxation, that committee recommended a bill providing with respect to local taxes assessed for the years 1935 and 1936, (1) for the reduction of interest now at the rate of six per cent to five per cent, (2) for the reduction of the penalty charge from two per cent to one and one-half per cent, and (3) for the application of the penalty provided, only to taxes unpaid after April first of the year following assessment.

On February 20, 1935, said bill was recommended to the Committee on Taxation upon recommendation of the Committee on Bills in the Third Reading. On March 11 the Committee on Taxation again reported said bill with certain changes, thus it is provided that the $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent penalty shall apply to taxes unpaid after December 31 of the year in which payable (instead of April 1 of the following year) and it is also provided that the reductions in interest and penalty rates shall apply to local taxes assessed in 1935 and thereafter (instead of in 1935 and 1936).

In view of the fact that the matter of interest reductions is pending before the Legislature, there is no need of presenting a further petition for legislation to this end, even if such legislation were desirable.

It should be borne in mind in connection with the question of the desirability of such legislation, that the purpose of high interest and penalty charges is to induce payment of taxes. If interest and penalty charges were reduced to 4 per cent and 5 per cent, respectively, as suggested in the above-quoted order, then the rates would be as low or lower than bank interest and there would be no inducement to large real estate owners to borrow to pay taxes where they have not the cash available. In other words, there would be a danger of their using the city as their banker.

It should also be noted that the present statutory penalty applies only to taxes in excess of $300 and that, if undue hardship results in particular cases from high interest and penalty rates, there is adequate machinery for giving relief in the present law.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,

Corporation Counsel.

$114,740 03
The book value of the boat is $114,740.03
December 31, 1934.]

You will see by this statement that this boat, which was built in 1920-21 by the Winnisimmet Shipyard of Chelsea, cost the city $347,697.15. The book value of that boat as of December 31, 1934, was $114,740.03, almost $90,000 more than the upset price which has been placed upon that boat for sale. If the value of that boat at the present time is over $100,000, I think that we should either keep the boat as an investment for the next few years, or else convert it into a floating hospital, so that thousands of children of the City of Boston may thereby be enabled to receive proper treatment.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Further ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council promptly:

GEORGE R. FARNUM REPORT ON PRADO.

Coun. MCGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the communication from George R. Farnum, relative to the Prado, be printed in the minutes of the Council.

The question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. MCGRATH—Mr. President, my reason for introducing that order at this time is that last Monday I introduced an order to the effect that the Finance Commission forward to the City Council at its next meeting a complete copy of the findings of George R. Farnum, investigator in connection with the land taken at the Prado on Hanover street, handled through the George R. White Fund, and right after that I received this letter, which I am going to ask to have printed in our records. This is Mr. Farnum's explanation of the land-takings, the land taken for the Prado. After three weeks of attempting to get somebody who would print the findings on the Prado, I am pleased that that order gave Mr. Farnum the opportunity to send me this letter, because if his findings as contained in this letter were ever kept from the public it would have been scandalous and extremely harmful to the best elements in our community. How a man can make such remarkable findings and yet never have them known to the public at large until an order of this kind gives him an opportunity is something that I cannot understand. However, I asked him to open his hand and release relentlessly before the eyes of the public what he found in connection with that spot down on Hanover street, which is now not only a stop gap in case of fire but a thing of beauty and of local pride to that community, and here is his answer on the Prado:

"MacPherson, Auerbach and Farnum,
Counselors at Law,
6 Beacon Street,
Boston, Massachusetts.

March 5, 1935.

Mr. Joseph McGrath,
Boston City Council, Boston.

My dear Mr. Councilman,—The morning papers apprise me of your public 'challenge' at yesterday's Council meeting to 'make good' the various charges involved in my recent investigations for the Boston Finance Commission.

I was engaged—as the commission wrote to the Mayor—to make 'full and complete' investigations, following an unanimous vote of the City Council calling therefor. Before my work was anywhere near finished, I was forced out. However, in the few weeks I was employed, I completed and filed six reports. The first three were issued by the commission and should speak instructively for themselves to anyone who is sincerely interested in decent government and the protection of the taxpayers. My other three reports have never been issued by the commission, though colored and emasculated versions of the facts as I developed them were issued in the Dolan case and the North End Prado land purchases. Nothing has ever come out of the commission concerning the last report I filed on the East Boston Tunnel takings.

Incidentally, I have information that the commission obtained, since they got rid of me, certain very vital information in connection with the Dolan case. There was no hint of this in the report they recently issued, and concerning it they have remained silent as a tomb. As to my report on the Prado, if it ever sees the light of day, it should be read by the public in connection with other matters to get the full picture, including the report issued last September by the commission in the General Equipment Company case.

I am only a private citizen of this community, with no authority to act further in response to 'challenges' or otherwise. You, on the other hand, hold an official position as member of the Boston City Council, carrying with it not only a large measure of authority but duties to the public whom you serve.

Through the years that the depression was upon us, while men tramped the streets in despair seeking work and their families were in a state of pitiable destitution, while thousands of our fellow citizens were on welfare rolls, speculators, political lawyers and chisellers reaped a rich harvest at the expense of the city and the taxpayers. Out of the money paid by the city for the land for the East Boston Tunnel on the Boston side alone, the speculators obtained over $700,000 in profits. What the political lawyers received in the aggregate will never be completely known unless the suppressed reports are issued, and the investigation is seriously taken up where I left it and completed. Something of the implications in the Dolan case must be apparent from what has already become public.

Mr. Councilman, as a responsible public servant, what are you going to do about it?

Very truly yours,

GEORGE R. FARNUM."

What am I going to do about it? About what? Here is a reputable lawyer, a high-grade gentleman, who has walked the streets of this city for three weeks saying that he had in his possession certain information in connection with the Prado, a project which was passed upon by Mr. Dodge, the head of the Bar Association, by Mr. Eliot Wadsworth, the head of the Chamber of Commerce, by Mr. Rupert S. Carven, Joseph McGrath and James M. Curley, and he says that if a public body gives him authority to open his hands, to give publicity to the matter, the result will astound and shock the people of this city and will show how Mayor Curley gummed up city affairs. I gave him that opportunity and he insults your intelligence and mine by his answer. He is far too smart a man not to know that he has not given a proper answer in this matter. And then he ends up by saying, "What are you going to do about it?" When people later on may say that there was a scandalous proceeding brought out in an investigation held by George R. Farnum, which never saw the light of day, I will refer them to these records containing this letter, showing that when the opportunity was afforded him to speak the truth in regard to these charges and bring out this information which the public should have and which have not been brought out, this was his answer.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION IN RE WARD 15 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council as to what action, if any, has been taken on the orders passed by the Council on December 10, 1934, asking that he include in his P. W. A. program sums sufficient to provide for the erection of a Branch Library, Municipal Building and Health Unit in Ward 15.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYSON AVENUE, WARD 15.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Payson avenue, Ward 15, as a public highway.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL COPIES OF "BOSTON'S STREETS."

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be authorized to print an additional one thousand copies of the book entitled "Boston's Streets," bound in boards, with the precinct changes, if any, made by the Election Commissioners to December, 1934, and the expense to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

President FITZGERALD—If there is no objection, the order will be referred to the Committee on Printing.

Coun. TOBIN—Mr. President, I would like to have that order adopted at this time. Everything is set up ready to run off these copies, and it can be done at much less expense now than at some future time. More books are needed and if printed now it will simply mean the cost of the paper.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 10 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to place the playgrounds in Ward 10 in proper condition for use by removing snow, ice, etc., from the playing surface.

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for the erection of a handball court in the Jefferson Playground, Ward 10.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF DUNREATH STREET.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Dunreath street with smooth paving.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

INDEPENDENCE PARK, WARD 6.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make necessary improvements in Independence Park, Ward 6, by seeding, constructing granolithic walks, etc., the expense of same to be taken care of out of E. R. A. funds.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.04 p. m., on motion of Coun. SELVITELLA, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 4.22 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at games of public amusement, viz.:

Mattapan Legion Post, E. P. Tileston School Hall, March 18—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) that Public Works Commissioner give information re ashes and garbage contractors—that same ought to pass.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that information is available at the Public Works Commissioner's office and I urge the passage of the order at this time, hoping that the Mayor will take some time to examine it on its merits, not using his time as he has in the last ten days calling the School Committee into his office in order to place his sister in the office of Superintendent of Schools in the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

3. Report on order (referred today) that the Mayor consider advisability of converting ferryboat "Ralph J. Palumbo" into floating hospital as E. R. A. project—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on petition of Bertha J. Daley (referred November 19, 1934) for annuity on account of death of her husband, Thomas F. A. Daley, late member of the Police Department—recommending that no further action is necessary, petition having been disapproved by Medical Board.

Report accepted.

REJECTION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:
Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor March 4, 1935, of Weighers of Goods as follows:

Horton I. Marlor, 5 Gracewood park, Cambridge; Andrew P. Thompson, 11 Leverett street, Brookline; Albert N. Kenrick, 25 Fairmount street, Malden; William I. Marlor, Pleasant street, Wrenham; also, as a Weigher of Beef, Christian J. Zappe, 16 Lindale avenue, Dedham.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Agnew and Roberts. Whole number of ballots 19; yeas 8, nays 11, and the appointments were rejected.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON SNOW REMOVAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission,
March 11, 1935.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have been authorized by the Finance Commission to transmit to you the inclosed copy of a report submitted to the commission by its consulting engineer in reply to your order adopted on February 25 requesting information in regard to payments made to contractors engaged both in snow-removal work, and ash and garbage removal.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT E. CUNIFF, Secretary.

Boston, March 9, 1935.

The Finance Commission.

Gentlemen,—Following is a copy of an order of the City Council submitted to me for investigation and report:

"Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate the payments made to contractors engaged in snow-removal work who are also being paid by the city for ash and garbage removal in order that contractors will not be given double payments."

I submit the following as the results of my investigation to this date:

None of the contractors for ash and garbage removal were awarded contracts for snow-removal work. It appears, however, that in some cases the refuse removal contractors rented motor trucks either to city departments or to snow-removal contractors or to both, these trucks being used in the work of snow removal.

The contractors having contracts for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in suburban districts for the current year are—

Edward J. McHugh & Son, 1095 Saratoga street, East Boston, East Boston District; Alvin J. Pieczkowski, 850 Metropolitan avenue, Hyde Park, West Roxbury District; Marinucci Brothers & Co., 259 Quincy street, Dorchester, Dorchester District; Anthony Ryan, 5 Vassar street, Dorchester, Brighton District; Duggan Brothers, James P. Duggan, 49 Williams avenue, Hyde Park, Hyde Park District.

The available records show as regarding these contractors that Edward McHugh & Son have at present at least six trucks. Five or six trucks are ordinarily required for collecting the refuse of East Boston under winter conditions.

Records show that McHugh rented trucks to the City of Boston for snow removal as follows:

January 26.....	2 trucks.
January 27.....	3 trucks.
January 28 and 29.....	5 trucks each day.
January 30, 31, February 1, 2, 3,	6 trucks each day.
February 4 and 5.....	3 trucks each day.

If the collection of refuse in East Boston was unduly delayed on account of lack of trucks it would seem that the blame should be placed on the city officials that, having knowledge that the trucks were needed for refuse removal, hired these trucks and diverted them to the work of snow removal. On the part of city officials, it must be admitted that it was their duty to decide in what way the best interests of the city could be served by the use of these trucks either for refuse or for snow removal.

Alvin J. Pieczkowski, according to the records at the Registry of Motor Vehicles, has at least eight trucks. Pieczkowski rented trucks both to the City of Boston and to J. A. Singarella, the contractor for snow district No. 1, approximately as follows:

City of Boston.

January 24, 25 and 26.....	1 truck.
January 27, 28 and 30.....	4 trucks each day.
January 29.....	7 trucks.
January 31 to February 5, inclusive.....	3 trucks each day.

J. A. Singarella.

January 24.....	3 trucks.
January 25.....	2 trucks.
January 26 and 27.....	3 trucks each day.

Marinucci Brothers have nineteen trucks registered at the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The city records show that Marinucci trucks were used by Coleman Brothers Corporation, the contractor for snow-removal district No. 13 as follows:

January 24.....	1 truck.
January 25.....	13 trucks.
January 26.....	11 trucks.

January 27 and 29.....	14 trucks.
January 30.....	3 trucks.
January 31.....	15 trucks.

No Marinucci trucks seem to have been hired by the City of Boston.

Anthony Ryan has three registered trucks. All of these trucks appear to have worked for Baker, Matz & Co., contractor for snow-removal district No. 3, on January 24, and one truck each day January 25 to February 1, inclusive.

Three of Ryan's trucks appear as working for Leo J. Nawn, Inc., contractor for snow-removal district No. 2, on January 25 and January 26 to January 28, but not on the same hours that the same trucks worked for the Baker, Matz & Co.

Duggan Brothers, James P. Duggan, has three registered trucks. One of these trucks worked on snow removal January 24 to January 31, inclusive, and on February 3 for the Sanitary Service, and another from January 24 to February 3, inclusive.

The fact that these trucks were hired for work of snow removal by the officials of the Sanitary Service seems to be strong evidence that the Sanitary Service officials were of the opinion that the interests of the city would be better served by having these trucks work on snow removal rather than on their regular work of garbage and ash removal.

The very complete and apparently accurate information obtained under the new method of keeping accounts of snow removal from streets as compared with the results under the methods used in previous years furnishes an excellent testimonial to the efficiency of the system. In the figures prepared for my use conflicts appeared in only one case. This case was where a contractor rented trucks to the City of Boston and to one of the snow-removal contractors. As shown by the records, the hours worked appeared to overlap, that is, the same trucks appeared to have been working for both parties during the same hours. The sum of money involved, as shown by the records, is not large, probably about $50. No explanation of the apparent error has yet been discovered, although the officials of the Public Works Department are making an investigation, and a sufficient sum has been withheld from the amount now due the contractor to prevent any possibility of loss by the city.

Respectfully submitted,
GUY C. EMERSON,
Consulting Engineer.

Placed on file.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have been authorized by the Finance Commission to transmit to you the inclosed copy of a report submitted by the consulting engineer in regard to an order adopted by your Honorable Body on Monday, February 25, in regard to the amount paid, etc., to contractors for snow removal.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT E. CUNIFF, Secretary.

Boston, March 7, 1935.

The Finance Commission.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith copy of an order of the City Council which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate and report to the City Council the following information relative to snow removal in 1935:

1. Names of contractors.
2. Amount paid to each contractor.
3. Number of days worked.
4. Number of employees.
5. Specific area covered by each contractor.

Answering the questions by which answers are requested I submit three tables copies of which are herewith appended.

These tables are compiled on material from information secured by employees of the Public Works Department of the city during the period that snow removal from the streets of January 24 was being removed by contractors.

Tables Nos. I and II contain the answers to Questions 1 to 3, inclusive, and are arranged showing the official dates of the work.

Table No. III contains the answers to Questions 4 and 5, inclusive, and is arranged showing the number of employees and the specific area covered by each contractor. The figures in this table are not considered as being accurate. The expense of the work, as shown by the records, is not large, probably about $50. No explanation of the apparent error has yet been discovered, although the officials of the Public Works Department are making an investigation, and a sufficient sum has been withheld from the amount now due the contractor to prevent any possibility of loss by the city.

Table No. III contains the answers to Questions 4 and 5, inclusive, and is arranged showing the number of employees and the specific area covered by each contractor.

The Finance Commission.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith copy of an order of the City Council which reads as follows:

WARD 4 LIGHTS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the P. W. A. for a project for the installation of traffic lights at the intersection of Columbus avenue and Dartmouth streets, Ward 4.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, on many occasions I have introduced orders for the installation of traffic lights at this point, and every time have been answered from the Mayor's office that it could not be done, because no money was available. As we know, in connection with the passage of orders of this nature for traffic lights in different dangerous spots of the city, information was given to us about the ten worst places in Boston, so designated by the Traffic Commissioner, which might be proper subjects for P. W. A. expenditures. This is the third such place mentioned among the ten as unprotected by lights and dangerous. I therefore ask for the passage of this order. There have been a number of people killed or injured at this spot.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ADJOURNMENT OF CITY COUNCIL.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, through the Corporation Counsel, inform the City Council whether he desires the City Council to adjourn today sine die.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, in order that some members of the Council, who may be at a loss, may know what this order means let me say that at the end of each year the City Council always adjourns sine die. I was astounded, upon getting here today, a very late edition of the Boston Evening Transcript, which must have been printed early in the afternoon, so that it would reach the subscribers in far removed sections of the state, to find the following:

"MANSFIELD, IN FIVE COT VETOES, TELLS COUNCIL TO MIND BUSINESS.

Mayor Spurns Orders on Dog Racing, Snow Removal, Licenses, and Branch Library."

I can say, as one member—

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am much interested in that. I wonder if it says anything about what the Mayor did in regard to the bonding racket?

Coun. McGRATH—No.

Coun. NORTON—And I would like to ask whether the Mayor says anything in that statement about the so-called patch-paving contractor racketeers whom he is operating under?

Coun. McGRATH—No, that is not in there, either.

Coun. NORTON—One more question. I would like to ask the councilor if his Honor the Mayor in denying these requests which habitually come from our colleagues says anything about the four hundred political friends he put on the special pay roll to take the census? Is that mentioned?

Coun. McGRATH—No, it is not. But here is something about the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Goldman) who has been pretty loyal to the administration, and who is reprimanded for asking for a branch library for his section. I suppose it must be out of order for the gentleman from Ward 14 to request for his ward what other wards have enjoyed for a long time, namely, a free branch public library, to which the children and others of the community could go and derive some benefits that those in other sections have obtained for a long time. Perhaps this is his Honor the Mayor's way of serving notice on those members of the Council who have been faithful that they are to receive no more consideration than others; and it looks as though, from today on, I might have to act as the spokesman of the administration, because apparently those who have served best are treated worst, a member of the Council who has been faithful and loyal to the administration being held up to censure because he requested a branch library for his district.

It does seem as though the Mayor perhaps from now on doesn't want the assistance of the members of the Council who in the past have been extremely loyal to him. He also takes exceptions to the two members of the Council from South Boston and from Wards 6 and 7 (Coun. Donovan and Kerrigan) who had the temerity to come in, as the result of hearings held in practically every large church in their community, and asked for the prohibition of a dog racing track in South Boston. In spite of the fact that those who filled such meetings specifically requested those councilors to make this request, in spite of that feeling of great groups of citizens in their communities, from which they had been duly elected as representatives, his Honor the Mayor told those councilors that he did not want them to take any action looking to the furtherance of the interests of their districts in this matter, saying to them, curtly, "Mind your own business." Mr. President, it would almost seem as if they had dug up again Loeffler from wherever he travels, that he was looking down upon us again from the galleries, and was telling his Honor the Mayor how he wanted the city run. It reminds me of the time, sir, when men like that came from Cleveland or St. Louis and reached out into Newton to get a purchasing agent, reached outside the City of Boston to get others to place on our pay rolls, through the sanction and appointment of the present Mayor of the City of Boston. Those men were welcome and their advice was heeded and followed. But as for the twenty-two men who were elected as members of the Boston City Council, who took the same oath of office on the same day as the Mayor in Symphony Hall as part of the administration of the City of Boston, men elected by solemn mandate of the people for the year 1934 and 1935, their opinions, their suggestions, are to be no longer considered or deemed worthy of a second thought by this stumbling accident known as the Mayor of Boston, who came in here with thirty-three per cent of the vote of the city, under the solemn statement by him that sixty-five cents in every dollar spent by the city went for waste, graft and corruption, and that the moment when he was elected Mayor he would reduce the budget by sixty-five per cent; that he would eliminate the waste, eliminate the graft, eliminate the corruption. And today a leading Boston newspaper shows how he insults the 114,000 people who sent these twenty-two representatives here as against the 70,000 who sent him here by stating that he will not countenance their interference. Never before, sir, in the history of Boston has a man elected to the high office of Mayor been so insulting as he has been in these veto messages that he sent to us here today. Perhaps I might be charitable and say that they were written by someone else in his office on one of the many days when he was not there. That may be the solution, sir. I have had Mr. Healey say to me, under this administration, something that was never said to me or to other members in other administrations, and I think it applies from the President down.

"Tell me what you want. You cannot walk into the Mayor's office." I never served a day in this Council, sir, from the day I took office up to the time of the present administration, when, if I wished to see the Mayor, I was obliged to walk in the front door. I walked through the side door into the office, and tomorrow, if something demands it, I will walk through that door, and he will listen to me,—and I am no different than the newer members. Let me say to you, Mr. President, and to the newer members here, that we are to blame, that we have been starting in wrong. I tell you, Mr. President, and members of the Council, that we should say to a flunkie like Billy Healey—who was around the building a while ago trying to get the members of the Council to help him in getting the job he finally succeeded in getting,—"Healey, you are an ordinary clerk. I am elected officially to represent people of the City of Boston. I am here in the interests of the people of my ward, and if you care to carry my name in carry it in, but you are not going to insult them through me by sending me away." I say to you that we are members of the Council for 1934 and 1935 and that we have tried to be friendly with the Mayor, but the present Mayor of Boston has done more to lower the standard of the Council, has done more to persecute them, has done more to try to hurt their standing, than any Mayor who ever sat in that chair, and the only way that we are going to get anything done is by demanding our rights. Gentlemen, you should start down to the Mayor's office tomorrow and walk into the office. Don't listen to the secretary, to elevator men or the police officers. The name of the man whom the people elected their Mayor is Frederick W. Mansfield, and he sometimes spends some time in that corner on the second floor. You must assert yourselves if you have business that you want to take up with the Mayor. While he is there you should have an opportunity to see him, when there is a reason for seeing him. As it is, you encounter the secretaries, and if they will let you see him, all right. Otherwise, you don't see him. But today we see this insult on the front page of this paper, and I say that members of this Council should go down and say to him, "Mr. Mayor, I want you to set aside a certain time each day, or on so many days of the week, when members of the City Council can walk down here and discuss important city business with you. You can find time for members of the Senate and House, but when it comes to representatives of the people of Boston in the City Council, men who have been long in the social and business life of this city, and men who will bring to you valuable knowledge from their years of experience in contact with the people of their communities, men who are better informed upon conditions in the various wards of Boston than all the private associations and organizations combined, men who will bring to you up-to-date and intimate knowledge that you were elected to receive, you cannot see them. They are not important. Well, sir, they are your board of directors, and how long do you think any president of a bank in this city who would show members of his board of directors to the door, telling them to mind their own business, would be tolerated? We do not simply walk in here off the street seeking a place to sit down. We were elected by 114,000 intelligent citizens of Boston to come here as a City Council, and we are supposed to sit in with his Honor the Mayor on matters of importance and of first concern in our district, on matters of importance to the entire city. No matter how bitter a fight may have been waged between mayors and city councils in the past, there never was a mayor, sir, in my memory, who had the bold effrontery to issue any such statement as we see in this paper today, on the matter of a branch public library in one ward, the matter of dog tracks which has aroused to fever pitch the people of two other wards, and other matters which you have returned to us with the statement that they had nothing to do with our business." Mr. President, that man owes this Council a public apology. However, I am going to be charitable. I am going to say that he did not mean that or that perhaps he never wrote those messages, that they were written by Billy Healey or by Dave Shaw. We have seen Dave Shaw around the lobby and around in different places for the past four years, hungry and needing help, but because some, including members of the Council, who were charitable enough to help him, he has now become "the biggest on Broadway," and is trying to ride over us roughshod. I remember the man who stood on the road near Deer Island one day when Shaw was Mayor, and after eating some poisoned fish, served by his brother, jumped off and drowned himself. How well that city councilor, Dave Shaw, or Billy Healey, may be around this over without Mayor Mansfield's consent. But if he had anything to do with these messages, they are to the Council, members of the City Council. I say to you, Mr. President, and to every member of the Council, if you want to retain your self-respect, walk down here and demand a proper apology. If I am wrong in the matter of civility, please show me, and I will send up a message to the Mayor to the effect that I am sorry, and I will never again enter his office. I was extremely sorry to see him standing there, here, I would never again enter his office again.

he had apologized. This is an absolute insult, and as one member of the Council—and I know that I am not alone in this—I resent it. I resent it on behalf of this body, which is in existence because the people wanted it in existence and has now been in existence for some years. It is the only body in the history of this Hall that had its pay increase submitted to the voters of the City of Boston and had that pay increased by the voters, 75,000 to 40,000; although a pay increase to members of the City Council of Cambridge, on the very same day that our pay was increased from $1,500 to $2,000, was refused by voters of that city, a proposed increase of simply $500 to $750. As for myself, Mr. President, I will simply wait until the next time when the Mayor's name is on the ballot for any office.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I don't like to take issue with the learned councilor on my right on the substance of what he has said here today. I have been both friendly and unfriendly with the present administration, in accordance with the views I have taken personally on matters that have been submitted to the body by his Honor the Mayor. I have never been unduly swayed one way or the other, however, but have stood up here and voted as my conscience dictated. But I was sorry to hear the gentleman mention certain names. He referred to Mr. Healey. I have never gone down to the Mayor's office and had him ask me what my business with the Mayor was. But he has simply asked me to wait, and in due time I was ushered in to see the Mayor. I don't see that the councilors in this body are receiving any different treatment in the Mayor's office than councilors in the past have received. I have not been familiar with any mayor who had the door wide open so that members of the Council could enter at any time. I suppose that the situation is no better now in that respect than it has been in the past but I think it is no worse. So far as the other gentleman who has been referred to is concerned, Mr. Shaw, the former Election Commissioner, he has always been courteous to me and has always rendered assistance to me when desired, as I think he has to other members of the City Council. I don't know what my colleague's experience has been with these gentlemen, but I have to speak of them as I see them, and I must say that they have been very courteous to me and have helped me where they could in connection with my duties as a member of the City Council. I am not upholding his Honor the Mayor in insulting any members of the Council. I think he was wrong in that matter and should be so told, and I think he is big enough so that he would probably take it very well, realizing that he had made a mistake in sending in such replies to us. But, Mr. President, you know as well as I do, that there are orders introduced here at every meeting dealing with every conceivable question under the sun, a good deal of it not being properly business of the City Council; and we take up hours here on matters that have no relevancy to our proper work and that have no place here, wasting the city's time by debating measures that we know full well we have no power to enact or to enforce. I do not uphold the Mayor in this particular instance. I think he was wrong in sending back these curt replies. But I say we should wake up to the fact that we waste time here in acting upon everything under the sun, whether it comes properly within our scope or not.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, if this Council should live up to the strict rules, we would pass the budget and then go home. We cannot originate an appropriation here but only approve or disapprove one. But this is the best body possible to disseminate information on municipal affairs, or as good a body in that respect as any that will be found in any Commonwealth or State of the Union. As a matter of fact, the newspapers give the members of this Council twice as much space as they give to Boston representatives and senators. The fact is that the Boston newspapers consider the action of this body as having real news value. It is true that we pass upon a great many matters over which we have no jurisdiction. That probably applies to over seventy per cent of our orders. Nevertheless, we do perform a great public function in the administration of the municipal affairs of this city. The last time I went to the Mayor's office it was with a delegation of members of the Council, and Mr. Healey asked Mr. Wilson what we wanted to see the Mayor about. There were fifteen members of the Council and Councilor Wilson had to explain to Mr. Healey why the members of the body wanted to see the Chief Executive. That is the last time I was in the office of the Mayor. I disagreed upon a number of occasions with the former Chief Executive of this city, Mayor Curley, but all through the controversies I went into the office and received courteous answers to my questions. But since disagreeing with the present Chief Executive I have received no answers whatsoever. I am the one, Mr. President, who knows wherein the people of my district suffer. Each member of this body is familiar with the need of the people of his ward and that interest is reflected in the orders that he introduces into the body. Now, is this attitude of the Mayor toward this body, under the circumstances, a fair one? Aren't questions affecting our people proper questions to discuss on this floor? I think so. Haven't the councilors from South Boston a right to ask that racing dogs be not allowed in that section to its ruin? Certainly in these matters affecting the interests of our people it does no harm to throw on the searchlight of publicity through orders and resolutions introduced to this body. If we are to be asked to take no action whatever that is not within the strict confines of our right and our duty, after passing the budget we might as well go home. But I believe that through the orders that are introduced and passed here we do perform public service in calling attention to what may in many instances be termed maladministration of the affairs of this city.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, it makes my heart feel good to think that, after fourteen months of patient waiting, and after feeling that I was marching all alone, that march is now going to be recruited with other members of this Council. I admire consistency and sincerity, and when the member from Ward 12 (Coun. Brackman) gets up here and hedges, goes one way and the other, and says that we have been discussing everything under the sun, I am going to invite his attention to some of the orders he himself introduced in 1934. "Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel!" Mr. President and fellow members, I am going to ask your patience for just a few moments, while I refer to some of the orders that the gentleman from Ward 12 introduced during 1934. He filed the following orders: Managers of Old South Association; display of Nazi Swastika; flat rate on auto insurance; interest on delinquent taxes; telephone meters; clean-up campaign; garaging of city motor vehicles; Costigan-Wagner bill; proposed 5-cent fare for F. E. R. A. employees; hospital service of "kosher" food; investigation of telephone, electric and gas rates; repeal of new parking law. I am going to ask him, Mr. President, whether or not those orders had anything to do with our duties as laid down in the charter? Let us be fair with ourselves. The councilor from Ward 13 (Coun. McGrath) has given a brief summary of what has taken place, telling what each of us has had to put up with. There has been no mayor, from what I have been told, who has ever taken such a bold step as that which has been taken by the present Mayor of Boston, in defying the City Council; and I welcome you soldiers in the new parade.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, if the councilor had taken the trouble to read the orders he has referred to, he would have found that, with the exception, I think, of one resolution, that they all dealt with matters with which we are properly concerned as members of the City Council. And I think that one resolution referred to a matter for consideration of the Legislative Committee, and also coming, as I regard it, distinctly within our rights. Every one of those papers were properly acted upon by us within our function as city councilors. The trouble with the gentleman is that he is given to snap judgments, as can be seen in many of the orders that he introduces, upon which he goes off half-cocked, giving out information which nine times out of ten proves to be erroneous.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would merely suggest that, while this is an excellent day to declare war, we should have unified and concerted action in this matter; and I would therefore ask both councilors whether they do not think they best serve their respective districts by joining in the war against the Mayor's office, rather than against each other?

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will say that the members are getting pretty far afield, and the Chair trusts that they will confine themselves to the matter before the body.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, may I have an opportunity to briefly echo the sentiments expressed by the gentleman from Ward 12 (Coun. Brackman)? I certainly would have a lot of temerity to stand on the floor and take issue with the learned councilor from Ward 13 (Coun. McGrath) and other experienced councilors in this body. But I do want to stand here and state that, so far as I am concerned, the treatment I have received as a councilor in the Mayor's office has been of the very best, that I have received the utmost courtesy both at the hands of the Mayor and of the attachés of the office, and I very much regret the feeling of antipathy that has been expressed in the body toward certain parties. As a new member I certainly trust that we will find some way of all working together and that we will not declare war, as suggested by the councilor from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson). I believe we should all be alive, with the Mayor, to the needs of the City of Boston, realizing that the Mayor is laboring under the greatest difficulties that any magistrate of this city has ever had to cope with. I believe that he is entitled to our consideration, loyalty and support. I believe, of course, that we should also stand up for our rights. Differences of opinion are sometimes to be naturally expected. As far as the statement in the Boston Transcript is concerned, let me say, while I am not holding any brief for the Mayor of Boston, nevertheless I, as a member of this body, have found him to be fair, sincere and honest, and I believe he is endeavoring to give the citizens of Boston a splendid administration under the most difficult circumstances.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORTS OF GEORGE R. FARNUM, ETC.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to publish all unpublished reports of George R. Farnum, and to follow up its investigation of land-takings and bond purchases through every available channel, and report thereon.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, at the last session the gentleman from Ward 13 (Coun. McGrath) offered an order for the publication of the reports of George R. Farnum on the Prado, and at the same time he asked to have the order referred to the Committee on Rules, which was done. At this session further reference has been made to that report and a request has been made that it be published. This order, I believe, is the proper way to bring that about and to also bring about the publication of the other unpublished Farnum reports, because those reports are now in the possession of the Finance Commission, and the Finance Commission is the body authorized to publish them if it sees fit to do so. The order asks you for that and asks for a continuation of the investigation, both in the matter of land-takings and purchases through all available channels, making a report thereon. I hope, sir, that this order, looking to the furnishing of information, will be adopted.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

CASE OF WILLIAM J. HOLT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of having the Commissioner of Public Works look into the case of one William J. Holt of 1116 Dorchester avenue, Boston, engaged in the recent snowstorm on snow-removal work by a subcontractor and who alleges that for forty-two hours of work he was paid but $7.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, at the time that the snow-removal work was going on it was rumored that some of the men working for the contractors and subcontractors were not receiving the 50-cent an hour wage. I am informed about this case referred to, which might form a test case. I would certainly like to find out what this man actually did receive. Here is a man who worked, according to his statement, forty-two hours for $7.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COOPERATION WITH BOSTON PORT AUTHORITY.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of actively cooperating with the Boston Port Authority to prevent further loss in business to the Port of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think that here is an opportunity for his Honor the Mayor to draw attention to the seriousness of the situation which faces the Port of Boston, and cooperate to the fullest extent with the Boston Port Authority and other agencies. Large shipments of wood pulp, which goes to make paper, have been lost because the rates through Baltimore and other ports are cheaper to the Middle West. We are also threatened with the loss of our confectionery business, today the largest in America, because cocoa beans can be brought to New York and other ports from South America cheaper than to Boston. It is the same with our soap manufacturing business here. It costs more to bring vegetable oils here from the Philippines and other places than to other competing ports, with the result that the soap manufacturers are leaving us. There is nothing more important today than this rate structure.

The order was passed under the suspension of the rule.

TIME OFF, HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Commissioner of Health relative to giving a liberal time-off policy, with pay, to those employees of the Health Department, such as nurses, who contact disease in line of duty.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO FORMER CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of giving preference in employment to former city employees who were let go during the first few months of his administration.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I hope the Mayor is not going to forget those men whom he let go, some of whom were in the service of the city for thirty years, some twenty, some fifteen and some ten. I hope they will not be forgotten, that the Mayor will at least give them a chance to come back on the pay roll in preference to new employees.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SCHEDULE OF BURIAL EXPENSES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Park Commissioner relative to working out a schedule of burial expenses in city cemeteries that will lighten the burden of those who cannot afford the present expense.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, while discussing this subject it might be well to recall my request for a more liberal policy towards our people who die with no money. Last year the city buried about 400 in paupers' graves at Mount Hope Cemetery. Boston allows $25 for an adult's burial. $20 of this goes for a pine box, $3 to open the grave, and $2 for the clergyman. If a man with a family but no money dies, say, in Hyde Park, his body is taken to the City Hospital morgue and is sent from there as soon as possible to the cemetery for burial. The body cannot be brought into a church because of the unsightly look of the pine box. The body is buried with two other unfortunates, whom we call paupers. The body of every person who dies in Hyde Park with no money should be allowed proper burial in the Fairview Cemetery, and where the man has a family provision should be made so that later along members of his family can be buried with him. His body should not be thrown in with those of strangers in the paupers' section of the Mount Hope Cemetery. More of our people are dying poor now than ever. You and I may be the next. Shouldn't we be interested in this matter? Hasn't the Council something to do with this problem? I think we have. We vote the money. That being the case, when all is said and done, we have an interest.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WREN STREET, WARD 20.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Wren street, Ward 20.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Adjourned at 5.09 p. m., on motion of Coun. GALLAGHER, to meet on Monday, March 25, 1935, at 2 p. m.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

N. Cibotti & Co. have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in the camp ground area, Hyde Park, dated October 29, 1934, from March 29, 1935, to July 6, 1935.

COST OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

The annual cost of various types of unemployment relief made by the National Industrial Conference Board, based on 3,500,000 relief cases, have been estimated at from a little less than $1,000,000,000 for direct relief of the type received by more than half of the persons now on the relief rolls to over $8,000,000,000 for public works relief, with full-time employment, at the "prevailing wage" rate. According to the report released February 28 the story is: "The average cost of direct relief per case during the third quarter of the past year was at the rate of slightly over $280 per year. At this annual rate the total cost for 3,500,000 cases would amount to $989,000,000. The average cost of work relief has been around 50 per cent greater than the cost of direct relief. The average for the third quarter of 1934 was slightly over $35 per month, or around $420 per year. Continuous employment for 3,500,000 persons during a period of twelve months would cost $1,475,000,000.

FOURTEEN PROJECTS LISTED BY MAYOR MANSFIELD FOR P. W. A. EMPLOYMENT PROVISIONS.

The following is a copy of letter sent by Mayor Mansfield to T. B. Parker, Esq., on February 13, 1935:

T. B. PARKER, Esq., State Engineer,
P. W. A., 407 Federal Building,
Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with a request received from Philip B. Fleming, Acting Deputy Administrator, P. W. A., I have had compiled, and transmit herewith, an inventory of possible projects which might be entered into by the city in order to provide opportunities for employment and create future wealth or better standards of living. This inventory contemplates an expenditure of $56,700,000. If it was certain that the entire cost of this work inventory would be borne by the Federal Government, I would be pleased to submit a complete list of the projects which have been submitted for my consideration. In the belief, however, that the city may be called upon to bear a portion of the cost of any projects which may subsequently be developed, I am submitting on the forms forwarded by Major Fleming only a partial list of the projects entering into the aforesaid inventory. In all, fourteen projects are listed, the total cost of which is estimated to be $11,878,000. In submitting such a list I assume that no obligation rests upon the city to proceed subsequently with the various projects, unless the contribution of the Federal Government is a very large portion of the total expense involved. Indeed, I am not at all sure that the city could contribute any part of the estimated cost.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor.

TAX COLLECTIONS FOR MUNICIPALITIES IMPROVE.

The results of a nation-wide survey of tax collections covering reports from 106 cities throughout the United States, just completed by Frank H. Morse of Lehman Brothers, New York, show that there has been a definite improvement in tax collections in 1934 over 1933.

Questionnaires were sent to the finance offices of the principal cities in each section of the country and 106 replies were received from city officials throughout the country. Of the 106 cities which reported, 82, or 77.3 per cent, showed an improvement in 1934 collections over those of 1933, as against 24 cities, or 22.7 per cent, which reported a decrease in 1934 collections. (From the American City Magazine.)

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

CITY PURCHASING UNDER THE CODES.

Caught between two fires, American cities are feeling the influence of the National Industrial Recovery Act codes in their purchasing in a way they had not foreseen. On one side they are asked for economy in budgeting. On the other, application of codes, which has resulted in collective price-fixing, has increased prices of supplies for city use to an almost prohibitive point.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

BOSTON COMMON TERCENTENARY PLANS.

The first printed announcement from the headquarters of the citizens' committee that has been at work on preparations for the observance of the 300th anniversary of Boston Common has been presented in the form of a four-page circular, and titled: "Boston Common Tercentenary, 1635-1935."

The major features appear to be: An indoor daily exhibition hall to open this month and remain open to the public through the summer; a series of events to take place out of doors on the Common during the summer season, beginning on Patriots' Day, April 19, and concluding on Columbus Day, October 12; tablets to mark significant sites; old-time manners and customs to be revived from history and legend; music, pageantry, sports, contests, holiday celebrations, military bands and troops, illuminations; honors to the vision of the Puritan founders and to their followers; patriotic and civic meetings.

In a listing of things "already done" the committee mentions its own permanent organization and the registration of "Neighbors of Boston Common," as now in progress, with a souvenir membership certificate. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration of Massachusetts has sanctioned a project for the purpose and now in operation. Material for publication in book form or as pamphlets, and for illustrations, is being assembled. The home of the first Bostonian, William Blaxton, is being constructed and also a special platform or stage as a focusing point for day and evening special features on the Common from June through August.

There are two joint honorary chairmen, Governor James M. Curley and Mayor of Boston Frederick W. Mansfield. Former Governors and Mayors are honorary vice chairmen with the President of the State Senate, the Speaker of the House and the President of the City Council. There are nine cooperating organizations listed, and the organizing committee numbers seventeen men and women.

The further announcement is that a definite schedule of dates and events is being compiled and will be ready for public information quite soon.

Headquarters for the Boston Common Tercentenary have been established in an historic house known as the Ticknor Mansion, on a site once part of the Common, opposite the State House, at No. 9 Park street.

MAYOR MANSFIELD CONTINUES HIS DISCUSSIONS OF "FURTHER WELFARE FACTS" IN RADIO ADDRESS FOR BENEFIT AND INSTRUCTION OF CITIZENS—POINTS TO FACT THAT TWO GREAT PEACE ARMIES HAVE BEEN BATTLING THE DEPRESSION DURING PAST FIVE YEARS, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE WELFARE AGENCIES—LIKENS MASTER MINDS OF WELFARE AGENCIES TO GENERALS AND RANK AND FILE OF WORKERS AS THE SOLDIERS—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE HAS DONE YEOMAN WORK, SAYS MAYOR IN TRIBUTE.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Mansfield on Tuesday, on the subject of "Further Welfare Facts":

Two great peace armies went forth to battle the depression.

Public and private relief agencies have stood staunchly, shoulder to shoulder, during the thick of the fight against unemployment. With ammunition provided to the public agencies by revenue from taxes, and to the private agencies by voluntary gifts of those fortunate enough to be able to give, they have pressed forward in a vast and valiant encounter—the most stupendous mass movement that has ever been staged—against man's old enemy—poverty.

The generals in this campaign have been the master minds back of the great welfare agencies. The soldiers have been the rank and file of workers in these organizations, social workers, visitors, investigators and office workers. From the unsalaried members of boards and committees who have given lavishly of themselves and of their time to determine policies and direct campaigns, down through the list of officials to the lowliest workers in the ranks, they have rendered a service which transcends praise. The true estimate of its value will be revealed in the future lives of those they have salvaged or rehabilitated, and in the history of the country's struggle to save democracy from revolution or dictatorship during the dark hours from which civilization now emerges.

The City of Boston has carried on its part in this warfare quietly and with cumulative effectiveness. Its sector has been vigorously defended. During the half decade of depression, its relief forces have grappled with every problem that has been its outgrowth. Slowly but steadily they have succeeded in beating back the enemy that menaced homes and threatened to disrupt family life. So effective have they been that the eve of the new era, which we all believe is upon us, finds our people unconquered and valiantly holding out.

Welfare Overseers' Part.

The extent of the Overseers' part in this fight against unemployment and depression is told in spectacular figures, which will appear shortly in the annual reports of the Department of Public Welfare. The drama of the years from 1929 to 1934 can be read into these figures. When we realize that the $2,518,182.90 spent for public relief in 1929 by the City of Boston jumped to $3,705,287.90 in 1930, to $7,086,208.74 in 1931, took a leap in 1932 to $12,025,222.35, reached the peak at $13,642,128.80 in 1933, while fortunately in 1934, it receded to $12,505,354.43, we can judge of the city's steady push against depression. The number of people aided in the peak year alone, 1933, was approximately 117,615—one out of every six in Boston, and more than the present population of the City of Cambridge.

These figures, however, represent the extreme result of depression. But retrenchment is now in sight. Even in a recent period of four weeks—from February 16 to March 9—the Overseers' weekly statistical report shows a downward trend. On March 9 there were 29,643 active cases as against 30,029 for February 16, a decrease in four weeks of 386 clients. Expenditure for relief during this period went down from $215,349.50 to $208,953.70, a saving of $6,395.80. This we hope is merely a beginning of further retrenchment.

The unmistakable signs of good times, the national plan for public works, the stirrings of industry, and renewed confidence—all promise to further aid in this retrenchment, already begun. If indications are borne out by performance, business and industry should slowly absorb a great proportion on our welfare rolls. The department is rehabilitating clients and preparing them for the jobs that are bound to present themselves as times improve.

The other division of the army of relief—the private charitable and welfare agencies—has borne the heavy burdens of the depression with mounting energy and with determination which seems to grow as difficulties increase. These organizations are not bound by law to support the needy or indigent, as the Overseers are. They disburse the funds that are entrusted to their care, acting as agents for the benevolent and philanthropic, while they give as a vital accompaniment the services of trained social workers and the influence and guidance of their executives and boards of directors.

MAYOR AND LAW DEPARTMENT NOT BOUND OR COMPELLED TO CONSULT OR CONFER WITH CITY COUNCIL IN MATTER OF SETTLEMENT OF SUITS—CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY E. FOLEY REPLIES TO REQUESTS FOR DECISIONS ON QUESTION RAISED BY CITY COUNCIL'S ORDER—STATUTES CITED AS SUPERSEDING ANY CITY ORDINANCES, EVEN IF THESE APPLIED—QUOTATIONS FROM LAWS SUPPORT MAYOR AND CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The following is a copy of letter from Corporation Counsel Foley to Mayor Mansfield:

Boston, March 22, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—You have submitted to me the following order of the City Council, passed on March 11, 1935:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council promptly:

1. The number of suits against the City of Boston which have been settled since January 1, 1934.
2. By virtue of what authority any such settlements for a sum not exceeding $4,000 have been made without the approval of the City Council Committee on Claims, and
3. By what authority any settlements for a sum in excess of $4,000 have been made without a vote of the City Council.

Further Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be, and hereby is, requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to settle no further claims or suits brought against the City of Boston without first complying with City Ordinance requirements," and have asked me to report to you with reference thereto.

The records of this department indicate that 420 actions and suits against the city have been settled by this department between January 1, 1934, and March 1, 1935, 357 of which were settled in the calendar year 1934 and 63 in the calendar year 1935. Settlement by the Law Department of these suits was deemed necessary for the protection of the city's interests.

The following ordinance and statutory provisions are relevant in considering the power of this department to settle actions and suits against the City of Boston.

Section 1 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 provides that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston:

"May take such steps, and incur such expenses, for the prosecution and defence of suits as he deems necessary; shall examine into the settlement of a claim when requested so to do by the mayor or the head of any department, and, if he deems such settlement advantageous to the city, shall approve the same; and may settle any suit against the city when the settlement is approved by a vote of the committee on claims, approved by the mayor, provided such settlement can be effected for a sum not exceeding four thousand dollars."

Section 6 of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885 provides in part as follows:

"The executive powers of said city, and all the executive powers now vested in the board of aldermen, as such, as surveyors of highways, county commissioners or otherwise, shall be and hereby are vested in the mayor, to be exercised through the several officers and boards of the city in their respective departments under his general supervision and control. Such officers and boards shall, in their respective departments . . . have . . . direction and control of all the executive and administrative business of said city. They shall be at all times accountable for the proper discharge of their duties to the mayor, as the chief executive officer, whose duty it shall be to secure the honest, efficient and economical conduct of the entire executive and administrative business of the city, and the harmonious and concerted action of the different departments. . . ."

Section 2 of chapter 202 of the Acts of 1897 as amended by section 1 of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1898 provides as follows:

"No agreement as to damages sustained by any person in his property by the taking by the city, or by the board of street commissioners, or by any other board or department, of land for said city, shall be deemed to have been made or executed unless it is in writing and has the approval of the Mayor affixed thereto; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to agreements entered into by any officer in charge of the law department of said city in any suit relating to such damages."

LAW QUOTED.

Section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 provides in part as follows:

"Neither the city council, nor any member or committee, officer, or employee thereof shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, directly or indirectly, on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk take part in . . . the making of contracts . . . nor in the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property; nor in the care, custody, and management of the same; nor in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city . . . nor in the expenditure of public money, except such as may be necessary for the contingent and incidental expenses of the city council. . . ."

It is clear that no ordinance is valid which contravenes a statute and that, so far as possible, ordinances should be interpreted in such a way as to be consistent with statutory provisions.

The Law Department of the City of Boston is an executive department. It is charged with the duty of defending actions and suits against the city. The result of litigation depends chiefly upon the ascertainment of facts by a jury or judge or upon the determination of rules of law found applicable by a court. In either event, there commonly is uncertainty, until a decision is reached. It may be, and frequently is, best in the interests of the city to settle a case rather than to risk an adverse decision. The best defense of the city's interests, therefore, may be, and frequently is, a settlement. If this department may not settle actions and suits, it would be extremely difficult, if not completely impossible, to settle cases when trial is in process, or to settle cases which may be reached for trial in a short space of time. Thus, if such approval is required in such cases, the proper performance of the duties of this department to protect the city's interests would be seriously interfered with. If the provisions of section 1 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 properly construed would limit the powers of this department in the settlement of such cases, these provisions would constitute an interference with the executive business of the city and would be without legal effect in view of the provisions of section 6 of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885, which places the full control of executive business in the Mayor and executive departments of the city, and section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, which forbids interference directly or indirectly by the City Council or any committee thereof in the executive business of the city.

Settlement of suits is the essence of an administrative function. It calls not for the laying down of general rules, but for investigation and decision. It involves specific determination in particular cases. If the provisions of section 1 of said chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances are construed as restrictive of the power of settlement by a committee of the City Council, they constitute a violation of the requirement of section 6 of said chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885 that all administrative powers be in the Mayor and the departments of the city and a violation of the prohibition contained in section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 against the exercise by the Council or any committee of the Council of administrative powers.

STUDIED QUESTION.

Shortly after taking office I gave most serious consideration to the question raised by the above quoted order of the City Council and examined into past practice in this department. From the examination then made and again recently made, I find that my predecessors have not hesitated to settle a suit without reference to the City Council or to a committee thereof when in their judgment the settlement of such suit without such reference was necessary for the protection of the city. This precedent, while not controlling, is entitled to weight.

This practice is supported by the provisions of section 2 of chapter 202 of the Acts of 1897, as amended. Said section 2 clearly establishes the authority of the Corporation Counsel to settle suits for damages sustained by land-takings but it is significant for more than that as it does not express a grant of such authority but rather a recognition and preservation of existing authority. If the Corporation Counsel had authority to settle such suits against the city, as the language of the section indicates, there would seem to be no reason why that authority should not extend to all suits and actions against the city.

In view of the foregoing, I am of the opinion that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston may, notwithstanding the provisions at the end of section 1 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, subject to the control of the Mayor, settle actions and suits against the city when in his discretion he deems it necessary so to do for the protection of the city's interest and that the City Council is barred from reserving to itself control over such settlements (even if such control were intended by the above mentioned ordinance provision) by the provisions of section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

The Emergency Campaign has re-established in the minds of the people of Greater Boston the extent and variety of the work done by these private organizations. We know of the multitude of their benefactions, their preventive and restorative work in hospitals, clinics, and dispensaries, of their medical-social follow-up work. We know of their services in the homes of the people, their interest in the young, their efforts in conserving and reclaiming family life.

ON PRIVATE CHARITIES.

One thing, however, is not generally known, that is the extent to which these private charities save and supplement public welfare. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are saved to the city each year by these volunteer societies, either through help rendered to needy families which come within the province of their aid, thus keeping down the number on welfare rolls, or through supplementing the welfare allowance so that the family on public relief may be able to secure those requisites that cannot be provided by the Overseers' allotment.

Great as this financial saving is, and important as it looms in this day of mounting public expense, an even greater factor involved in this cooperation is the service that goes with it.

In order to understand it, you will have to picture to yourself little children getting extra milk, old people having special diets, boys and girls being tided over that hard period between school and the job that does not seem to turn up, mothers visited in their homes and given not only extra funds to meet extra emergencies, but a service which transcends mere "things" and looks underneath the material need and sees the need of friendship.

Since reorganization and decentralization of the Department of Public Welfare, the social service workers of both groups have been invited by the Overseers to attend local and neighborhood conferences in the various units scattered throughout the city. They meet in a spirit of friendly give-and-take. Always the client is the theme of their conferences.

"What can we do to better his condition? How can we get the family back on its feet? What is to be done for the boys and the girls of the neighborhood? How can we supplement your work, and where can you fit into ours?" These are the questions put and answered; these are the problems discussed earnestly and generously by men and women who sit around a table in Charlestown or East Boston, in Hyde Park or the South End, and conspire "to change the sorry scheme of things entire—and then remold it nearer to the heart's desire."

Can you not visualize the Family Welfare Society worker saying to the Public Welfare visitor in one of the districts, where they work shoulder to shoulder, "Why, yes, if you do not want this young couple to begin getting public aid, we will tide them over until Mr. S gets that position he is hoping for."

Or can you not see the Public Welfare visitor dropping in to the Catholic Charitable Bureau's office in one of the Health Units, and hear a pleasant voice say to her, "Certainly, if Mrs. B. is going to the hospital in January, we will see that the children are cared for"; or the Boston Provident Association answering an S. O. S. for a small gift to tide an old lady over until her seventieth birthday, when she will be eligible for old age assistance; or the Jewish Family Welfare Association's worker saying, "Certainly, we will see that Bobby gets to the clinic; we'll send our worker every Wednesday afternoon to take him; and if he needs extra care, and the doctor prescribes a different diet, we'll see that he gets them."

A FEW REAL STORIES.

Or perhaps you might visit the Application Department of the Department of Public Welfare at 43 Hawkins street, and have a little talk with its presiding genius, whose official title is an Assistant Supervisor assigned to the Application Department, who has worked for and with the poor of the City of Boston for twelve years. Because she knows the problems and needs of the Welfare recipient, and understands the origins, policies, and rules of other agencies, she was chosen by the present Executive Director, John C. L. Dowling, to fill an important position that requires understanding of both.

All new applicants for city relief must have an interview with her before they are accepted, or directed to other relief channels. The interview is a friendly one, its purpose being to help the applicant see his own problems through the kindly eyes of an interested friend, and to apply to these problems the skill of a trained relief worker, and the knowledge of a social planner.

When you listen attentively to as many as seventy-five stories of human needs in one day, when you weigh facts, make plans, and then visualize consequences and finally try to help make decisions and build up the family's present status, with an eye searching the future, you have done a piece of work that deserves to be called social planning.

But she could not get through one day without the other social planners and performers who are friends and associates in the work for Boston's needy families. These are Catholic Charitable Bureau, Family Welfare Society, Boston Provident Association, Jewish Family Welfare Association Industrial Aid Society, hospital social service departments, dispensaries, clinics, settlement clubs, all the private and public agencies, big and little, which stretch out sheltering arms or guiding hands to the wayworn and weary.

Take, for example, the case of the young man who applied for public welfare, in desperation, because his wife and children were in actual want. He was in the position of having to ask for aid, when he really wanted a chance to be self-supporting. "But if I could only get the truck out on the road again," he said, after he had told his story. Then the facts were unearthed—a perfectly good truck stood idle in the back yard. He needed money for license and registration fees and for gasoline. If he had it, he could make a living delivering coal. A telephone call to the Boston Provident Association got the needed loan, and kept him off welfare. Today the money has been paid back in small instalments.

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Samuel J. Tomasello Corporation, 15 Bay street, Dorchester, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Rugo Construction Company, Incorporated, have been allowed to add to the contract for the Shurtleff District Intermediate School, approved by the State Engineer as of February 16, 1935: Additional rock excavation and concrete foundation and forms for corridor floor and stair slabs on southeast wall of corridor shown on sheet No. 2, marked Basement and Foundation Plan, and relating to that portion of wall which occurs between stairs running from grade 21 to 28.50, and indicated on this plan as Section O-O and Section P-P and including the corridor floor slab and stairs; 105.8 cubic yards rock excavation at $6.50 per cubic yard, $687.70; 11.60 cubic yards concrete, unreinforced, including forms at $13 per cubic yard, $150.80; 420 square feet forms to be left in place and abandoned, including supports for stair slabs and floor slabs at 30 cents per square foot, $126; plus 2½ per cent for bond and insurance, $3.15—$129.15; total addition on this order, $967.65. Original contract, $636,800; this order, addition, $967.65; total amount of contract to date, $637,767.65, and the amount of $967.65 will be added therefor, making the account as follows: Contract price, $636,800; total additions, $967.65; amount of contract, $637,767.65.

Explanation of Order No. 1 for Change in Contract and to be Attached to Same.

When excavation for corridor wall (southeast end of boiler room) was completed, it was found that the rock which remained for bearing for wall on opposite side of corridor (between stairs marked O-O and P-P was very poor, shaly and unsafe for bearing at grades shown, and architect recommended carrying this bearing down to grade 19, same as adjacent walls. This involved extra rock excavation, extra concrete for walls and forms for support of corridor floor and stair slabs, which forms are to remain in place and abandoned.

The rock excavation and concrete is figured in accordance with unit prices in contract and quantities have been checked by Architect, Department of School Buildings Engineer, and P. W. A. Engineer Inspector, and all agree on quantities. The forms cover the square foot area of floor and stair slabs.

The above explanation is in accordance with architect's letter of January 4, 1935, addressed to Mr. William W. Drummey, Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings for the City of Boston, copy of which was sent to Colonel Parker, State Engineer for the P. W. A. at Boston.

D'Amore Construction Company has been allowed to add for the following changes in the contract for the Joseph H. Barnes District, East Boston High School addition: Change in the location of the 6-inch soil pipe in new passageway in boiler room to run straight down and under floor into present pipe; this work is necessitated due to this soil line projecting into the new passageway and interfering with the relocating of the steam return line and with the use of the passageway; this soil line was buried in the fill beneath the present locker room and was uncovered in excavating for the new passageway; it is understood and agreed that for this extra work the contract sum is to be increased in the amount of $78.30, and the amount of $78.30 will be added therefor, making the account as follows: Contract price, $128,740; total additions, $752.70; total deductions, $1,000; amount of contract, $128,492.70.

REPORT OF ADELBERT H. MORRISON, HEAD MASTER, MECHANIC ARTS HIGH SCHOOL, ON ATTENDANCE AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SECONDARY PRINCIPALS OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION HELD AT ATLANTIC CITY, FEBRUARY 25 TO MARCH 1, INCLUSIVE.

The following is the report on National Education Association Convention at Atlantic City, February 22 to February 28, by Head Master A. H. Morrison of the Mechanics Arts High School:

Although the Department of Secondary School Principals held its meetings on February 25, 26 and 27, I was interested in some of the program of the National Vocational Guidance Association, and of the Department of Superintendence, and therefore went to Atlantic City on February 21.

During my stay I attended thirteen meetings,—three of the Vocational Guidance Association, four general sessions, and six of the Department of Secondary School Principals.

Everyone seemed to agree that our greatest concern should be to so change our practices that young people emerging from our schools may be better able to comprehend what is going on around them and better prepared to meet the new economic conditions, but there seemed to be a great divergence of opinion as to what the new conditions will be and what specific steps should be taken. The immediate steps most frequently mentioned and urged were (1) additional emphasis on the so-called social studies, particularly some form of economics, in the academic field, and (2) diversification of training along vocational lines in order that young people may have open to them a choice of occupations, rather than a single line of work which may offer little or no possibility of employment by the time they have completed their training. The general sessions were, as usual, largely inspirational.

Two of the speakers at the general sessions were Hon. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and Hon. Jesse Jones, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, who delivered a personal message from President Roosevelt and explained briefly some of the activities of Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Mr. Wallace devoted most of his time to reading excerpts from a book by Brooks Adams, and in reaffirming his conviction of the soundness of the principles which have determined the policies of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Before the opening of the sessions of the Department of Secondary School Principals which I wished particularly to attend, I spent as much time as possible in the meetings of groups more or less connected with vocational education. I also attended a conference of a group whose subject was "Integration on a Secondary School Level."

The meetings sponsored by the Department of Secondary School Principals were held on February 26 and 27, the theme of the first meeting being "Secondary Education in Retrospect."

At this meeting Mr. Joseph L. Powers gave a very interesting account of the founding and growth of the Boston Public Latin School. Its history is so familiar to us all that it will not be necessary to go into detail in this report.

The whole convention was pervaded by a spirit of indecision,—of groping for something elusive. Everyone recognized that the times are out of joint, but no one seemed to know exactly how the men and women in the classrooms of the nation are to attack the situation. The public seems altogether too prone to place the entire burden on the shoulders of the teachers, and even the leaders in education seem too ready to acquiesce in this point of view.

"Would it not be more reasonable to recognize that the solution of the problem is one that requires the coordination of all the influences for good that can be brought to bear by all the existing social agencies, rather than to assign to the schools a task that they can not perform alone?"

A. H. MORRISON.

STREET LIGHTS IN BENNINGTON STREET.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Public Works Department:

BOSTON, March 18, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Included in this year's program of the Wire Division of the Fire Department, naming streets in which overhead electric wires will be placed underground is Bennington street, between Day square and Saratoga street. At the present time this street has thirty-nine gas lamps and eighteen large 1,500 c. p. street lights. The yearly operation of these lights, both gas and electric, amounts to $2,317.08.

From time to time in the past there has been an insistent agitation to displace the gas lighting with an up-to-date layout of all electric lights of 1,500 c. p. A study has been made whereby twenty-six 1,000 c. p. lamps can be installed with one change of an existing lamp, the operation of which will cost $3,246.50 yearly, making an increase per annum over the present operation of $929.42. If the change in lighting is made at the time of underground installation the cost of installing and connecting electric lamps is borne by the Edison Company; whereas, if the change is requested at a later date, the cost of construction would be borne by the Public Works Department and this cost would be approximately $700. The new light installation will wipe out for all times one of the worst places in the city as regards improper and insufficient street lighting.

Because of these facts, together with the traffic over Bennington street, which is constantly increasing, I respectfully request permission to order the change in street lighting as stated above.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REVISION OF ASSESSMENTS.

The Mayor has approved the following order of the Board of Street Commissioners:

 Jennie Cassano..... $10 30

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT WARDS.

The term "ward" first appears in a fire-protection order, approved by the Town on August 29, 1679, dividing the Town into 4 quarters with 2 wards each. The 8 wards had previously been military districts.

On August 11, 1713, the Selectmen "agreed upon a distribution of the Town into distinct Wards or Precincts."

On February 1, 1715, it was "voted to make a new division of the Town into eight distinct Wards."

On March 9, 1735, it was voted to divide the Town into 12 wards to facilitate the work of the Overseers of the Poor.

On March 13, 1822, the Selectmen divided the Town into 12 wards on the basis of the U. S. Census of 1820.

By an ordinance which took effect on the second Monday of December, 1838, there was a revision of the wards.

On April 29, 1850, the City Council accepted Chap. 167 of the Acts of 1850, which altered the wards on the basis of legal voters rather than on the number of inhabitants.

By ordinance taking effect on November 15, 1865 new ward lines were established.

In the annexation period, 1865-1875, the number of wards was increased from twelve to twenty-one.

By Chap. 243, Acts 1875, the City Council was ordered to cause a new division of the City into twenty-four wards in the year 1875 in such manner as to include an equal number of voters in each ward. This division was made, taking effect on December 13, 1875. On May 27, 1876, the City Council, in accordance with Chap. 242, Acts of 1876, divided one of the wards in two, making a total of 25 wards for the City.

By ordinance passed April 20, 1895, under authority of Chap. 437, Acts of 1888, and Section 96 of Chap. 417, Acts of 1893, ward lines were established on the basis of the number of voters registered at the City election of 1894, there still being 25 wards.

The annexation of Hyde Park, effective January 1, 1912, made an additional ward.

By enactment of December 28, 1914, under authority of Chap. 630, Acts of 1914, the City Council redivided the City into 26 wards.

The latest redivision, established December 30, 1924, under authority of Chap. 410, Acts of 1924, consists of 22 wards.

URBAN POPULATION, APRIL 1, 1930.

As defined by the Census Bureau, the urban population is, in general, that residing in cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, the remainder being classified as rural.

The total urban population of the UNITED STATES is 68,954,823 (34,154,760 males and 34,800,063 females), of whom 62,836,605 (31,162,570 males and 31,674,035 females) are white; of these whites 52,109,746 (25,520,483 males and 26,589,263 females) are native; 33,497,232 (16,515,816 males and 16,981,416 females) of these latter are of native parentage and 18,612,514 (9,004,667 males and 9,607,847 females) are of foreign or mixed parentage; there are 10,726,859 (5,642,087 males and 5,084,772 females) foreign-born white; there are 5,193,913 (2,479,158 males and 2,714,755 females) Negroes; other races, 924,305 (513,032 males and 411,273 females).

The total urban population of New England is 6,311,976 or 77.3 per cent of the total population of New England. Of the 4,660,339 native white, 2,089,031 are of native parentage and 2,571,308 are of foreign or mixed parentage; foreign-born whites number 1,564,769; Negro, 81,443; other races, 5,425.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

MAYOR MANSFIELD FIGHTING DESPERATELY TO SECURE FEDERAL RELIEF AID FOR BOSTON IN ORDER TO LOWER TAX RATE AND PROVIDE FOR LESSENING OF BURDEN—SENDS LETTER TO CITY COUNCIL DETAILING DIFFICULTIES OF PROBLEM AND POINTING TO FACT THAT STATE HAS AS YET DONE NOTHING TO AID AND THAT ATTITUDE OF COMMONWEALTH IS HAMPERING AND BLOCKING HIS EFFORTS AT WASHINGTON—GOES TO CAPITAL FOR ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

The following is a copy of a communication sent by Mayor Mansfield to the City Council on April 1:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—On March 25 your Honorable Body adopted two orders, one requesting the Mayor,

“To consider the advisability of requesting the Federal Government for larger outright grants of money for relief purposes under the E. R. A.,”

and the other requesting the Mayor,

“To consider the advisability of vigorously drawing to the attention of public officials at Washington and the public in general the serious differential handicaps which threaten the future of the Port of Boston.”

In reference to these orders I beg to state that I have repeatedly importuned the Federal Government and the officers in charge of such matters for larger outright grants of money directly to the City of Boston, for relief purposes under the E. R. A. and that I have personally visited Washington with the Corporation Counsel on many occasions in an attempt to obtain grants of this kind. These visits began nearly a year ago and have been supplemented by telephone conversations directly with Mr. Hopkins' department in Washington. In addition to this, many times when the Corporation Counsel has been in Washington on official business he has broached this same subject to Doctor Upson, who is an assistant to Mr. Hopkins. The latest of these visits was only last week but because of the absence of Mr. Hopkins nothing could be accomplished. Arrangements are being made for a conference in Washington, probably tomorrow or some other day during the present week, for the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel to see Mr. Hopkins personally, at which conference we hope to obtain a very substantial grant advanced directly to the City of Boston.

Hopkins' Stand.

In this connection I beg to say further that the greatest obstacle to the obtaining of this grant up to the present time has been Mr. Hopkins' opinion, very firmly held and vigorously stated, that Massachusetts municipalities ought not to look to the Federal Government for direct aid until they had first exhausted all means of relief from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Hopkins has stated many times that Massachusetts, one of the wealthiest states in the Union, has done nothing whatever to aid its cities and towns and gave little hope of any Federal aid until our Commonwealth had contributed substantially to its municipalities which needed aid.

Statistics recently released show that Massachusetts municipalities have received no direct aid from the Federal Government, although it is true that through the office of the Federal Administration of the E. R. A. for Massachusetts large sums have been received. Thus in March, Massachusetts received $6,000,000, of which Boston's share was $1,346,000, an increase of about 100 per cent in six months, and directly attributable. I think I may claim, to my efforts in securing a larger share of Federal funds for E. R. A. Some other states are receiving practically 100 per cent Federal aid and many cities are contributing practically nothing.

Statistics released by the National Conference of Mayors in February, for example, show that in twenty-one months (twelve in 1933 and nine in 1934) Boston contributed about 70 per cent to the Emergency Relief Fund. Philadelphia in the same period of time contributed 1.5 per cent and the Federal Government 98.5 per cent; Memphis, Tennessee, contributed nothing whatever and the Federal Government 100 per cent; Baltimore, which is so often compared with Boston, contributed .1 per cent and the Federal Government 99.9 per cent; Cleveland, another city comparable in size and other features with Boston, contributed 22.5 per cent and the Federal Government 77.5 per cent; New York City contributed 30.6 per cent and the Federal Government 69.4 per cent. Apparently, because Massachusetts has had such a glorious reputation in the past for standing on her own feet and meeting her obligations, a reputation which Boston has always shared, it can get nothing. And Boston has been unable to get anything simply because the Commonwealth has contributed nothing and the Federal Government thinks it should contribute in this emergency.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

CALLS ON BOSTON CITIZENS TO GIVE BOSTON NATIONAL LEAGUE BASEBALL TEAM GREAT SEND-OFF AT OPENING OF SEASON—CITY TREASURER JOHN H. DORSEY, SUBSTITUTING FOR MAYOR MANSFIELD, BROADCASTS APPEAL TO CITIZENS IN BEHALF OF MAYOR, ASKING COOPERATION OF ALL THAT SPORT MAY BE ENCOURAGED WITH HUGE ATTENDANCE—CITY IS TAKING SPECIAL PART IN PROGRAM OF OPENING DAY—TELLS HOW BOSTON ENCOURAGES AND FOSTERS SPORT.

The following is the address broadcast from Station WHDH, Hotel Touraine, Wednesday, March 27, at 2 p. m., by John H. Dorsey, City Treasurer:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Radio Audience.

In the few minutes allotted to me, in which I shall pinch-hit for Mayor Mansfield, who would himself like to address you, I wish to call your attention to some facts which I am sure will be of interest to you.

We are broadcasting in the interest of the Boston National League Baseball Team—the Braves—for the purpose of awakening new interest and setting astir the souls of those citizens whose love for the game of baseball never wanes; and in anticipation of the opening of the season of 1935, that the success of the team may be assured for this and future years.

BOSTON LEADS IN ATHLETICS.

Among the many activities which Boston has taken to her heart, or has originated, athletics plays a principal part. Boston has always been renowned for its prowess in athletics—and always shall. Back in the pages of her history the names of many athletic heroes have been written—never to be erased, but, of her athletic history, baseball takes the leading place; where the noble figures of Timothy Murnane, John Clarkson, Hugh Duffy, and others down to the present time have stood out.

Because the City of Boston has always led in the encouragement of this sport, there is reason for the development and production of these heroes. This encouragement has reached its peak under the administration of Mayor Mansfield, who has encouraged the expansion of baseball on the seventy-two playgrounds of the Park Department until the results have been gloriously astounding. Boston has thus become the feeder for the big leagues; for the Boston teams of both leagues; and for the other teams of the two major leagues.

To demonstrate how Boston has aided the baseball prowess of the leagues, let me cite that last year the City of Boston furnished uniforms and playing materials for 13,360 young players, comprising 562 teams and 125 leagues, under the name of the Park Department Athletic Association. These teams played to an attendance of 1,241,794, exclusive of the crowds attending the two field day events; one held on the diamond of the Braves; the other on the Red Sox field.

Thus Boston is fostering the national pastime, not only by her attendance at the big league baseball games during each season, but also by providing recruits for the ranks of the teams that shall keep Boston ever in the forefront of the game. Because of this, Mayor Mansfield has interested himself fully and heartily in the success of the Braves, for this season, and for the Big League Baseball season in general. Boston has a great personal interest in the success of the Braves, as many of the graduates from the leagues fostered by the City of Boston will, some day, be wearing the uniforms of either the Braves or the Red Sox.

COOPERATION IS NEEDED.

For these reasons, which I have enumerated, Mayor Mansfield has asked me to speak to you today and to ask your fullest cooperation in making the opening of the Braves Baseball season this year the biggest and most successful of any ever known. This also explains the Mayor's naming a committee to interest the city in the success of that opening.

In encouraging the Braves to a good start this year, you citizens are encouraging your sons to love the game, to play it to the best of their ability in order that they, too, might be numbered among the heroes of the diamond and bring honor and fame to the fair city of their birth and love.

FEDERAL RELIEF FOR BOSTON.

In reference to the second order, I beg to state that I have repeatedly spoken about the blighting effects upon Boston commerce of the unfair differential rates in vogue in favor of some Atlantic Coast ports and that I have addressed the public on this subject very many times during the last year. I also beg to state that Corporation Counsel Foley has made many trips to Washington and New York to argue different phases of this problem and to plead Boston's cause and that his latest visit to Washington last week was in order to argue certain aspects of this very question before a committee having under consideration certain Interstate Commerce Commission affairs. I wish further to state that it is my intention when I visit Washington this week on the Welfare grant matter to confer with Boston and Massachusetts representatives and to press further for immediate relief against these discriminatory and I think unconstitutional preferential rates.

And may I add, with all respect, that both of these subjects referred to in these orders have had my continuous attention and effort for a long period of time, before these orders were adopted.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,

Mayor.

MAYOR MANSFIELD MAKES RADIO ADDRESS ON VISIT TO FLOWER SHOW, PRAISING SUCCESS OF DISPLAY AS WELCOME RELIEF AND SURCEASE FROM DEPRESSION, WAR'S ALARMS AND SUFFERINGS OR PRIVATIONS CITIZENS HAVE BEEN CALLED UPON TO ENDURE.

The following is the address of Mayor Mansfield at the Flower Show, Mechanics Building, Boston, Thursday, March 28, broadcast over Station WBZ:

I am very glad to be able to steal away from the strenuous business of being Mayor of the City of Boston for a few moments to visit this scene of beauty and repose.

Were it not for such things as flower shows, concerts of good music, galleries of fine pictures and famous examples of sculptors' art, and similar recreation to take the minds of the people away from their pressing daily problems, I would very much fear for the durability of our present-day civilization.

In the present confused condition of the world's affairs, and of matters industrial, financial, economical and political, with all of the nations of the world watching each other so jealously and war talk again appearing in the columns of the daily press, a sedative such as this wonderful flower show is needed to turn the minds of the people into other channels, where in quiet contemplation of the beauties of creation the mental ravages and frayed dispositions may be repaired.

I suppose everyone loves flowers. We have all heard of individuals who hate music, for example, or who have no taste whatever for certain forms of art, but I think it would be difficult to find one person who was not sensitive to and appreciative of the glorious beauty of flowers.

I wish that every person in Boston could come to this show. It might surprise a great many of our citizens to know that there are so many flower lovers who are still deeply interested in producing these beautiful blooms. That reflection, and the meditation which is produced by looking upon any great work of art or beauty and which turns the mind from the creature to the Creator, would do us all a world of good.

Let me urge all of my listeners to visit this wonderful exposition. To take the necessary time for this delightful recreation which would be good for the soul and which would convince them that this world is not altogether a place of depression, of war's alarms, of suffering, privation and want, but that things of beauty still survive and are enjoyed forever.

MAYOR PLANS FOR LOANS ON TAX TITLES.

The following communication was sent to the City Council on April 1:

BOSTON, April 1, 1935.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—Under the provisions of chapter 49 of the Acts of 1933, municipalities are authorized, with the approval of the State Emergency Finance Board, to borrow from the Commonwealth for ordinary maintenance expenses, said borrowing not to exceed the total amount of tax titles held by the municipalities. According to the records of the office of the City Collector, on March 21 of the current year, tax titles in the possession of the city amounted to $5,191,880.18. Of this amount approximately $2,800,000 was held in reserve to cover the balance outstanding in the tax title loan of $3,800,000 negotiated by the city in 1934. Subtracting the amount held in reserve from the total amount in possession leaves what might be termed a free and unpledged balance of approximately $2,300,000.

Since it is evident that to keep the tax rate of the current year within reasonable limits, it will be necessary to engage in borrowing, I am of the opinion that the city should take advantage of the provisions of chapter 49 and borrow at this time, for ordinary maintenance expenses, the sum of $2,000,000. I submit herewith an order to this effect and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body. It is my intention when this order has secured the approval of the City Council and the Emergency Finance Board to send to the City Council an appropriation order definitely allocating the amount involved to specific maintenance requirements.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 2, chapter 49, of the Acts of 1933, the City Treasurer be authorized to secure the approval of the Emergency Finance Board to the issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city, said bonds or certificates to be sold at their face value to the Commonwealth and the proceeds to be used as provided in said chapter 49 for ordinary maintenance expenses.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of water pipe construction, estimated to be two (2) months, vehicles are excluded from Glen road, West Roxbury, between Forest Hills street and Sigourney street, effective April 1, 1935.

Voted, That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of the Grand Opera Season, from April 1, 1935, to April 6, 1935, inclusive, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following streets:

WEST ROXBURY HOSPITAL SITE PROPOSED AS HOME FOR HOMELESS SINGLE MEN.

The following is a copy of letter sent by Mayor Mansfield to Mr. Joseph P. Manning, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital:

BOSTON, March 30, 1935.

MR. JOSEPH P. MANNING, Chairman, Board of Trustees, Boston City Hospital.

DEAR MR. MANNING,—I inclose a letter from the Overseers of the Public Welfare proposing a use to which the abandoned veterans' hospital in West Roxbury may be put. It strikes me as an excellent proposal and if your Board thinks well of it I would like to have the experiment tried. If the plan does not prove to be a success the permission may be revoked and, of course, your Board would at all times be in control of the property as it is now.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor.

Copy of letter from John C. L. Dowling, Executive Director, Overseers of the Public Welfare, to Mayor Mansfield:

BOSTON, March 29, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

YOUR HONOR,—The Board of Overseers propose to form a camp for homeless single men who are now receiving welfare from the City of Boston. For this purpose they desire to use the property in West Roxbury, formerly used for a veterans' hospital. It is proposed to house up to 250 men at the camp under the leadership of a qualified director, probably with military training, and a qualified assistant, also probably a man with military training.

It is planned to set up the camp on a basis which will be as nearly self-supporting as possible through farming of the available land, which I should estimate at approximately 20 acres.

We plan, if possible, to pay for this undertaking out of the Welfare budget, together with probable assistance in setting up the project from one of our trust funds, hoped-for assistance from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, and from the Allocating Committee of the Emergency Campaign of 1935. After the camp is underway we hope that a great deal will be accomplished in rehabilitating the men and making them available for private jobs.

Will you kindly present this request to the Trustees of the City Hospital for their consent to our use of this property, and may we also have your approval of this project.

Very truly yours,

JOHN C. L. DOWLING,
Executive Director.

MAYOR MANSFIELD WARNS OF PAY CUTS FOR TEACHERS IF BILL IS PASSED.

The following statement was issued by the office of the Mayor on March 28:

I have just had an extended conference with the School Committee relative to the bill recommended to the Legislature by the Committee on Municipal Finance. If this bill is adopted the School Committee will be forced to cut salaries of all School Department employees at least 7 per cent in order to save the necessary $600,000, which would be required by the passage of that bill. In order to avoid this cut in salary it would be necessary for the School Committee to close all night schools (including Americanization), all summer schools, all school centers and all playgrounds and, in addition, to cut at least $120,000 from the program of alteration and repairs of buildings.

Are the people of Boston ready for this severe retrenchment? Do they wish to close night schools which provide the only means of education to many persons employed during the day? Do they wish to close the summer schools and playgrounds and all school center neighborhood work? The night school season began on October 1, 1934, so that about one half of its budget has already been spent, or about $80,000. The same is true of the school centers, where about $25,000, or one half of its budget for this year, has already been spent. The Department of School Buildings has authority under the law to close school buildings which are deemed unsafe, and Superintendent Drummey of that department has stated that if he is deprived of the necessary money for alteration and repairs that he may find it necessary to close some of the schools.

But the dilemma is there. The School Committee must either make these retrenchments or reduce the salaries of all School Department employees at least 7 per cent. Needless to say the School Committee does not wish to adopt either of these alternatives, yet it will be forced to choose if this bill recommended by the committee becomes a law.

And the problem is very nearly the same for city departments aside from the School Department. If the School Committee must save $600,000 the city departments must save $2,100,000 in addition to the borrowing of $9,000,000, as recommended by the committee. We have been striving for weeks in our budget studies to avoid the necessity of resorting again to pay cuts. I hope they will not be necessary. But if they become necessary it will be because they have been forced upon the city by the adoption of the bill recommended by the committee.

While the committee recommends a bill which would result in a $600,000 cut in School Department expenses it ought to be noted that six special statutes passed by former legislatures, with the provisions of which the School Committee must comply, gives an expense of over $700,000.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE STATEMENT.

Following a conference with his Honor the Mayor the Boston School Committee issued the following statement:

The Boston School Committee regrets to announce that a salary cut for its employees will be necessary if the Legislature accepts the report of the Committee on Municipal Finance and passes the unusual bill which accompanies the report.

Boston School Committee petitioned for increased appropriating power of $1.22. The drop in the city's valuation alone would account for 60 cents of this amount. The remaining 62 cents was intended to meet the cost of restoring salaries and automatic step-rate increases.

The Committee on Municipal Finance has recommended 35 cents less than the amount requested by the Boston School Committee, which means an enforced saving of approximately $600,000. With a budget which is more than ninety per cent salaries, there is no way possible of saving $600,000 except by salary reduction even if evening schools, summer schools, school centers and playgrounds were eliminated.

It is with extreme regret, therefore, if the bill is adopted that the Boston School Committee must devote its first meeting in April to considering pay cuts for its six thousand employees when Federal, State and Municipal employees elsewhere are either enjoying or contemplating full restoration of former salary levels.

Merchants Warehouse Company, Charles E. Nichols, president, of 40 Court street, Boston, has been notified of the unsafe condition of the building, but nothing has been done to remove the cause of complaint.

PLANS FOR THE 19TH OF APRIL PATRIOTIC CELEBRATIONS ANNOUNCED.

The first meeting of the committee on arrangements for the April 19th celebration was held in the Mayor's office on March 3, with Arthur J. O'Keefe, assistant secretary to the Mayor, in charge.

This year Good Friday falls on April 19 and because of this some changes will be made in the program. It is planned to open the program at City Hall at 8.30 a. m. with the Mayor officiating in the flag raising. The parade will be over a shorter route than last year and in this way it is planned to have both Paul Revere and William Dawes leave from North square and John F. Hot square no later than 11.30 a. m. and thus they will be enabled to reach Lexington and Concord before noon.

The head of every religious group in Boston has been called on and all agree that the historical features of the day should be carried out as heretofore but they have all made the request that the program be concluded by noon to allow the religious services of the day to proceed as has been the custom from 12 to 3 p. m.

A meeting of the Boston committee and all the committees of the local cities and towns interested in the program will be held in Boston City Hall on next Friday evening.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 18.

Patrolman John J. Smith of Division 1 is commended and granted three days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on Sunday, March 10, 1935, in swimming to the aid of a person who had jumped into the Charles river at Nashua street.

In response to a telephone message, Patrolmen John J. Smith and Mark F. Burke were dispatched to the river. They observed the body of a man, floating face down. Patrolman Smith, without hesitancy, plunged into the water and was forced to swim a distance of about fifteen feet to reach the body. He brought the body to shore, and with Patrolman Burke immediately applied the prone pressure method of resuscitation. This process was continued by various officers until arrival at the Haymarket Relief Hospital, where the man was pronounced dead.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend the courageous action of Patrolman Smith who had recently returned to house duty and who was at the time of this incident wearing a sacroiliac belt as a result of an injury previously received while in the performance of duty.

The initiative and fearlessness of Patrolman Smith on this occasion reflects great credit upon the department as a whole, as well as upon himself.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY.

The commissioner is pleased to commend the zeal and perseverance shown by Patrolman Lyons in effecting the arrest of this person.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,

Patrolmen Joseph C. Tuson, John J. The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and diligence shown by these officers in the apprehension of these persons.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,

Donohue, both of Division 10, are commended for efficient police duty performed on March 13, 1935, in connection with the pursuit and capture of one of three persons who had previously stolen a car in which they were riding when they collided with another car and then attempted to make their escape. One of the persons while being pursued jumped into Muddy river and swam to the Brookline side, where he was apprehended by a Brookline officer whose attention had been attracted by the sound of shots fired by the officers in pursuit. A loaded revolver was found in the pocket of the person arrested.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and effective police duty performed by these officers on this occasion and it is hereby ordered that the incomplete punishment duty imposed upon Gerald S. Keough under General Order No. 607 of 1934, be and hereby is remitted.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with several concerns for supplies, labor, etc. Communications from the heads of the departments concerned were as follows:

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 29, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your approval is requested to award a contract, without advertisement, to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for replacement of submarine cable from Moon Island to the Long Island Hospital at an expense of $2,250.

The old cable has been in place since 1917. Included in the above estimate is the replacement of certain cables on the Island. The cables to be replaced are obsolete, and certain of the lines in them are no longer in commission. Their replacement is a necessity.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company assumes a part of the cost because of the fact that these cables carry certain lines from which they receive revenue from the city, and also certain lines to pay stations, the receipts from which are shared by the Telephone Company and the City.

In addition to the above, the city is to furnish a tug and lighter for replacing the submarine cable. The department's boat will be used if it proves to be feasible.

Funds have been provided for this purpose in the budget.

Yours very truly,

F. A. WASHBURN, M. D.,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

BOSTON, March 27, 1935.

To the Mayor of Boston.

I respectfully request permission to the award of contracts for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the following persons and corporations on the ground that these contractors are not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

Anthony Antonellis, Appel & O'Toole Company, Herve F. Armington, Incorporated, A. Brenci, Charles Capone, Sylvester Connolly, Frank A. Cundari, Martino DeMatteo, Patrick J. Duffy & Sons, Morton P. Ellis, Oliver M. Ellis, B. F. Hanrahan, Thomas J. Hind Company, Jenkins-Anderson Corporation, John McCourt Company, W. A. Murtfeldt Company, Hugh Nawn, Incorporated, Leo J. Nawn, Incorporated, D. A. Rosano Company, John F. Shea & Co., Pompeo Silverii, A. Singarella, M. Solimando, Joseph Sprissler, Standard Contracting Company, Charles Struzziery, A. G. Tomasello & Son, Incorporated, Tufo & Yebba, Incorporated, John Varnerin & Sons.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, March 1, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Sanitary Division is handicapped for large trucks for use in ash collection. If the 5-ton trucks, under the snow removal loan had been purchased, etc., these trucks would now be replacing the obsolete broken-down 7-ton trucks purchased in 1926.

Until new equipment is obtained, the services of at least two 5-ton trucks will be essential for the proper operation of the ash collection.

I respectfully request permission to dispense with advertising and to enter into a contract with M. H. Loonie for the use of two 5-ton trucks at a price of $2.95 per hour, said price being in accordance with the Dump Truck Owners' code prices; this contract to run until new equipment is obtained.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, March 28, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On December 6, 1934, I transmitted to you copies of contracts between the city and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting and for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for street lighting in the city for a term of five years beginning January 1, 1935, for your approval and that of the City Council. I understand that the City Council has not yet set down a date for a hearing on said contracts.

In order that there may be no interruption in the service of lighting the city streets, I hereby respectfully request your authority to award the following contracts without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement.

1. Contract for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from April 1, 1935, at the present rate of $8.42 per lamp per year for single burner, 60 candle power lamps.

2. Contract for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for the City of Boston, excluding Hyde Park, to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from April 1, 1935, at the present rate of $14.70 per lamp per year.

with the provision in each of said contracts that, in the event that the five-year contracts, above mentioned, are given the approval necessary to make them effective, the payments made under the one month contracts shall be credited as payments on the respective five-year contract.

Respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, March 30, 1935.
HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In connection with the construction of the permanent pavement on Hyde Park avenue, between Cummins Highway and Walk Hill street, there is to be removed some old paving blocks between the car rails and also some in the gutter. These blocks are worn and could not be used by the Public Works Department to advantage. The contractor, Martino DeMatteo, has offered to purchase said old blocks at the price of 5 cents per square yard, making a total amount of $450.

I respectfully request your approval to sell said blocks to DeMatteo at the price mentioned.

In years past, contractors bid on the purchase of old blocks in the contract, but as they invariably bid 1 cent per square yard this particular item was eliminated from the contract and has not been in any contract for the past four or five years. If this department salvaged said blocks they would simply pile up in one of our yards and it is very questionable whether they would ever be used for any purpose. We have now a large quantity of blocks which have been in our yards for some years.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

WARD 15 IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 22, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On March 11, 1935, your Honorable Body adopted an order requesting information as to what action had been taken on orders previously adopted on December 10, 1934, in which the Mayor was requested to include in his P. W. A. program a sum sufficient to erect a branch library, a municipal building and a health unit in Ward 15. I beg to say that this proposed project with others is being given serious consideration but because of the confused and unsettled state of the Federal P. W. A. program and the uncertainty now existing as to the extent to which municipal financial participation will be required, no definite action has yet been taken with reference thereto.

When the situation becomes clarified I shall be very glad to include this proposed building program in the list of P. W. A. projects if the City of Boston would not be compelled to bear too large a share of the expense which would only be adding additional burdens to the taxpayer.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

USE OF "RALPH J. PALUMBO" AS FLOATING HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 25, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In an order by your Honorable Body on March 11, 1935, the Mayor was requested to consider the advisability of converting the ferryboat, "Ralph J. Palumbo," into a floating hospital, to be done as an E. R. A. project. I beg to say that I have considered this matter and have concluded that such a project would be not only inadvisable but impracticable.

When the vessel, formerly used as a floating hospital, was destroyed by fire a committee, consisting of Channing H. Cox, Russell G. Fessenden, Joseph Lee, W. Rodman Peabody and Philip Stockton, was appointed to advise the Boston Floating Hospital, Inc., as to what steps should be taken to supply the place of the burnt vessel. Their report was submitted on November 29, 1927. The committee concluded that the question of whether a floating hospital would provide better service than a land hospital was one for the experts and their inquiry among the experts showed that the leading child specialists of Boston and physicians especially acquainted with the work of the Floating Hospital were practically unanimous in the opinion that better service could be rendered to the children by a hospital on shore; that such a hospital can secure better medical service, particularly that of specialists; possesses better laboratory facilities and furnishes better general treatment and surroundings;—advantages which, in the opinion of those specialists, more than offset any advantage of a floating hospital as an escape from excessive heat and humidity during the summer.

The committee also found that intestinal diseases of children which occurred mostly in the summer months had very greatly decreased during the twenty-six years that the Floating Hospital had been established and as a consequence of this decrease the demands for hospital care for children in the summer is now much more evenly distributed during the year, and that in Boston during the four years preceding the filing of the committee's report, the average death rate of children in Boston was lowest in June, July and August.

The committee also found that during the same period the provision for children in Boston hospitals had greatly increased, namely, from 120 beds to 434 beds or 261½ per cent, and that the present provision for children suffering from non-infectious diseases was now considerably greater than the visible demand.

The committee concluded that "so far as hospital facilities are concerned, the Floating Hospital, which during the early years of its operation carried the peak of the load, is no longer needed."

This committee also found that the cost per patient in the Floating Hospital was higher than in children's hospitals on shore and that the scientific study of the diseases of children could best be carried on in land hospitals. It also found as a fact that training for nursing and the treatment of children could be given as well or better in a shore hospital, as could instruction of mothers in the proper care of their children.

In addition to the above reasons against the advisability of converting the "Ralph J. Palumbo" into a floating hospital may I point out the obvious fact that this ferryboat is not adapted for hospital work and that in order to equip it for the purpose of a floating hospital many extensive and necessarily very expensive changes would have to be made. And as such a vessel could be used for only three months in a year I have concluded, as stated above, that the converting of the "Ralph J. Palumbo" into a floating hospital is neither practicable nor advisable.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

PAYMENT OF WILLIAM J. HOLT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 22, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a report from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of March 11, 1935, concerning the case of William J. Holt, 1116 Dorchester avenue, who alleges that for forty-two hours of work on snow removal he was paid but $7.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, March 20, 1935.

Memorandum.

In re comment of Councilor Norton on William J. Holt receiving inadequate wages, said comment made in City Council meeting, March 11, 1935.

The records of the Highway Division show that Mrs. Verna Lind of 270 Quincy street, Dorchester had trucks at work in the Hancock Street Paving District following the storm of January 23 and 24.

William J. Holt of 1116 Dorchester avenue makes the statement that he was hired by Mrs. Lind of the above address, telephone Columbia 7516, to operate a truck. Holt claims that he worked as follows:

Monday, January 28, 8 to 4; Tuesday, January 29, 8 to 4; Sunday, February 3, 10.45 to 4.15; Monday, February 4, 8 to 4.15; Tuesday, February 5, 8 to 9; 1 to 4, and 6 p. m. to 2 a. m., a matter of forty-two hours, for which he demands $25. The registration number of the truck Holt operated is No. 63701. The conversation with said Holt relative to this matter was very unsatisfactory and doubtful. We have examined the time book of Mrs. Lind and I am of the opinion that Holt actually worked for her on Sunday, January 27, 11 a. m. to 10 p. m., nine hours; Monday, January 28, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., eight hours; Tuesday, January 29, 8 a. m. to 2 a. m., January 30, fourteen hours, and for which he has been paid $17. Mrs. Lind states that the last day Holt worked for her was on Wednesday, January 30, at 2 a. m. Holt, on quitting work at that hour was apparently unable to leave the truck in a garage, due to the garage being filled to capacity, and in place of contacting with the owner of the truck, he left it out on the street and the radiator froze, costing the owner $150 to put truck back in service. Holt admits the truck freezing but he states that he left the truck in the street at 2 a. m., February 6, but Holt is mistaken as to this date as our official record of the truck's work with the city was from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., February 5, and 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., February 6, and that the truck did not work Tuesday night or Wednesday morning at the hour stated by said Holt.

I have no hesitation, after interviewing both Mrs. Lind and Mr. Holt in stating that his claim of forty-two hours' work is incorrect. I have also receipts signed by Holt acknowledging the payment to him of $17 from Mrs. Verna Lind.

Respectfully,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Dear Mr. Gilmore,—The order of the City Council of March 4, 1935, suggesting investigation of the assembly hall in the Hancock School and all of the assembly halls on the third floor in school buildings, I have referred to Mr. William W. Drummey, Superintendent of Construction, in whose department these matters lie. I am sure Mr. Drummey will make prompt reports.

I may point out, however, that we have closed the assembly hall in the Hancock School, although the condition is not serious.

Sincerely yours,
PATRICK T. CAMPBELL,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

City of Boston,
Department of School Buildings,
March 12, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.
My dear Mr. Gilmore,—I own your letter of March 9 regarding an order of the City Council of March 4. Please be advised that about forty-five days ago I ordered the assembly hall at the Hancock School to be very limited in its use. I have found that due to its age and original construction that it would not be strong enough to take the loads that were being put upon it and I have passed on these orders of limitation to the Superintendent of Public Schools in writing.

Please be advised that in regard to No. 2 every school in the city is inspected at least once a week by one of my inspectors and that at the present time beginning about one week ago, for the first time this year we are making particular efforts to inspect carefully all assembly halls not above the third floor but from the third floor up in all schools.

We did this last year and know of no place that is dangerous at this time but are doing it automatically again this year to determine what effects a years wear and tear will have.

Very truly yours,
WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley relative to the order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 11, 1935, inquiring as to the settlement by him of certain suits against the City of Boston.

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—You have submitted to me the following order of the City Council, passed on March 11, 1935:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council promptly:

2. By virtue of what authority any such settlement for a sum not exceeding $4,000 have been made without the approval of the City Council Committee on Claims; and

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of March 9 with attached City Council dated February 25 and reading as follows:

2. How were they divided as to number?

Answer—Attached is a table showing how the number of men were divided.

3. What is the total amount paid or to be paid by the city for the removal of snow from the snowfall of January 23?

Answer—The total amount paid to date is $1,077,198.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

1934, and March 1, 1935, 357 of which were settled in the calendar year 1934 and 62 in the calendar year 1935. Settlement by the Law Department of these suits was deemed necessary for the protection of the city's interests.

The following ordinance and statutory provisions are relevant in considering the powers of this department to settle actions and suits against the City of Boston.

Section 1 of chapter 49 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 provides that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston:

"may take such steps and conduct such examinations for the prosecution and defense of suits as he deems necessary, shall execute and pay the amount of a claim when requested so to do by the council or the head of any department, and shall cause such settlement advances to be made to the city, to approve the same, and to pay the same to the party when the settlement is approved by a vote of the council on or before the first day of the month, provided such settlement is not in excess of a sum not exceeding $4,000."

Section 6 of chapter 481 of the Acts of 1933 provides in part as follows:

"The executive power of the city shall be vested in the mayor, who shall have and exercise the same, subject to the control of the council, through the several departments in their respective departmental spheres of activity."

and administrative powers shall be vested in the mayor, who shall have and exercise the same, subject to the control of the council, through the several departments in their respective departmental spheres of activity."

Section 2 of chapter 202 of the Acts of 1897 as amended by section 1 of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1898 provides as follows:

"No agreement as to damages sustained by any person in his property by the taking by the city, or by the board of street commissioners, or by any other board or department, of land for said city, shall be deemed to have been made or executed unless it is in writing and has the approval of the mayor affixed thereto; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to agreements entered into by any officer in charge of the law department of said city in any suit relating to such damages."

Section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 provides in part as follows:

"Neither the city council, nor any member or committee, officer, or employee thereof shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, directly or indirectly on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk take part in . . . the making of contracts . . . nor in the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property; nor in the care, custody, and management of the same; nor in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city . . . nor in the expenditure of public money except such as may be necessary for the contingent and incidental expenses of the city council. . . ."

It is clear that no ordinance is valid which contravenes a statute and that, so far as possible, ordinances should be interpreted in such a way as to be consistent with statutory provisions.

The Law Department of the City of Boston is an executive department. It is charged with the duty of defending actions and suits against the city. The result of litigation depends chiefly upon the ascertainment of facts by a jury or judge or upon the determination of rules of law found applicable by a court. In either event, there commonly is uncertainty, until a decision is reached. It may be, and frequently is, best in the interests of the city to settle a case rather than to risk an adverse decision. The best defense of the city's interests, therefore, may be, and frequently is, a settlement. If this department may not settle actions and suits, it would be extremely difficult, if not completely impossible, to settle cases when trial is in process, or to settle cases which may be reached for trial in a short space of time. Thus, if such approval is required in such cases, the proper performance of the duties of this department to protect the city's interests would be seriously interfered with. If the provisions of section 1 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 properly construed would limit the powers of this department in the settlement of such cases, these provisions would constitute an interference with the executive business of the city and would be without legal effect in view of the provisions of section 6 of chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885, which places the full control of executive business in the Mayor and executive departments of the city, and section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, which forbids interference directly or indirectly by the City Council or any committee thereof in the business of the city.

Settlement of suits is the exercise of an administrative function. It calls not for the laying down of general rules but for investigation and discretion. It involves specific determinations in particular cases. If the provisions of section 1 of said chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances are construed as making mandatory the approval of settlements by a committee of the city Council, they constitute a violation of the requirement of section 6 of said chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885 that all administrative powers be in the Mayor and the departments of the city and a violation of the prohibition contained in section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 against the exercise by the Council or any committee of the Council of administrative powers.

Shortly after taking office I gave most serious consideration to the question raised by the above-quoted order of the City Council and examined into past practice in this department. From the examination then made and again recently made, I find that my predecessors have not hesitated to settle a suit without reference to the City Council or to a committee thereof when in their judgment the settlement of such suit without such reference was necessary for the protection of the city. This precedent, while not controlling, is entitled to weight.

This practice is supported by the provisions of section 2 of chapter 202 of the Acts of 1897, as amended. Said section 2 clearly establishes the authority of the Corporation Counsel to settle suits for damages sustained by land-takings but it is significant for more than that as it does not express a grant of such authority but rather a recognition and preservation of existing authority. If the Corporation Counsel had authority to settle such suits against the city, as the language of the section indicates, there would seem to be no reason why that authority should not extend to all suits and actions against the city.

In view of the foregoing, I am of the opinion that the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston may, notwithstanding the provisions at the end of section 1 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, subject to the control of the Mayor, settle actions and suits against the city when in his discretion he deems it necessary so to do for the protection of the city's interest and that the City Council is barred from reserving to itself control over such settlements (even if such control were intended by the above-mentioned ordinance provision) by the provisions of section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Dear Mr. Gilmore,—In reply to your communication of March 9, 1935, inclosing a copy of the order of the City Council, passed on March 4, 1935, requesting the establishment of lavatory facilities at the Mattapan Branch Library, I wish to offer the following statement.

It is the policy of the Trustees of the Public Library generally not to attempt to supply public lavatory facilities in the branch libraries. This policy has been determined upon careful consideration of the needs of readers, as well as of general conditions in the branch libraries themselves.

Yours very sincerely,

Gentlemen,—I return herewith disapproved and without my signature an order adopted by your Honorable Body on March 11, 1935, whereby the trustees of the Boston Public Library were requested to submit an estimate of the cost of a site and building for a branch library in Ward 21. It being perfectly apparent that the finances of the city will not permit of the building of such a branch library during this year at least and perhaps for a longer period, no useful purpose can be served in requiring the trustees of the library to devote any time and incur necessary expenses in searching for a suitable site and the negotiating for the probable price thereof. Since even the contemplation of the erection of such a branch library must be deferred it would seem to be wise also to defer searching for a suitable site.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of March 15, with attached City Council order, dated March 11, 1935, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of constructing a tunnel from Hyde Park avenue to Washington street, to replace the present tollgate bridge."

and to state that the estimated cost of a tunnel for foot passage under the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, said tunnel to be 7 feet in width and to replace the present tollgate bridge over the railroad is approximately $30,000.

At the present time there are no funds available for this construction. Foot tunnels already in service are not satisfactory and complaints are very frequent as to the loafers congregating in the tunnels and insulting pedestrians, committing nuisances, etc.

I do not consider it advantageous or necessary for public convenience to substitute a tunnel for the present tollgate bridge.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

OFFER FOR FERRYBOAT "RALPH J. PALUMBO."

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 18, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a written offer from the Norfolk County Ferries of Portsmouth, Virginia, for $25,000 for the ferryboat "Ralph J. Palumbo," together with a resolution adopted by the Council of the City of Portsmouth and the Board of Supervisors of Norfolk County, Virginia, authorizing the offer, to be held open for a reasonable time.

There is now under consideration by your Honorable Body a request for authorization for the Mayor to sell this boat at public auction to the highest bidder at an upset price of $25,000.

This written offer of $25,000, which would be by private sale, does not change my opinion that the sale by public auction to the highest bidder is the best way in which to dispose of the boat and for the following reasons:

1. I think the boat is worth far more than $25,000.

2. If the upset price is fixed at $25,000 the city will get as much as the Norfolk County authorities are offering.

3. The Norfolk County authorities may bid at the auction with the other competitors and if there is no higher bid their offer of $25,000 could be accepted then as well as it could by private sale.

4. A sale by public auction properly advertised gives every one a chance to bid and it could not be said that any private purchaser was favored.

May I suggest,—what is perfectly obvious,—that the longer the boat is tied up unused, the more rapidly it deteriorates and in order to realize the best possible price it ought to be sold at once.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

March 12, 1935.

Hon. Mayor of City of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am authorized by the Council of the City of Portsmouth and the Board of Supervisors of Norfolk County to offer the City of Boston $25,000 for the purchase in full of the ferryboat "Ralph J. Palumbo," this offer to hold good for a reasonable length of time and contingent upon the fact that the condition of the boat and equipment is substantially the same as obtained at the time of our representative's recent inspection of this boat, which was during the week of March 4.

I am inclosing herewith copy of the resolution adopted by the Council of the City of Portsmouth and the Board of Supervisors of Norfolk County their joint meeting on March 12, 1935.

Awaiting your reply, I am,

Yours very truly,
NORFOLK COUNTY FERRIES,
CHARLES U. FREUND,
Superintendent.

Portsmouth, Virginia.
At a joint meeting of the Council of the City of Portsmouth and the Board of Supervisors of Norfolk County held March 12, 1935, Mr. Fox offered the following resolution, and it was unanimously adopted:

That this body offer the City of Boston, Massachusetts, $25,000 cash, for the ferry steamer "Ralph J. Palumbo." This offer to hold good for a reasonable time.

L. C. BRINSON, Clerk.

Referred to Executive Committee.

WARD 6 IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 22, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Park Department, relative to your order of March 11, 1935, concerning improvements in Independence Park, Ward 6, by seeding and the construction of granolithic walks.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 20, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 15, with inclosure, order from the City Council requesting report on the necessary improvements to Independence Park, Ward 6, by seeding, construction of granolithic walks, etc., the expense to be taken care of out of E. R. A. funds.

This work can not be done with E. R. A. funds, but the department forces will be very pleased to do the necessary seeding, etc., and place the park upsetting them and throwing a great deal of undesirable notoriety on such people by bringing them into court. I think, with all the thieving and racketeering that is going on in this city, the time of our police might be more profitably employed in rounding up such offenders rather than people who on Sunday night are having a friendly game of cards. So I ask that we be informed how many police are assigned to actual street duty in this city having in mind the reports we see in the papers every day of hand bag snatching from women in our residential sections and other such crimes. It is my opinion that our police would be better employed in rounding up such real offenders, rather than card players and people who spit on the sidewalk.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 12 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving, the following streets: Cheney street, Ruthven street, Hartwell street and Edgewood street, Ward 12.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

PASSAGEWAY FROM CENTRE STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct a passageway with steps, from Centre street to Fort avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF BELDEN STREET.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Belden street, Ward 7.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPEARANCE OF DEPARTMENT HEADS AT APPROPRIATION HEARINGS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Appropriations of the City Council be requested to demand the personal appearance of each city department head and county official when the budget for their respective department is under consideration by said committee.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 10 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Parker Hill avenue, Ward 10, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of granolithic, with granite edge-stones, under the provision of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Walden street, Ward 10, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of granolithic, with granite edge-stones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

MARTIN STREET.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept, lay out and construct Martin street, from Bellevue to La Grange street, Ward 20, as a public highway under the E. R. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELECTRICITY ON BENNINGTON STREET.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to substitute electric lights for the present gas lamps along Bennington street, Ward 1.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FRANKLIN FIELD PLAYGROUND.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the filling in and proper leveling of the Franklin Field Playground as an E. R. A. project.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, I do not wish to speak at length on that order, but merely to point out that this particular playground probably has more baseball diamonds than any other playground in the city. While a great amount is being spent on running tracks, tennis courts and curling facilities in front of the courthouse it occurred to me—and this is a matter that has also been brought to my attention by many citizens in the district—that a real effort should be made to place those baseball diamonds in proper condition for the coming season.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SENATE BILL NO. 99.

Coun. SELVITELLA and WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby goes on record as favoring the passage of Senate Bill No. 99 of the Massachusetts Legislature, provided such bill contains a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, I think all the members are familiar with the conditions existing in this city in the matter of taxicab stands and stands for motor vehicles for hire. I will simply state in explanation of the order that Senate Bill 99 has to do with the licensing of taxicab stands in the City of Boston. Some members of the Council will remember that a few years ago I carried on a fight to give independent operators and independent taxi firms in this city the same right to do business in downtown Boston that certain favored concerns were being given. Some of you will remember that the Town Taxi and the Checker Taxi companies were the favored twins and that they were given all the more desirable stands, and that apart from them Boston, so far as the taxicab business was concerned, was practically a closed shop. This bill is aimed at making downtown taxicab stands open to any legitimate firm or individual driver, having in mind, for example, the situation across the street here where a single taxicab company is given privileges outside of the Parker House on a narrow, one-way street, to such an extent even that the cabs are also parked in front of the Waterman Building, where I personally had an office for three years, so that it was impossible for the owners of the building to have proper access to it, by reason of the taxicab attaches taking up so much room in moving the cabs about that they monopolize all the available space. I claim that if these stand privileges are to be given in downtown Boston they should not be restricted to a favored few, as has happened under past administrations in the Police Department year after year, but that they should be open to all taxicab operators in the business anywhere in Boston.

The order was referred, with a copy of Senate No. 99, to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.57 p. m., on motion of Coun. GREEN, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 4.46 p. m.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON GAS LIGHTING OF STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, March 25, 1935.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under date of December 6, 1934, Mayor Mansfield submitted to your Honorable Body a communication containing two contracts intended to provide for the lighting of certain streets in the city by gas during the five-year period beginning January 1, 1935.

In both contracts the Boston Consolidated Gas Company is the contractor and in one the company agrees to furnish and maintain 9,539 lamps; in the other the company agrees to supply gas for them. The combined price of the two contracts amounts to a price of $20.50 per lamp per year for gas and service for the five-year period. The contracts, therefore, involve the expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 by the city during the next five years.

From the standpoint of the amount of money involved, and additionally from the standpoint of the importance of the service thus arranged for, these contracts constitute important city business to which prompt and careful attention should be given. They are before your Honorable Body for approval or disapproval only because the Mayor and the Commissioner of Public Works have decided to make five-year contracts, and under the charter amendments of 1909 contracts for street lighting for a period longer than one year must be submitted to your Honorable Body, and you must hold a public hearing thereon and then give formal approval before the contracts can become operative.

In giving the City Council authority to participate to this extent in the administrative business of the city, the Legislature made one of the very limited number of exceptions to the general theory of the charter amendments which was to eliminate the City Council from all participation in the administrative end of the city's business.

The official record of the Council's actions gives information that you referred this matter to the Committee on Municipal Lighting on the day it was received, December 10, 1934. Undoubtedly the committee has considered this important matter during the intervening period to date, but it does not appear in the record that any action has been taken.

The old contract ran to April 1, 1934, and extension was obtained until October 1, 1934, for the purpose of giving extra time to canvass the street lighting situation and decide upon terms for a new contract. Thereafter it has been necessary to obtain extensions one month at a time up to the present time.

Carrying on a contract of this importance in amount of money involved and in nature of the service covered on a month to month basis on terms and conditions decided upon eleven years ago does not seem to the Finance Commission to be good business. The failure of your Honorable Body to take any action on the matter, even to the setting of a date for the public hearing that the statute required your Honorable Body to hold does not indicate a proper appreciation of the authority thus given to you. If the intention is to defeat the execution of the contract by failure to act, the commission desires to point out that the statute gives the Council opportunity and authority to disapprove and if there are any reasons why the contracts should not be approved, these reasons should be brought out, as the charter amendments intend, at a public hearing and in open discussion.

In the contracts now before you, the terms of which have been agreed to by the Mayor and the Commissioner of Public Works for the city and by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, the price per lamp per year for gas and service is $20.50, or $2.62 less than the price the city is now paying under the old contract. In the monthly contracts made to date extending the terms and conditions of the old contract, a provision is included by which the city may take advantage of the new rate from January 1, 1935, if these contracts are approved. To some extent, therefore, and for the time being the city has some guarantee of receiving benefit of the lower price from January 1, 1935, but if your Honorable Body eventually decides to reject these contracts which would necessitate some other form of lighting or terms, the city might lose this advantage.

The Finance Commission, therefore, recommends that Your Honorable Body take immediate action to decide this important city business.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) of Mrs. Franklin Balch for children to appear at Hotel Bradford, April 13,—recommending that leave be granted on usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of Blanche T. O'Leary (referred September 24, 1934) to be paid annuity on account of the death of her husband, Daniel W. O'Leary, late member of the Boston Fire Department, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1933, an annuity of twelve hundred dollars be allowed and paid to Blanche T. O'Leary, widow of Daniel W. O'Leary, a member of the Fire Department, who died on November 28, 1933, from injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity being made up of allowances as follows:

For the widow, Blanche T. O'Leary, so long as she remains unmarried, $1,000 per annum.

For Daniel J. O'Leary, born July 9, 1928, during such time as he is under the age of eighteen or over said age and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, $200 per annum.

the payments to date from November 29, 1933, and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted; order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) that Council go on record in favor of passage of Senate Bill 99—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; resolution passed.

4. Report on order (referred today) that Trustees of City Hospital inform Council with reference to the City Hospital Association—recommending reference to Committee on Hospitals.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

5. Report on message and order of Mayor (referred January 14) with reference to the ferry-over night. Intelligence and persistence are necessary. The Boston Port Authority, with very limited means, is intelligently grappling with this important problem. This body needs the active and enthusiastic cooperation of all public-spirited officials. The best talent that Boston can produce should be enlisted under the leadership of the Port Authority to try and save this section from commercial and industrial disintegration. This is no hour for bickering or delay. If the Port of Boston is to be rescued from decay we must present a solid, united front. No problem supercedes this one in importance. Boston is now engaged in a life and death struggle for its very industrial existence. This generation owes a duty not only to the workers of greater Boston today, but to the generation of tomorrow.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOWER ELECTRIC RATES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to vigorously push the matter of lower electricity rates for Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, a study of the electric supply situation shows that fifty-three cities in the country pay less for 40 kilowatt hours of residence electricity than Boston. Fifty-six cities pay less for 60 kilowatt hours and so on. The reports of the Federal Power Commission and of Director E. D. Gilman of the city of Cincinnati Department of Public Utilities, two of the best ever made, show Boston paying far more than other cities. The report of Chairman Frank P. Walsh of the New York Power Authority to the President declares that the average domestic rate of New England could be cut to 3½ cents from 6 cents per kilowatt hour and still leave private utilities a "fair" profit. For residence electricity, Boston pays $3.40 for 60 kilowatt hours; Cleveland, $1.89; Cincinnati, $2.10; Los Angeles, $2.31. Boston pays $5.20 for 100 kilowatt hours of residence electricity; Tacoma pays $2.40; Kansas City, $2.80; Cleveland, $4; etc. On February 27, 1935, Mayor LaGuardia of New York City, militantly fighting the utilities, refused an offer to cut the city's electric bill by 25 per cent and threatens a municipal plant, with Federal aid, unless a greater cut is made. Rates for industrial electricity show the same discrimination. Boston depends upon commerce. How can we prosper with other competing cities offering lower power rates? One small cotton mill, located at Tupelo, Mississippi, had their electricity power bill reduced by $18,000 a year when the Tennessee Valley Authority recently put into effect a new schedule of rates. How can our cotton mills, far from the cotton, with higher rates, ever hope to compete? The electric light bill of over 385,000 customers in the Greater Boston district should be reduced at least $12 a year per household user, at once. Near $29,750,000 was paid for electric service by Greater Boston consumers last year. Mayor Mansfield should vigorously adopt the procedure followed by the Mayor of New York City or what little industry we have left will be gone. On account of low rates the average family consuming electricity in Canadian provinces uses 4,321 kilowatt hours a year. In the United States the average is 603 kilowatt hours, yet we pay as much for those 603 kilowatt hours as the Canadian family pays for the 4,321 kilowatt hours. A big fight is ahead. Senator Norris of Nebraska stated in the "Yale Review" on January 14, 1934: "There has been more crookedness . . . in the field of public utilities than anything else. . . . Wake up, Mayor Mansfield! Appointing an expert to study the rates is not enough. Mayor LaGuardia of New York has shown the way. What about Boston?"

Passed under suspension of the rule.

$3,000 FOR BOSTON PREVENTORIUM.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to request the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to whether or not the city can grant the request for $3,000 made by the Boston Preventorium to carry on its work during the year 1935.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is rather an unusual request, but it is made because of an unusual situation. Dr. John B. Hawes, one of the leading men in the country on tuberculosis cases, has got together a splendid group of citizens who are carrying on what is known as the Prendergast Preventorium in my ward. They have thirty-two children out there today, children susceptible to tuberculosis. That institution is operated by this group, the Boston Tuberculosis Association. Today it is apparently in need of funds, and it asks the City of Boston for $3,000 to carry on its work this year. I am requesting the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to whether or not the city can, in any way, grant this request. It appears to be a worthy cause and backed by our best citizens.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF FORMER EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of showing preference in employment to old city employees, with good records, who were let go during the first few months of his administration.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is my perennial or weekly order. I understand that Mr. Bogan has two and a half years to go in order to be entitled to a pension. During the "honeymoon" period of Mayor Mansfield he was let go. Unless he is reinstated by March 28 next he will be automatically dropped from the pension roll. If he is reinstated for a day his pension standing will be restored. This is a terrible situation. There is no excuse for it. He should at least be put back to work in preference to new employees. I ask the Mayor to deal charitably with this case and with those others where an individual has worked for the city for a long period of years and performed faithful service. I wish the members of the body who are interested would ask him Honor the Mayor to consider putting this man back to work for a day or a week, in order to hold his pension right. A man who has worked thirty-six years for the City of Boston and can do nothing else is at least entitled to some consideration. I am sure that the Mayor is big enough to overlook political grudges and put back to work such men as Mr. Bogan, Mr. John Sullivan, nearly twenty years in charge of our ferries; Mr. Lawrence Kelley, the father of twelve children and twenty-five years with the city, and others. As for Mr. Bogan, March 28 is the dead line. Certainly, the pension rights of all these men should be considered by his Honor.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LARGER GRANTS FROM E. R. A.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Federal Government for larger outright grants of money for relief purposes under the E. R. A.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, listen to these figures: The Federal Government through the E. R. A. has made outright grants of money, outright gifts in the following amounts to the following cities for welfare purposes, during the year 1934. The cities do not have to pay back one cent of money. Cleveland, with 100,000 more people than Boston, in 1934, was given an outright and cash grant by the Federal Government, not one cent to be paid back, of $14,803,285. Boston, in that same period, received from the Federal Government, $7,665,941. Baltimore, with about the same population as Boston, received $11,685,524; Boston seven million plus. Pittsburgh, a city with a less number of people than Boston, received $22,375,692; Milwaukee about $10,000,000. Is there any reason why Boston should not be receiving at least the same amount as these other cities? Just think,—Boston last year out of her budget appropriated more money than Cleveland, with a larger population by 800,000; than Philadelphia, with a population of a million and a half; Baltimore, with 25,000 more people than Boston; St. Louis, with 20,000 more, all put together. Boston appropriated for relief more out of her city budget than all these cities combined. How can the real estate in this city and the homes of our people stand this terrific pressure? What is the man in the front office downstairs doing about it? Wouldn't you think he would be in Washington demanding that something be done to relieve the taxpayers of Boston, now paying the highest tax in all our history, and a tax that is going higher unless we receive a better share of government money? Wouldn't you think that Mr. Hopkins of the E. R. A. would at least do as much accordingly for Boston as he did for Cleveland last year—when he gave Cleveland $14,000,000 plus and Boston but seven millions plus? Last year, Mr. President, he gave more to Milwaukee, with a couple of hundred thousand less population than Boston, ten million dollars as against Boston's seven million. Is this request I am making, under the circumstances, an unfair one? Just compare these amounts that are being given to these different cities by the national government. Now, what is the City of Boston doing about it? How long are we going to stand this sort of thing? If the Federal Government does not help, we cannot keep up the pay roll with $22,000,000 of taxes on 40,000 pieces of property in Boston. We are living in a fairyland of expectancy if we believe this thing can go on interminably.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think the inquiry the gentleman has just made is a very pertinent one. I saw some figures along the line of those he has quoted the other day and I tried to make a little investigation as to why Boston should not fare better than it has as compared with other cities in this nation which, so far as I can see, have no greater need for special consideration. I was told that the reason why the Federal Government treated Boston as it has been treating it was that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts had a large amount of credit, and why didn't they borrow from the Commonwealth? I assume that the state of Pennsylvania and the state of Ohio also have considerable credit. They certainly are states with large business affairs and many wealthy people. Why should not Philadelphia, Cleveland, and these other cities borrow from their respective states? Apparently they are not asked to do it. They are simply given the money by the Federal Government, and the money that they are given is money that belongs to all the people and that is raised, at least in fair proportion, in this state from the people of this Commonwealth and is being given to the people of Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis and these other places. I think the inquiry that the gentleman has made is a very pertinent one and I certainly hope some progress will be made in the direction he is advocating.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in fairness to the Mayor of Boston it should be said that this problem has an historical aspect. Two years ago the then Governor, Ely, grandiloquently waved to Uncle Sam and said, "We don't want your money! The Massachusetts of Sam Adams, John Otis, does not want a nickel. We will take care of our own problems for 1933 as we did in 1776!" Talk of oratorical exuberance and waving the flag! No person so much miscalculated and misinterpreted the situation facing us as the Honorable Joseph Buel Ely. He said, "Here stand Massachusetts! We don't want your help!" and as a result Boston last year appropriated more money for welfare than half a dozen of the large cities of this country put together. Think of what that means, Mr. President. Massachusetts is going to be glad to take Federal relief before this depression is over. I predicted some years ago, until the City Council got tired of hearing me, that the depression was not going to be over in a year; and five years from now, gentlemen, you will be referring to 1935 as a golden year. The worst sufferers here will be the poor people of Boston, 75 per cent of whom have nothing at all to do. Allowing our city to go on and bear the tremendous burden it is trying to bear today, and which it cannot bear, is simply going to accelerate the day when what little we have is gone. Roy Green brought in here the other day a little curly-haired stenographer, who has been looking several years for something to do, a beautiful little child and a graduate of a good school. She is only one of thousands. I want to impress upon those who wish to be good fellows and who spend money needlessly for this and for that, that it is coming out of that child and other young people. Imagine the situation of children in our high schools today, 19 per cent of them not getting enough to eat. The high-toned medical term is "malnutrition"; you and I call it starvation. I have walked through streets in places in Germany and have seen little children suffering from starvation, with their little bloated stomachs, the well-known mark of starvation. The mothers and fathers of these children, too, are not going to get work in a great many cases this year or next year. I know that that cotton mill in my ward is not going to open up in my day. And with conditions as they are and as they are continuing to be, the Mayor of Boston will be obliged to vigorously present to Washington a demand for more money, because God help us next winter, if we get through the summer and the fall, with the thousands who will be looking for work and not able to find it. The man of fifty is not going to get work again in most cases. There are forty million people who want jobs in sovereign America, and we have not got work for half of them. Where are they going? What are they going to do? Two suits each as are worn by the average man wearing long pants were turned out in 1929, compared with one today; and all that are needed can be turned out in two months. We used 133 million of these shirts that the average man wears in 1929, and this past year 119 million, and we can turn out all those shirts in three months. We have 3,500 longshoremen in the port of Boston, and never again in my day can we use more than 900. With present-day machinery a handful of men in Charlestown can unload a vessel, where formerly hundreds were employed, and many fewer trucks are needed. Take just one fellow with a winch, practically, and the whole thing is finished. There will never again be at such work the chance for the men in overalls that there used to be. There are today 500 men standing around on Commonwealth Pier with hooks and in overalls, waiting for something to do, and have been for years. When is their ship coming in, and what kind of means can possibly be found for putting them at work, when you don't need human labor? The necessity for that has been eliminated today. Twelve men are shooting the electric juice from Vermont to the Edgar plant in Weymouth. It is all automatic. Recent reports show now where telephone operators are being thrown out of employment, the work being done by these automatic machines. So I am asking his Honor the Mayor to lessen the enormity of this problem today in Boston. Let us stop kidding ourselves. I am wondering how we are going to feed the people in two or three years, and I am simply trying to present the point of view that forces itself upon me so strongly.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BRANCH LIBRARY, WARD 22.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in his P. W. A. program a sum sufficient to provide for the establishment of a branch library in Ward 22, Allston section.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. SHATTUCK, at 5.30 p. m., to meet on Monday, April 1, 1935, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

March 18, 1935.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT PLANS AID FOR HOUSEHOLDERS IN SPRING CLEAN-UP WORK BY RELIEF LABOR.

The Overseers of the Public Welfare have devised a plan for helping the citizens of Boston to do their spring cleaning and at the same time provide work for persons on the relief rolls.

The Overseers have appealed to the householders of the city to let the department supply the men and labor for whatever is to be done in the way of annual spring cleaning up. Their appeal is couched in the following forms:

HOUSEHOLDERS NEED NOT WORRY

If they let us help them plan their annual spring clean-up.

Our Service Men will meet their varied needs.

Windows to be washed, storm windows to be taken off, rugs to be beaten, floors to be washed, ashes to be removed, cellars to be cleaned, lawns to be raked and rolled, repairs to be made, dishes to be packed for moving, painting to be done and numberless other tasks requiring expert attention.

Small Jobs are our Specialty.

Dirty Jobs our Delight.

Hard Jobs our Success.

REV. N. TOWL, Mayor of the City of Omaha, Omaha, Nebraska.

Boston and its citizens, and I as Mayor, deeply appreciate the basket of beautiful flowers sent here by you and the people of your beautiful city. November 30, 1932, total gross debt of the United States was $20,806,013,836, of which $20,476,034,190 was interest-bearing. This is a reduction of $6,120,667,458 from the peak of $26,596,701,648 on August 31, 1919. The gross debt on June 30, 1931, was $16,801,281,492.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

LIFE-GIVING PATRIOTISM IS LOCAL.

By civic patriotism is meant the feeling and the taking of a deep, unselfish, earnest, ever-wakeful, active interest in the affairs of one's own city or local community, regarding it as having an autonomy, a distinct personality, a name and interests of its own, and, if one pleases, endowed with a sense of personal honor and with all laudable ambitions for the promotion of the welfare of its people.

Where such civic virtues exist the local community will neither suffer from the dry-rot of public indifference and neglect nor become tainted with graft or corruption. Its life will be healthful, and, like the ocean, will be kept pure by its own ceaseless flow and movement. All life-giving patriotism is local.

Show a good municipal citizen and one will see a citizen who loves his state, and who loves his nation, and who will discharge all the duties of this triple relation. Good government in local affairs is the best assurance of good government in state and national affairs.

MAYOR MANSFIELD APPEALS TO DIRECTOR HOPKINS FOR FEDERAL GRANT OF $5,000,000 FOR RELIEF IN ORDER THAT WELFARE BURDEN MIGHT BE LESSENER AND THE TAX BURDEN BE LESSENER FOR 1935—SEEKS TO HOLD IT AT OR BELOW $37—WARNS OF HARDSHIPS OTHERWISE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

April 3, 1935.

Secretary Mellyn is in receipt of the following telegram sent from Washington by Mayor Mansfield, who this morning had a conference with Director Hopkins, at which conference were present Mr. Hopkins, Senator Walsh, Congressman McCormack, Mayor Mansfield and Corporation Counsel Foley. The telegram (which is a letter submitted by Mayor Mansfield to Mr. Hopkins):

"In accordance with your suggestion at today's conference I am submitting a summary of Boston's case for a Direct Federal Welfare Relief Grant.

The situation is this: The City of Boston, as you know, is now expending for relief a sum in excess of $1,000,000 a month, despite the wide scope of Federal work relief projects now being conducted. The city has thus far in 1935 expended substantially the same amount for relief as in 1934. In 1934 the tax rate in Boston was $37.10 per thousand. This rate is so high that any increase might well render property taxes uncollectible. To keep the tax rate at a sum not in excess of $37, which is really essential (and which the Legislature may for the first time in the history of Boston directly require), it would be necessary to borrow approximately $11,100,000 unless the Welfare load is decreased or unless there are wholesale discharges of employees, drastic curtailment of necessary city activities, or large pay reductions.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

Bids have been asked by advertisement in the City Record for the following departments. The attention of contractors and others is especially called to the closing time of receipt of such proposals. This will be published weekly.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Advertises for proposals for furnishing and delivering battery material to the department. Surety bond will be required in a sum equivalent to the full amount of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Department of School Buildings, 11 Beacon street, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the sum of $500, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Tuesday, April 16, at 2 p. m.

Advertises for proposals for furnishing and setting up steel lockers, etc., in the Continuation School for Boys. Surety bond will be required in a sum equivalent to the full amount of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Department of School Buildings, 11 Beacon street, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the sum of $500, to be filed at the

The city should not, if it could reasonably be avoided, borrow more than $6,000,000 and every effort should be made to keep the tax rate below $37. In any event, the city ought not to be forced to borrow more than $9,000,000 in addition to necessary borrowings for Public Works and Tunnel purposes, for which it is already committed. A nine million borrowing and a thirty-seven dollar tax rate on present estimated expenditures will leave a deficit of $2,100,000.

Wholesale discharges or drastic pay cuts are out of line with the national policy of recovery. It is, therefore, imperative that the Welfare load be relieved and that the extent of the relief be known as soon as possible, since the budget must be passed in April and the tax rate fixed in early May.

I accordingly earnestly urge upon you a direct Federal grant to Boston of $5,000,000, or of such sum as will enable the city not to expend for relief in excess of one half million dollars a month.

Your intimate knowledge of affairs throughout the country makes it unnecessary for me to recall to your mind that the record of the City of Boston in its contributions to emergency relief has not been excelled by that of any other city and that it has received no money whatever (except under the Wagner-Costigan Bill) by direct Federal grant.

Your attitude at the conference today was so frankly sympathetic that I feel justified in hoping that you may accede to the request herein briefly stated."

At a meeting at its headquarters at No. 9 Park street, Boston, on John Stuart Barrows presiding, the organizing committee announced its plans to an assembly of members of the group and representatives of several cooperating groups. Sanction of the plan perfected the organization of the "Boston Common Tercentenary Committee."

Whiting, author, special writer and a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway; P. A. O'Connell, Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce and active in various public-spirited enterprises, and Mrs. A. The Director is E. B. Mero, active for a number of years in civic affairs, including public celebrations, and an executive of the Massachusetts Bay and the Boston Tercentenary celebrations of 1930.

Honorary officers continue as heretofore without change, namely, Honorary Chairmen, the Governor of Massachusetts, Hon. James M. Curley, and the Mayor of Boston, Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield.

The public indoor features so far are carried on under E. R. * Contract awarded.

Upon April 9 the Mayor approved contracts with bidders as indicated for furnishing groceries and canned goods to the various city departments until September 30, 1935. After the opening of bids, samples were requested on the various items and these samples were submitted to the United States Department of Agriculture, for tests. The samples submitted by the lowest bidders were inspected and, if specifications were met, the awards were made to them. In the event that the lowest bidders' samples were not satisfactory, samples were requested from the next lowest bidder and this method was pursued until satisfactory samples had been secured by the Department of Agriculture. On some of the items where samples were not required, the lowest bids submitted were accepted. In conformity with the methods outlined above, awards were made to the various bidders as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Boston, April 9, 1935.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Walter Curley & Son, 21 King street, Roxbury, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Boston, April 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Advertised bids covering milk, cream, etc., for the City of Boston, for a period of six months, from April 1, 1935, were opened in the Supply Department on March 18, 1935.

Due to a controversy with the State Milk Control Board over a bid submitted, which was not in accordance with the prices established by this Board, no contract has yet been signed to cover deliveries of the products involved after April 1, 1935.

In view of the emergency thus created and in order that there might be no lapse in the necessary delivery of dairy products to the various city departments during the period from April 1, 1935, through April 15, 1935, I have arranged with the contractors who had city contracts for these products for the six months' period ending March 31, 1935, to continue deliveries through April 16, 1935, pending the receipt of readvertised bids to be opened on April 8, 1935, and the awarding of new contracts.

I, therefore, respectfully request that you approve the award of contracts covering this interim period mentioned above to the following:

Approximate Amounts.

Turner Centre System, City Hospital, $4,460.71; Sanatorium Division, $1,380.10; Herlihy Brothers, Incorporated, Long Island, $1,052.12; Whiting Milk Companies, Franklin Park, $26.55; total, $6,919.78.

Contracts will be signed where awards exceed $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Boston, April 6, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—For reasons stated in the following letter, dated March 12, 1935, and addressed to you by the Penal Institutions Commissioner, I respectfully request permission to award, without public advertising, to Philip Shapiro, 79 Flint street, Lynn, Mass., a contract covering the following: Eighteen pure bred registered Holstein cows; three pure bred registered Holstein heifers; one grade registered Holstein cow.

Boston, March 12, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The entire herd of cattle belonging to this department was found to be tubercular on November 17, 1934. With your permission and the approval of the City Council, the herd was sold according to the statutes so we could receive reimbursement from the state.

The sum of eleven hundred and eight dollars and sixty-eight cents ($1,108.68) was received from sale of cattle and compensation from the state was in the amount of fifteen hundred and fifty dollars and sixteen cents ($1,550.16), making a total of twenty-six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and eighty-four cents ($2,658.84).

Upon advice of City Auditor Charles J. Fox this amount was deposited with the City Collector. Mr. Fox has assured me that he would agree to allow an additional appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) in the budget of this department to buy a partial herd of cows for replacement purposes. It is my opinion that it would be much more economical and provide needful work for inmates, if we had our own herd of cows.

In consideration of the rapidly increasing price of milk and the corresponding increase in the price of cattle, it seems advisable that definite steps be taken now to procure that number of cattle which may be purchased with the funds available. The restrictions of purchase of supplies over one thousand dollars ($1,000) would considerably handicap a careful and cautious selection, which in any event, is difficult under the most satisfactory conditions.

I have received reliable information that it is neither practicable nor feasible to purchase cows by public advertising.

Deputy Master Andrew H. McCarthy at the House of Correction is qualified by experience and training to make the final decision on the selection and purchase of cattle with my approval, also the approval of the Master of the House of Correction.

May I respectfully request your permission to purchase, without public advertising, a partial herd of cattle for replacement purposes, purchase price not to exceed the sum of thirty two hundred dollars ($3,200).

Yours respectfully,

JOHN J. DOUGLAS,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

This contract will amount to $2,700, one half to be paid on receipt of animals and balance to be paid on completion of tests.

Requisition No. 0626 dated March 21, 1935, has been received from the Penal Institutions (Deer Island) Department authorizing this purchase.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, April 9, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Supplementing my letter of March 1, 1935, requesting your approval of an award, without advertising, to Mechanics Iron Foundry Company, Roxbury, for thirty fire alarm box posts, complete, except extension tops, wish to advise the following reasons for asking permission to award this contract without advertising:

(1.) When requisition was received, it was not anticipated that the amount involved would exceed $1,000.

(2.) Shortly after informal quotations were received showing cost of material to exceed $1,000, the department requisitioning the goods notified this department that immediate shipment was desired on this order and to publicly advertise same would have resulted in a delay in the shipment of the material to the department, which they were very anxious to avoid.

For reasons above stated, I believe no advantage would be gained by advertising.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 24.

Ferdinand E. Breed, former member of the Police Department of the City of Boston, retired under General Order 502, effective as of June 16, 1934, for physical disability, having under the provisions of chapter 3 of the Acts of 1929, submitted to an examination by the Medical Board designated by said act, and having been certified by said Board as both physically and mentally fit for service in the Police Department of the City of Boston, is hereby restored to duty as a sergeant in the Police Department of the City of Boston, in the same grade as at the time of his retirement, with pay at the rate of $2,500 per annum.

The said Ferdinand E. Breed will be notified in writing by the chief clerk of this department to report for duty at Station 15, on Friday, April 5, 1935, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 25.

A trial board consisting of Captains McGrath, Gleavy and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint made by Thomas M. Towle, captain, Division 2, against Francis H. McGowan, patrolman, Division 2, for alleged violation of Rule 36 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer. Specification: In that on the 23d day of March, 1935, the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan, while in uniform and on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquors to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board, having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, accepts the plea of guilty made by the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan. This offense was committed in the station house and there was no public scandal attached to it. The officer has for some time had considerable sickness at his home, and the Board feels that this, in a large measure, is responsible for his condition. Taking into consideration the recommendation given Patrolman McGowan by his commanding officer, as well as that of the lieutenant and sergeant who testified in this case, together with other circumstances, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of March 23, 1935, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan be ordered to perform 105 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of March 23, 1935, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Francis H. McGowan perform 105 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 25, Section 8 requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 26.

A trial board consisting of Captains McGrath, Gleavy and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Timothy P. Cronin of Division 15, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty as charged. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the complaint against the said Patrolman Timothy P. Cronin be dismissed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 27.

Patrolman Edward A. McDonnell and William R. Harmon, both of Division 9, are commended and each is granted one week's additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on March 19, 1935, in connection with the capture of two persons who had committed an armed robbery of a chain store in the Dorchester district.

Patrolmen McDonnell and Harmon, while cruising in the vicinity of Massachusetts avenue and Magazine street, received a police radio broadcast that an armed hold-up had just been committed and noted the description of the car used in the hold-up. Within a very few minutes the officers observed the car going at a high rate of speed in Massachusetts avenue. The officer gave chase and finally overtook the car at Berkeley street and Columbus avenue, where the prisoners were captured at gunpoint. During the pursuit Officer McDonnell fired one shot which struck the operator in the armpit.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the demonstration of the effectiveness and efficiency of the police radio shown on this occasion as well as the initiative and courage shown by these officers in the pursuit and capture of these two dangerous criminals.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, April 1, 1935.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President FITZGERALD in the chair. Absent, Coun. Dowd and Fish.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHAPTER 100.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 1, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order providing for the acceptance of chapter 100 of the Acts of 1935. This particular piece of legislation authorizes certain changes in the manner in which payments to the city, in connection with any deficit which may arise in the operation of the Governor Square extension of the Boylston Street Subway, shall be made. These changes are made necessary by the advance of the tax year from April 1 to January 1 and the accompanying change in the fixing of the date for the issuance of the annual tax bills from September 15 to June 15. Under previous legislation the close of the operating year with reference to the Governor Square extension was fixed as of June 30. Allowing this date to remain unchanged would mean that any deficit which might occur during the operating year would not be determined until after the declaration of the tax rate and therefore could not be provided for or included in the tax levy of the year in which determined. Under the provisions of chapter 100 the close of the operating year is set as the last day of March, a date two and one half months in advance of the time fixed for the issuance of the annual tax bills.

Under the provisions of chapter 100 acceptance by the city government and by the Boston Elevated Railway Company must be made on or before April 30 of the current year. In view of this provision I recommend immediate consideration and adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That chapter 100 of the Acts of 1935, entitled "An Act providing for Modification of the Terms and Conditions under which the Boston Elevated Railway Company is using Certain Alterations in and Extensions to the Boylston Street Subway and making Certain Changes Relative to Payments in Connection with Such Use," be, and the same hereby is, accepted.

Referred to Executive Committee.

LOAN—$2,000,000—ON TAX TITLES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 1, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of chapter 49 of the Acts of 1933, municipalities are authorized, with the approval of the State Emergency Finance Board, to borrow from the Commonwealth for ordinary maintenance expenses, said borrowing not to exceed the total amount of tax titles held by the municipalities. According to the records of the office of the City Collector, on March 21 of the current year, tax titles in the possession of the city amounted to $5,191,880.18. Of this amount approximately $2,800,000 was held in reserve to cover the balance outstanding in the tax title loan of $3,800,000 negotiated by the city in 1934. Subtracting the amount held in reserve from the total amount in possession leaves what might be termed a free and unpledged balance of approximately $2,300,000.

Since it is evident that to keep the tax rate of the current year within reasonable limits, it will be necessary to engage in borrowing, I am of the opinion that the city should take advantage of the provisions of chapter 49 and borrow at this time, for ordinary maintenance expenses, the sum of $2,000,000. I submit herewith an order to this effect and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body. It is my intention when this order has secured the approval of the City Council and the Emergency Finance Board to send to the City Council an appropriation order definitely allocating the amount involved to specific maintenance requirements.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 2, chapter 49, of the Acts of 1933, the City Treasurer be authorized to secure the approval of the Emergency Finance Board to the issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city, said bonds or certificates to be sold at their face value to the Commonwealth and the proceeds to be used as provided in said chapter 49 for ordinary maintenance expenses.

Referred to Executive Committee.

RENEWAL OF MARKET LEASES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 1, 1935.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith report of Roswell G. Hall, Superintendent of Public Buildings, analyzing the situation with regard to the renewal of leases of stalls, basement and sidewalk space in the Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market Buildings and recommending that leases be renewed for a term of three years from October 1, 1934, at the same annual rentals as provided for in the leases expiring on September 30, 1934. Frank J. Kiernan, Superintendent of Markets, is in accord with this recommendation.

I am also submitting herewith form of order embodying said recommendation and I recommend consideration and passage by your Honorable Body of said order.

The portion of the second floor of the Quincy Market Building, now occupied by the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange and its sublessees, is excepted from the provisions of said order, inasmuch as the lease to the Exchange does not terminate until November 30, 1935.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Markets be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor, to renew for a term of three years from October 1, 1934, the leases of stalls, cellars and space in the Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market Buildings and subbasement space adjacent thereto, except that portion of the second floor of the Quincy Market Building now occupied by the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange and its sublessees under Indenture of Lease dated November 30, 1925, for a term of ten years from December 1, 1925, to those lessees who shall notify the superintendent in writing that they desire to retain their present holdings, and otherwise shall give leases to such suitable persons as shall be approved by the Mayor; such renewals and new leases to be for terms expiring on September 30, 1937, and for the same annual rentals as provided for in the leases expiring on September 30, 1934, and otherwise to be on the same terms and conditions as provided for in said leases expiring on September 30, 1934.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, CHARLESTOWN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 30, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Traffic Commissioner, relative to your orders of March 11, 1935, concerning the proposed installation of traffic lights at City square and Sullivan square, Charlestown.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 28, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council orders dated March 11, 1935, which read as follows:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to install necessary traffic lights at City square, Charlestown.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to install necessary traffic lights at Sullivan square, Charlestown.

It is the opinion of the engineers of this commission that a traffic signal could not be operated successfully in City square, Charlestown. It is their further opinion that a true solution of the traffic congestion in this area could only be effected by extensive and costly changes in the physical layout, not only of City square itself, but all contiguous streets in the immediate vicinity.

Some years ago, at an expenditure which we believe to have been approximately fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars, a traffic circle was created in Sullivan square so that at present all vehicular traffic is routed through this intersection in a rotary manner. This type of intersection, that is, where a traffic circle functions, does not lend itself to the control of vehicular traffic by automatic signals.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL, ANDREW SQUARE

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 30, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Traffic Commissioner, relative to your order of March 4, 1935, concerning the proposed installation of an automatic traffic signal in Andrew square, Ward 7.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 28, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 4, 1935, which reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an automatic traffic signal in Andrew square, Ward 7.

An automatic traffic signal in Andrew square would cost approximately four thousand ($4,000) dollars.

The engineers of this department are in doubt as to whether or not a traffic signal would operate very successfully at this intersection because of its great area, the fact that there are six streets entering the intersection at unusual angles, and because of the complicated street car movements.

There are no funds available at this time for such an installation.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

STOP STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 26, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit letters from the Board of Street Commissioners and the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of March 4, 1935, concerning a proposal to make all streets entering Washington street from Forest Hills to Poplar street, stop streets.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Street Commissioners,
March 11, 1935.

John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—Your communication of March 9, forwarding order of the City Council regarding stop streets in the West Roxbury district, is hereby acknowledged.

Please be advised that the Traffic Commission has complete jurisdiction in the matter of designating stop streets throughout the City of Boston.

Respectfully,
CORNELIUS A. REARDON, Secretary.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 26, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 4, 1935, which reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make all streets entering Washington street, from Forest Hills to Poplar street, stop streets.

Our engineers are of the opinion that making Washington street a through street from Forest Hills to Poplar street would make a race track of Washington street and create a condition at the intersection of those streets leading into Washington street much more serious than it is at present.

Drivers of vehicles using Washington street, knowing that vehicles entering Washington street were supposed to stop before entering, would not pay as much attention to slowing down at intersections as they would if it were not a through street. The result would be that accidents along this street would be much more serious than they are at present.

The operator of a vehicle on a through street believes he has the right-of-way over vehicles entering a through street, and our experience and observation leads us to believe that instead of cutting down accidents that the reverse is true and accidents are more frequent and severe.

Commonwealth avenue, between Arlington street and Kenmore square, was a through street previous to the installation of traffic signals. In one year before the signals were installed we had four fatalities and fifty serious accidents in Commonwealth avenue. Cars used to go by intersections at a rate of speed of from thirty to thirty-five miles per hour.

Another objection is that not more than 25 per cent of motorists observe the through street regulation by coming to a stop before entering.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 1, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order providing for the acceptance of chapter 100 of the Acts of 1935. This particular piece of legislation authorizes certain changes in the manner in which payments to the city, in connection with any deficit which may arise in the operation of the Governor Square extension of the Boylston Street Subway, shall be made. These changes are made necessary by the advance of the tax year from April 1 to January 1 and the accompanying change in the fixing of the date for the issuance of the annual tax bills from September 15 to June 15. Under previous legislation the close of the operating year with reference to the Governor Square extension was fixed as of June 30. Allowing this date to remain unchanged would mean that any deficit which might occur during the operating year would not be determined until after the declaration of the tax rate and therefore could not be provided for or included in the tax levy of the year in which determined. Under the provisions of chapter 100 the close of the operating year is set as the last day of March, a date two and one half months in advance of the time fixed for the issuance of the annual tax bills.

Washington and the public in general the serious differential handicaps, which threaten the future of the port of Boston.

In reference to these orders I beg to state that I have repeatedly importuned the Federal Government and the officers in charge of such matters for larger outright grants of money directly to the City of Boston, for relief purposes, under the E. R. A. and that I have personally visited Washington with the Corporation Counsel on many occasions in an attempt to obtain grants of this kind. These visits began nearly a year ago and have been supplemented by telephone conversations directly with Mr. Hopkins' department in Washington. In addition to this many times when the Corporation Counsel has been in Washington on official business he has broached this same subject to Doctor Upson who is an assistant to Mr. Hopkins. The latest of these visits was only last week but because of the absence of Mr. Hopkins nothing could be accomplished. Arrangements are being made for a conference in Washington probably tomorrow or some other day during the present week for the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel to see Mr. Hopkins personally, at which conference we hope to obtain a very substantial grant advanced directly to the City of Boston.

In this connection I beg to say further that the greatest obstacle to the obtaining of this grant up to the present time has been Mr. Hopkins' opinion, very firmly held and vigorously stated, that Massachusetts municipalities ought not to look to the Federal Government for direct aid until they had first exhausted all means of relief from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Hopkins has stated many times that Massachusetts, one of the wealthiest states in the Union, has done nothing whatever to aid its cities and towns and gave little hope of any Federal aid until our Commonwealth had contributed substantially to its municipalities which needed aid.

Statistics recently released show that Massachusetts municipalities have received no direct aid from the Federal Government although it is true that through the office of the Federal Administration of the E. R. A. for Massachusetts large sums have been received. Thus in March, Massachusetts received $6,000,000 of which Boston's share was $1,346,000, an increase of about 100 per cent in six months, and directly attributable, I think I may claim, to my efforts in securing a larger share of Federal funds for E. R. A. Some other states are receiving practically 100 per cent Federal aid and many cities are contributing practically nothing. Statistics released by the National Conference of Mayors in February, for example, show that in twenty-one months (twelve in 1933 and nine in 1934) Boston contributed about 70 per cent to the Emergency Relief Fund, Philadelphia in the same period of time contributed 1.5 per cent and the Federal Government 98.5 per cent; Memphis, Tennessee, contributed nothing whatever and the Federal Government 100 per cent; Baltimore, which is so often compared with Boston, contributed .1 per cent and the Federal Government 99.9 per cent; Cleveland, another city comparable in size and other features with Boston, contributed 22.5 per cent and the Federal Government 77.5 per cent; New York City contributed 30.6 per cent and the Federal Government 69.4 per cent. Apparently because Massachusetts has had such a glorious reputation in the past for standing on her own feet and meeting her obligations, a reputation which Boston has always shared, it can get nothing. And Boston has been unable to get anything simply because the Commonwealth has contributed nothing and the Federal Government thinks it should contribute in this emergency.

In reference to the second order I beg to state that I have repeatedly spoken about the blighting effects upon Boston commerce of the unfair differential rates in vogue in favor of some Atlantic coast ports and that I have addressed the public on this subject very many times during the last year. I also beg to state that Corporation Counsel Foley has made many trips to Washington and New York to argue different phases of this problem and to plead Boston's cause and that his latest visit to Washington last week was in order to argue certain aspects of this very question before a committee having under consideration certain Interstate Commerce Commission affairs. I wish further to state that it is my intention when I visit Washington this week on the Welfare grant matter to confer with Boston and Massachusetts representatives and to press further for immediate relief against these discriminatory, and I think unconstitutional, preferential rates.

And may I add, with all respect, that both of these subjects referred to in these orders have had my continuous attention and effort for a long period of time, before these orders were adopted.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President FITZGERALD—If there is no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, it is very nice for his Honor the Mayor to answer two of my orders in such great detail. However, for purposes of the record, let me say that his answer is not at all satisfactory. He states, if I recall the reading of the communication correctly, that he has been to Washington a number of times looking after the interests of this city and trying to get grants from the government for relief purposes, and that that action on his part has been entirely independent of any orders emanating from this body. It is a well-known dictum of the present administration, however, that a single Mayor going on to Washington to represent his city has no standing whatever. He is at least supposed to be one of a group of Mayors who go there representing the cities of their state, the state being considered the unit by the administration. That has been the position that has been taken by Mr. Hopkins and Doctor Upson. Therefore, while the Mayor may claim that he has been working on this situation for a year and a half, the fact remains that he has not got anywhere, and that, as I showed here last week, Boston in 1934 received less than $7,000,000, while the city of Pittsburgh, for example—only one of many cities in point—received $22,000,000, a city with less population than ours. The fact is that practically all the large cities of this country have received an immensely larger sum from the Federal Government, although in many cases those cities are smaller than Boston, that has been received by this city. That, Mr. President, is the situation we face today. Also, Boston is an industrial city. We have planned much, as the Port of Boston, on being helped because of that fact. But as a matter of fact, we have been discriminated against as a port in the matter of differentials along the Atlantic seaboard. We are struggling today against a discrimination against Boston in the matter of rate differentials. There are certain lines of business in which Boston has stood high up to the present time, but in which we are now suffering because of these discriminations. Boston, for instance, is a great confectionery center, one of the great chocolate confectionery centers of the country. We have here the Baker Chocolate Company and fifty or more similar confectionery outfits in Boston, Cambridge and other towns. But, because of the discrimination, they will have to move from here if those engaged in the business in other cities are able, as they now apparently can do, to get the raw product, such as cocoa beans, from South America at a less rate than it costs to move them here to Boston. I understand that it now costs $10 a ton to bring cocoa beans into New York, and the learned councilor here who is now devoting a part of his time to his duties in the Attorney-General's office states that it costs $2 more a ton to bring them here to Boston. Those cocoa beans enter largely into the chocolate ingredients of the candy produced here. If it is going to cost more money to bring that fundamental raw product into Boston than to other ports, you can see that we are going to lose all that business. Therefore, the importance of this becomes evident, so far as our city is concerned. The same thing holds good of soap. Soap is manufactured in Cambridge and other communities about Boston. Some of the fundamental raw products entering into it are vegetable oils from the Philippines. It now is costing more money to bring those raw products to Boston than to competitive ports, more than it costs to bring them to New York, Newport News, Philadelphia and Baltimore. With empty ports we have empty buildings, empty warehouses. So it is not enough for his Honor the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel to go on to Washington and try to interest the Federal Government in these matters. No matter how able the Corporation Counsel is, far more than his efforts is needed. We should ask the brains of Boston to help, we should ask the best men in Harvard University and in other such institutions to give whatever assistance they can on the rate structure. We have, for example, Professor Cunningham and Professor Ripley, whose specialty is railroads. They and others are very competent men, men of brains, and undoubtedly they would simply have to be asked to assist our city in arriving at a solution of this problem. Otherwise, our business men will suffer and the workmen dependent on the business of Boston will suffer. It is a matter that means life or death to this city. I understand that the handling of cases before the I. C. C. is a very highly technical procedure. A case before that body must be set up in the greatest detail and presented in the most painstaking and thorough manner. That has been recognized for years in Washington, and attorneys dealing with this complicated rate structure have to be men of such recognized legal ability that nothing has been thought of giving an attorney $25,000 to present and prosecute such a case. Wilbur LaRoe, for instance, is one of half a dozen very brilliant men who are paid $25,000 or more by different communities and interests to present their problem to the I. C. C. I have no doubt that the able councilor from the Dorchester section (Coun. Goldman), when he has had some months of experience in the Attorney-General's office, will be able to initiate and carry through a rate structure case to a successful conclusion. But it will take some time even for him to become prepared for that work. There is Francis Bickle, for instance, chief attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad, who receives $50,000 a year for his services to that road, and who is well worth that figure because of his knowledge and ability in presenting cases. You should see that gentleman in action. We have no one comparable to him in Boston in I. C. C. cases. And so, when the Mayor speaks of himself and the Corporation Counsel going on to Washington and interesting themselves in these questions that concern our city, it would be far more important to Boston to have enlisted in its service the best brains of our city. We have those brains here, and I would like to submit a list of the men who might be drawn upon to his Honor the Mayor, men who might accept as a public duty service for this city. Take, for instance, men like Dan Lyne or the brilliant John Feeney, and many others. We have not only had fine men in the past, men with brilliant minds who would be glad to do this sort of thing for their city, but we have them in Boston now, and all that would be required is to request them, in behalf of their city, to take an interest in this matter. Other cities have done it; why should not Boston?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, with unanimous consent I would like to make a statement. This question of the Federal allocation of welfare is, I think, probably the most serious one confronting the City of Boston at the present time. I certainly hope that his Honor the Mayor in his conference with Mr. Hopkins will have some success in making a reallocation, and I also hope, as suggested by the last speaker, that cooperation will be sought so that Boston will present a united front upon this question. I cannot understand the apparent idea they have in Washington of denying to Boston what they are frequently granting to Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cleveland and many other cities of the nation. They say that Massachusetts is wealthy. That is the reason they are giving for treating us differently than others. Massachusetts has some wealth, but Massachusetts has no natural resources. Whatever wealth she has is due to industry and frugality. States like Pennsylvania and Ohio, with their coal, oil and other natural resources, have many advantages that we do not have and never have had, and yet many of the cities in those and other states are allowed to go scot-free, so far as furnishing money themselves is concerned, having practically the entire amount of their welfare expenses paid by the Federal Government, the money to pay the same being raised not from those states alone but from all the states of the Union, Massachusetts contributing a larger share than most. I certainly hope, sir, that his Honor the Mayor will be able to make the gentlemen in Washington see the light on this question.

The message from the Mayor was placed on file.

CONTRACT FOR GAS LIGHTING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 1, 1935.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—On December 6, 1934, I submitted to your Honorable Body for consideration and action contracts between the city and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for (1) furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting and (2) equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for street lighting, for a term of five years beginning on January 1, 1935. I have since prevailed upon the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to insert the following provision in the contract for furnishing illuminating gas:

"If at any time or times during the term hereof the price to a general customer of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company residing in Boston and using 2,000 cubic feet of gas per month shall be decreased to an amount below the present price of $2.50, then the price of gas provided for herein shall thereupon at such time or times be decreased in the same ratio."

Said provision appears as Article 10 in the contract for furnishing illuminating gas, which I submit herewith for your consideration and action in substitution of the contract for furnishing illuminating gas submitted to you on December 6, 1934.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Appended was the contract.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, speaking with reference to that message of the Mayor, it is very gratifying to me as a member of this year's Committee on Municipal Lighting to find that, because there was not hasty action by the Council on the matter of these gas contracts, this additional advantage has been obtained for the people of Boston. There came to the Council last week a communication from the Finance Commission of the City of Boston somewhat chiding the Council for its delay in acting on the new municipal lighting contract—a contract, by the way, that did not come before us until the very closing days of last year, so that the situation necessarily called for reference to a new committee to be appointed by the new President of the Council this year. But the Finance Commission did point out that, by reason of the delay, there is, under the contract now before the Council, an additional saving per lamp to the city; that the price per lamp per year for gas and service is $20.50, or $2.62 less than the price that the city is now paying under the old contract; and that there is a further provision by which the city may take advantage of the new rate from January 1, 1935. And so I repeat, in view of this message today, that, apparently because of the very reasonable delay by the committee of the City Council in considering the suggested contract and because the contract was not too hastily closed, this additional advantage now reported has been obtained for those who pay gas rates in the City of Boston.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

5. The license shall be for a term commencing with March 15 and ending on October 10 in each year.

6. The license fee for any privately owned park or field for the term beginning March 15 shall be $1,000 where the seating capacity is 20,000 persons or more; $500 where the seating capacity is 10,000 to 20,000 persons; and $100 where the seating capacity is less than 10,000 persons. No license granted by the City Council shall be issued until payment of the fee prescribed in this regulation.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect beginning with the fifteenth day of March, 1935.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in order that it may appear as a matter of record I think it is perhaps advisable to point out that the Executive Committee had in mind that there will be necessary an additional change in this city ordinance. I, for one, thought something of the arguments that the annual rates for the Sunday baseball privilege should be measured preferably by the attendance at the various parks rather than by the theoretical capacity. Also, there was an excellent question raised as to a comparison between the rate charged under the ordinance and the assessment being charged by the Assessing Department. It was pointed out to the committee that, so far as baseball is concerned, it is only a matter of some twelve Sundays, but the question of whether there might be Sunday sports after the baseball season might necessarily require consideration. So it seems to me it should be pointed out, as a matter of record, that this particular ordinance is being passed simply to comply with the requirements of the baseball season, and that further action in the way of amendment may be necessary, dealing with the period of the year following October 10.

Coun. TOBIN—Mr. President, I would like to have an opportunity to vote on the two things here separately.

The report was accepted and the order was passed.

4. Report on petition of Boston National League Baseball Company (referred February 25) for license for Sunday sports—that permit be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HOSPITALS.

Coun. DOHERTY, for the Committee on Hospitals, submitted report on order (referred March 25) concerning "City Hospital Association," recommending passage of order in accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council with reference to the "City Hospital Association."

1. What authority, if any, the "City Hospital Association" has to appear before the Civil Service Commission on matters affecting Hospital employees.

2. By what authority they are granted leave of absence, with pay.

Report accepted, order passed.

CONSTABLE WITH ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE.

Coun. BRACKMAN, for the Committee on Constables, moved that No. 1 on the calendar under unfinished business be taken up, viz.:

1. Action on application submitted by the Mayor, February 25, 1935, (Boston Wires 11) to be a constable connected with the Animal Rescue League without authority to receive and process.

The question came on consideration of the appointment.

Coun. BRACKMAN, Mr. President, before the vote is taken I would like to say a few words in explanation of the matter. The Animal Rescue League has a contract with the City of Boston, whereby the city pays a certain sum of money to the league, and the league, in turn, does establish a fund for the purpose of the rescue of animals. This committee does not receive a vote on such a but he must be given some authority to act in the capacity he does in carrying on his office.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, the previous speaker has not outlined my understanding of the law. I am given to understand that this man does receive a salary, but gives the salary back to the Animal Rescue League. If I am wrong, I wish to be corrected either by Mr. Doyle or some one else. Mr. Bentley Warren, Jr., receives a check, and he in turn, so I have been informed, indorses it back to this league. If that is the situation, what assurance have we that he is going to continue that practice of donating his salary or giving it back to the league? I simply repeat the argument I offered last week,—first, that he is a resident of Brookline, and, second, that he is a man whose father is fortunately possessed of means so that he does not need the job. There are thousands here in the City of Boston who could well use the job and the salary, and I am going to vote against the confirmation of such an appointment.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I call my colleague's attention to chapter 140, section 151, as amended by chapter 320 of the Acts of 1934.

The mayor of each city shall annually on May first designate one or more dog officers, who may be police officers or constables, and who, except as herein provided, shall hold office for one year or until their successors are qualified. The mayor shall forthwith submit to the county commissioners the names and addresses of such officers. Except as hereinafter provided, if any city or town shall fail to make such appointment, the county commissioners shall on June first thereafter appoint a dog officer for such city or town. Any dog officer who fails to comply with the terms of his warrant shall forthwith be removed from office by the mayor or selectmen, and notice of such removal shall forthwith be given to the county commissioners. Dog officers, other than those employed under regular pay, shall receive from the treasurers of their respective cities and towns one dollar for each dog killed, as provided in section one hundred and fifty-one A, in full compensation for their services. Bills for such services shall be approved by the mayor of the city or the selectmen of the town in which said dogs are kept or killed, and in the county of Suffolk shall be paid out of the dog fund. Cities and towns in counties other than Suffolk shall be reimbursed by the treasurers of their respective counties from the dog fund. Each dog officer appointed under this section shall also attend to all complaints or other matters pertaining to dogs in their respective towns, in addition to the duties imposed upon him by his warrant, and shall be paid for such services by the town treasurer upon bills approved by the mayor or selectmen.

I think the most pertinent section is the last. "The mayor of a city . . . may, instead of appointing dog officers as hereinbefore provided, enter into a contract with a domestic charitable corporation incorporated exclusively for the purpose of protecting animals from cruelty, neglect or abuse, to perform the duties required of dog officers, which contract shall, except in the county of Suffolk, be subject to the approval of the county commissioners. In any such case the payments to such corporation under the terms of the contract shall be in full for all services rendered by it in such capacity."

We here in Suffolk County, the County Commissioners or the City Council, do not have to give our approval to this contract that is made between the city and this charitable corporation, the Animal Rescue League. As a matter of fact, they are far more suitable as a corporation, with their equipment and facilities, to take care of our stray dogs and domestic animals than dog officers would be, because, instead of putting these dogs and other domestic animals immediately out of their suffering, they are in a position to keep them and dispose of them from time to time to people who desire them. Under this statute the city has entered into a contract each year with this society, and these funds are paid.

Coun. MURRAY—Does this man actually do the work?

Coun. BRACKMAN—I don't know whether this particular man is on duty all the time, but apparently he is a lover of animals and devotes a good deal of time to this charitable work.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in regard to the good work performed by this society, let me say that I had a dog, and a good dog. He was lost. A woman took the dog to her home, and there was no one to call up in regard to the matter except a policeman at the station. At the police station they suggested that she call up the Animal Rescue League, which she did. Within an hour they came with an ambulance and took the dog, and within twenty-four hours my sister went in and got the dog. I think an organization that does such things is a fine organization. I believe Mr. Bentley Warren, Jr., gets $2,000 a year and that he simply turns it back, and that he is doing a good service to the city and the state. I think he should be encouraged instead of being condemned.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, does the gentleman advocate the appointment of a Brookline man?

Coun. NORTON—I advocate the appointment of a Brookline man who is doing such a fine service in this city free of charge; yes, sir.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Free of charge?

¶ Coun. NORTON—Yes. Let us not be demagogues here. The payment of the $2,000 has been explained. It avoids the necessity of the Mayor of Boston appointing some one as dog catcher.

We had a dog catcher here, and he has graduated into a pretty important position today.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Nevertheless, this money taken from the City of Boston is made payable to Bentley Warren, Jr., and we would have to depend upon his continued kindness to turn the money back.

Coun. NORTON—No.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Those were your words. Coun. NORTON—No. The society gets this money. The check is sent to him and he turns it over to the society.

Coun. SELVITELLA—I understand you to say that he gets the check?

Coun. NORTON—Exactly.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The Chair will appoint Councilors Agnew and Green a committee to receive, sort and count ballots for the confirmation of Mr. Bentley Warren, Jr.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Agnew and Green. Whole number of ballots, 18, yeas 7, nays 11, and confirmation was refused.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

On motion of Coun. AGNEW, the Council took up under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, March 25, 1935, of Richard B. Davis, Frank E. Barker, Thomas F. Hunt, Horton I. Marlor, Andrew P. Thompson, Albert N. Kenrick, William I. Marlor, to be weighers of goods; Christian J. Zappe, to be a weigher of beef; Benjamin F. C. Whitehouse, to be a weigher of coal; John O'Neill, to be a weigher of goods, a weigher of coal and measurer of grain.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. Selvitella and Finley. Whole number of ballots, 18; yeas 13, nays 5, and the appointments were confirmed.

SALE OF FERRYBOAT "RALPH PALUMBO."

On motion of Coun. SHATTUCK, the Council took from the table the following assignment, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be, and hereby is, authorized to sell at a duly advertised public auction, at an upset price of $35,000, the ferryboat "Ralph Palumbo."

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this matter was reported on favorably by the Executive Committee at the last session and was assigned for one week. I call it up at this time because I believe springtime is the best season to sell boats, and if we are going to sell this boat we had better take steps to offer it at auction now rather than wait until the season is late.

The order was passed. Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I move an amendment, that the upset price be $50,000 instead of $35,000.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The motion is out of order.

Coun. MURRAY—On what ground?

Chairman GALLAGHER—The order has been passed.

Coun. Agnew and Selvitella addressed the Chair, and Coun. Selvitella was recognized.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I move a reconsideration of the last vote.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The Chair has recognized Councilor Selvitella.

MARRIED WOMEN IN DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of Boston be requested to obtain from the head of each department, including County and Schoolhouse Departments, the following information for the City Council:

1. The number of married women in the department.
2. Names and addresses of each married woman.
3. Whether temporary or permanent.
4. Is husband working, and if so, by whom employed and his salary.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, that order has been discussed in this Council in some form or other during the past several years, but at this time I think it becomes a very important question when there are so many men, heads of families, who are walking the streets unemployed, while married women are enjoying salaries, in some cases far beyond those received by their husbands, who are also working. I have been told about some instances of married women employed by the city. The married woman employed in one case is the wife of a prominent doctor in Boston; another is the wife of a minister. There are several whose husbands are employed in the post office, and there are numerous cases of men who are employed in either the Police Department, Fire Department, or some other department of the city, whose wives are also holding good positions. As a member of the Committee on Appropriations I am going to insist that this information be given to the committee in order that we may purge the city pay roll of married women who are depriving men of an opportunity to work, especially where there are veterans who have been let go after rendering years of service, with no attempt made to re-estate them.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I may be wrong, but a little bird told me that following the appointment of our old and excellent colleague from Brighton as a member of the Election Board, some such order as this might be introduced, although I am glad that the order introduced by the able councilor from East Boston seems to be of a general character and not aimed at any individual. Many of us sat in this body with Fred Dowling, who has received a well-merited appointment, perhaps one of the few such made by the present Mayor of Boston. Fred Dowling will be a credit to that Board, and I believe he carries with him to his new position the best wishes of all his former colleagues. I might state that on the day when he was appointed Registrar of Voters his wife sent in her resignation as an assistant clerk in the Brighton Court. That is what might be expected from the Dowling family, because we all know that they are not pay roll patriots.

Coun. SELVITELLA—For purposes of the record, I wish to say that in this order I did not have Fred Dowling or his family in mind. I want that to appear clearly in the record, that the order was drawn up before his appointment.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEARING ON GAS CONTRACT.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Municipal Lighting of the City Council be requested to set a date for a public hearing on the matter of extending the contract between the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the City of Boston for street lighting.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, we are today in receipt of a communication from the Mayor relative to the proposed gas contract for street lighting and advising us of the cost, setting forth the decrease in price to the city under the new contract. At the present time it is costing the City of Boston $2,300 a month through failure to act upon the contract. I am not attaching any blame to any group, but it does seem that where there is this difference between the price which the city has been paying and the price which it will pay under the new contract, and where we can save $2,300 each month by signing the proposed contract, action should be taken within a reasonable time. I do not state this in any criticism of the committee but I do hope they will set within a reasonable time a date to have the public hearing and thus enable the city to take advantage of the cheaper price that has been offered under the Boston Consolidated Gas Company contract.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, as a member of that committee, perhaps I might state, in order to alleviate the councilor's suffering, that a date has been set for a meeting of the committee. It will be Wednesday of this week, and I assume that at that time—after the short delay we have had, which has already resulted in this fine change in the contract for the benefit of the city because of our not being too hasty this year—a day will be set for a public hearing after which, I trust, the committee will accept the contract which has been submitted by the Mayor, with the splendid change in it that has come about through the delay we have already had, and with the result that we may be able to get perhaps an even lower rate.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION ON BUDGET APPROPRIATIONS.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council, with his budget recommendations for the current fiscal year, the following information:

- (1) A general plan for current city financing in the year 1935, including an analysis of the 1934 tax rate and estimates of all factors of expenditure and revenue entering into the probable rate for 1935.
- (2) Detailed "allowances" by the Mayor for each department and division for 1935, segregated substantially as in Document No. 46 of 1932, but showing in addition comparable expenditure figures for each item in the years 1932, 1933 and 1934 and departmental requests for 1935.
- (3) A summary of the data requested under No. 2 by general items as segregated in Exhibit B of Document No. 61 of 1934, and a further summary by departments and divisions as in Exhibit A of Document No. 61 of 1934.
- (4) A comparison of appropriations by items for the years 1924, 1932, 1933 and 1934, with "allowances" for 1935, substantially as in Exhibit C of Document No. 61 of 1934.

- (5) A personal service schedule substantially as in Exhibit D of Document No. 61 of 1934, but showing the following: The number of employees for each type of position as of January 1, 1934, and January 1, 1935, with the exact number allowed for in the budget recommendations for 1935.
- (6) A tabulation showing by departments and divisions:
- the total number of employees as of January 1, 1934;
 - the number of vacancies occurring from January 1, 1934, to January 1, 1935, from retirement, death, resignation, or other cause of removal from the service;
 - the number of such vacancies filled by transfer of permanent employees from other divisions or departments;
 - the number of new appointments;
 - the number of positions remaining vacant as of January, 1935; and
 - the number of positions allowed for in the Mayor's budget recommendations for 1935.
- (7) An analysis of salary and nonsalary items entering into all other estimated 1935 expenditures outside the budget, such as those from the proceeds of loans, trust funds and revenue sources.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this order has some implications very similar to those in an order that I offered at about this time last year, and which was adopted. The purpose of the order is to give to the Committee on Appropriations information at the same time that the budget is presented which will expedite the hearings on the budget and give the committee facts at the start which it might otherwise take some time to gather and which we might have some delay in obtaining.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF ELEVATED STRUCTURE.

Coun. GREEN, ENGLERT, FITZGERALD, DOWD, MURRAY and GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor and Governor Curley be requested to include in their Public Works Program a sum sufficient for the removal of the structure and the building of a tunnel from Sullivan square to Forest Hills.

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favor all bills pending in the Legislature which have to do with the removal of the Elevated structure between Sullivan square and Forest Hills.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I have here requested his Honor the Mayor of Boston and his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, when they go to Washington, to submit to the approval of the powers that be in Washington a project that has a great deal of merit. It will involve the removal of this monstrosity which has occupied the main highway in Charlestown for over thirty-five years and which has also adversely affected five other sections of Boston. In addition to removing the monstrosity, it is also proposed to substitute an up-to-date tunnel for it. Governor Curley, I am asking you to work in harmony with the Mayor of Boston, which I know you will do, in order to bring about a much needed improvement. Mr. President and gentlemen of the City Council, I represent a district of 40,000 souls, an historical shrine that has added a good many pages to American history. I feel that that little district of mine over there, where I first saw the light of day, has been discredited. I want to restore Charlestown. I want to bring back to Charlestown the substantial families who were forced out of my district by the erection of this monstrosity. Mr. President, it has ruined our community. It is a menace to health, a fire hazard, and it has done more to break down my district than anything that has happened in a generation. For the last twenty-five years men representing my district, including my brother and other members of my family, have gone to the Legislature and introduced bills looking to the removal of that overhead structure. But we have heard the same old cry—"No money, we haven't the money to proceed. We are with you on your argument, but we haven't got the money." Now, there is $5,000,000,000 available in Washington, and there is no better way in which a part of this money could be spent than in removing this cancer that is eating into the heart of the business interests of the city, and thereby benefit not only my district, but Councilor Murray's, Councilor Englert's, Councilor Fitzgerald's, Councilor Dowd's and Councilor Gleason's districts. Therefore, I am going to ask the members of this Honorable Body to stand up this afternoon and be counted, as they always have been in the past, as in favor of a thing that means the improvement and advancement of this community. I know there is not a member of the Council who will not stand up and fight with me for the removal of this structure. As I stated before, it is a health menace, a fire menace, and should be torn down. Tearing it down and putting a tunnel in its place will mean four or five years' work for 10,000 men, also. We are looking for projects, and here is a notable one, deserving the approval of the authorities in Washington. The men employed upon this project can work in three eight-hour shifts tearing down this monstrosity and substituting a tunnel. It will relieve the traffic situation in Boston. My district is the gateway to the north and south. I am going to ask those whose districts are affected by this hazard, this monstrosity, to get up here with me this afternoon and to stand with me shoulder to shoulder. Let us start the fight in the Boston City Council, where every important fight for the welfare of this city and this community has been started. We have carried the load before and we can do so again. And I feel that the agitation started on the floor of this body by twenty-two men who represent the bone and sinew of this Commonwealth will have results. Let us send out the cry to Washington. Let us send the message to Mayor Mansfield and to Governor Curley, asking them to submit to Washington this project which will involve the removal of a monstrosity in our city and the substitution thereof of an up-to-date tunnel.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, in regard to the proposed removal of the Elevated structure, I might say that I have received a number of petitions from several clubs and organizations in my own district favoring such action. This is something that affects not only congested spots in my district, but important thoroughfares throughout the City of Boston. Take Eggleston square, for instance, where there are many posts holding up the Elevated structure, which cause many automobile accidents continually. Also, not only will the Elevated structure be removed but an up-to-date subway will be put in its place, and many men will be given work. This Elevated structure has been an eyesore to the people of my district for many years. So I certainly trust that the Council today will go on record as favoring the removal of the structure from Forest Hills to Charlestown.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, the Roslindale and the Jamaica Plain Boards of Trade and many other organizations in my district have gone on record as favoring the removal of the Elevated structure.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we have 1,000 men working today on the golf course in my district, and that work ought to be finished in two weeks. Certainly, something more than has been done should be done by the Federal Government for our city. Under an order I have introduced here today, I have asked his Honor the Mayor to take action in a way that will result in Boston being given what she should receive from the Federal Government. The information we have received here shows what other cities are getting and have been getting. Anything that we have received so far would be a mere bagatelle compared with what other cities in this country have been getting. The work on the golf course is nearly completed, will be done in a few weeks, and I hope we will receive funds that will enable our people to be employed on important public works in this community.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, there are two orders here. One I shall be glad to vote for, because I realize the appeals that are being made in various sections for the removal of the Elevated structure, and I also have in mind various figures brought to my attention which show that on important street projects in the City of Boston in the past the increased assessments have paid for the projects within a short period of time. Therefore, I shall be glad to vote for the first order or for the first part of the order. As to the second part, giving blanket endorsement to all bills that are now before the Legislature, with the wording of which I am not familiar, I feel that that should be sent to the Executive Committee. The first part I shall be glad to vote for at this time.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I shall be glad to make any change that the gentleman from Dorchester wishes to make. The second order is merely a resolve asking the members of the City Council to favor pending legislation looking to the removal of the Elevated structure.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The clerk will read the two orders separately.

(The clerk read the orders.)

Coun. GREEN—Is the gentleman satisfied with the first order? If so, I would move suspension of the rule for its passage.

Coun. WILSON—I am satisfied with that, Mr. President.

Coun. TOBIN—Mr. President, I have no objection to voting for the order, but I understand that it may probably entail an expenditure of $40,000,000. I wish it to be understood, however, that there are other projects in which communities from other districts, particularly Dorchester, have been interested and which they have been pressing for several years and which they have been pressing, which I trust will also be taken under consideration—namely, a health unit and certain public health improvements of one kind and another in different wards of Dorchester. It is a right to improve our broad highways, but we should also keep in mind the necessities on the side streets. There are a number of things that we have been after out in our district for years, adequate facilities for the people of the district. I think this matter might be considered as a street project, but, although I am glad to vote for it, I trust that other city projects which have already been submitted will not be endangered.

The first order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The second, the resolution, will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I thought Councilor Wilson would be agreeable to having that resolution passed under suspension of the rule if he understood it more thoroughly. I would like to expedite matters.

Chairman GALLAGHER—The clerk will read the resolution.

(The clerk read the resolution.)

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I certainly hope that that resolve will be referred to the Executive Committee. I think we have already gone rather far in adopting the first order, involving a blank sum of money which may amount to $40,000,000, as one of the speakers has said, which would probably result in shoving other projects off the side lines. I certainly hope, however, that we will not endorse bills now pending in the Legislature concerning the provisions of which we know nothing. I hope, therefore, that the resolution will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GREEN—Then I will ask you, sir, to refer the matter to the Legislative Committee, if that is satisfactory to Councilor Wilson and Councilor Shattuck.

The resolution was referred to the Legislative Committee.

EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS STREET RAILWAY CAR SERVICE.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway to continue the car service from Scollay square to the Mystic Bridge.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in the P. W. A. Program a project for the removal of the Rand & Byam Soap Grease Factory and the removal of the Thomas Stark-King School in the Warren-Bunker Hill district, which is now obsolete, and replace with a children's playground at what is known as the Neck section of Charlestown, a thickly congested district.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in his P. W. A. Program a sum sufficient to take over the land abutting Dewey Beach, known as Sweeney's Wharf, for the purpose of widening Dewey Beach.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

17TH OF JUNE PARADE.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the School Committee to turn out its members as possible for the 17th of June parade, as this is the first anniversary of the 17th of June as a holiday.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REIMBURSEMENT OF CITIES BY WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in the P. W. A. Program a sum sufficient to make payments to the Welfare Department of the City of Boston for the reimbursement of the money paid by them for the maintenance of settlements after the two annual settlements, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I have been a delegate on the committee that has been this year, and I am sure that the committee, in respect to the date, will be able to obtain their decision as to the date of the settlements, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RAY VIEW ELEVATED STRUCTURE.

Coun. REIDHAN and DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in the P. W. A. Program a sum sufficient to make payments to the Welfare Department of the City of Boston for the reimbursement of the money paid by them for the maintenance of settlements after the two annual settlements, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made, whether or not the settlements are made.

service on the Bay View line and also on the line running from Dudley street to City Point.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 7 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to change the location of the automatic traffic blinker light from Preble street, at Old Colony road, to the center of Old Colony road, opposite Preble street, Ward 7.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install granolithic sidewalks on Holden street, Ward 7.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

APPEARANCE OF EMPLOYEES BEFORE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

Coun. GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That no organization of city employees be allowed to appear before the Civil Service Commission without the consent of the head of the department and the Mayor.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STREET LAMPS, WARDS 14 AND 12.

Coun. GOLDMAN and BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Commissioner of Public Works to install street lamps at Grove Hall, Wards 14 and 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXPENDITURES BY CITY DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council be recorded as opposed to the provisions of bill now pending in the Massachusetts Legislature to this year again permit all departments of the City of Boston to expend without consideration of any budget by the City Council, an amount not to exceed 50 per cent of the expenditures of such departments during the previous year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the remark has been often repeated that for all intents and purposes under the existing charter the City Council, with its present limited powers, might as well, after it has considered and acted upon the budget, go home. Having that in mind, I find it somewhat annoying this year to see that an act has been presented to the Legislature to allow city departments, before the Council has acted upon the budget, instead of spending one third of the expenditures of the previous year, to increase that amount to 50 per cent. And that, gentlemen, is an amount that can be expended without any action by the City Council. It seems to me, if such acts of the Legislature are to become annual events, Boston might as well recognize her position as almost that of some Roman province.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

WALK THROUGH WARD 19 TUNNEL.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct a walk through the existing tunnel leading from Hyde Park avenue to Braden street, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE TO FLAG.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct and compel all temporary and permanent teachers in the employ of the City of Boston to take an oath of allegiance to the flag.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, the reason why I offer that order about taking the oath of allegiance to the flag is that I remember when I was a boy in school, every morning before the school work started the teacher had the pupils stand up and take the oath of allegiance to the flag. I don't know whether that custom is continued today in some of the schools or not, but I certainly trust that the children will be asked to go through that ceremony.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. MURRAY, for the Committee on Nitney Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred December 3, 1934) to operate motor vehicles from Causeway street to Cambridge street, over Nashua street and Charles street—recommending that leave be granted.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I might say that the local councilor interceded for the people down there.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred March 4) to operate motor vehicles over Grove and Washington streets to Vermont and Baker streets—that leave be granted.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I might say that Coun. Norton and President Donovan of the Vermont Associates also interested themselves in this matter.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

3. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred March 11) to operate motor vehicles between Mattapan station and junction of River and Standard streets—that leave be granted.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this is evidently the result of an order which was introduced by me into the Council on February 18 requesting the trustees of the Elevated to provide more adequate and frequent service for patients and visitors at the Boston Sanatorium on River street, Mattapan. I am very glad that the matter has come before us for action, through the Committee on Nitneys. It will provide better facilities for visiting and leaving the Sanatorium on River street, a service which is very much needed.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, this is a matter which has been brought up at other times, but better late than never.

The report was accepted and license granted under usual conditions.

4. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred March 11) to operate motor vehicles between Codman square and junction of Dorchester avenue and Broadway—that leave be granted.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would ask, for want of better information, that that be assigned to the next meeting.

The report was assigned to the next meeting.

USE OF SCHOOL AUDITORIUMS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the School Committee regarding a fuller use of the auditoriums located in various schoolhouses, for musical and other presentations.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PATCH-PAVING CONTRACTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to look into the so-called "Patch-Paving" contracts in the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, for a number of weeks I have been endeavoring to get some information in regard to patch-paving contracts. The last time that the Edison Company appeared before the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, the statement was made that it cost the company $6 per square yard for something that was done by private contractors at 50 cents-odd per square yard. On a number of occasions I have asked the Mayor of Boston to furnish the Council with the amount of money paid to these patch-paving contractors by the city and by the public utility companies for the year 1934. I have also asked the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission for this information. But as yet no information on the subject has been forthcoming. I don't know why we are not able to obtain this information, and I trust that this order will be passed, and that information will be presently forthcoming.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WORKERS IN HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to confer with the Health Commissioner relative to adopting a more liberal policy regarding workers in the Health Department who are "injured in line of duty."

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I certainly trust that there will be a more liberal policy adopted in the Health Department, for instance, in its dealings with employees who have contracted disease in the line of duty. I have in mind, as I have stated here before, an employee who contracted tuberculosis while working among patients with that disease, and at the end of three weeks she was cut from the pay roll.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO FORMER EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to give preference in employment to all old city employees who were let go during the first few months of his administration.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have in mind many employees of the city who have been dropped and who have not been given preference in the matter of reinstatement, while new employees have been put to work for the city. There is, for instance, Mr. Charles Bogan, for thirty-six years a city employee, who has not been restored to his employment. Mr. Bogan supported Mr. Mansfield. I understand the trouble to be this. Mayor Curley, before going out of office, appointed Dr. Fred Bogan, Superintendent of the City Sanatorium. When Mayor Mansfield took office he requested the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital to discharge Doctor Bogan. The trustees, honorable men, declined to do this, stating that charges would have to be preferred against Doctor Bogan. Then Mayor Mansfield ordered the suspension of Charles Bogan. Mr. Bogan came to work for the city in 1899 as a boy. He served with Mayor Mansfield in the Spanish American War. How would Mayor Mansfield like it if one of his political opponents should discharge his sister who works for the School Department, or another sister who works in the Registry of Deeds office because their brother, the Mayor, had supported another political candidate? Clearly, it would be unfair. I ask the Mayor to put Mr. Bogan back to work, as well as other city employees, such as Messrs. Balfe, Bibby, Kelley, Watson, and so on, some of whom served the city faithfully for twenty years and more.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST LIGHTING COMPANIES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to vigorously institute proceedings against the electric light and gas companies before the Massachusetts Utilities Commission for lower rates in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, it would appear that the Mayor is merely "shadow boxing" in his attempt to reduce electricity and gas rates in Boston. Last Thursday the chairman of the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission publicly stated, and said statement is contained in the stenographic report of the commission, that in so far as the petition of Mayor Mansfield to reduce rates was concerned, the commission had no information that the City of Boston intended doing anything on said petition. An assistant Corporation Counsel of the city sat silent and made no answer. I am now asking the Mayor to take some action. With over fifty cities in the United States obtaining electricity cheaper than does Boston, the Mayor should vigorously file a petition with the Massachusetts Utilities Commission and fight the present gas and electric rates in Boston. Furthermore, the city has retained the firm of Jackson & Moreland to assist in the fight to reduce utility rates. This concern is tied up too closely to the power trust. The Federal Trade Commission showed the concern as having received money from the power trust. I have seen a copy of an exhibit in the fight made against the Edison Company to force this company to reduce rates in which Jackson & Moreland represented both the New England Power Company and the Edison Company two years ago. Surely, this is no concern to be now representing the City of Boston in a fight to reduce rates. The city should institute vigorously proceedings before the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission to reduce electric and gas rates in Boston. The power trust in New York City has just offered Mayor La Guardia reductions ranging from 25 to 35 per cent on the lighting of city streets and buildings because of the vigorous fight that that Mayor has waged. Mayor Mansfield should ask for the assistance of men such as Judge Anderson, Professor Felix Frankfurter, David Lilienthal of the T. V. A. and others. They will suggest to him the names of competent experts and attorneys to carry on this fight. Otherwise, the city is only shadow boxing.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

GOVERNMENT FUNDS FOR UNACCEPTED STREETS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to obtain Government funds to fix Boston's unaccepted streets.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that there are over 1,000 unaccepted streets in Boston. Why cannot these E. R. A. men be used, not only for removing the Elevated structure, as has been stated, but for putting these streets in a condition for acceptance in East Boston, Charlestown, Roshindale, Brighton, Roxbury, Dorchester, Hyde Park and other sections?

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPINION AS TO SERVICE IN TWO DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to whether or not a city official can serve as an Election Department official and an Assessing Department official at one and the same time.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, that order refers to the head of the Election Board who has also been made an official on the Board of Assessors of the city, serving in both capacities at one and the same time. I refer to the Hon. David Shaw. He is Election Commissioner, having his private office down there, and is also acting in the capacity of a member of the Assessing Department, in which capacity he passes upon these big tax rebates, "honeys." I understand that this sort of thing is illegal and against the charter, for an official to act in a dual capacity in this way.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I do know, going back for many years, that there have been many instances where city officials have done the same thing. Our Budget Commissioner, for example, acted as auditor, and many of our heads of departments have at times occupied two positions.

Coun. NORTON—The Budget Commissioner as such is no longer Budget Commissioner. He is the Auditor of the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS FOR ADULT EDUCATION.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of appointing an expert committee immediately to consult with him relative to the use of the 300-odd school buildings in Boston for adult education purposes during the hours that said buildings are not in use.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we in the City of Boston have done nothing with regard to possibilities of use for our school houses when they are not being used for the ordinary school purposes. Boston has 300 beautiful school buildings, empty most of the time, which could be utilized for adult educational courses and continuation studies. Boston has thousands of youths, graduates of high schools, unable to continue on through college, now loafing. The Mayor should have an immediate study made relative to recommending to the School Committee a definite course of action. Older people, trained in occupations that no longer exist, can be helped in afternoon and evening hours at local school centers. These buildings can be of much use in this depression.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LAND FOR VEGETABLES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of making arrangements so that unemployed persons may have the use of any available land for planting vegetables this season.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, there are thousands of lots of vacant land in Boston and adjoining towns and cities that might be used by those willing to cultivate these lots to raise vegetables. The Mayor should request an expert committee to look into this matter at once so that the gardens may be used this season. There is much vacant land bordering on Hyde Park, owned by Milton people, who would be willing to allow the father of an unemployed family to raise vegetables, if the movement got started. The same goes for other sections where there is vacant land.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. GOLDMAN moved that when the Council adjourn it be for two weeks. Carried.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. MURRAY, at 5.40 p. m., to meet on Monday, April 15, 1935, at 2 p. m.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.1 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christensen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

DOUBLE TAXATION NOT THE WHOLE TAX CONFLICT.

Double taxation, which to most people means two taxes on the same thing from different sources,—Federal and State or two states,—is only a part of the problem of conflicting taxation, says James W. Martin, Research Director of the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation. The commission, set up by the Interstate Assembly representing the various states, which was called together by the American Legislators' Association in 1933, will report results of its subsequent study of conflicting taxation early in 1935.

No. 16

HOW BOSTON DISTRIBUTES FOOD PROVIDED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR BOSTON'S NEEDY ON RELIEF IS OUTLINED BY MAYOR MANSFIELD IN WEEKLY ADDRESS FROM CITY HALL STATION OF WNAC—ACTIVITIES CONDUCTED BY WELFARE DEPARTMENT CENTER AT 17 BLOSSOM STREET AND RADIATES THEREFROM TO ALL OF CITY'S SUB-STATIONS—PLAN DEvised FOR ECONOMY, EFFICIENCY AND CONVENIENCE.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Mansfield on Tuesday, April 16, over Station WNAC:

During the past year, the City of Boston has had committed to its care by the Federal Government millions of pounds of food, to be distributed to the needy and the unemployed.

It is the duty of the city to see that this food, which is included with other necessities under the general designation "Federal Commodities," is properly handled, and distributed without unnecessary red tape. While safeguarding the Federal Government and protecting itself, the city must distribute these Government commodities to the people for whom they are intended, efficiently, without waste, and without delay.

The Department of Public Welfare is the logical agency chosen to set up and administer commodity stations. Last May, when the department was reorganized, it was confronted with the problem of handling these vast stores of food and organizing an adequate system to meet the emergency. This system was set up and is now in motion; and during nine months it has distributed more than five million pounds of food. It is under the direction of the Executive Director of the department, and under the immediate supervision of a supervisor of commodities for the department. The central distribution plant is located at 17 Blossom street, and from here activities radiate out to eight district stations.

Today's landmarks on Blossom street are the headquarters of the Health Unit, the newly-opened local quarters for the Department of Public Welfare, the Jewish Family Welfare Association, and other agencies to which the people throng for advice, attention and aid. It is a lively, busy street, and the Federal Commodity Station at No. 17 helps to keep it in constant motion, with a procession of men and women coming in at one door with empty shopping bags, and going out the other with their Federal commodities.

Storehouse System.

Inside this gymnasium building, which has been converted into a storehouse and distribution station, all is orderly and well systematized. From this place as many as 40,185 persons have received, in one month, in addition to their welfare allowance, Government food allotments. System and order pervade this great power house for human necessities, where the average daily number of food recipients is 1,600, but where on some days two and three times as many are served. On one memorable day, December 24—the day before Christmas—4,791 persons were supplied from here with enough rice, veal and potatoes to give dinners to approximately 24,000 individuals.

Back of a row of tables ranged in the center of the gymnasium sit half a dozen clerks. The name of the applicant, who appears with his identification card in hand, is checked off by one of these clerks, and then he is given a food card, stamped with the kind of commodities he will receive. Every recipient receives the same kind and quality of food. The amount is determined by the number in his family. He signs his card and passes along in the moving line until he reaches the counter where the card is taken from him and filed; then his apportionment of supplies, which have been inspected and neatly packed, is given to him in return. It is noticeable that most of those in line are men. Undoubtedly, the reason for this is that the bundles are heavy, and the men, being unemployed, are glad of this opportunity to relieve the housewives.

Behind the counter half a dozen men are busy carrying out in methodical manner details of the distribution plan. Every can of food is inspected before it is wrapped. It is examined on three counts, for dents, and for two kinds of "swelling." If a can is dented or distended, either by overfilling or by gas, it is set aside. No chances are taken on damaged foods.

Everything is in readiness when the doors are opened in the morning: potatoes are done up in sacks containing fifteen pounds each; meat tins have been examined, and with other items of food are wrapped and ready for recipients. Every effort is made to avoid delays, because sometimes the lines stretch into the street, and long waits are a hardship in inclement weather.

Each day's supplies are given out at Blossom street with a view to the week's menu. The human element, never absent from this work, becomes a personal, friendly service.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

CITY OF BOSTON PREVENTED BY LAW FROM AIDING PRENDERGAST PREVENTORIUM—SO RULES CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY E. FOLEY IN OPINION SOUGHT BY MAYOR MANSFIELD FOR CITY COUNCIL GUIDANCE.

Following is copy of opinion by Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley, transmitted to the City Council on April 15:

BOSTON, April 10, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—You have requested me to render the opinion sought by the following order of the City Council passed on March 25, 1935:

"Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to request the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to whether or not the city can grant the request for $3,000 made by the Boston Preventorium to carry on its work during the year 1935."

It is my understanding that the institution referred to in the above quoted order is commonly known as the Prendergast Preventorium; that said institution is neither publicly owned nor publicly controlled but is maintained by the Boston Tuberculosis Association, an association incorporated under chapter 180 of the General Laws.

Section 2 of Article XLVI of the Constitution of Massachusetts provides, in part, as follows:

"... no grant, appropriation or use of public money or property . . . shall be made or authorized by the commonwealth or any political division thereof for the purpose of founding, maintaining or aiding . . . any . . . infirmary, hospital, institution or educational, charitable or religious undertaking which is not publicly owned or under the exclusive control, order and superintendence of public officers or public agents authorized by the commonwealth or federal authority or both, except that appropriations may be made for the maintenance and support of the Soldiers' Home in Massachusetts and for free public libraries in any city or town . . ."

Said section in effect forbids (with certain exceptions not relevant to the matter inquired of) a grant, appropriation or use of public money by the City of Boston for the purpose of aiding an institution, hospital or infirmary which is not publicly owned or under the exclusive control, order and superintendence of public officers or public agents.

In view of the foregoing it is my opinion that the City of Boston may not grant three thousand dollars to the Prendergast Preventorium or to the Boston Tuberculosis Association for use in the carrying on of the work of said Preventorium.

(See in accord opinions of the Corporation Counsel dated September 25, 1928, to the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, and dated May 19, 1930, to the Mayor.)

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

installation on new service pipes and also to replace frozen and defective meters.

The estimated cost of this contract is $22,500 and the money has been provided for in C-13, Water Income budget.

I respectfully request your approval to contact the Supply Department and to advertise for bids.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, April 5, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The repairing of asphalt road surfaces under the maintenance of the Public Works Department, said surfaces being out of guaranty, is handled under two contracts, said contracts being publicly advertised and awarded to the low bidder, the city being divided into two districts having approximately the same road surface area.

Consideration should be given to the advertising and awarding of the contracts preparatory to the season's work, especially due to the fact that the severe winter has created many dangerous holes in the street surfaces.

I respectfully request your permission to proceed to advertise the two contracts for repairing of asphalt surfaces. The estimated amount of each contract is approximately $60,000. The payment under these contracts will be charged to the Reconstruction of Streets loan and paid out of said loan. There is, at the present time, sufficient money in the Reconstruction of Streets loan to care for these two contracts.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, April 10, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Sewerage pumps Nos. 1 and 2 at the Calf Pasture pumping station installed in 1912 have practically outlived their usefulness and are now operating with a low efficiency. Said pumps have reached a condition where steps must be taken either to replace or repair them. To completely remove and replace these pumps with two new vertical units similar to the recently installed Nos. 3 and 4 pumps would cost upwards of $55,000. The motors on the pumps Nos. 1 and 2 are in good shape and could be continued in use.

We are of the opinion that the present existing horizontal pump could be replaced with a new Clogless Horizontal Single Suction Pump of proper design to handle unscreened sewage. The cost of one unit is approximately $6,000 and I respectfully request permission to advertise a contract for the replacing of one existing pump with a new Clogless Single Suction Horizontal Sewerage Pump. If this unit, after installation, is found efficient and economical in operation and is satisfactory we will then repeat the operation on the remaining three of the four pumps.

In order to prevent a condition which might seriously cripple the pumping station at a time when least expected, I respectfully suggest immediate action.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, April 10, 1935.

To the Honorable Mayor.

The method of toll collection at the East Boston Ferry is very loose and, at the present time, there is absolutely no check on the daily receipts as we depend entirely on the honesty of the employee.

The present routine is for the toll man to either receive money or tickets and, at the end of the day's work, he turns in whatever sum of money plus tickets that he wishes. There is no registering device to check his receipts.

After considering the various registering devices on the market, it is the opinion of this office that the Ohmer Toll Registering Equipment used on various toll bridges throughout the country is the most satisfactory to install at the East Boston Ferry.

Four machines will care for all activities, and the outside price of the complete installation will not be more than $2,500. This money is available in the unexpended balance of a loan (East Boston Ferry) for additional boats and other permanent improvements, $53,889.42) and I respectfully request permission to requisition, through the Supply Department, this equipment.

I am sure in prophesying that the machines will pay for themselves in a short period of time.

Respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PERMISSION TO ADVERTISE.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department to advertise for materials as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 19, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—To have in stock the necessary material to carry on the activities of the Water Division for the coming working season, especially material that will be used or called for in P. W. A. projects it will be necessary to enter into three contracts as follows:

300,000 pounds cast-iron branches and curves at $0.06, $18,000; 400,000 pounds cast-iron screw gate boxes at $0.04, $16,000; 200,000 pounds cast-iron frames and covers at $0.02½, $5,000.

I respectfully request permission to advertise for bids for the above noted materials. Payment under these contracts is charged to Water Revenue.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, March 30, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—A contract for approximately 2,600 water meters varying in size from ½ to 2 inches should be entered into.

The stock on hand is depleted to less than 500 and new meters are required for

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

BALANCED RATIONS.

The supervisor explained that he and his assistants try to balance the food and to give suitable combinations. For instance, on certain days the meats distributed are the kind required for a shepherd pie; so the potatoes are included, and the attendants suggest this toothsome combination to those who are interested. At another time, mutton is distributed, and rice is given with it; thus the recipient has the makings of mutton broth and mutton stew.

Cabbage seems to be a favorite, for it fits into any meal. Commodity stations cannot get enough cabbage to suit the recipients, this station alone often giving out 140 barrels of cabbage in one day, but even that does not seem to be enough. Potatoes always go strong, especially if combined with meat. Soup stock made by one firm from the water in which a Government allotment of beef has been cooked, made a big hit. Rice and cabbage were allotted with this stock, and the families were supplied with all the "makings" for nourishing soup. Tongue and smoked meat add variety to the menu. Fresh veal, butter, cheese, hamburger, and quantities of canned beef and mutton are staples supplied to the department by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

Though the system is directed from Blossom street, separate neighborhood stations have been opened in Charlestown, East Boston, South Boston, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Dorchester, and Brighton, for the convenience of those living in these localities. This obviates the necessity of those who can ill afford it paying car fare or traveling long distances on foot to get this extra food for their families. The Overseers are still obliged to have residents from Roxbury and South End come to the Blossom Street Station, but effort is being made to locate other stations nearer these people's homes.

Federal commodities are distributed not only to those being assisted by city welfare, but to families being aided by private agencies, to E. R. A. workers who are in need of supplementary relief, and to those on soldiers' relief.

The supervisor has a staff of fifty men under his direction, most of them welfare recipients, who are repaying the city for their "allowance" by doing from one to four days' work, handling the food for others on welfare.

There are young men who have been out of high school for years, and who have never had jobs. To them is assigned clerical work, checking, collecting, filing, and tabulating. There are huskies who can drive trucks, load and unload the big cartons of meat, the barrels of potatoes, and the crates of cabbage. There are men of all trades and training, who can help to handle the crowds, inspect and check commodities, fill, pack, and tie bundles. There are business men who do the bookkeeping and maintain the office system for this Government relief industry, which has grown out of the country's effort to help tide the army of unemployed and their families over the depression.

INVENTORIES TAKEN.

Each night, according to the supervisor, an inventory is taken of every article in the basement of the Blossom Street Commodity Station. Every morning trucks are in readiness to be dispatched to points of concentration, to the Army Base, Boston & Maine Freight Yards, Mystic Docks, or to whatever point the food is consigned by the shippers. Orders come from E. R. A. headquarters at 49 Federal street, and the men drive to the terminals to pick up the supplies, load their trucks, deposit the goods at Blossom street, or deliver them to the other stations. The whole system whirs and hums in order that the unemployed may gather about their tables at night and partake of a steaming stew or a savory soup. Potato growers have toiled and sweat; ranchers have raised cattle; packers and canners have labored; workers all along the line have aided in getting the food to its destination. Railroads, boats and trucks have hauled and carted it, to the end that the unemployed of our city may carry to their homes some of the things their families require for sustenance, and that the man out of work, through no fault of his own, may not have to see his children go hungry.

It must be understood that this Government food is given in addition to the relief allowance of the city's Department of Public Welfare, which is not by any means the equivalent of a living wage, but is the best the city can do for its thousands rendered needy by depression.

This important work is being carried on in Boston without attracting much attention. Something of the wartime spirit pervades these commissary departments. They are all ship-shape, and the men seem to be willing to carry on in spite of handicaps due to lack of adequate equipment. They work cheerfully with such makeshifts as paper cartons for filing cabinets; and shelves for desks. The entire card index system at 17 Blossom street is neatly stowed away in empty cartons, in which the canned goods arrived. Yet it is so well devised, and so carefully filed that any needed point of information may be immediately established, and any required card located with accuracy and dispatch.

The same methodical procedure is apparent in the basement where the food brought from the Army Base, or other points of delivery, but not required for the day's consumption, is stored. Every box is accounted for and every transaction of shipping and storage is recorded by means of a triplicate system of checks and counter checks. Most of the workers seem to feel the obligation of service, even though they are paid little, and though some are repaying the city by this work for their welfare allowance.

VASTNESS OF ENTERPRISE.

Some idea of the vastness of the enterprise may be gained from figures for the nine months from last July to March of this year. A total of 5,099,881 pounds of food was distributed; 2,733,703 pounds to Overseers of the Public Welfare, and 2,356,178 to E. R. A. This included a total of over two million and a half pounds of potatoes, nearly five hundred thousand pounds of cabbage, and almost forty-seven thousand pounds of cheese. Meat, including beef, veal, mutton, smoked meats, and tongue, amounted to over a million and a half pounds.

This picture gives only a hint of the system of food and commodity distribution established by the Federal Government to aid the unemployed throughout the country. The story is the same in other cities as it is in Boston. Federal, State, and City Governments have combined in this enterprise to keep up the bodily health of the unemployed and their families, while efforts are being made to speed the arrival of the day when factory whistles will blow for the workers, and when lines will form before the paymaster's window instead of before the counter of a commodity station.

BOSTON NOT TO BE DENIED ALL RELIEF BY POWERS AT WASHINGTON.

Upon April 10 the Mayor issued the following statement:

I have been asked to say something about the status of the City of Boston "as a result of the refusal of Harry Hopkins to grant anything for welfare relief."

I do not think the words quoted state accurately Mr. Hopkins' position. He did refuse to grant direct welfare relief but he did not refuse all relief. As a matter of fact, while criticizing the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for not having contributed anything to the different cities and towns to aid in emergency relief work, Mr. Hopkins did say that he would help Boston indirectly by granting a larger amount monthly to be distributed to the various cities and towns, of which Boston would be one, by State Administrator Rotch, a larger sum than they had been receiving.

A direct result of this attitude on the part of Mr. Hopkins was reflected yesterday in the allotment to Boston by Mr. Rotch of $260,000 more for April than had been received for March, making the total contributed to E. R. A. workers and work relief in Boston for the month of April, $1,550,000. This additional sum ought to take about 3,000 workers off the welfare rolls and from additional aid expected every month in the course of a year the contribution from the Federal Government would be over $2,000,000. I am confident that we can get these substantial payments each month just so long as we can provide the necessary projects to absorb the amounts thus advanced.

In addition to this the Executive Committee of the National Conference of Mayors, of which I am a member, is holding an important meeting tomorrow, Thursday, April eleventh, at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, where one of the most important things to be discussed will be the extent of the aid which will be given to various cities for P. W. A. projects. The conference of Mayors has already gone on record as being opposed to any substantial contribution on the part of cities themselves and, I think, one of the steps that will be urged upon the President by the Executive Committee conference tomorrow will be the necessity to extend a much larger percentage of Federal aid than the 30-70 allotment that has heretofore been paid on P. W. A. projects.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 years, 1,881 days. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

HERD OF COWS FOR DEER ISLAND.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Penal Institutions Department:

BOSTON, April 9, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—For your information I would advise that an opportunity having been presented to barter with Philip Shapiro, of 79 Flint street, Lynn, eighty-four pigs raised at the House of Correction, Deer Island, weighing 16,394 pounds (market price 8 cents per pound), in exchange for the following cattle, this department has completed the exchange:

2 Registered Holstein Heifers, $85 each.....	$170
2 Guernsey Cows, $85 each.....	170
6 Registered Holstein Cows, $135 each.....	810
1 Bull, Registered, 200.....	200
	$1,350

As we had a surplus of hogs at Deer Island and we needed cattle to supplement partial herd already purchased, in my opinion this exchange was for the best interests of the city, and I therefore authorized the transaction.

Respectfully,

JOHN J. DOUGLASS,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

John J. Vicenzi has been allowed to amend the contract for finishing passageways, Haymarket Square Improvements, Traffic Tunnel, by striking out on page 7, first paragraph as amended, the words "ninety days," and substituting therefor the words "one hundred eighty days," so that the contract as amended shall read on page 7, first paragraph: "The Contractor agrees to complete the work in this contract within one hundred eighty days from notification by the Department to begin," and that all provisions of said contract, excepting as modified herein, shall continue in full force and effect.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 29.

Patrolman Edwin J. Riley of Division 2 is commended for efficient police duty performed in connection with the capture on January 31, 1935, of one of four persons who had broken into a store in the market district and were preparing to carry away merchandise in an automobile. As a result of further information three more persons were taken into custody and they confessed to several breaks in the market district. They also confessed to the larceny of an automobile which was recovered by the police together with some of the stolen merchandise.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend the vigilance and devotion to duty shown by Patrolman Riley in effecting this important arrest.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. McSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 30.

A trial board consisting of Captains McGrath, Glavay and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint made by John J. Mullen, captain, Division 1, against James A. Lodge, patrolman, Division 1, for alleged violation of Rule 27 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the 29th day of March, 1935, the said Patrolman James A. Lodge did have knowledge of an important matter connected with the police of this city, to wit, that the crime of robbery had been committed and having such knowledge, did fail to report such knowledge to his commanding officer or other officer of the Police Department of the City of Boston,—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board, having heard and carefully considered the evidence as presented accepts the plea of guilty. Patrolman Lodge failed to report an assault and robbery committed on his person while he was on a day of relief. The Board has considered the fact that Patrolman Lodge has been a member of the Police Department for thirteen years and has never previously been before a trial board and that this offence occurred on his day of relief. Therefore, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman James A. Lodge be ordered to perform 70 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman James A. Lodge perform seventy hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. McSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

Wherefore, In view of this operation of law, the Police Commissioner states that on and after April 30, 1935, at the hour stated, the said Patrolman Leo T. Solan shall no longer be an active member of this department, and it is hereby directed that its records be so amended.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Commissioner.

CITIES MAY SHARE VIRGINIA LIQUOR PROFITS.

Virginia cities are likely to have a new source of revenue if the state continues to pile up profits at the liquor rate. The liquor control act gives them two-thirds of the profits. Last year $1,675,000 per year after deducting sums for operating a surplus up to $1,000,000. Profits from the liquor stores, says the United States Monetary News, have meant all previous estimates and "have confirmed as well, retention of the members of the A. B. C. Board of Finance who at the close of the state's experiment said they found no profit at all would result during the first year of operation."

The bonds of the Boston American League Baseball Company and the Boston National League Baseball Company, in the sum of $100,000 each, were received and approved.

WEST ROXBURY WELFARE CAMP FOR MEN.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, not to establish a welfare camp for men on the property belonging to the West Department of the Boston City Hospital in West Roxbury.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, I have introduced this order pertaining to the proposed establishment of a welfare camp on the grounds of the West branch of the Boston City Hospital because of an overwhelming sentiment among the residents of that particular section of my ward against that project. While every right-minded citizen is anxious to see these unfortunate men given every possible advantage and consideration, nevertheless the taxpayers of the district and their families are entitled to primary consideration. That particular section is a large home-owning district, where there are thousands of young girls of high school age. I understand that there is to be a group of approximately 250 or 300 single men who are on the welfare rolls at the present time, who are to be housed on the grounds of the West Department, formerly the Veterans' Hospital, and that the grounds are to be utilized for the purpose of farming, raising crops of various kinds. Mr. Dowling of the Welfare Department is quoted as saying that these men would be under supervision during the hours that they are working, and that in the evening they would be allowed to go and come as they pleased. It is the feeling of the people who own homes in that immediate vicinity that this particular project should not be inflicted on them. It seems to be their attitude that there is a tendency to dump anything that is not wanted in other parts upon them, and they feel that the proposed use of those premises would be in the nature of a dumping ground. It is a serious question whether it would be of any material advantage to the city to have the grounds used for the proposed purpose. There is a question whether the soil along the Charles river could be profitably used for farming, because of its sandy nature. West Roxbury is a highly organized residential community, and it is felt that there would be serious objection to the Welfare Department dumping out there 250 homeless single men, having in mind the residential character of the district. I am speaking here in behalf of the great number of taxpayers and residents of that particular section who have asked me to voice for them a protest to the Mayor of Boston and to the Welfare Department. I hope, therefore, that the members of this Council will vote unanimously for the order I have introduced.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I coincide in everything the councilor from West Roxbury has said. I believe that to take out there men from all parts of the city and from other places, having them roam the streets, men who will be begging and borrowing money from anybody who comes along, will not be for the best interests of West Roxbury or of the adjoining districts. It is proposed to have out there one of the finest beaches in the country, and people will be afraid to allow their young folks to go out there and run the risk of contact with people whom they know nothing about. When you talk about farming, the land there is not fitted for farming. The place would be fitted for a convalescent home, and there have been attempts to have a convalescent home in that particular place, but the authorities of the City Hospital have not seen fit to encourage that use of the property. We haven't a convalescent home, and I think we should have, a place where the sick can be taken care of, rather than having the property used for people whom we don't want in that neighborhood. Certainly, the use of the property for a convalescent home would be a desirable and a much better use.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, as representing a section contiguous to the place where this property is located, I also would object to the proposed use. While these men may be under supervision for a part of the day, at other times they will be roaming at large. As worthy as an experiment of this nature should be in some places, it does not seem that it should be tried out in a highly organized residential area such as we have out there, containing a large number of young women.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO MOTHER OF MARY DURANT.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to pay a sum of money to the mother of Mary Durant, who lost her life at a South Boston bathing beach, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 7 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the necessary improvements, such as grading, rolling, etc., on Columbus Park, Ward 7, at the earliest possible opportunity.

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the planting of trees on such streets in Ward 7 as they may deem advisable.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF BRINTON AND SUPPLE STREETS.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Brinton street as a public highway.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Supple street as a public highway.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR BOSTON POLICE FORCE.

Coun. BRACKMAN, for Coun. Tobin, offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the legislative act making residence in the City of Boston a necessary qualification for appointment, however made, to the Boston Police Force.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF DORCHESTER BEACHES.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council go on record as opposing any project which will close the Malibu Beach and Savin Hill Yacht Club.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, the American International Terminal Corporation is petitioning for a large area, and they are to have a hearing before the Commissioner of Public Works at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon of this week. They are asking to fill in an area that would close up Malibu Bay, so called, and the Savin Hill Yacht Club. In doing so they would take land of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, the land that juts out at the Calf Pasture, and the Harrison square-Commercial Point property; and this would eliminate not only the Malibu Beach, but the Savin Hill and Freeport street beaches. I think it would be very unwise to allow this corporation to come in and abolish three beaches that bring pleasure to a great many people and also to ruin the development of the Old Colony Boulevard, with its unobstructed view of the ocean and the opportunity it offers to have several millions of valuable taxable residential property added to our city. I trust, therefore, that any such project will not be allowed to go through, but that the order I have offered will be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FIVE-CENT DORCHESTER AVENUE FARE.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Elevated establish a five-cent fare line on Dorchester avenue, between Fields' Corner and Andrew square.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WIRE FENCES, STILLMAN ROAD.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to erect wire fences on the property on Stillman road between the Healey Playground.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, there is at the present time a matter of property that belongs to that playground from boys playing ball. They are in their houses or in their yards and are not injured by a ball coming on to their property. If a wire fence can be erected, it will prevent that danger. It would be the cases, there is no world at the present time for a child or an old person to become blind from being struck by a stray ball. Certainly that danger could be prevented. I trust that the order will be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PURCHASE OF AMERICAN-MADE GOODS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to purchase the goods of American-made goods for the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have introduced this order because I believe that it is the duty of the City of Boston to purchase goods of American-made goods for the City of Boston.

countries. There is no doubt that many foreign-made goods are being purchased by the City of Boston, goods which can easily be furnished in this country. It does seem that in hard times like these preference at least should be given to American products.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PURCHASE OF SAND AND GRAVEL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston, in the purchase of sand and gravel for the city for the year 1935, be requested to give at least equal consideration to those companies actually having a sand and gravel pit in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in 1934, Boston bought about $10,000 worth of sand and gravel. On March 25, 1935, last, bids were opened for the purchase of sand and gravel for the year 1935. About thirteen concerns bid. One of these concerns, which has a pit and concrete mixing plant and office in Boston, and is a Boston taxpayer, was not considered. Certainly, if the bid of this concern is as low as any of the others, it should receive consideration. A Boston sand and gravel pit is not allowed to furnish material for the Dedham High School or the Newton City Hall. Local bids get this work. Everything else being equal, Boston's pits, paying taxes in Boston should receive consideration.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATION WORK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of transferring at least 350 city employees to the Welfare Department for investigation work.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, today the Boston Welfare Department has about one hundred fifty-six investigators, spending nearly $1,000,000 a month. Much money is wasted, because each investigator handles two hundred cases. It is impossible for an investigator to handle over fifty cases and do the work right. A daily check-up is necessary to know whether a member of the family is doing a little work on the side, perhaps bootlegging, or some other means of obtaining revenue. Cleveland limits the case load to fifty. Three hundred fifty more investigators should be transferred from other city departments to do this work. The depression has cut down the work of many city departments, and this procedure will mean no extra expense to the city. It will give better service to those forced to seek aid. The late Professor Laneau, of whom I spoke at an earlier meeting, up on Copley square, went on trying to work when he was nearly starved, because he did not want to ask for charity, and at last was forced to give up and to be carried to the hospital, where he died. By the time the over-worked investigator got around he was too late. Boston is weak on investigation. The state administrator of the E. R. A. took over the local work of looking up the need of E. R. A. workers in Boston, and it was found that Mayor Mansfield's committee in some cases did not even have the address of those drawing E. R. A. relief. Huge welfare expenditures threaten to bankrupt Boston. Mayor Mansfield has adopted the do-nothing, "sit and spit" attitude. Better investigation will save the city much money.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Health Commissioner relative to time-off allowances in the case of Health Department employees "injured in line of duty."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO FORMER EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of at least giving preference in employment to old city employees let go during the first few months of his administration.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this order has to do with men who have been in the employ of the city for ten, fifteen, twenty-five and thirty years. John A. Sullivan, for example, a Harvard graduate, for nearly twenty years was Superintendent of the Boston Ferries, as his father was before him. Mayor Mansfield came into office and, because of a political grudge, during the first few weeks of his term as Mayor, fired Mr. Sullivan who was within a short period of a pension. The Mayor claims that he did so because of economy. At the same time the Mayor loaded on to the city pay roll his political friends. Hence, his cry of economy was insincere. Mr. Sullivan took his case to court. The Mayor relentlessly fought him.

Justice Field of the Massachusetts Supreme Court declared Mr. Sullivan legally discharged, and perhaps legally if we had occupied his position we would have had to rule the same way. I am not, however, now discussing the legal situation. I am asking the Mayor of Boston to forget petty grudges, asking him simply to do justice and not try to get even. It would be better for the Mayor to take Mr. Sullivan out and shoot him rather than to send him home, after a lifetime of service for the city, and honorable service, to sit and worry. There are some other men who have been dropped after ten, fifteen, twenty and up to thirty-five years of service. Every week I shall request the Mayor to put back on the pay roll these city employees, fired because of political grudges. I believe he should at least give such men preference over new employees.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMOUNTS PAID TO GARAGES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor, through his Honor the Mayor, inform the City Council as to the name, address and amount paid to various garages that housed city trucks or autos during the year 1934.

Coun. NORTON—That information may prove interesting, Mr. President.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LOWER ELECTRIC RATES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of vigorously pursuing the matter of lower electricity rates for Boston by filing a petition with the Massachusetts Board of Public Utilities.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, it is a crime that the chief executive of this city has not filed with the Department of Public Utilities a single petition to lower the electric light rates in Boston. While other cities have been active in the matter, there has been no petition from the Mayor looking to that result, demanding lower rates in Boston. The Federal Trade Commission has made the finest calibrated study that has ever been made, and the report of the Federal Government shows that Boston is paying more than fifty other American cities. For example, the average home in Cleveland pays $1.31 for forty kilowatt hours a month, while the charge in Boston is $2.40. No industry in Boston can compete with competitors in other cities under these conditions. Therefore, I am now asking the Mayor of Boston to file a petition with the Department of Public Utilities for lower rates. If he needs any assistance, he can call upon Professor Frankfurter, Mr. Walsh, Judge Anderson of the Federal Court, or other leading men of this type, and find out from them the names of attorneys to carry on this fight for the City of Boston. This, Mr. President, is an important matter. The Mayor, up to today, has done nothing in regard to it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC PLANT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money outside the debt limit for the purpose of erecting its own electric lighting plant.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, one way of obtaining a reduction in electric light and power bills is through the threat of a municipal plant. Mr. Newton D. Baker, when he was mayor of Cleveland, in 1912, stated that he would see that the city established such a plant, and it did so. I have just read to you the prices that are being paid in Cleveland today, as a result—an average of $1.31 for forty kilowatt hours in the average home in Cleveland, whereas in Boston we pay $2.40. So you see one important way to reduce electric bills is through the threat of a municipal plant—not necessarily to furnish electricity to every home in Boston today, but to start furnishing electricity through a small station. Perhaps in City Hall we could furnish our own electricity.

Coun. MURRAY—We do.

Coun. NORTON—The Mayor of New York today is working with the Federal Government with a view to establishing an independent plant in that city, and the result of the effort of that little Mayor of New York has been to already get an offer of reduction of 35 per cent on the price paid by the city for electricity. But Mayor La Guardia has refused that. Therefore, when Mayor Mansfield says, "I can do nothing," I refer him to what the able, little, energetic Mayor of New York is doing today on this problem.

The order was referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

SAVINGS ON FOOD INSPECTION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Supplies be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to effect substantial savings through the use of Supply Department inspectors on food purchases rather than the increased expense consequent on the use of Federal inspectors.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I urge the adoption of that order, and I respectfully suggest that the suggestions contained therein be called to the attention of the Purchasing Department of the City of Boston, remembering that the custom here suggested was the old custom in the Supply Department up to a few years ago, and bearing in mind that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts uses its own inspectors and that the use of Federal inspectors on food purchase will aggregate an additional cost for food in the hospitals and other institutions of perhaps $8,000 to $10,000 a year. Even assuming that the seller to the city is charged for the Federal inspection, that cost, of course, is added to the cost of the goods. I urge the adoption of such a plan as I suggest, because I believe, in common with the State Purchasing Department, we can rely on the honesty and efficiency of our city department in this matter, and that it will mean a saving of from $8,000 to $10,000 a year.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EMERGENCY RELIEF.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I ask you to put in the record the amount paid to the thirteen leading American cities for emergency relief during the year 1934. This statement shows that Pittsburgh, a city with less population than Boston, received twenty-two and a quarter millions of Federal funds, while Boston received only $7,665,000. I ask that this list be placed in the record, Mr. President.

Chairman GALLAGHER—If there is no objection, the list will be placed in the record.

The list referred to, sent to Coun. Norton by Corrington Gill, Assistant Administrator in the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, under date of March 2, 1935, is as follows:

⁴ Less than one-tenth of one per cent.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would also like to make a statement in connection with the Mayor's statement in regard to his visit to Washington to obtain increased E. R. A. funds. The Mayor rushed off to Washington, accompanied by the Corporation Counsel, at a time when Mr. Hopkins did not know, and he yet does not know, what his position in regard to the distribution of these funds may be, the matter still being in Congress. As a matter of fact, the money which has come to Boston has simply come as the result of the usual allocation and not as the result of any appeal which the chief executive of the city made. That is a matter of public record and can be easily ascertained.

SNOW REMOVAL AND GARBAGE CONTRACTORS INVESTIGATION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to further investigate the payments made for snow removal work to contractors holding contracts with the city for ash and garbage removal, having in mind the report of the Finance Commission in the City Council minutes of March 11, 1935, stating that certain trucks having been hired for work on snow removal by officials of the Sanitary Service, there would seem to be strong evidence that Sanitary Service officials were of the opinion that the interests of the city would be better served by having these trucks work on snow removal rather than on the regular work of ash and garbage removal and, further, having reference to a communication from the Public Works Department, found on page 125 of the City Council minutes for the current year, reporting that work done in snow removal by certain trucks, also used on ash and garbage collection, was done after the day's work on ash and garbage collection had been completed.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that order is not merely in the nature of a post-mortem, because I realize, of course, that snow falls are over for at least the current season; but we must bear in mind that this is a situation which is apt to arrive every year in the City of Boston. I realize, further, that this is one of the matters that the Mayor stated, in his inimitable manner, is none of the business of the City Council, with which view, however, I am constrained to disagree, realizing that the residents of the great Dorchester district were deprived of all ash and garbage collections for a period of two or three weeks because the local contractor was using the trucks for the collecting and dumping of snow in the Massachusetts avenue and downtown sections of Boston. So, whatever the Mayor's idea, of the matter, I do not intend to drop the subject, because it is coming up again next winter. I cannot help pointing out, also, the inconsistency between the report of the Finance Commission, as found on page 117 of the City Council minutes of this year, and the report that came through the Public Works Department on page 125 of our minutes. The Finance Commission report, on page 117, incidentally pointed out that McHugh who has a contract for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the East Boston district, has at present at least six trucks, and that five or six trucks are ordinarily required for collecting the refuse of East Boston under winter conditions; that McHugh rented trucks to the City of Boston for snow removal, two trucks on one day, three trucks on another day, five trucks on each of two other days, and six trucks each day for five days, and three trucks each day for two days. So the East Boston contractor, who had a contract for the removal of garbage and refuse from the East Boston district rented his trucks on all these days to the City of Boston for snow removal. Then, take the story in West Roxbury, where the contractor for the removal of garbage and ashes is reported to have at least eight trucks. He rented to the City of Boston and to the contractor for one of the snow districts, four trucks for three days, three trucks for seven days, seven trucks for a day, and nine trucks for a day, on snow-removal work. Then, out in the Dorchester district, Marinucci Brothers have nineteen trucks registered at the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The city records show that over a period of eight days from three to fifteen of those trucks were being used for snow-removal work, and the report of the Finance Commission to the City Council says:

"The fact that these trucks were hired for work of snow removal by the officials of the Sanitary Service seems to be strong evidence that the Sanitary Service officials were of the opinion that the interests of the city would be better served by having these trucks work on snow removal rather than on their regular work of garbage and ash removal."

Of course, those of us who sat in at the Executive Committee meeting heard the engineer of the Sanitary Division tell the Council that it was all news to him that the ash and garbage trucks were being used on snow-removal work. But, whether he knew about it or not, the Finance Commission is of the opinion that, because of the emergency that existed, it was better to use the trucks on snow-removal work than on removal of ashes and garbage. But such use of the trucks was not unknown in the Public Works Department because, as shown by the communication received from the Commissioner of Public Works, an "investigation was made by Chief Engineer William B. Morrissey, Paving Division, and he determined that at certain periods of the twenty-four hour day certain trucks used on ash and garbage collection, after the day's work on above collections, were used on snow removal. Payment has been made in full; as at the end of February, all collection of ashes and garbage in the five contract districts were back to normal." And so I have introduced this order, directed to the Finance Commission, in order that they may complete the investigation asked for, because either their supposition that the Public Works Department needed the trucks more on snow removal than on the regular work of ash and garbage removal is correct or the Public Works report to the effect that these trucks were only used for snow removal after the ordinary day's work on garbage and ash removal had been done, is correct. I therefore urge that any misunderstanding there may be in regard to the situation be corrected once and for all, because I don't believe it is an alibi to tell the people of my section, for example, that these trucks were only used for snow removal after the day's work on garbage and ash removal had been taken care of, when, as a matter of fact, at that time the people of Dorchester had been waiting two or three weeks for the removal of their garbage and ashes, and when the trucks finally arrived they only removed such garbage as had not been burned in the local furnaces and such ashes as had not been otherwise dumped or disposed of in the Dorchester section.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. AGNEW, at 4.30 p. m., to meet on Monday, April 15, 1935, at 2 p. m.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for repairing hull, etc., of ferryboat "Lieutenant Flaherty." A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Ferryboat 'Lieutenant Flaherty,'" and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Friday, April 26, 1935, with a certified check for four hundred (400) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. There will be a charge of two (2) dollars for each set of plans and specifications taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

BOSTON'S PORT NOT DEAD BUT VERY MUCH ALIVE MAYOR MANSFIELD TELLS RADIO AUDIENCE IN RADIO ADDRESS BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION — BOSTON'S FOREIGN COMMERCE HAS REACHED POINT WHERE STRENUOUS EFFORTS MUST BE MADE TO PRESERVE AND EXPAND IT — THE RESOLUTE ENTERPRISE OF THE EARLY YEARS OF PORT DEVELOPMENT, INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE MUST BE CONTINUED HE WARNS BUSINESS IN ADDRESS.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Mansfield on April 23, over Station WNAC, upon the subject, "Development of the Boston Port," based on facts taken from an address given by Richard Parkhurst, Vice Chairman of the Boston Port Authority, before the Bostonian Society:

One of the youngest of State and City regulatory and advisory bodies, the Boston Port Authority, is dealing with one of the oldest of New England community problems — the preservation and development of this port. Boston is the chief gateway of New England. It is as well a national port and an asset to the country as a whole. Right at the outset I should like to state that while the port is confronted with serious artificial handicaps, in the shape of discriminatory freight rate structures which favor competing ports, it is by no means wholly a thing of the past and is, on the contrary, living, expanding and of unlimited possibilities. Let no one tell you the Port is "dead" — it is very much alive, I assure you.

Before embarking upon a brief review of the present-day port and the work of the Port Authority in connection therewith, I should like to take you back with me to Colonial days, and from those early times, over the years, outline for you a few of the interesting and inspiring events of vanished eras which have left their indelible mark upon our port and have contributed to the heritage which it is our privilege to enjoy and foster.

Boston and New England owe their settlement and growth primarily to the broad expanse of deep, sheltered water that is now Boston Harbor. The colonists settled here because of it, and by it they were enabled to live and spread along the New England coast to colonize and trade. In 1631, the next year after Boston's settlement by Governor Winthrop and his company, the "Blessing of the Bay," a sturdy vessel of thirty tons, was built and launched here to fulfill this destiny — the "Blessing of the Bay," New England's first trading ship.

Growth of Port.

The shipbuilding that thus began and has continued ever since, molded the life and founded the fortune of successive generations of Bostonians, for maritime commerce at Boston is a tradition and a heritage. Before the Revolution local enterprise was stifled and restricted by the enforced monopoly of the ships of the mother country, but during that momentous struggle the Port of Boston was alive with privateers and their prizes, and on the conclusion of peace its adventurous ships, flying the new Stars and Stripes, sailed to the four corners of the world and laid the foundations of its nineteenth century pre-eminence.

In 1790 the ship "Columbia" of Boston opened the Northwest Territory to trade, and gave her name to the Columbia river and in sequence to British Columbia. Our ships were pioneers in trade to the West Indies and Spain, and later to India, China and Baltic ports.

The rich products of India and the Orient were poured into Boston in the early years of the nineteenth century, and out of the competition of this and transatlantic trade came the famous clipper ships that added so much to Boston's wealth and renown. Donald McKay, the shipbuilder, whose skill and enterprise are now historic, sent out from here the amazing craft that were the pride of Boston and the admiration of the world.

Indomitable enterprise, readiness to go anywhere in the seven seas with seamanship and ships to do so, made Boston the foremost American port in the heyday of the sailing ships.

Following the Civil War, as to a lesser degree was the case after the War of 1812, New England experienced extraordinary industrial development, and her capital was diverted to this field, leaving her foreign commerce to be largely carried on by the iron steamships under alien flags that were displacing our wooden ships on the trade routes of the world. She thus exchanged her shipping leadership for leadership in manufacturing, and Boston was content with the steady growth of its foreign trade, serving New England manufacturers and the farmers and packers of the West, the matter of Boston's ownership of its overseas lines becoming secondary to their adequate functioning.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.
